I.

ADDITIONS TO DUGDALE'S BARONAGE; FROM THE MS. COLLECTIONS OF FRANCIS TOWNSEND, ESQ. WINDSOR HERALD.

EARLS OF HUNTINGDON.—Vol. I. 57.

———— l. 15. After "and," leave out "died in France leaving," and insert, left.

———— l. 49. After "who," add, when his father had succeeded to the throne of Scotland (which he enjoyed upwards of 29 years) was permitted to do homage for this Earldom to King Stephen at York, and obtained not only livery thereof, but a grant of the Borough of Doncaster, &c.

P. 59, at l. 32, make this N.B.—

I am of opinion that this was a brother of Simon the 3rd Earl, and not of Simon the 2nd Earl, because among the witnesses to the grant referred to in the Monasticon, the Countess Adeliza de Gaunt stands foremost, and it is certain that this Lady was the wife of the 3rd Earl, not of the second.

P. 59^b, l. 37. Leave out the 4th paragraph entirely, and then after the 5th paragraph, begin thus, viz.

But the Earldom of Huntingdon upon the death of this Earl Simon without issue, was given by the King to William King of Scotland, who immediately delivered it to David Earl of Carrick his brother. This David appears to have enjoyed the Earldom of Cambridge also.^a He married in 1190 Maud the eldest daughter of Hugh Kevelioc, Earl of Chester, and sister and coheir of Ralph Blundeville, the sixth Earl of Chester and Lincoln, by whom he had issue John surnamed le Scot, who succeeded him, and who also in right of his mother became Earl of Chester, under which latter title his history will be found.

EARLS OF BUCKINGHAM.—Vol. I. 59.

P. 59^b, line 16 from bottom. After "son," add, or rather grandson.

P. 60^b, lines 9, 10, 11. Alter the references of l, m, and n, to Cart. Antiq. S. not 8.

———— l. 9. Leave out, "in right of," and insert instead, and.

VESCY.—Vol. I. 89.

Page 90^b, reference ^d should be n. 65, instead of "60."

———— l. 6. After "second," add, calls John.

———— l. 9. After "heir," leave out what follows in that paragraph, and insert instead, which William, because his mother was so great an inheritrix, assumed the surname of her family, and was called William de Vescy.

P. 91^b, reference ^h should be 163^a n. 10, instead of 162.

P. 92, l. 42. For "sister," read daughter.

———— l. 47. After "Scotland," note. I have not seen any authority for this second marriage; but it appears that he had three sons, viz. Eustace, his heir, William, and Warin, the latter of whom left an only daughter married to Gilbert de Aton, as will appear under that title.

P. 93^b, l. 11. After "Derby," add, and coheir of her mother Sibill, who was one of the sisters and heirs of Anselm Marshal Earl of Pembroke.

———— 94, l. 3. After "Engoulesme," note. Some Pedigrees I have seen of this family call his first wife Agnes de Sales, dau. of Manfred de Sales of Lombardy; but they all agree that he had no issue, and therefore the question is not important.

———— 94^b, l. 16. In the 20th Edw. I. he was one of the competitors for the Crown of Scotland, claiming by descent from his grandmother Marjory, wife of Eustace de Vescy, and sister of Alexander King of Scotland.

———— 95, l. 22 from bottom. After "descended," note.

This curious grant from the Bishop was of the Barony, castle, manor, and town of Alnewick, with all appurtenances, together with all such lands, tenements, &c. as were then held in dower by Isabel, the widow of John de Vescy, and Isabel, widow of William de Vescy, both then living, and which at their deaths were, by virtue of the conveyance made by William de Vescy, to come to the Bishop, to hold to him the said Henry de Percy, his heirs and assigns, of the King and his heirs for ever, by the usual and customary services.

FERRERS OF CHARTLEY, GROBY, AND WEMME.—Vol. I.

Note concerning these Baronies.

The distinction of branches begins first, anno 29 Edw. I. in the famous Baron's letter to the Pope, where William de Ferrarijs styles himself "Dominus de Groby." John (of Chartley) is not amongst the writers, and both John and William continued to be summoned to the end of their lives without any such distinction in the Writs; nor was Robert who succeeded John and was the last of the Chartley line summoned, called by any but his Christian and surname; the first use of any such distinction in the writs themselves, appears to be in 1 Ric. II. when Groby and Wemme are so distinguished, and continue to be so.—Writs to the Chartley line ceased after 16 Edw. III. 1342.

During an interval of 120 years from 1342 to 1461, Ferrers of Chartley had no writs. In 28 Hen. VI. the male line failed, and the sole daughter and heir having married Walter Devereux he was summoned to Parliament as Lord Ferrers, anno 1 Edw. IV. and the title continued regularly in that line till the time of Chas. I. when it fell into abeyance amongst the coheirs of the Earls of Essex; but the abeyance being terminated by King Chas. II. anno 1677, in favour of the issue of Lady Dorothy Shirley, the Barony has continued to be enjoyed by her descendants, and is now vested in the Marquis Townshend.

Ferrers of Groby continued without intermission from 25 Edw. I. to 20 Hen. VI. when that line ended in a sole heiress, and Grey her husband was summoned 25 Hen. VI. &c. [See Grey of Groby.]

Robert Ferrers of Wemme, who married the sole heir of Boteler of Wemme, was summoned from 49 Edw. III. to 2 Ric. II.

died 4 Ric. II. leaving his son Robert an infant four years of age, who died sometime between 18 Ric. II. (the date of the birth of his youngest child) and the 12 Hen. IV. when his mother died—for the Inquisition after her death shews that he was dead and had left two daughters, Elizabeth, wife of John son of Ralph Baron of Greystock, aged 18 years, and Mary, wife of Ralph second son of Ralph Nevill, Earl of Westmerland, aged 17. The Barony of Wemme fell into abeyance between these two ladies. The portion of Elizabeth has followed the descent of the Barony of Greystoke. That of Mary passed by the marriage of her grand-daughter and sole heir Joan into the family of Gascoigne, where it remained until by failure of male issue in the fifth generation Margaret, the sole surviving heir, carried it in like manner by marriage into the family of Wentworth, from whence it passed to Watson Lord Rockingham, and is now in De Clifford, 1812.

D'EINCOURT.—Vol. I. 385.

P. 388^b, line 25, after “before,” note. It appears by Inq. p. m. taken at Lincoln, that he died 2 June a^o. 38 Edw. III. holding in demesne as of fee, the manors of Blankeney and Braunceston in that county, of the King in capite by Barony, and two messuages with appurtenances in the city of Lincoln, of the King in chief, as parcel of the said city by the service of two pence, called Land-toll-penys, to be paid to the King's farmer of the said city—that there belonged to the said Barony in that county nine fees and half a fee, and that William D'Eincourt son of William, was his grandson and heir, seven years of age.^b He made proof of his coming of age 2 Ric. II.^c Miliscent, the widow of his grandfather, died the following year, and he inherited the lands of her dower, being then 22 years old.^d ———— l. 44, after “widow,” add, who was a daughter of John Lord Nevill of Raby, and sister of Ralph the first Earl of Westmerland.

———— l. 50, after “county,” add, she died on Saturday before the feast of Nativity of St. John, 11 Hen. VI. and the lands of her dower devolved upon Alice Lovell and Margaret Cromwell hereafter named.

LE DESPENSER.—Vol. I. 389.

Note concerning the early descent of the Le Despensers.

Dugdale commences his account of this family with Robert Despenser, so called from his office, being Steward to King William the Conqueror, and enumerates the lordships which he held in several counties, but does not speak of his issue, nor does he call William Despenser, whom he mentions next, the son of Robert, or describe Thurstan as the son or descendant of either. But Edmondson, and other writers since Dugdale, have made Thurstan the son of William, and William the son of Robert. I have considered this matter with much attention, and do not find any reason for believing that Robert was the progenitor of Thurstan. If he had any issue at all, which I rather doubt, I should be inclined to conjecture that the Marmions were his descendants, for it is certain that they were afterwards possessed of many of the lands which in Domesday Book are ascribed to him. The office which Robert held under King William the Conqueror was in the time of King Henry the first held by one Hugh, which Hugh was the son of Thurstan. This is proved from the Records of the Abbey of Abingdon, wherein it appears that the said King in the fifth year of his reign (a^o 1105) gave to the said abbey 10 hides of land in Sparsholt, then in the possession of Hugh (son of Thurstan) Dispensator Curie Regis; that the same year the said Hugo Dispensator came to Abingdon and did homage to Faricius then Abbat, promising to perform all those services which Thurstan de Turbeville had formerly done, and that in the second year after the death of Abbat Faricius, the said "Hugo Dispensator Regis Henrici primi" did, with the consent of Helewisa his wife, give to the said Abbey the tithes of all the profits (de omni pecunia) of the manor of Spersholt which he held of the said church. In this Hugh and Thurstan I trace the father and grandfather of that Thurstan with whom the pedigree begins, and my opinion is confirmed by a circumstance which seems to place it beyond a doubt, viz. that Geffrey le Despenser, who was father of the Chief Justice,^f held this very land in the time of Henry the Third.

Even from Thurstan the descent can only be traced with certainty by public records for two or three generations. Thurstan had issue Walter and Almaric. Walter died without issue, as appears by a grant to his nephew Thurstan in a^o 13 Hen. III, who is therein styled son of Almaric Le Despenser, brother and heir of Walter Le Despenser son of Thurstan, being a confirmation of the lands of Wordy and Stanley, which the King's grandfather (King Henry the Second) had formerly given to the said Walter.

^f The direct descent of Hugh Le Despenser seems involved in genealogical obscurity. A view of some of the conflicting statements and authorities may be seen in Baker's History of Northamptonshire, vol. i. 108.

The asserted connexion of the house of Wormleighton with the Chief Justice, is not supported by that proof which renders pedigree valuable.

Upon this subject Mr. Townsend makes the following note:

"The family of Spencer of Wormleighton and Althorpe recorded its pedigree at the Heralds' Visitation of the county of Northampton in 1564 (H. IV. in Coll. Arms) beginning with Sir John Spencer of Hodnell, in the county of Warwick, Knt. who died in 1521. At that time no pretension was made to a descent from the Despensers or of any relationship to the Earls of Winchester and Gloucester, nor was there the least similitude in the arms.

"Clarenceux Lee in 1595 made a pedigree for the then Sir John Spencer of Wormleighton and Althorpe, in which he drew the descent nearly in the manner in which Dugdale has given it; he professes to have compiled it from divers records, registers, wills, and other good and sufficient proofs which he had diligently and carefully perused, and in his character of Clarenceux King of Arms he confirms and allows it officially. Whatever the proofs were which he saw and examined, I confess that I cannot give implicit credit to his work."

^g Joan, widow of Adam; Assignatio dotis in Oxon, an. 34 Edw. I. Esc. 34 Edw. I.

P. 389^b, l. 16. The wife of Almaric, to whom the charter of King John was granted, was Alda Bluet,^a by whom he had two sons, Thurstan and Ralph, as appears by the following: "Ego Thurstanus Dispensator Dñi Regis Anglie consensu Radulphi Dispensatoris fratris mei Rectoris Ecclie de Rollendrith et voluntate Dñe matris mee Alde Bluet et Lucie uxoris mee dedi monialibus de Godestowe jus patronatus Ecclie de Uleberne. Dat. ap^d Godestowe 1234. Testib; Dñis Raðo Dispensatore persona, Ada Dispensatore milite.^b"

Glover, from whose invaluable stores the above is taken, has also preserved a few other memorandaⁱ relative to the early part of this pedigree, which I transcribe as I find them: "Carta Regis Henrici primi dat. a^o 1105, dans in eadem (Abbatie de Abendon) 10 hidas terre in Esperesholt quas tenet in presentiarum Hugo filius Turstini Curie mee Dispensator tenet.

"Eodem anno, prefatus Hugo Dispensator Abendoniam venit et Abbati Faricio homagium fecit secundum hunc tenorem ut ipse omne servicium faceret q^d Turstinus de Turbevilla et post eum Anskillus sub Abbate Adelelmo fecerunt.

"Item 2^o anno post obitum Faricij Abbatis Hugo Dispensator Regis Henrici primi in Capitulo Abendonense concessit decimationem de omni pecunia de Manerio de Speresholt quod de Ecclia tenebat, sua conjuge Helewisavante."

The Hugh here mentioned is considered by Glover as the father of Thurstan and grandfather of Walter and Almaric.

BARONY OF SUDELEY.—Vol. I. 428—596.

It appears to have fallen into abeyance upon the death of John, the last Lord, in a^o 41 Edw. III. between Thomas le Boteler, son of Joan his eldest sister, and Margery his younger sister, which Margery was then unmarried and upwards of 30 years of age.^k It seems she afterwards married one Sir Robert Massy, and was dead without issue in a^o 3 Ric. II.; so that from that time the entire Barony was vested in Tho^s Boteler; yet there is no writ of summons to be found for him altho' he lived till the 22d year of that reign; nor do I find any traces of a claim. His son Ralph Butler, however, was advanced to the Peerage by King Henry VI. and with reference to this descent created Baron Butler of Sudeley, to him and the heirs male of his body.

Here is the case of a person who, according to the present notion of descent of Baronies by Writ, was the sole and undoubted heir of the ancient Barony of Sudeley, created by Writ of Summons as early as the 28th of Edward the First, accepting of a peerage inferior in rank to that which belonged to him by right of inheritance, and restricted in the limitation of its descent to the heirs male of his body only.

the aunt, who, after her brother's death, had married to Sir Robert Massey, Knt. died without issue in the 3^d of Ric. II.^o and so Tho^s Boteler became the sole heir of all Sudeley's lands—But he was never summoned to Parliament, and there had been a regular discontinuance of writs in the Sudeley line from the 14th of Edw. II. to 41 Edw. III. when the last Lord Sudeley of that name died. The extinction of the dignity, however, is not to be inferred from this circumstance: for in the case of the Barony of Fitzwarin there had been a constant cessation of writs from 9 Edw. III. to 27 Hen. VI. and then Bouchier, who had married the heir general, was summoned by the title of William Bouchier, Knt. Lord Fitzwarin. I therefore consider Thomas Boteler as heir of the Barony, tho' I do not find him so summoned, and shall continue his descent under this article (copy from Dugd. vol. i. 596, beginning at line 62, and ending with line 1 p. 596^b.) The wife of this Thomas Boteler was Alicia, daughter of Sir John Beauchamp of Powyke, Knt. by whom he had issue four sons, John, William, Thomas, and Ralph, and four daughters, Elizabeth, Jane, Margaret, and Eleanor.^p All the sons except Ralph died issueless, and two of the daughters, Margaret and Eleanor, died unmarried. The time of John's death I have not been able to ascertain more precisely than that it happened during the lifetime of his mother, who had taken for her second husband Sir John Dalingrigge, Knt. and died in 21 Hen. VI. seised for the term of her life of the manors of Sudeley, Derset, and Greve aforesaid, at which time her son Ralph was found to be her heir and 40 years old.

