HAMPTON.

Rev. J. Carscadden, of Bowmanville, preached here Sunday morning, giving a good address. Rev. G. Browne gave one of his best efforts in the evening. Miss Ada Clarke, of Bowmanville, preided at the organ in the Methodist church here Sunday morning and evening. Messers H. Elliott, jr., and John Rundle attended the church opening at Port Perry last Sunday.

Miss C. Greenaway, of Port Hope, has been visiting friends in this neighbourhood this week. Staf-Capt. Manton of the S. A. has been here this week recruiting. The S. A. of this place have bought the old Methodist church, and will move the same forthwith.

Mr. B. Dickinson, of Port Hope, has been visiting in this neighborhood this week, as he is not much acquainted here, he deemed it wise to bring an escort. The nomination on Monday to fill the vacancy at the Council Board was well attended. The Township Clerk, Mr. R. attended. The Township Clerk, Mr. R. Windatt presided at the meeting, the following gentlemen were nominated for the office: Messrs. W. Werry, W. Cryder-man, R. Pascoe, T. Baker, G, Awde, S. J. Williams, T. Burrows, D. Dyer, T. Washington, C. W. Smith, R. Short, W. Windatt, H. T. Phillips, W. Bingham, W. Bowman, and R. H. Bunt. Short speeches were made by the nominees. ENNISKILLEN.

Wednesday evening 21st inst., the Rev. D. Rogers gave Talmage on Ingersollism, in a masterly manner. All who had the privilege of hearing it enjoyed a rare treat. The attendance was not large owing to the condition of the roads and the severity of the weather. A great Salvation march and pow-wow here last Sabbath afternoon. A number of Soldiers from Hampton and Bowman-ville, officer from Toronto, and lots of music made things lively. The Enniskillen contingent were conspicuous by their absence. A meeting was held also on Monday evening. Three more of Mr. Thos. Ormiston's family are down with diphtheria. At Miss Taylor has started a music class in Tyrone. All in that vicinity who wish

By invitation of the Rev. Geo. Browne, I came to Darlington this week to repro-duce the substance of Dr. DeWitt Talmage's lecture on "Ingersollism", as delivered at Grim by Camp Ground. It has been thought strange by some that any one should presume to deliver anoth-er man's lecture. The only apology I offered (if any were needed) was that I believed the redelivery of, st least the another and at the substance of it, would do goo , and at the same time afford an opportunity to those who never heard the original, of knowing something of the sivle of one of the great preachers of our times.

To me, personally, the visit has been a pleasa tone, at the same time affording a little change and rest from the duties of regular circuit work. I wanted to see a ain the pice where was passed the happy years of my boy-hood. On the way to M. Vern in I passed the spot on which stor d (n 1860-62) the old frame school house where I got started on the path to learnes. The images of boys and girls I me or came back vividly to me, the hardy, many is s, and the pink-cheeked, brigh -ey-d lasses in their gingham or striped home-spun dresses. How sweet some of them to ked in their home-spun frocks. They were as fresh and as sweet as the honeysuckles they placed in their hair on the w y to school. When I enquired for some of them I found they had gone-some to different parts of the country, and some to another world. Others are left, some mothers of families, some still "serving alo e" in the old home. The rush of old memories made a mist before my eyes, shutting them for a moment, the 24 intervening years van-Clarke, have been visiting friends in this locality. Mr. Wm. To those who contributed toward making the visit so pleasant I extend my thanks, and if we meet no more on earth, may we all meet by and bye where it will be no longer necessary to defend the truths of the Bible and Caris: ani y, which are now the foundation of our civil and religious pro-gress and stability. For some time the members of the Methodist church have talked of changing the singing gallery, the idea has been suggested by members of the choir, to charge the entire seating capacity of the church, to face the present gallery, and place the pulpit in front of the choir. The seats under the gallery to be placed where the pulpit now stands.