This Ralph being a Knight (copy from line 4, p. 596^b, to "Com. Warr." incl. in line 19, p. 597, and then say,)—Altho' he left no issue living at the time of his death, yet it appears that he was twice married, first to Elizabeth,^q dau. of Sir John Norbury, Knt. sometime Treasurer of England, by whom he had two sons, Ralph, who died young, and Sir Thomas Boteler, Knt. who died issueless during his father's lifetime; and 2^{dly} to Alice, daughter of John Lord Deincourt, and widow of W^m Lord Lovell, by whom he had no issue. His son Sir Thomas appears to have married Eleanor, daughter of the renowned Lord Talbot, the first Earl of Shrewsbury—she survived her husband, and was the lady to whom Richard the Third pretended that his brother King Edward the 4th had been actually married long before, and at the time that he contracted himself to the Lady Eliz. Grey, and upon which pretence he urged the bastardy of Edward's children. It is true that the marriage with Lady Elizabeth Grey took place in the lifetime of Lady Eleanor Boteler, but is remarkable that the eldest of Edward's children was not born till two years after the Lady Eleanor's death, which happened in the 8th year of King Edward.^r

By the Inquisition taken after the death of Ralph, it appears that he died seized (as in line 15, p. 597, down to Knight incl. in line 22, where instead of "by" insert "son of.")

P. 597, l. 29. After "Dowrie," add, Here again the old Barony of Sudeley fell into abeyance between the said Sir John Norbury and William Belknap, Esq.

It is proper here to take notice that Elizabeth the elder sister after the death of Norbury took another husband, viz. Sir John Montgomery, by whom she had several children, but as her issue by Norbury is at present expanded into so many branches as almost to preclude all probability of extinction, I shall not enter into inquiry after the posterity of Montgomery.*

GIFFARD OF BRIMSFIELD.—Vol. I. 499^b.

P. 501, l. 10 to 15. The record referred to does not prove the fact.

P. 501^b, l. 35, add, It having been resolved by the House of Lords that the half-blood is no bar to the inheritance of a dignity, the Barony created by Writ in John Giffard the father, fell into abeyance on the son's death between Katharine de Audley and Eleanor Lestrage, and is involved with the Baronies of Audley and Strange of Blackmere.

Note. Margaret, mother of the last John survived; and in the 1st of Edward III. presented two petitions to the King, the one for 13 shillings and fourpence out of the manor of Wickhampton which she had in dower, the other for the manor of Syde in the county of Gloucester, which she held as a partner with her husband, and gave them to her son for his life, and he being slain in battle against Hugh Despenser, the King (Edw. II.) gave them to Hugh Despenser the father, † who withheld them from her by his greatness, and now they were in the King's hands by forfeiture of said Hugh, to which it was answered, "Let certain persons be assigned in Chancery to inquire," &c. In the Inquisition taken after her death, it appears that her son held the manor of Sherington, in the county of Wilts, as parcel of his Barony; that she held for life the manor of Clifton, &c. that her son died in the month of March, a^o 15 Edw. II. and that Joan, daughter of Alexander Giffard, and John, son and heir of Edith sister of the said Joan, cousins of John Giffard (her son), were his next heirs, viz. the said Joan and Edith, daughters of Alexander, son of Gilbert, son of another Gilbert, brother of Elias Giffard, grandfather of the said John.

This is the laste Wil indented of me Williã Mekilfeld, Esquier, being in good and heil memori p̄posyng toward y^e holi lond mad at Heneh^m the vij^{te} day of Novemb̄r the yer our lord m^lccccxxxix Preying hteli all my feffees of trost in my maneres londę 7 teñtis with y^e p̄tiñ this to p̄fo^rme execute and fulfille after y^e fo^rme folwyng: in werk of charitie, sau yng me my free Wil to change at alle tymes to my list. First I wil and preye that my Wyf shal haue bi terme of hir lyf al my maner callid Cravenes in Heneh^m with alle y^e membris and p̄tiñ therto longing in Heneh^m Wangeford Bregge and aff where wheche late wer Thomas Crauenę Except al that tenement callid Middeltones with certein londę lying therbi whiche I haue assignid and boundid therto to y^e value of x marč yerli And also x acř of resshafen and redfen at Bregge with free entre chas and rechas therto 7 fro. Whiche teñt and londę my p̄pos and wil were to annexe to my man⁹ of Blyford to myn heir in eschange and satisfacōn for y^e man⁹ of Mekilfeld of myn inheritañs whiche man⁹ of Mekilfeld I haue g^aunted bi my dede to John Olnestoñ and to his heires in recōpence and satisfacōn for CC marč whiche Thomas Vlneston his fad⁹ before payed for y^e seid man⁹ of Cravenes. And the reu⁹sion of y^e same man⁹ of Cravenes I wil that John Vlneston shal have it aftir y^e decess of my seid wyf his Mod⁹ with alle y^e p̄tiñ except these before except yf he lyke to haue it. fyndyng suffis^aunt suretee to my feffees and executores such as thei can agree to for to paye hem therefore vj marč of laweful mony of Ingelond in lyk fo^rme and dayes as it folwith. that is to wete. paying to hem withinne a monith day next after my deces. xl. li of y^e seid sūne. And bi thre yeris thanne next folwyng iche yer of tho .iij. ye^r xx li at ij tmes vsuel bi evene porçones. And in the fourte yer paying at y^e same fest^e xl. març bi euene porçone. And so paying from thens forth eche yer at y^e same fest^e xl març bi euene porçones til al y^e seid sūne of vj C març to myn exeç be fulli payid. And yf my brothir Robt Mekilfeld or any of myn heiris or of his, refuse & denye to have this seid tenement callid Middiltone with tho lond^e before rehersed in exchange and reward for y^e man^o of Mekilfeld lyk as I have before assignid but wil cleyne or entre into y^e same man^o of Mekilfeld, than I wil my seid sone John Vlneston have the same tenement wit y^e man^o of Cranes with y^e lond beforeseid therto so assigned as to y^e same man^o annexid in eschaunge and satisfaccōn for the y^e seid man^o of Mekilfeld. And recōpence for the seid x ac^r of resshafen and redfen annexid to y^e seid man^o of Blyford, I wil y^e the same John Vlneston shal [have] to ye seid bargayne with y^e man^o of Cravenes certeyn lond^e & teñtis whiche late I p^rchased of Steph^e Sire bi his Ch^re and of Nichol Randekyn and John Homward bi ij ch^res with y^e p^rtiñ in Heneham to him and to his heires in fee sy^rpt, sen before that y^e same Joh thanne shal delyuere to my seide heiris or to my brothir Robt all y^e astate and euidenç that he or any man to his vse hath in y^e seid man^o of Mekilfeld with y^e p^rtiñ. And yf y^e seid John Vlneston deye before this bargayne accordid and suretee thus mad, or eff^e voyde and refuse this seid bargayne of the seid man^o of Cravenes vnd^o this fōrme to be had. And ave an annuitee of x li le yere which was grauntid to him and to his heires out of y^e same man^o of Crauenes as for his suretee of the seid man^o of Mekilfeld pesibleli to be had to such gret hurt and blemisshing or y^e seid man^o of Crauenes whiche as I trost to him he wil not dezire to execute with goodli mesure p^rferid to contente and satisfye him in othir wyse to bett^o conuēience. These two documents are taken from the Cottonian collection of rolls and charters, IV. 34.* They are both originals; the seal of one is lost, and both are attached together by the seal of the official of the Bishop of Norwich, whose act of probate is indorsed on the Latin testament, in the ancient manner. To this custom is to be ascribed the non-existence of original wills, of early date, in our testamentary archives. The history of the property and family to which these documents relate, may be illustrated by others in the same collection.

DOCUMENTS RELATING TO LANVEITHIN AND RESOLVEN, ESTATES OF THE ABBEY OF MARGAM.

Grant of Lantmeuthin from Hugo de Lancarvan.

From the original deed in the possession of C. R. Mansel Talbot, Esq. M.P. The contractions in the handwriting, which is that of the 13th century, have not been followed in the transcript.

Lantmeuthin, now called Lanfeithin or Lanveithin, is situate near the village of Lllancarvan. It is shown from this document to have derived its name from a Saint named Meuthin, who is not noticed in the recent work on the Welsh Saints, by Professor Rees, of St. David's college, Resolven.

The Lordship of Rossowlin, now written Resolven, is situated in the vale of Neath, Glamorganshire. The name "Bryn Kynhaythwydd" in Resolven, occurs in an old survey. Here still exist the remains of a rude cross, with the following words legible preparavit^f hanc. . . . It is probable that the cross was erected by Canaythen. Morgan ab

^a There were four Bishops of Llandaff bearing the Christian name of William between the years 1219 and 1266.

^b The Humfravilles were Lords of the Castle of Penmark, near Lancarvan; the family came into Glamorganshire with the Normans under Robert Fitz Hamon in the year 1090.

^c See a grant, in Mr. Talbot's possession, from "Hugo Roberti de Lancaruan filius," by which he gives to the Monks of Margam "xxx acras terre sue de Lando-yethin cum crofta que adjacet veteri cemeterio, consensu domini mei Henrici de Umfravill. T. P. de Marecros. W. Flamenge. Joh. Le Sor. P. de Turbill. Odo de Novo Burgo. W. Prior de Goldlive.—Penrice MSS.

^d Saint Hilary is a parish in Glamorganshire adjoining to Lancarvan on the south-west.

^e Tanner states in the Notitia Monastica, that a monastery is said to have been built here by Saint Cadocus about the year 500. The history of the place is involved in great obscurity. The Chronicle, written by Caradoc a monk of Lancarvan about the year 1156, is well known.

^f This word occurs in the inscription upon the ancient cross at Llantwit Major, Glamorganshire.

20 DOCUMENTS RELATING TO THE ABBEY OF MARGAM.

Cradoc was a considerable benefactor to the Abbey of Margam; vide Caley and Ellis' Monasticon, vol. v. p. 741, where Rosowlin is spelt Rhos Onlyn. William Earl of Gloucester died in 1183. Vide Gale's Scriptores. Annales de Margam, vol. ii. p. 9.

The entry on the Cartulary was perhaps taken from the long lost Register of Neath, which was in the possession of Sir Edward Stradling of St. Donat's Castle, Glamorganshire, in 1574, as appears from an unpublished letter by Rees Meyrick of Cottrell, in that county, to Sir Edward, requesting the loan of the MS. See also Tanner's Notitia Monastica, "Neth."

"Canaythen primo dedit terram de Rosowlin domui de Margam consensu domini sui, et postea factus ei conversus vir et tutissime vixit omnibus diebus vite sue.

"Morgan ab Cradoc tradidit Canaythen filium Roberti ab Eynon obsidem pro se domino suo Willimo Comiti Glovernie [et] per modicum tempus rebellavit contra dominum suum.

"Hoc audito comes precepit erruere oculos obsidis et remittere ad In recompensatione oculorum Morgan dedit ei terram de Rossowlin, et ille ex consensu domini sui dedit ecclesie beate Marie de Margam."

ACCOUNT OF THE CHURCH OF BEDWYN MAGNA, IN WILTSHIRE, WITH A LIST OF THE VICARS, AND EXTRACTS FROM THE PARISH REGISTERS; AND OTHERS FROM BEDWYN PARVA, FROXFIELD, AND EASTON.

THE Church of Bedwyn Magna, dedicated to St. Mary, is the largest, and altogether the finest, in the hundred of Kinwardstone, in the county of Wilts. It is built wholly of flint, with the exception of the buttresses, quoins, doorways, and windows, which, together with the internal ornaments, are of good free-stone. The plan is cruciform, consisting of a nave with aisles, a transept, and a chancel, from the intersection of which rises a massive tower, surmounted by open-worked battlements. The capitals of the columns in the nave, and the mouldings of the arches, are of rich Norman character, especially the former, which exhibit much variety of design, and have been lately restored with great care to their original perfection. It is probable that this, the oldest part of the building, was erected towards the close of the twelfth century, just at that period when the round or Norman style was yielding to the lighter and more elegant forms of the Pointed or Early English order, and before the latter was exclusively adopted. The character of the ornamental work is Norman, but the structure itself is Pointed, bearing in general appearance a close analogy to Wimborne Minster, Llanthony Abbey, and other examples of the intermixture of the two styles. The chancel is very plain, with narrow lancet-shaped windows, that at the east end being divided into three lights. The transept displays the richer style of Edward the Third's reign, and the north and south windows are very peculiar, and perhaps unique in design. The remaining portions of the building, including the ailes, west end, clere-story, and tower, are later, and boast not of much architectural beauty.

The internal dimensions of the church are, length of nave 62 feet, space under the tower 25 feet, length of chancel 38 feet, whole length 125 feet.—Length of transept 85 ft. 8 in.; width of nave and ailes 46 ft., of chancel 20 ft. 3 in., of transept 19 ft. 9 in.; height of tower outside 60 ft.; its square outside, north to south 26 ft., east to west 25 ft.

The chancel has been the burial place of several of the Seymour family, but there are only four epitaphs to their memory. That to Sir John Seymour is engraved upon a tablet of alabaster, and is placed within a large circular-headed niche, on the north side, near the east end of the chancel. Below, is a shallow altar tomb, supporting the recumbent figure of a knight clothed in mail and plate armour, his head resting upon the helmet, and his feet upon the figure of a lion. The material of this tomb is a very soft stone, which is rapidly giving way to the effects of time, and, although something has been done towards renewing the armorial bearings and inscription, much remains to be accomplished for the preservation of the tomb and effigy. The following is the inscription :

of Wolphall Knight: who by Margerie his Wyfe, Daughter of Sr Henry Wentworthe Knight, from whome the nowe Lorde Wentworthe is discended, had Six Sonnes and Fower Daughters: To wete, John who dyed vnmarryed. Edward, Dvke of Somerset,

Earl of Hertforde, Viscovnt Beavchampe and Baron Seymovr, Uncle to Kinge Edwarde the Sixt, Governor of his Royall Person, Protector of all his Dominions and Svbjects, Lorde Tresorer and Earle Marshall of Englande; w^{ch} Dvke maryed Anne, Daughter of Sr Edwarde Stanhope Knight,^a by Elizabeth his Wyfe, Daughter of Sr Fovlke Bvrgchier, Lorde Fitzwaryn, from whome the moderne Earles of Bath are discended. Sr Henry Seymovr, Knight, who married Barbara, Daughter of Thomas Morgan, Esqvier.^b Thomas Lorde Seymovr of Svdeley, Hight Admirall of Englande, who maryed Katherine, Queene of Englande, and Wydow to Kinge Henry the Eight. One other Jhon, and Anthony, who dyed in their Infancy. Jane Queene of Englande, Wyfe to Kyng Henry the Eight, and Mother to Kyng Edwarde the Sixt. Elizabeth, firste maryed to Sr Henry Vghtred, Knight, after to Gregorie Lorde Cromwell, and last to Jhon Lord Saint John of Basinge, after Marqvesse of Winchester. Margerie, who dyed in her Infancy, and Dorothe, maryed to Sr Clement Smythe, Knight.

“ This Knight departed this Lyfe at lx yeares of age, the xxj day of December, Anno 1536, and was fyrste bvryed at Eston Priorie Chvrch, amongst divers of his Avncestors, bothe Seymovrs and Sturmyes; Howbeit that Chvrch beinge rvined, and thereby all their Monmentes either whollie spoyled, or verie mvch defased dvrng the Mynoritie of Edwarde Earle of Hertforde, Sonne to the said Dvke, The said Earle after, as well for the dvtiful Love he beareth to his said Grandefather, as for the better Contynvans of his Memory, did cause his Bodie to be removed, and here to be intombed at ^a In compliance with the early policy of the Seymour family, the Protector's first marriage with Katharine Fillol (from which the present Duke of Somerset is descended), is not mentioned.

^b This statement is at variance with several pedigrees, particularly one in the Coll. of Arms, in which this lady is described as “ Barbara, daughter of Morgan Wolfe, by Gwennlian, daughter and heir of John de Barri.” Morgan Wolfe is stated in the same place to have been “ the son of Howell Wolfe, the son of John Wolfe, esq. the son of Sir John Wolfe, knt. by the daughter and coheir of Sir Majo (Mauger?) Le Sore, of St. Fagan's (co. Glamorgan) by the dau. and heir of Huntley.” With this descent the arms on the Great Bedwyn monument agree.

Morgan Wolfe had also two sons, David and William Wolfe, both of whom married and had issue. This Morgan Wolfe must not be confounded with the goldsmith to Henry VIII. whose name was Morgan Phelpepe, alias Wolfe. He made his will 10 July, 5 Edward VI. 1550, which was proved 31 May 1552, and it is remarkable that he names a daughter Barbara then unmarried, also his sons Julius, Walter, and Thomas, besides other children, neither of whom appear in the other pedigree.

his own Coste and Chardge, the laste daye of September, Anno 1590, in the xxxii year of the moste happye Raigne of ovr gratious Sovereigne Ladie, Qveene Elizabeth."

Above the inscription is placed a shield of arms, bearing the ensigns of Sir Henry Seymour, Knt. viz. Gules, two wings conjoined and inverted Or, a crescent of the Last for difference, for Seymour, impaling quarterly, 1st. Argent, a fesse between three martlets Gules, on a chief Sable three wolf's heads erased Argent, for Wolfe of Gwerngotheyn; 2nd. Per pale Sable and Azure, three fleurs de lis Or, for Wolfe Newton; 3rd. Or, three wolves passant Azure, for Nanfant; 4th. Argent, on a chevron Gules, between three stag's heads caboshed Sable, three bugles Argent, stringed Or, for Le Sore of St. Fagan's. On the dexter side of the inscription is Sir John Seymour's coat, Gules, two wings conjoined and inverted Or, impaling Wentworth, viz. Sable, a chevron between three leopard's faces Or. On the sinister side, a shield bearing quarterly of six, viz. 1st and 6th, Seymour; 2nd. Vaire, for Beauchamp of Hache; 3rd. Argent, three demi-lions couped Gules, for Esturmy; 4th. Per bend Argent and Gules, three roses in bend Counterchanged, for Macwilliams; 5th. Argent, on a bend Gules three leopard's faces Or, for Coker.

On the tomb, under the figure of Sir John Seymour, are six other shields bearing, 1. Seymour; 2. Beauchamp of Hache; 3. De Fortibus; viz. Argent, on a chief Gules a label of five points Or; 4. Esturmy; 5. Macwilliams; 6. Coker.

On the floor of the chancel, near to Sir John's monument, is a brass plate inscribed to the memory of his eldest son:

"Here lyeth the body of John Seymour sonne and here of Sr John Seymour Knight & of Margery oon of the daughters of Sr Henry Wentworth Knight, which decessed y^e xv day of July, the yer of o^r Lord m^v[^c]x, on whos soule Jhu have m^ecy & of yo^r charite say a pater nost^r & a ave."

It is probable that this John Seymour was removed from the ruined Priory church at Easton to this grave, at the same time that the body of his father was brought hither, and that the brass plate, together with the Purbeck slab into which it is inserted, was also brought from Easton.

By the side of the above, is another brass, commemorating

Edward Lord Beauchamp, son and heir of Edward Earl of Hertford, by Lady Katharine his wife, daughter and coheir of Henry Grey, Duke of Suffolk, and sister to Lady Jane Grey. He died at Wick, in the county of Wilts, in 1612. (See p. 33.)

“Bellocamp⁹ eram, Graia genetrix, Semerus;
Tres habui natos, est quibus una soror.”

On the north wall of the chancel, towards the west, is a handsome marble monument to the memory of Frances, second wife of William second Duke of Somerset. A well executed bust of the Duchess forms part of the design.

“Here lyeth, near to the body of her husband, ye most noble Lady Frances Devereux, daughter of Robert Earle of Essex, and widdow of William Duke of Somerset, who dyed April the 24th 1674, aged 74 years and six months.

In gratitude to whose memory, this monument is erected by Thomas Viscount Weymouth, who married her grand-daughter, the Lady Frances Finch, A^o. Dom:
1706.”

The coat of arms is Seymour, impaling Argent, a fesse Gules, in chief three Torteauxes, for Devereux, the whole in a lozenge surmounted by a ducal coronet.

There are no other inscriptions in the chancel; and in the church, there are only two monuments. These may be noticed for their antiquity. One is the recumbent figure of a cross-legged knight in armour, supposed to be the effigy of Sir Adam de Stock, who died about the year 1313, possessed of the manors of Stock in this parish, and of Rushall in this county. His widow, Geva, married secondly Robert de Hungerford. The shield of arms is still distinguishable, though much decayed. The bearings are, Argent, five bars Gules, over all a bend charged with three escallops of the Field between six martlets Sable. The other tomb covers the body of Sir Roger de Stock, son of Sir Adam, who died 1333, seised of the manor of Wolfhall and of lands in Savernake Forest. On the top stone is the impression of a brass in the shape of a cross, with a long stem and graduated foot. A line of inscription runs along the outer edge of the stone, but it is very indistinct. The first three words are sufficiently legible, “Roger . de . Stocre . Chev.”

In the churchyard^c there is a tomb with the following inscription: "Here lyeth the body of Charles Becher, Esq^r. who died Oct^r. y^e 31st anno ætatis 73, Salutis 1737."

The arms of Becher, Vaire Argent and Gules, on a canton Or a buck's head caboshed Sable; impaling, Sable, two bars Argent, in chief three Plates, for Hungerford, are sculptured at the head of the stone. Mrs. Becher was Jane daughter of Hungerford, of Fifield, in the parish of Milton, co. Wilts. She was buried here, 10 June 1743, but there is no epitaph to her memory. There is a tomb over her two sons, Charles Becher, jun. Gent. who died 14 March 1732, aged 8 years and 6 months; and Henry, who died in his infancy.

VICARS OF THE PARISH OF BEDWYN MAGNA.

The earliest Vicar on record was Thomas Dogeson, to whose memory a brass plate still remains in the church; he died on the 7th of December 1500.

Richard Yonge, mentioned in the Ecclesiastical Survey of 26 Hen. VIII. 1535, is the next of whom there is any account.

Joseph Smith is the first vicar entered in the Institution Registers of the Deans of Sarum (this being a peculiar under their jurisdiction), which commence in the year 1548. On his cession, William Wingfield^d was presented in 1564, by Thomas Blagrove, Esq. who sat for Bedwyn in the Parliament of 13 Elizabeth, and was connected with the Hungerford family.

Henry Shawe was presented on Wingfield's resignation by Sir Edward Seymour, Kt. in 1573, and again in 1574, by the Queen.

Richard Baylie's name occurs several times in the Registers^e as vicar, between the years 1576 and 1582, when he was buried; but there is no entry of his institution in the Dean's Register.

Roger Glass appears to have been instituted in 1581, the year before Baylie's death, on the presentation of the Earl of Hertford.

^c The epitaphs in the church and churchyard of Great Bedwyn, 1821, are printed in Sir Thomas Phillipps's Collection of Monumental Inscriptions in Wiltshire, Part II. pp. 171—180. Of that volume, however, only six copies were printed; one of which is deposited in the Library of the College of Arms. EDIT.

Adam Noyes, on the resignation of Glass, was presented by Queen Elizabeth, in 1595.

Henry Tayler,^f by Edward Earl of Hertford, in 1598.

Joshua Slatyer.

Henry Tayler's name occurs again in 1617. No patron is mentioned in the Institution or Subscription Books at Salisbury, but in the First Fruits Office the Earl of Hertford is stated to have presented.

Richard Plumer^g was presented in 1627, by the Earl of Hertford. He was buried on the 27th Aug. 1649.

Solomon Renger is styled Vicar in 1650-1 and 1653;^h and he was buried here, Jan. 17, 1653-4.ⁱ

Robert Billings^j was presented in 1661, by William Duke of Somerset, who also presented

Robert Randall in 1668.^k He died in April 1679, and William Meaden^l succeeded to the vicarage. His institution is not mentioned in the records at the First Fruits Office, nor the patron at Salisbury.

Dec. 6, 1722; Mary Meaden, widow, Sept. 26, 1754.

Nicholas Andrews was presented in 1714, on the resignation of Meaden, by Charles Baron Bruce of Whorlton. He was deprived in 1733, and John Arnald was presented by the same patron.

Thomas Giffard,^m the younger, became vicar on the resignation of Arnald in 1736, and Henry Howard, B.A. on the cession of Giffard in 1739. Patron, in both cases, as before.

William Loggon, M.A. was presented in 1742 by the same patron, then Earl of Ailesbury, on the cession of Howard.

Charles King, M.A. was presented, on the resignation of Loggon in 1748, by Thomas Baron Bruce of Tottenham; he died in 1759, when the same patron presented William Harrison, D.D.

Henry Jenner, B.A. became the next vicar, on the cession of Harrison, in 1768; he was an elder brother of Edward Jenner, M.D. the celebrated introducer of Vaccination. Mr. Jenner was afterwards instituted to the rectory of Rockhampton in the county of Gloucester, and although he ostensibly vacated the vicarage of Bedwyn Magna, yet the five next Incumbents were merely locum tenentes for his convenience. He died 4th April 1798, aged 61, and was buried at Burbage, adjoining this parish.

Thomas Brown, B.D. on the cession of Jenner in 1774, presented by Thomas Baron Bruce of Tottenham.

John Roberson, M.A. on the cession of Brown in 1784, presented by the Dean of Sarum by lapse.

David Williams,ⁿ on the death of Roberson, in 1787, presented by the same patron Thomas then Earl of Ailesbury.

Henry Williams, on the cession of D. Williams in 1789, presented by Thomas Earl of Ailesbury.

William Moore, on the resignation of H. Williams in 1796, patron the Dean of Sarum by lapse.

^m "Thomas and Mary, son and daughter of Thomas Giffard, Vicar, and Mary his wife, bap. Sept. 29, 1738."

ⁿ The Rev. David Williams died Perpetual Curate of Heytesbury and Knock, Prebendary of Heytesbury, &c. Oct. 13, 1836, æt. 87. See a long memoir of him (in which, however, the present preferment is not mentioned) in the Gentleman's Magazine, New Series, vol. viii. p. 209.

William Skey, B.A. was presented to the vicarage by Thomas Earl of Ailesbury in 1799, on the resignation of William Moore. Mr. Skey was presented to the vicarage of Bedwyn Parva in 1814, and is still incumbent of that parish.

Henry Wilson, B.A. succeeded to Bedwyn Magna in 1814, on the presentation of Charles Earl of Ailesbury.

James Hall, M.A. was presented in 1822, by Charles Marquess of Ailesbury, on the cession of Wilson, now rector of Collingbourne Ducis, in the county of Wilts.

John Ward, B.A. was instituted 25 Sept. 1826, presented by the same patron, on the cession of Hall, who had been preferred to the rectory of West Tanfield, near Ripon, in the county of York.

EXTRACTS FROM THE PARISH REGISTERS.

The Register of Baptisms commences in 1553 ; that of Marriages in 1539, and that of Burials in 1538.

The following registries of the family of Hungerford were not published with those collected from several parishes in Sir R. C. Hoare's Hungerfordiana, 8vo. 1823.

1558. Anthony Hungerford, knight,^a was buyried the xixth day of November.

The children of Anthony Hungerford, esq.^b and Bridget^c his wife :

1566. John Hungerford,^d the sonne and heire of Anthony Hungerford, esquire, & Bridgett his wife, was baptized the vijth day of August.

^a This was Sir Anthony Hungerford, of Down Ampney, co. Gloucester, of which county he was sheriff in 1552, and knight of the shire in 1553.

^b Anthony Hungerford, esq. grandson of the preceding Sir Anthony, according to Hungerfordiana, p. 17, but there erroneously styled a knight. His death is there placed in 1589, which agrees with the circumstances that he presented to the church of Down Ampney in 1585, and his son John in 1590.

^c His wife Bridget was a daughter of John Shelley, of Michelgrove, co. Sussex, esq. (not Sir John, as in Hungerfordiana, p. 17.) son of Sir William Shelley, Judge of the Common Pleas.

^d John succeeded to his father's estate at Down Ampney, and was knighted in 1590. He was M.P. for Wotton Bassett 27, 31, and 35 Eliz. for Chippenham and for Cricklade 1 Jac. In 1619 he was one of the knights who bore the corpse at the funeral of Queen Anne of Denmark. (Nichols's Progresses, &c. of King James the First, vol. iii. p. 540.) He died March 18, 1634[-5], æt. 69; and was buried at Down Ampney; see his epitaph in Bigland's Gloucestershire, i. 491, and Hungerfordiana, p. 48.

1567. Anthony Hungerford,^e sonne of Anthony Hungerford, esquire, and Bridgett his wife, was baptized the xxixth day of October.

1583. Anne Hungerford, the daughter of Anthony Hungerford, esquire, was buyried the ixth day of May.

1590. Richard Hungerford, the sonne of John Hungerford, esquire, was baptized the xxiiijth day of May.

1593. Elizabeth Hungerford, daughter of Sr John Hungerford, knight, was baptized the xxvth day of October.

1603. Edmond Harris and Elizabeth Hungerford were married the xxvijth day of June.

Sara,^g bap. March 23, 1605-6.

John,^h bap. Nov. 19, 1606.

Henry,ⁱ bap. 23 July 1611.

Giles,^k bap. 25 Sept. 1614.

Walter, bap. 25 Feb. 1616-17; bur. 3 Nov. 1619.

* Afterwards Sir Anthony Hungerford of Black Bourton, co. Oxford, and the ancestor of the branch of the family which continued for four subsequent generations at that place. He was M.P. for Marlborough 35 Eliz. and for Bedwyn 39, 43 Eliz. 1 and 12 Jac. I.; and was knighted at Whitehall Dec. 11, 1606. He married first Lucy, daughter of Sir Walter Hungerford, of Farley Castle, and widow of Sir John St. John, and by her had issue Sir Edward Hungerford, to whom his great-uncle Sir Edward Hungerford, of Farley Castle (second son of Walter Lord Hungerford) on his death in 1607, "for the preservation of his name, settled his estate." (Epitaph at Farley.) Sir Anthony married secondly Sarah Crouch, and had issue the children enumerated hereafter as baptized at Great Bedwyn. He died June 27, 1627, aged 60; and was buried at Black Bourton; see his epitaph in Hungerfordiana, p. 66.

^f Sarah, second wife of Sir Anthony, daughter and coheir of John Crouch, of London, and widow of Walter Wildman, or Wiseman. Hungerfordiana, pp. 29, 66.

^g This Sarah became the wife of Francis Goddard, of Standen, near Hungerford, esq. and was buried at Hungerford. Hungerfordiana, p. 70.

^h Sir Richard Hoare supposes this to be the same with John Hungerford, who married Elizabeth, daughter of John Champneys, of Orchardleigh, esq. Hungerfordiana, p. 30 note.

ⁱ Henry Hungerford, esq. of Standen in the parish of Hungerford, Berks, "third sonn of Sr Anthony Hungerford of Black Borton, by Dame Sarah his second wife," died May 23, 1673, and was buried at Hungerford. See epitaph in Hoare's Hungerfordiana, p. 71.

^k This Giles was afterwards Sir Giles Hungerford of Coulton, co. Wilts. He died "the 7 of March 1684-5, aged 70 years and 6 months;" and was buried in Salisbury Cathedral: see his epitaph, in which he is described as "fifth son of Sr Anthony Hungerford of Black Bourton," and which sets forth his marriages and issue, in the Antiquities of the Cathedral Church of Salisbury, 8vo. 1719, p. 59, and Hoare's Hungerfordiana, p. 67.

1612. Alexander Chocke and Brigett Hungerford¹ were married 5^o Octobris.

BAPTISMS.

1571. Edmond Pike^o was baptized the xxijth day of August.

1576. Elinor Fitswilliams was baptized the xxij^o of November.

^m Of Somerford Keynes, co. Wilts. See the epitaph of Robert, his posthumous and only son, in Hungerfordiana, p. 81.

ⁿ In 1653 and 1656 the name of his wife—Jane, is mentioned. " Mathew Hungerford and Jane Chock " were married at the neighbouring church of Mildenhall, 9 Oct. 1641. This is a branch of the family which does not at all appear in the Hungerfordiana ; unless the father may be identified with the subject of the epitaph (p. 79) from Rotherhithe, in Surrey, of Matthew Hungerford, esq. of Chisbury, Wilts, who died 20 April 1677, aged 65. This is probable, as Chisbury is in the adjoining parish of Bedwyn-parva, where, on a slab in the chancel, is this inscription (which is not inserted in Hungerfordiana) : " Hic juxta jacent corpora tam Edmundi Hungerford de Chisbury, armigeri, quam Elizabethæ uxoris ejus, filiæ Johannis Wither de Manidowne, in com. Southam. illa obiit 4^o die Januarii anno dⁿⁱ 1655, ætatis suæ 63 ; ille decessit 18^o die Decembris 1658, ætatis suæ 78." Some further particulars of the Hungerfords of Chisbury will be found hereafter, p. 37, from the register of Froxfield ; and others from Hungerford, in a subsequent part of this volume.

1645. Francis Weinman, gentleman, was buried the xxviiijth of September.

^ꝝ Edward Lord Beauchamp, son and heir of Edward Earl of Hertford, by Lady Catharine Grey, daughter and coheir of Henry Duke of Suffolk, and sister to Lady Jane Grey. In a letter written on the accession of King James I. "Lord Beauchamp is sayd to mak some assemblies in the Southeren partes," but the informant (Sir John Hollis) hoped they would "suddenly dissholfe into smoke, his forse beyng feble to make hede agenst so grayt an unyon." Hunter's Hallamshire, p. 93. Dugdale (Baronage, ii. 369) states that Lord Beauchamp died in Aug. 1618: that date is transferred by Collins to his son Edward Lord Beauchamp, which may perhaps be the truth, but Collins adds that the latter died "before his father and grandfather,"—an error which has been copied in vol. iii. of the present work, p. 160.

^Ꝟ Lady Arabella Seymour was eldest daughter of William Marquis of Hertford (afterwards restored as second Duke of Somerset) by his second wife, Lady Frances Devereux, daughter of Robert Earl of Essex. He named this his first daughter after his early love and stolen bride, the unfortunate Lady Arabella Stuart, by whom he had no children.

^ꝟ William Lord Beauchamp, eldest son of the said Marquis. He died unmarried.

^c Robert Lord Beauchamp, second son of the Marquis of Hertford. He also died unmarried.

^d Sir Walter Smith, knt. sat for the borough of Bedwyn 16 Car. I.

^e One of the daughters of Henry Lord Beauchamp, either Frances or Mary, both of whom died young.

^f Henry Lord Beauchamp, third son of William second Duke of Somerset, by Lady Frances Devereux. In Collins's Peerage his death is erroneously placed in 1656. He had issue by Mary, daughter of Arthur Lord Capel, one son William, who succeeded as third Duke of Somerset, and three daughters, Frances and Mary, who died infants, and Elizabeth, married to Thomas Lord Bruce, afterwards second Earl of Ailesbury; she became heir on the death of her brother William in 1671, to large possessions in Wiltshire, which still remain in the Bruce family.

^g This should have been Lady Katharine Finch, daughter of Heneage Earl of Winchelsea, by Lady Mary Seymour, daughter of William second Duke of Somerset and Lady Frances Devereux.

"1660, Oct. 31. I went out of London to Reading with y^e Duke of Somerset's Body.

^l Frances Duchess of Somerset, widow of William second Duke, daughter of Robert Earl of Essex.

^m Francis was fifth Duke of Somerset, grandson to Francis first Lord Seymour of Trowbridge, who was brother to William second Duke. He was murdered at Lerice in Italy, 20 April 1678, aged 21 years, and, dying unmarried, his titles and estates descended to his brother Charles, who became sixth Duke.

ⁿ Viscountess Down; see note in p. 31.

Prior to this date (1740), for more than half a century, many entries occur in the families of Mr. William Byrde and Barbara his wife; Mr. Samuel Sadleirⁿ and Elinor his wife (said to be a descendant of Sir Ralph Sadleir); Mr. Daniel Meaden and Amy his wife; Mr. Patrick Byrde and Betty his wife; Mr. Thomas Streat and Elizabeth his wife; Mr. Robert Hall and Mary his wife; Mr. Edward Hall and Alice his wife; Mr. Robert Neate and Mary his wife; Mr. John Edgar, and Mr. William Pinckney and Elizabeth his wife.

BEDWYN PARVA.

The early registers of the parish of Bedwyn Parva have been lost from time immemorial, and it is supposed that they were destroyed by fire. The books that remain, carry the registration back about hundred years, during which period there are no entries of general interest. The inscriptions in the church have been printed in Sir T. Phillipps's collection, pp. 188-9.

In the east window of the church there are some fragments of stained glass, which may have represented, when in a perfect state, the arms of Richard II. Two quarters remain unmutilated, viz. Gules, three leopards Or and Azure, three fleurs-de-lis Or, for England and France; and there are, interspersed amongst a number of small pieces of glass, evident traces of the cross patonce of Saint Edward, borne by Richard II. There are no remains, however, of the martlets which accompanied the cross.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REGISTER, AND COPIES OF INSCRIPTIONS, ⁿ The Sadleir entries extended from 1623 downwards. Grace, the daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Sadler, was baptised March 5, 1769; and married by license April 18, 1805, to William Gale; who died s. p. Aug. 10, 1816, aged 62. She is still living (1837) on her little freehold cottage at Sadler's Hill, the sole remain of a large property formerly belonging to the family in this neighbourhood. Her brother John Sadler, the last male, died unmarried in 1810, and was buried at Shoreditch.

EPITAPHS FORMERLY IN CROYDON CHURCH; AND FURTHER EXTRACTS FROM THE PARISH REGISTERS OF CROYDON.

The following epitaphs are taken from a fly-leaf in the copy of Aubrey's Antiquities of Surrey in the British Museum, and have not hitherto been printed in any account of Croydon church:

"Epitaphs in Croydon church in a MS. of Mr. Ashmole's in his museum at Oxf^d, not in this printed acc^t."

1. "Hic jacet Thomas Warham, civis & carpentarius London, et Margaret' uxr' ejus, qui quidem Thomas obiit 3 Aug. 1481."

The tomb on which this inscription was placed is described at length in Steinman's History of Croydon, pp. 175, 176.

2. "Hic jacet Radulfus Chalner generosus, & Edith uxor ejus, qui quidem Radulfus obiit 6 Julii 1520."

3. "Hic jacet Robertus Morton, miles, & domina Joanna uxor ej's, qui quidem Robertus obiit 12 die April, A.D. 1515."

In the Church notes of Nicholas Charles, Lancaster Herald, (MS. Lansd. 874, p. 64,) the date is given 1514, and the arms: Quarterly Gules and Or, in the dexter chief and sinister base a goat's head erased Arg. attired of the Second, on a chief Erm. three Bezants, each charged with an escallop of the First; over all, a label of three points. He is also said to be "Speare & servant to King Henry 8." In his will he leaves to Croydon Church a silver chalice of the value of 5*l*. and a yard of cloth of gold.

4. "Hic jacet Margareta Morton filia Will. Woodford, consanguinea et hæres Radulfi Woodford de com. Leicest. armigeri, que obiit 15 Nov. 1507."

This epitaph is also in Charles's MS. but without day and month. For the Mortons see pedigree in vol. III. p. 169, and the corrections in vol. IV. pp. 396, 397.

5. "Here lyeth Thomas Heron, Esqr. & Elizabeth his wife, which Thomas deceased the 18 of Sept. Anno 1544."

In Charles's MS. without the date. For Heron see pedigree in vol. II. p. 166. The ledger on which this epitaph formerly stood is still to be found. On it are the effigies of a man in armour, his wife, four sons and seven daughters. There are five shields of arms, two and one above and two beneath the effigies. The first shield contains Per pale Gu. and Az. on a chevron between three herons Arg. as many cinquefoils Sa. (Heron.) The second lost. The third, Heron, and Arg. two bendlets Sa. in sinister chief a crosslet of the Second, (Bond,) paleways; impaling, Quarterly: 1 and 4. Arg. a fess between three boars' heads coupéd Sa. Said John granted that he, his heires and assigns from thenceforthe, should save harmless the said William, his heirs and assigns, for the said yearly rent of eight merks, or any part thereof.

For which messuage, teñts and hereðs, &c. said William paid to said John at the sealing and delivery thereof, 200*l.* of lawful English money. Executed by said John Cooke.

This said William Seintpier by his will, dated 16 Dec. 1533, (proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury 7 June 1534) desired to be buried in the Church of St. Christopher, London, by Jeryan his son. He gave to the high altar of the said Church 12*d.* for tythes and oblations forgotten. And all the rest of his goods unbequeathed he gave to his wife Agnes, to whom he delegated the care of his children, and made her sole executrix, constituting Thomas Kyry, salter, John Nashe, draper, John Phillips and Richard Baas, overseers.

2. INDENTURE dated 10th Oct. 1554, 1 & 2 Phil. and Mary, and made between Edmonde Wythipolle of Gwipiswiche, in the co. of Suffolk, gent. on the one p^{tie}, and Henry Leke of Suthwerk, in the countie of Sur^r, Berebruer, on the other p^{tie}; said Edmond Wythipoll did demise unto said Harry Leke the said teñt called the Dolphyn, and two other teñts, with their appurtenances, set on the northe side of the said chief teñt called the Dolphyn, and one lytle teñt set on the southe syde of the said chief teñt. And also three little houses or tenements set on the backside of the said chief teñt in Peper Alley; all which demised premises are set, lying, and beinge in the P^{is}he of Seint Saviors in Suthwerk; for 30 years, at the yearly rent of 16*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*

3. INDENTURE dated 12 Dec. 1554, 1 & 2 Phil. and Mary, between said Edmond Wythipoll of the one part, and said Henry Leke of the other part, whereby said Edmond Wythipoll, for the sum of 320*l.* conveyed to the said Henry, his heirs and assigns for ever, the premises mentioned in the foregoing lease, with a yard and wharf extending to the ryver of Thamys, all which said hereditments are therein mentioned to be situate lying and being in the parishes of St. Salviors and Saint Oluf in Suthwerk, in the said county of Surrey, and doe abutt upon the lands of Sir Anthony Cooke, knt. on the north, and the land of the late Hospital, called St. Thomas's Hospital, on the south, the king's highway east, and Peper Alley west. And for the sum aforesaid, said Edmond did clerely bargain and sell to said Herry, his heirs and assigns for ever, the yearly quyt rent of 2*s.* belonging to the said premises, and going out of the tenement, being a tavern called the Beare,^c in Suthwerk aforesaid, and in the said parish of Saint Oluf; to hold the same unto and to the use of the said Herry Leke, his heirs and assigns for ever.

Covenants by said Edmond Wythipoll for the title, and against incumbrances, except a quit rent of 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* going thereout to the King and Queen for ever, executed by said Edmond Wythipoll, and acknowledged in Chancery.

4. A DEED POLL of the same date and to the same effect as the last abstracted Indenture. Executed by the said Edmund Wythipoll, and attested by Ralph Whyte, merchant-tailor,

^c The Bear at the Bridge foot was a celebrated Tavern, much frequented by the worthy inhabitants of Southwark. It is frequently mentioned in the accounts of the Churchwardens of St. Olave's, for instance :

It'm for iiij Dinners at the Visitation, whereof j at the Church

In Thomson's "Chronicles of London Bridge" there are copies of two tokens, one of Abraham Browne at the Beare, Bridge foot, Southwark; and the other of Cornelius Cooke, at the Beare at the Bridge foot. The Bear continued to afford hospitable entertainment to all who could pay until the year 1761, when it was pulled down on the bridge being widened, and the houses thereon removed. In the Public Advertiser of Saturday Dec. 26, 1761, is the following announcement: "Thursday last the workmen employed in pulling down the Bear Tavern at the foot of London Bridge, found several pieces of gold and silver coin of Queen Elizabeth, and other monies to a considerable value." Chron. London Bridge, p. 548.

Henry Burfeld, grocer, William Jones, capper, Roger Hyepy,^d vintner, John Scampion, scriptor, and many others. Seal of Edmund Wythipoll, on a shield three lions passant.

The said Henry Leke by his will, dated 12 March 2d Elizabeth 1559, and proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury on the 23d of April following, desired to be buried in the Church of St. Olave, Southwark, and he gave out of the rents and profits of certain houses and tenements situate within the precincts of St. Martin's le Grand, which he held by lease from the Dean and Chapter of Westminster granted to John Stringfellow, £20 a-year during the term of the said lease, to be applied as follows, viz.

To the poor of St. Olave's, St. George's, St. Saviour's, and St. Mary Magdalen (Bermondsey) £5 0 0

Towards the maintenance of a free-school in St. Saviour's £8 0 0 but if within 2 years from his death a free-school should be built and established in St. Olave's parish, then he gave the same 8*l.* per annum towards such school in St. Olave's.

To the poor of the City of London £5 0 0

For a Sermon when the money should be distributed 6*s.* 8*d.*

To the Parson of St. Olave's for seeing the same performed 6*s.* 8*d.* and to the Churchwardens of St. Olave's for their pains in distributing his legacy £1 6 8

He devised his mansion house, situate in the parish of St. Olave, Southwark, with the brewhouse, wharfs, yards, gardens, garners, and also the small house wherein Derick Spencer lately dwelt, with the appurtenances, as well without the great gates of his said mansion as within, unto his son Henry Leake and the heirs of his body for ever, with remainder to his own right heirs for ever; but upon condition that the brewhouse and the stock therein, and all new stock to be added thereto, should be for the joint benefit of his said son and the testator's daughter Katharine wife of Francis Barty, during their joint lives, and that the said mansion house should be jointly occupied by them; and he devised his tenement called the Dolphyn, with the tenements adjoining thereto, and extending to the waterside in the parishes of St. Olave and St. Saviour, to his daughter Joan for her life, with remainder to her children in equal proportions; and he appointed his said son Henry and his son-in-law Francis Barty, executors of his will.

Mr. Leke's bequest of 8*l.* per annum towards a free-school in the parish of St. Olave, was the origin of the foundation of the excellent and well-endowed free-school in that parish (for an account of which see Gent. Mag. N. S. vol. v. p. 15) and to Leke, therefore, may justly be attributed the credit of the foundation, as having taken the first step and been the first contributor towards it. Henry Leke left one son, Henry Leke the younger, and two daughters, Joan and Katharine.

Henry Leke the son, Citizen and Clothworker of London, survived his father only three years, and by his will, dated 16 Sept. 1563, desired to be buried in the church of St. Olyve's, Southwerke (of which he was a parishioner), and he gave one third part of his personal estate to his wife Alice, and one other third part to his children Luce, Catherine, Ellen, and Henry, and the child then in his wife's womb; and out of the remaining third part he gave certain charitable legacies, and inter alia 10*l.* to the poor of St. Olave's. He gave to his clerk Nicholas Weblyng 20*l.* in recompence of his true and just service; and he directed that a sermon should be preached on the day of his burial by Master Coverdale,* to whom he bequeathed 40*s.* for his pains. He gave to Francis Barty and Catherine his wife, and to Martin Cronebeck (Van Kurnebeck) and Joan his wife (his brothers in law and sisters) black gowns; of the residue of his third part of his goods he gave one moiety to his wife Alice, and the other moiety to his said children. And as to his brewhouse, wherein he then dwelt, he directed the same to be carried on for the benefit of his widow and family until his son Henry should attain the age of 21 years, at which period he devised the same to his said son in tail, with remainder to his other children successively in fee simple; and he appointed his wife Alice and his son Henry executors of his will, and his nephew Derick Gortes, Christopher Woodward, Citizen and Vintner of London, and Thomas Harper, carpenter, overseers. This will was proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury on the 13th Dec. 1563.

Joan Leke married Martin Van Kurnebeck, Dr. in Physic, and had by him two sons, Symon Van Kurnebeck and Henry Van Kurnebeck, and one daughter Genevieve, who married Wm. Dade of Witton, in com. Norfolk, Gent. Katherine Leke married Francis Barty, or Berty, to whose memory there was a monument in the church of St. Martin in the Fields, with the following inscription:

“ Neare this place lycth buried the bodies of Fran. Berty, Esq. borne

* This was doubtless the celebrated Miles Coverdale, sometime Bishop of Exeter, who assisted Tindal in the English version of the Bible which was published in 1537. Having been ejected from his see and imprisoned by Queen Mary, he was released, on the intercession of the King of Denmark, and permitted to go into banishment. On the accession of Queen Elizabeth he returned, but refused to be restored to his see, on account of his attachment to the principles of the Puritans. However, when he was old and poor, Grindal Bishop of London gave him the small living of St. Magnus, at the bridge foot, of which he was Rector at the date of Henry Leke's will 1563; but he was obliged to relinquish his parish shortly before his death for nonconformity. He was much followed by the Puritans.

50 FUNERAL CERTIFICATE OF HENRY LEAKE, 1622.

in the city of Antwerpe of worshipful parents, who were Florentines, descended of honourable families; and of Katherine his wife, daughter of Henry Leke of Southwark, Gent. The said Francis served King Henry VIII. and was employed by him in some foreign negociations to certain Princes in Germany. He lived 91 years and 8 months, and left issue, Francis his son married to Anne, daughter of Geo. Fitz Jeffery, of Blackborne Hall, in the county of Bedford, Esq. Lucie his daughter, married to Arnold Oldesworth of Bradley, in the county of Gloucester, Esq. Keeper of the Hanaper of his Majesty's Chancery, Edward and Michael, sons of the said Arnold and Lucie, and Elizabeth their daughter, married to Alexander Baynham of Westbury, co. Glouc. Esq. Which Francis deceased the 5th June 1611, and the said Katherine the 28th Sept. 1604, who had lived together 54 years and more in sure profession of the true Christian Religion."

Among the Records of the Court of Chancery, temp. Eliz. there are proceedings in a suit between Wm. Dade and Jenophepha (or Genovaeva) his wife, against John Phillips and Catherine his wife, relating to lands and tenements in the parish of St. Olave in Southwark

And in another suit between Henry Leake and John Powell, wherein the said Henry Leake (the grandson of the first-named Henry Leke) claimed by descent divers messuages and ground in Southwark, purchased by Henry Leke, Plaintiff's grandfather, of Sir Roger Copley, Kt.

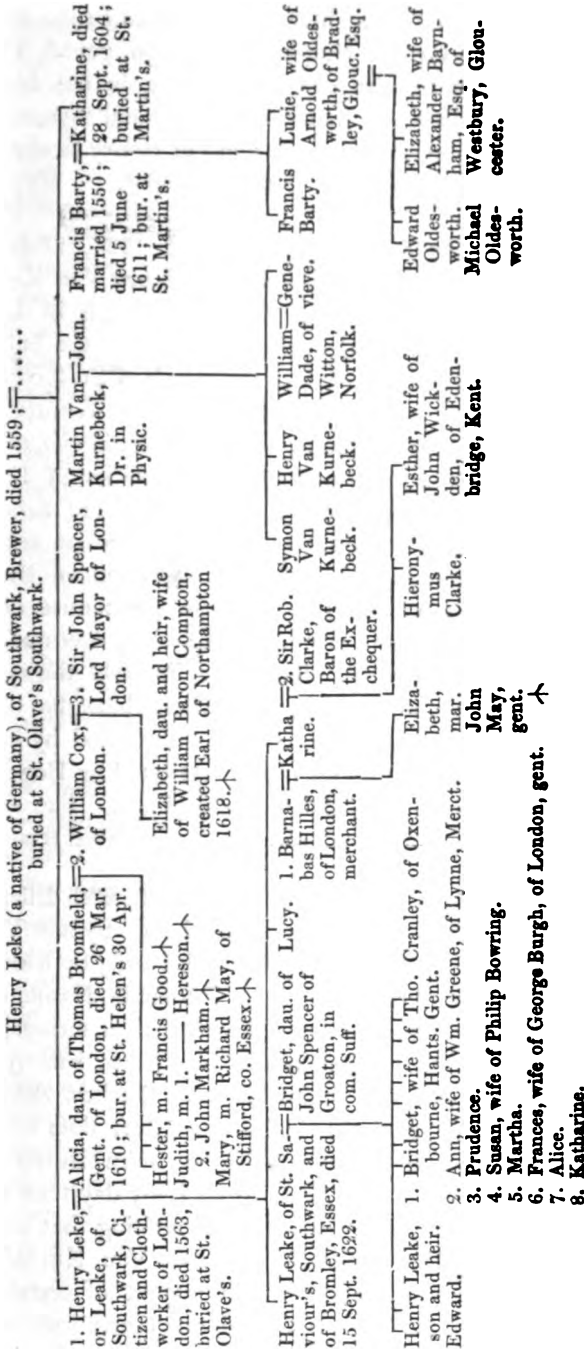

The following is the Funeral Certificate of Henry Leake the grandson, as recorded in the College of Arms :

" Mr. Henry Leake, of the parish of St. Saviour in Southwarke, in the county of Surrey, gent. departed this mortal life on the 15th of Sept. A^o. Dade, and Jenophepha his wife, in respect of certain lands and tenements in St. Martin's le Grand, one yearly rent or annuity of 10*l.* by Francis Barty, of London, gent. his heirs and assigns. Of all which said rents and annuity there was yearly payable to said Henry Van Kurnebeke, his heirs and assigns, the sum of 15*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* The said Henry Van Kurnebeke, Symon Van Kurnebeke, Wm. Dade, and Jenophepha his wife, in consideration of a certain sum of money to said Henry Van Kurnebeke, paid by Lambert Weeas of the parish of St. Olave's Southwark, cordwayner, assigned unto said Lambert Weeas for the term of fower years from the feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist then next, the aforesaid sum of 15*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* and until said Lambert Weeas should have received the sune of threskore one poundes, six shillings, and eight pence. Executed by the said Henry Van Kurnebeke, Symon Van Kurnebeke, Wyll'm Dade and Jenophepha (signed Jeneuova) Dade. Attested by Rogerus Bouterius, Not. Pub.

By two other Deeds of the same date as the last, the yearly sums of 15*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* each, payable to Symon Van Kurnebeke and Wm. Dade and ux. were assigned to said Lambert Weeas, for four years, in like manner as the share of Henry Van Kurnebeke was assigned by the last deed.

7. INDENTURE of Release and of Bargain and Sale, both dated 20 Jan. 22 Eliz. between Symon Van Kurnebeck and Henry Van Kurnebeck, of London, gent., sons of Martin Van Kurnebeck, of London, Doctor of Physick, and of Johanna his wife, daughter of Henry Leek, late of Southwark, Berebruer, deceased, and William Dade, of London, gent. and Jeneveva his wife, dau. of the foresaid Johanna Van Kurnebeck, on th'one partie, and John Middleton, cytizen and merchant tailor, of London, and Margarett his wife on th'other partye. Whereby said Symon Van Kurnebeck, Henry Van Kurnebeck, Wm. Dade and Jeneveva his wife, in consideration of fowre hundreth and twentie pounds to them paid by said John Middleton and Margarett, conveyed to said John Middleton and Margarett his wife, and to the heirs and assigns of the said John for ever, the said messuage or tenement called the Dolphyn, and the three messuages thereunto adjoining, then or late in the occupation of Thomas Awdeley, alias Luke, butcher, Edmonde Nashe, fruterer, and Thomas Rothewell, yoman, and their assigns; together with 4 messuages situate in Pepper Alley, in the occupation of John Bromeley, Henry Powell, and the said Edmond Nashe, and all houses, outhouses, yards, wharf, and other appurtenances.

The Bargain and Sale is executed by said Symon Van Kurnebeck, Henry Van Kurnebeck, Wm. Dade and Geneveva Dade. Enrolled in Chancery 12 April same year. The seal of Symon Van Kurnebeck, a lion rampant; that of Henry Van Kurnebeck, a merchant's mark; that of William Dade, a naked human figure; and that of Genevieve Dade, an interlaced knot.

The Release is executed by said Symon Van Kurnebeck, Henry Van Kurnebeck, Wm. Dade, and Geneveva. Mem. indorsed, that on the 9 Feb. 1579, Thomas Luke, alias Awdeley, and Edmond Nashe, tenants of the premises, did agree to the said grant, and attorned tenants to said John Middleton and Margaret, to whom each of them did deliver a penny in the presence of Richard Hutton, ^f armorer; Lambert Waies, shoemaker; Henry Alison, scrivener, and others.

Indentures of fine of Hilary Term, 22 Eliz. between John Middleton and Margaret his wife, Plaintiffs, and Simon Van Kurnebeck, Henry Van Kurnebeck, Wm. Dade and Geneveva his wife, Deforceants, of twelve messuages, six cottages, and two gardens, with the appurtenances, in the parishes of St. Saviour and St. Olave in Southwark.

8. EXEMPLIFICATION of a common Recovery suffered in Hilary Term 22 Eliz. wherein Richard Hutton and Godfrey Hayes were Demandants, against said John Middleton and Margaret his wife, Tenants, and said Simon Van Kurnebeck, Henry Van Kurnebeck, and William Dade and Jenephepha his wife, Vouchees, of twelve messuages, six cottages, and two gardens, with the appurtenances, in the parishes of St. Saviour and St. Olave, in Southwarke.

9. PROBATE of the Will of said John Middleton dated 18th Oct. 1582, then inhabiting in the parishe of St. Olyves, Southwarke. He gave to the poore householders of that parish ten pounds, at the discretion of the minister, his executor, and overseers. To the poor prisoners of the King's Bench, Whyte Lion, and Marshalsea prisons, 40s. a prison. To the poor of St. George's parish 5*l.* To the poor in the Counter in Wood street, 40*s.*; in the Poultry Counter, 40*s.*; in Ludgate, 40*s.* To the poor children in the Grey Friars, 40*s.* To the poor in Waltham, in Leicestershire, where he was born, 6*l.*; 40*s.* to be given six months after his death, and 40*s.* in each of the two following years. To the poor in Branston, within three miles of Waltham, in Leicestershire, 40*s.* To the poor in Grantham, in Lincolnshire, three pounds. Also he gave to twelve poor mayd's marriadges of the parish of St. Olyves four pounds, in four years after his decease.

To his well-beloved wife Margaret Middleton for her porçõn, after the Custom of the citie of London, out of all his goods; and more he willed that she should have out of his part, i. e. the third of all his goods, 100*l.*; and he willed that she should have her dwelling in his house, being the sign of the Castell, during the minoritie of all his children; and if she should marry before they come to the age of 21 years, or marriage, then he willed that she should nominate and put in bond two sufficient sureties in the sum of 400*l.* for the good keeping, repairing, and amending the same, and that she should deliver to his children, when they should all accomplish their age of 21 years, or marriage, the said lease, being a good and perfect lease, as it then was: and if she should keep herself unmarried, then she should have her dwelling so long as she should keep herself a widow, keeping the house in repair and paying the rent accustomed.

To his children, after the Custom of the city of London, the third of all his goods; and he prayed God to give them his grace to bestow it and themselves well.

To his brother Richard Middleton 100*l.* in ready money, to be delivered to him within four years, and he, or any honest man for him, can provide for him as follows, when he shall, or some good man for him, buy the lease of a good farm for to keep himself and his children on it; and that the lease shall be taken to the use of his children after his decease equally. Also he gave among his brother's children 40*l.* equally to be divided, and to be given them when they should accomplish their lawful age of 21 years, or of marriage, the share of any dying before then to be divided among the rest of them.

To his sister Bordett's children, being four in number, 3*l.* a piece to be given them when they should accomplish their lawful age of 21 years, or marriage.

To his sister Agnes Chadwick's children, William and Agnes Chadwick, ten pounds a piece at their age of 21 years, or marriage. To John Chadwick 2*l.* within one year after his decease; to his brother Michael Chadwick 40*s.*

To twelve poor men that should attend upon his poor corpse at the time of his burial, every one of them a gown, and in every gown 3 yards at least, worth 6*s.* a yard, and that they should be poor honest men of that parish, at the appointment of his executor.

To William Levett five pounds in money and a black gown. To John Flansam twentie shillings in money, and his best black coat. To Elizabeth Large, the daughter of Henry Large, his eldest daughter, twentie shillings. Item, to his sister Bordett six ould angells, for to make her a ringe for a remembrance, and a blacke gowne. To his mother, Gertrude Pratte, four ould angells to make her a ring. Item, to his sister Atkinson four ould angells for to make her a ringe. To his sister Robinson foure olde angells, for to make her a ringe for remembrance. To his overseers thereafter named 40*s.* a piece, and every of them a black gowne. And he willed that all the rest of his apparel should be sold to the best advantage, and given to the poore people of St. Olyve's and St. George's, at the discretion of his executor and overseers, equally to be divided among them.

Also he gave to godlie preachers, for to make sermons in this parishe after his decease, to the end those which be remaining behind might be edified, and learn to know God and lead their lives accordingly, 4*l.*

Also to every one of his workmen 10 shillings, not servants, but honest householders which worked for him as fullers and sheiremen at the day of his burial.

Also he gave to John Middleton, his eldest son, one hundred pounds out of his portion, to be employed by him towards a stock, as God should give increase.

The rest of his goods unbequeathed (his debts being paid, his legacies performed, his funeral done) he gave to and amongst his children, to be equally divided among them at the age of 21, or marriage, upon condition that they should be ruled by their own natural mother, and with her consent in bestowing of them, and those that would not be ruled by her they get none of his portion, for the rest is too much for them that will not be ordered, but it shall remayne among them that will be ruled by their said mother.

And of his will he made Margaret Middleton, his well-beloved wife, sole executrix, and Richard Hutton and Godfrey Heyes overseers thereof. And he charged them, as they should answer before God, to see his will performed in all respects, for he gave God most hearty thanks he left enough behind him to perform the same.

And his will was, that if his overseers should have any just cause for to bestowe any money aboute the seeing of his will to be performed, that it should be taken out of his part or porcion, because that he would have them to take paynes therein for him, as he would for them in the like, and not for want of money to let all runne to ruyne for because they would lay out no money of their own.

And whie he did not make any of his kinsfolke his overseers was because they were so worldlie, and have so muche business of their owne, that as he saw them bent, he was afrayde they would take no paynes therein, but for lacke of helpe and good lookinge to, all thinges be lefte to ruine, and many things lefte undone, the w^{ch} he wode not shoulde be.

Also he gave Henry Allinson three olde angells to make him a ringe for remembrance.

And all those his messuges and tenements, with their appurtenances, sett, lyeng, and being neere Myll Lane, in the parish of St. Olyve's aforesaid, w^{ch} were late Charles Pratt's his father in law, and so came to his brother in law Robert Robinson and Julyan his wife, the w^{ch} he bought of said Julyan and Robert, he did will, order, give, bequeath, and dispose them to John Middleton his son, and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten; remainder to Charles Middleton and Godfrey Middleton his brothers equally, and their heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten; remainder to his daughters and the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten; remainder to his brother Michael Middleton, and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, for ever.

Also he gave to Charles Middleton and Godfrey Middleton his sonnes, all those lands w^{ch} he late purchased of the children of Johan Curenbeke, beinge the signe of the Dolphin, wth all the tenements in Peper Alley, and all the other tenements on the street syde, to them and to their heires of their bodies lawfully begotten; remainder to their brother John Middleton and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten; remainder to the testator's right heirs for ever.

Also he gave to the Free-school of Queene Elizabeth, and to sixteen men, governors of the possessions, revenues, and goodes of the saide Free-schoole, commonly called and to be called the Free Grammar Schole of Queene Elizabeth, of the parish of St. Olyve's, in Southwarke, one tenement wherein Rob^{te} Horne then dwelt, the chiefe lord or lord's service th'of accustomed; and they to have the said ten^t within one year after his wife's decease: but upon condition that if the said governors, or 16 men, cannot or in anywise may not be suffered to hold the same by their letters patent, then he willed the gifte of the said ten^t should cease, and remain to the right heires of him said Jno. Middleton for ever.

Executed by said testator, and proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury 29 March 1583, by Margaret, widow of the testator, and sole executrix of his will.

10. INDENTURE dated 10th Oct. 4 James I. and Counterpart thereof, between Charles Middleton of Great Bursted, Essex esq. of the one part, and Godfrey Hayes of Southwarke, joyner, Edmond Chapman of Debtford, Kent, esq. and William Holliday of the Strond, co. Middx. tailor, of the o^r part; Whereby said Charles Middleton did covenant to levy a fine to said Godfrey Hayes, of all those his messuages, cottages, lands, and tenements in the parishes of St. Olave and St. Saviour in Sowthwarke, in the county of Surrey, to the end and intent to make said Godfrey Hayes tenant to a precipe for suffering a recovery of said lands; and therefore said Godfrey Hayes covenanted with said Charles Middleton to suffer a recovery thereof; which it was thereby covenanted should be and enure to the only use of said Charles Middleton and Alice his wife, and of the heirs and assigns of said Chas. Middleton for ever.

Executed by said Chas. Middleton, and attested.

11. INDENTURES of Fine of Michaelmas Term, 4 James I. between Godfrey Hayes, Plaintiff, and Charles Middleton, Deforceant, of two messuages, 4 cottages, and 2 curtilages, with the appurtenances, in the parishes of St. Olave and St. Saviour in Southwarke.

12. EXEMPLIFICATION of Recovery suffered in Mich. Term, 4 James I. wherein Edmund Chapman, esq. and Will'm Hollyday were Demandants, Godfrey Hayes, ten^t, and Charles Middleton, Vouchee, of four messuages with the appurtenances, in the parishes of St. Olave and St. Saviour in Southwarke.

13. INDENTURE dated 30th Jan. 13 James I., between Charles Middleton of Enfielde, Middlesex, esq. and Alice his wife, on the one partie, and Richard Foster, late of the Inner Temple, London, esq. of the other partie; whereby said Charles Middleton and Alice his wife, for divers good causes and considerations, and especially that they having been maryed many years had had no issue; and in case the said Chas. Middleton should die without issue, that then the hereditaments after mentioned should, for so long time as it should please the Almighty God, continue in the blood and kindred of said Charles Middleton; and for the natural love and affection of said Chas. Middleton for Joane Foster, wife of said Richard Foster and sister to said Charles Middleton, did covenant that they, and the survivor of them, and the heirs of said Charles Middleton, and all other persons seised of the messuage or tenement commonly called the Dolphin and Maidenhead, with all the tenements in Peper Alley, and all the tenements on the street side, with all messuages, cottages, curtilages, wharfs, keys, landings, or staires thereunto belonging, in the parishes of St. Olave and St. Saviour in Southwarke, should stand and be seised thereof, to the use and behoof of said Charles Middleton and Alice his wife for their natural lives, and the longer liver of them. Remainder to the use of the first, second, third, and other sons of the body of the said Charles Middleton to be begotten successively, and the heirs of their respective bodies. Remainder to the use of the daughter and daughters of the body of said Charles Middleton to be begotten, and the heirs of their respective bodies. Remainder to the use of said Joane Foster, and the heirs of her body. Remainder to the use of the heirs and assigns of said Jane Foster for ever. Executed by said Charles Pratt, and attested.

Mem. indorsed of said Recovery Deed of 10 Oct. 4 James I. and of the Recovery suffered in pursuance thereof.

NAMES OF PILGRIMS FROM ENGLAND TO ROME IN THE YEARS
1504—1507, 1581—1587; WITH SOME OF EARLIER DATE.

Extracted from the Records of the English College at Rome, by W. C. Trevelyan, of Wallington, Esq. and communicated by him to the Rev. John Hodgson, of Hartburn, M.R.S.L., &c.

The Hospital of the English at Rome, now the English College, is said to have been founded in 1531, by John Shepherd; and the letters of Gregory XIII. "quibus hospitale Anglorum in Collegium Anglorum erigit," are dated 1 May, 1579. On the 29th Dec. 1580 the College took possession of the Hospital and its property, charged, however, with the duty of continuing to entertain the English coming to the holy city, the poor for eight and the nobles for three days (see p. 78). Some of its records belong to an earlier period than even the first of these dates.

A folio volume, indorsed "Liber Acquittanciaꝝ de Anglia et fratrum receptorum in Roma, 1446," contains, f. 1, Nomina fratrum receptorum in Roma de diocesi Cantuarieñ. TRANSCRIPTS AND ABSTRACTS OF WILLS.

I have many transcripts and abstracts, more or less perfect, of wills from the fifteenth to the beginning of the eighteenth century, of which I now send two or three specimens; and shall have pleasure in supplying successive contributions.

Northampton.

G. B.

SIR THOMAS CHENEY, OR CHEYNE.

16 Oct. 4 Hen. VIII. (1512). I will that my manors of Brench Broughton, Houghton Beckering (Holton le Bickering), Hawton (Horkston?) on Humber, and Winterton, co. Lincoln, Loudham, Laxton, Byllerthorp, "Hackolton," and Hickling, co. Nottingham, and Irthlingborough, co. Northampton, remain to me and Anne my wife for life; remainder to my daughter Elizabeth in fee tail; remainder to my cousin Laurence Cheney in fee tail; remainder to my cousin Audrey sister of said Laurence in fee tail; remainder to my cousin Francis Haselden in fee tail; remainder to my cousin Anthony Haselden in fee tail; remainder to my cousin Katherine Lane and Grace Calcote, sisters of the said Francis and Anthony, in fee tail; remainder to my cousin Laurence Cheney in fee. And I will that my feoffees be seised of my manor of Pytchley, co. Northampton, for the use of Ralph Lane and Katharine his wife for life; remainder to John Docwra, son of the said Katharine; remainder to my daughter Elizabeth in tail; remainder to Laurence Cheney as in the aforesaid manors in the counties of Lincoln, Nottingham, and Northampton.

THOMAS MONTAGU.^a

Thomas Montagu, 1 Jan. 1514. I will that my feoffees, who are seised of my manor of Hemington, co. Northampton, after my death hold the same for the use of my son Edward and Cecily his wife in fee tail; remainder to John, brother of said Edward, in fee tail; remainder to Elizabeth Warner in fee tail; remainder to the said Edward in fee.

JOHN BROUGHTON, ESQ.^b

9 July 1517. I John Broughton, esq. whole of mind and in my good memory being, thanked be almighty God, knowing myself to be a mortal, remembering also and daily having in mind the uncertainty of this transitory life, and that death is certain to me and all mankind, and the hour of it most uncertain; willing therefore to provide and dispose, by the grace of Jesu, for the health of my body, the payment of my debts, marriage and portions of my children, and contentation of other legacies for the health of my soul, make, declare, and ordain this my present testament and last will in manner and form following: i. e.

^a Ancestor of the Dukes of Montagu.

first, and peremptorily above all earthly things, I bequeath and recommend my soul unto almighty God my creator, maker, saviour, and redeemer of all the world, to our blessed lady St. Mary the Virgin, his most glorious mother, and to all the holy company of the court celestial. My body to be buried in the parish church of Todington [co. Bedford], if it fortune me to decease near thereabouts; and I will that my funeral be done by the discretion and advice of my executors, without any sumptuous costs or charges to be done about my contemptible body for any worldly pomp. Item, I will above all things my debts and duties by me due, or that shall hereafter be due by me, shall truly be contented and paid. And whereas Thomas Cardinal and Archbishop of York, William Archbishop of Canterbury, Thomas Bishop of Durham, Thomas Earl of Surrey, and others, stand and be seised of and in my manors of Alington [co. Cambridge], Colne Engaine [co. Essex], Cloppham Sanday [co. Bedford], Filgrave [co. Buckingham], Cranfield [co. Bedford], Stony Stratford [co. Buckingham], Barkston [co.], Shelton [co. Huntingdon], and Blatherwyk [co. Northampton], with others, to the use of me and my heirs; and for the performance of this my testament and last will, by this my present testament I ordain and declare that during the space of ten years next and immediately following after my decease, my feoffees shall receive the profits of the said manors for the payment of my debts, &c. Item, I bequeath to the high altar of the church of Todington for my tithes and offerings by me forgotten, and negligently withholden, in discharge of my soul, 40s. Item, I will that I have an honest priest of good name and conversation to sing and pray for my soul, my father and mother's souls, my friends, and all Christian souls, in the place and church where my body shall be buried, by the space of ten years next ensuing after my decease, and the said priest to have yearly for his salary and wages 6*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* Item, I will that Anne my wife have all my household stuff and chattels. Item, I bequeath to my three daughters 200*l.* [600*l.*?] for their marriage. Item, I bequeath to my son John Broughton 100*l.* and to my brother Robert Broughton the manor of Saines [Gaines?], co. Huntingdon, according to the last will of my father Sir Robert Broughton. Item, I bequeath to my servants one year's wages from the time of my decease.

The residue of all and singular my goods and chattels, after my debts paid, and burying expenses made and done, I give and bequeath unto my executors, whom I make the right high and mighty Prince, and my most especial good lord Thomas Duke of Norfolk, and the excellent princess his singular good lady Agnes Duchess of Norfolk, and my brother-in-law Henry Everard, and my sister Margaret Everard, and my brother Robert Broughton. Item, I give unto my said lord, and to my said lady, and to every of them for their pains, in this behalf 40*l.*; and to every other of my executors 20*l.*

ABSTRACT OF A DEED OF FEOFFMENT RELATING TO "THE GARRETT," NEAR WANDSWORTH, IN THE COUNTY OF SURREY, THE SCENE OF THE CELEBRATED MOCK-ELECTION.

The humours of the mock-election at Garrett have not only been chronicled in the Gentleman's Magazine ^a and in the Every Day Book,^b but have had the higher honour of giving employment to the satirical pen of Foote, and to the still more powerful pencil of Hogarth. A spot which industry and genius have thus combined to render celebrated, deserves a larger share of the attention of the Topographer than has been awarded to it in the volumes of Manning and Bray.^c A document, of which the following is an abstract, indicates the early history of "the Garrett," and exhibits also its condition in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. The celebrity of the persons mentioned in this grant gives it another claim to attention; and a third claim will be found in the means which it affords of rectifying several blunders of the county historians. The original was formerly in my possession.

PARTICULARS RELATIVE TO A BRANCH OF THE FAMILY OF CAREW, SEATED IN THE COUNTY OF CORK.

It appears from Smith's History of Cork, that, in the reign of Henry IV. the Marquis Carew was at the head of the nobility of that country. Sir William Betham has shewn that the nobility of Ireland, so late as the reign of Edward III. were lords of Parliament by tenure, called tenure by barony. Whether the Marquis Carew were a lord of Parliament does not appear, but it is very probable he was, as were certainly the Viscounts Buttevant, whose title of Viscount originated as incomprehensibly as that of the Marquesses Carew. It is manifest from every part of Smith's history, that the Carews had vast possessions in the county of Cork, almost from the first conquest, and that they built many castles. The printed pedigree of the Carews of Haccombe states, that William Carew married a daughter and coheiress of Stephenson lord of Cork; and from the same it appears, that his son, grandson, and great-grandson intermarried with Irish families, after which all connection with that country seems at an end. It is notorious that the wars of York and Lancaster called away great numbers of the Anglo-Irish, and that the Irish and degenerate English broke in on their possessions, and held them by force. In this way it seems that the heads of the Carews lost their lands and their nobility by tenure. In the reign of Elizabeth Sir Peter Carew came from England and claimed half the county of Cork and the barony of Hidron in Carlow; but his death put a stop to all proceedings.

Some junior branches, however, of the Carews continued in Ireland. Among the castles stated by Smith to have been built by the Carews, was the castle of Garrivoe, in the barony of Imokilly. Sir John de Carew was appointed a conservator of the peace in that barony in the year 1346.^a With the reduction of the county of Cork under English law, in the reign of James the First, the records of this branch begin to appear. I have before me a commission dated 15 August 1618, from the Lord President and Council of Munster to John Carew of Garrivoe, and Edmond Fitzgerald of Ballymc Coadie, esquires, directing them to sequester the corn growing on certain land which was disputed at law, lest the defendant should convert it to his own use. It is signed, RIC. GETHING, Un. Cler. Cons.

This is a curious process of law. Something similar would be useful in the present day, when tenants manage to leave their farms owing several years' rent, and, favoured by the delays of an ejectment, carry off the crops also.

In 1622, Robert Carew, son and heir of John Carew, had livery of his father's lands, held in capite by military service, for which he paid the Crown 16*l*.

In 1638, Sir Robert Carewe, of Garryvoe, knight, Ellis Lady Carew his wife, and Edward Carew their son, mortgaged Monymearig containing 25 acres, and Tobbirdowrane containing 10 acres, with part of the rent of Rathaha to Edmond Fitzgerald of Ballymartyr, esq.; the deed mentions that Tobbirdowrane was then in lease to Philip Frauncis of Ballyknockane, yeoman. He was doubtless an ancestor of the celebrated Sir Philip Francis.

In 1641, Robert Carew, esq. son and heir of Sir Robert Carew, late of Garrivoe, knight, had livery of his father's lands, for which he paid 12*l*. 6*s*. 8*d*. It does not appear what became of Edward Carew. In the document granting this livery is also a separate grant to Hugh Gratrix, gent. of the wardship of Joane, ^a Rolls of Chancery in Ireland lately published.

Eylin, Honora, and Ellena Barrett, daughters and coheirs of Ullicke Barrett, late of Currebehy, in the county of Cork, gent. deceased.

In a list of Mr. Carew's evidences, dated 27 Nov. 1653, some others of the Carew family are mentioned, as in the following extracts :

" A lease of Ballyknochan and other lands made by Robert Carew the elder unto Sr Rob^t Carew.

" Sr Rob^t Carew's resignation of tearme of years to Mr. Carew.

" A bond of Redmond Magner and James Barrett to perform covenants with Mr. Carew touching the intermarriage of his sister Joane with Redmond.

" Redmond Magner's bond of 260*l.* sterling.

" A bond of the Lady Elizabeth Carew and her son Edward unto Capt. Robert Carew.

" Edmond Fitzgerald's release of Garrivoe, &c. to Capt. Carew.

" Capt. Robert Carew's last will and testament, inventory, &c.

" Several offices taken, viz. Post mort. Johis Carew de Garvo, arm.; post mort. Rob^t Carew, arm. & al. post mort. Robert Carew, milit.

" An ould deed in parchment made by ould Mr. John Carew to his eldest son Robert Carew of the lands of Garrivoe, &c.

" Ellen Carew, her release and discharge touching her marriage good.

" The acknowledgment and certificate of J. Smith, the elder, and John Smith, the younger, that Mr. Carew was neither privy or ptie of plundering their houses, &c."

Note.—I have transposed some of these extracts as the order of time seemed to require.

At the foot of the list is the following, which seems to be a draft of an intended certificate :

" Whereas at the enemies last being in this Barony, on the 1st of this month, among the rest of their plundering, burning, and praying, John Carew, of Garyvoo, esq. hath been at the loss of 200*l.* worth of corn, besides 2 goodly tatch houses, which have been all burned on the lands of Ballyknochan neer Ballymatir, and all his tenants corn and houses there have been also burned, and their cattle carried away by the s^d ptie, w^{ch} at the instance and request of the s^d Mr. Carew we do hereby certify that to our knowledge he and his tenants have sustained what is above specified."

Among the papers is the following certificate:

"Whereas to our particular knowledge John Carew, of Gar-rivoe, esq. hath bin a man constantly adhering to the English, & in opposition to the designs of the Irish rebels, and that at such times as we were commissioners in the Barony of Imokilly, he the s^d John Carew, to manifest such his integrity, did declare unto us seueral intentions of the enemies coming into and praying upon this country (which he had learned from some by him employed to disclose the same) by which seueral services in this kind as our pty had many preservations, some [] (by the assurance of very good hands) that the enemy was thereby [] incensed against Mr. Carew, and did about Michaelmas last was two years (when they made a strong incursion into this Barony) fully resolve his destruction; but by a Divine Providence missing of him, they repaired towards his lands of Ballyknockan, & there burnt his houses & barn, wth at least 200*l*. worth of corn thereon being, utterly untenanting & wasting his lands [], all w^{ch} being taken into serious consideration, we then, as well by a message from [] then Commissioners of revenue received, as our own knowledge of the ayne the enemy had to prejudice him, & that although he had seueral kindred then among them, yet they were only such as designed him to destruction, did think it [] to free him from any charge of kindred money then impressed on others in the Ba[rony]. And do humbly conceive that his faithfulness to us, & sufferings by them, well deserve a continuance of the lyke exemption; all which is humbly pre[ferre] to the consideration of whom it may concern, by

Ga. Ftz Gerald.

W^m Tynte.

He. Tynte.

Joshua Boyle."

The kindred money here mentioned, probably was the penalty of bonds passed to magistrates, or military commanders, engaging for the future peaceable demeanour of Popish kinsmen, who might by their acts have incurred suspicion. In the list of papers before mentioned are these items:

"Coll. Saunders certificate, discharging Mr. Carew of the bonds wherein he was bound for Mr. Poer, Mr. Robiston, James of Glenan, and GERAL of Dromaddy.^b

“A bond of 10,000*l.* of the above parties to save Mr. Carew harmless in his suretiship for them.”

The next document I find, is an adjudication “by the commissioners for the adjudication of claims and qualifications of the Irish;” dated 2 Nov. 1655. It sets forth, that the claim of John Carew, of Garrivoe, in the county of Cork, gent. being heard, it appeared that he had made good title to the lands in his said claim, mentioned within the eighth qualification of the act, and adjudged him to have in Connaught or Clare 820 acres of profitable land, in lieu of his said lands, &c. saving to his Highness the Lord Protector and Commonwealth of England all other right, &c.

By patent dated [] March 13th, Charles II. Sir Henry Tynte had a grant of various lands, and among them Garrivoe, containing 145 acres, and Raghah 101 acres.

18 April 1661. John Carew, of Garryvoo, in the county of Cork, esq. petitioned the King, setting forth, that he had no hand in the plunders, &c. against the Protestants in 1641, or afterwards, having lived under the protection of the English garrisons. That for no other cause than his religion and loyalty he was repulsed out of his estate and possessions, as well of his own acquisition as of the lands which came to him from his brother, who died several years before, and was peaceable, &c. That, without Petitioner’s privity, a decree was sued in his name for lands in Connaught; that he dissented, and never entered the same at Loghreagh, but disclaimed; and that he was a person restorable to his former possessions and lands.

His Majesty referred this petition to the Earls of Donegal and Drogheda, and Viscount Loftus, or any two of them.

Afterwards Mr. Carew obtained a letter from the King, and under his hand, which is dated 16th July 1661, stating, that on perusal of a report of the Earl of Drogheda and Viscount Loftus, and of the certificates therein mentioned, the Irish Privy Council were of opinion that the Petitioner should be recommended to his estate, notwithstanding any grant made to Sir Henry Tent, and ordering the Commissioners for executing the public Declaration to restore him to his village of Garrivoe, and to all his manors, &c. whereof he or his mother was dispossessed by the usurped power, without putting him to expect for previous reprisals, being not "by our said public declaration" requisite in the case of the Petitioner, being an innocent person "who hath not taken lands in Conaght or Clare," and notwithstanding any grant made of any of his said lands to the said Sir Henry Tent, or any person whatsoever.—This letter is addressed to the Chancellor, Justices, Lieut. Deputy, or Governor or Governors.

^b The surname of these two last was become so common that it was no distinction, and their places of residence are substituted. They were probably Fitz Gerald, among whom, as well as among other numerous families, a patronymic compound of “Fitz,” and the father’s christian name, was often used, the surname in such case being written without “Fitz,” or sometimes entirely omitted.

The difficulties, however, of satisfying all parties were so great that Carew was never restored, and Sir Henry Tynte afterwards obtained another grant of Garrivoe. Neither does it appear that he got any other lands in Connaught or Clare; so that by seeking much he seems to have lost all.

It appears that in 1636 Sir Robert Carew mortgaged the lands of Ballyhemekine for 540*l.* to Morris Roch and Meilcher Lavallen in trust for Edmond Roch. In 1715 a Robert Carew, supposing he had a right to redeem it, laid a case before John Rogerson, afterwards Chief Justice of the King's Bench, the land being, as there stated, in the possession of James Roch, son and heir of Edmond. A copy of this case, with Rogerson's opinion, remains, and from it I extract the pedigree, as follows:

Robert probably died without issue, for the family papers continue with the descendants of Thomas. This Thomas married Susanna Frankland, of the family now seated at Ashgrove, and had issue Mark, John, and two other sons, who left Ireland; one of them was a lieutenant in the Royal Navy, the other a merchant in Lisbon. Mark married Miss Russel, daughter of Colonel John Russel; and his brother John married Elinor, daughter of Richard Schooley, esq. of the county of Carlow, by Jane Russel, another daughter of the foregoing Colonel John Russel. Mr. Schooley, I believe, had another daughter married to — Carrol, and a son, who left his estate to his illegitimate son. The Carews at this time were all Protestants: probably Thomas was the first who conformed. Mark had a son, John-Russel, in holy orders, and three daughters, Jane, wife of — Ogleby; Philippa-Maria, died unmarried; and Anne, wife of — Russel, esq. of Ballydavid, in co. Tipperary. The Rev. John Russel Carew married Miss Wood, and had issue, 1. Mark (who married his cousin Miss Wood, and left a daughter Anne); 2. John-Russel, bred a solicitor, but reduced by improvidence and irregularities. He married Miss Roe, sister of the late Captain Roe, of the regiment, and left two sons; 3. Thomas, who died unmarried; and 4. Robert, late a Major in the army. John Carew had by Miss Schooley three daughters, Jane, Susanna, second wife of Thomas Kift, and Catharine, wife of Thomas Chatterton, brother of Sir James Chatterton, Bart. The ruins of Garrivoe castle still remain.

Colonel John Russel, above mentioned, was of a branch of the Bedford family which seems to have had much connection with Ireland. His son Thomas was Archdeacon of Cork. Peter, brother (or nephew) of Thomas was governor of Upper Canada, and his brother was governor of Lower Canada. Mrs. Jane Schooley, before mentioned, married secondly Luke Little, an officer of cavalry, by whom she had Letitia, who married Colonel James Cockburn, and had issue the late Lieut.-General Sir William Cockburn, who succeeded as 5th Baronet. Another daughter of Colonel John Russel married Mr. Wilcocks, and had a son William, Mayor of Cork in 1793, who settled in Canada when Peter Russel was governor. Colonel Christopher Russel, another of this family, was governor of Minorca, where his youngest son was born, who was afterwards rector of Skull, and another of poems, &c. a volume of which was published after his death. Perhaps some other correspondent could give an account * of this branch of the Russels?

Cork.

* We shall be glad to receive what this anonymous correspondent proposes. The Russells of Ireland branched off from the main stock so early as the thirteenth century: in Wiffen's Memoirs of the House of Russell, vol. i. p. 532, is a pedigree (by James Terry, Athlone herald), commencing with William de Russell, Baron of Lecale, A.D. 1200, but closing with Charles Russell, then of Cadiz, an adherent of King James II.—Edit.

GROUND PLAN AND CHARTERS OF ST. ANDREW'S PRIORY IN THE PARISH OF MARRIGG, NORTH RIDING, CO. EBOR.

The account of this Benedictine Nunnery in the new edition of the Monasticon, is taken from Clarkson's History of Richmond, whose sources of information were apparently limited to the ecclesiastical surveys, the confirming charter of Edward the Third, as printed from the transcript on the charter rolls by Dugdale, who omits a considerable portion, and to the meagre notice in Burton's "Monasticon Eboracense." The documents, which through the kindness of W. C. Tupper, esq., in whose possession they remain, I am enabled now to make known, form nearly a complete series of all the grants made to this religious establishment, inclusive of the original charter of the founder, Roger de Asc. This is addressed to Archbishop Roger, who was consecrated to the see of York in 1154, some few months before the death of King Stephen; but as the Archbishop, in his letter of protection and ratification, expressly affirms that Roger de Asc had established his own daughters and others, to serve God on his patrimony in Marrigg, with the consent of his suzerain, Warner son of Wyomar, and of Conan Earl of Richmond, the date of the foundation cannot be earlier than 1165, 11 Henry II. when Conan became possessed of the Earldom. Pope Alexander the Third is said to have confirmed the foundation, but the bull is not among the evidences.

By the founder, the advowson of the parish church was given to the new community, and a portion of it appropriated to them for their place of worship. The nuns' choir, as shown in the Plan, occupied the western half of the nave; the other half, with the chancel, on the north side of which was the chantry of the family of Asc, being left for the use of the parish. The church has in quite recent times been reduced in size, and the former chancel is now without a roof.^a Great part of the nave was on that occasion pulled down and rebuilt, using the old materials; but the steeple, with its bell-house, remains untouched. The monastic buildings were on the south and west sides of the church (see Plan), and the extent of the cloister court may still be traced, but the structure is almost wholly destroyed.

Instead of the convent being placed on a small farm, as Mr. Clarkson supposes, the endowment of Roger de Asc comprised a third part of the entire vill of Marrigg, a whole carucate, the boundaries of which are thus set forth in the deed; viz. from the Elm-pool in the river Swale by the road called the Rail's-gate to the hill called Wechnesberg, and so by the hill side to where the church tofts join on to those of the village, and from thence by the side of the wood to the beck running into the road which comes from Backstone-grave, and from thence by the beck to the Swale.

The Virgin Mary was, it seems, joined with St. Andrew, to whom the parish church had been dedicated, in the patronage of the conventual establishment. In the deeds sometimes both patrons, sometimes only one, are named; as in the charter of Henry II. where the name of the Virgin only is introduced. Examples of the contrary practice are, however, more frequent, and the name of St. Andrew's priory appears to have grown into settled use, though the convent seal continued to bear the impress of the Virgin and Child. ^a

This charter was entered on the "Rotulus Cartarum" of that year, where it occurs, n. 22. The chief portion of it will be found printed in the Monasticon; the omissions will be noticed under the head of each locality.

Among the evidences is also a charter in English by which Sir Thomas Pemberton, Commander of Mount Saynt John, in Yorkshire, reciting that divers liberties and franchises were granted to the Knights Templars and all their tenants by the Kings of England, "and for as myche as dame Christobell Couper, priorase of Merrae, be tenaunt to St. John and to the co'mand of Mount St. John, Sir William Westowe lord of St. John, and Sir Thomas Pemberton, and all the brethren," enjoins all seeing and hearing this charter to make her a sharer of these privileges. It is dated 14^o Aug. 24 Hen. VIII. at Mount St. John, and has a seal of green wax, of a lamb with the banner.

This damaged charter is the single remnant of the evidences of the Priory relating to their property in Marske ; but the charter of Edward recites the donation which John, son of Peter de Mersc, made of a toft and a perch of land, with the appurtenances here, et de tota terra quam habuit super Bretbec—another of a toft, two oxgangs, and thirteen acres, with the appurtenances, by Lucas de Mersc ; and a third of a toft, croft, and one oxgang, by Robert, son of Alan de Mersc. A memorandum upon paper gives these as the names of the witnesses to the deed of Lucas, viz. Conan de Aske, Acarias de Halnathaby, Peter de Cleseby, Robert son of Conan, and Alan his brother, and refers to a deed of Roald son of Roald, as being among the evidences of Marske, which was witnessed by Sir Thomas de Burg, Sir Robert de Lassells, Sir Hugh de Ask, Sir Halnath de Halnathby, and Robert de Appelgard.

RICHMOND.

The charter of Edward III. notices the donation which Robert son of Geoffrey de Appelgard made to the nuns de quadam platea que vocatur Westlathes in Richemond et de tribus solidatis redditus, and that which Conan Duke of Brittany and Earl of Richmond made of the house of Lecelina de Barra, with its appendages in the some town, et de eo quod quiete sint de omnibus consuetudinibus. To this last deed, according to a memorandum on paper, Roger de Ask, and Hervey son of Acarias of Halnathobie, were witnesses, and to the first Sir Hugh de Ask and John his brother.

Another memorandum is to this effect: "Item Johannes comes Richmundie per cirographum factum a° d'ni 1290, a° Reg' Edw. 18, sedavit contentionem inter moniales de Marrigg et communitatem de Richmund." The originals of these deeds are not now to be found.

SPITAL-UPON-STAINMORE.

The evidences relating to the Spital upon Stainmore have been separated from the other bundles, but there is a note of a Scriptum Haln' de Halnathobie de recepta xx^{ta} marcarum de priorissa de Marrigg pro fine pro inlausura super Stainmore quod Joannes comes Richemudie eidem priorisse concessit.

GENEALOGICAL NOTICES OF THE FAMILY OF ASHBY OF HAREFIELD, IN THE COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX.

Of this ancient and honourable family the only genealogical accounts which I have found are in Nos. 1551 of the Harleian Manuscripts, and 4964 Addit. MSS. Brit. Mus. being Munday's collection of Middlesex Descents; in which but two generations are entered, and those bear the appearance of having been regarded by the compiler as doubtful in their affinity to each other. A descent or two down to the Baronet is also preserved in a similar collection, made and taken A.D. 1690, by the heralds St. George and Le Neve, in the College of Arms. The pedigree, now for the first time published, is chiefly deduced from the parish Registers of Harefield, the wills of the family abstracted from the office of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, and the monumental inscriptions in their private burial-place in the Church of Harefield, the names and dates of which only are given by Lysons in his "Middlesex Parishes;" some coats of arms, omitted by him, are also supplied; embodied with such slight notices as have been incidentally found in other works of authority both printed and manuscript.^a

^a A description of the mansion of Breakspears, at Harefield, and its armorial decorations, is given in the Gentleman's Magazine for Sept. 1823; but it may here be noticed that, from the disordered arrangement of the stained glass in the hall, some of the impaled coats remain unidentified, which otherwise would throw a light on the respective intermarriages, and others are missing or mis-appropriated; as in the shield assigned to Ambrose Dudley, Earl of Warwick, 1569, the first five quarterings are supplied by a fragment, and the four following, viz. 6. Ar. a chevron wavy between three roses Gu. [Manyford, or Modiford, of Mudford, co. Somerset.] 7. Gu. three lions rampant Or. [Fitz-Roger, alias the Lady of Chuton, co. Somerset.] 8. Ar. on a chevron Sa. three towers with cupolas A.] 9. Az. three leopard's heads inverted, jessant de lis Or, [Cantelupe of Chilton Cantelupe, co. Somerset,] are the quarterings of the Stukeleys of Afeton, co. Devon, with which family it must be conjectured the Ashbys had formed some alliance, though no evidence of it is afforded by the Visitations, beyond the apparently unauthorised statement in the Baronetage of 1727, quoted hereafter, p. 127.

From the pedigree now given, it will be seen that one of this family, Sir Francis Ashby, knight, was created a Baronet by King James the First in 1622; a dignity he did not long survive, dying without issue male in 1623-4, at the premature age of one and thirty,^b leaving an only daughter and heir Alice; ^c the title thereupon became extinct, and it was evidently so considered by Collins, the editor of the first printed Baronetage 1720, as he entirely omitted any account of the family; yet, notwithstanding, in the next edition of the Baronetage, edited by Wotton and others in 1727, appears an account, assigning to four persons respectively the title of Baronet, as lineal descendants of Sir Francis Ashby, who, as was alleged, by an alienation of the family estate in favour of his younger son, had so impoverished the representative of the title, as to induce him to accept the humble situation of a servant at a farm at "Hadsco" in Norfolk.

By whom, and for what ends, this account was furnished, so decidedly at variance with the all-sufficient and positive nature of the evidence now adduced, relative to the Baronet and his issue, viz. the will, registers of baptism and burial, and monumental inscription, can only be conjectured. It appears to have been an impudent attempt on the part of the Haddiscoe Ashbys to assume the honours of a family to which they were not in the least entitled, if indeed there was any relationship, which has not been ascertained. Its spurious character is further shown by the fact that in the alleged descent of the title two persons were passed over, the claimant's own elder brother and his father's elder brother; see the table in the opposite page, in which the statement of the Baronetage is combined with the actual dates from the register of Haddiscoe, procured from the originals, and obligingly communicated to me by G. Steinman Steinman, esq. F.S.A.

[See ped. in Nichols's Leicestershire, vol. iv. p. 859, she is said there to have died unmarr.]

* The family hold a tradition of an elder daughter of this William Ashby, named Elizabeth, who retired with her fortune into the family of Earl Spencer, and she is supposed to have died about Oct. 1749, when the first unclaimed dividend became due on the Bank Stock of "Elizabeth Ashby, of Harefield, spinster."

ABSTRACT OF THE WILLS OF THE ASHBY FAMILY, FROM THE YEAR 1496 TO 1675, COMBINED WITH NOTES AND REFERENCES TO THE PEDIGREE.

(a) George Ashby, who died an. 1474, was the author of "Poemata de Moribus, linguâ Anglicâ veteri compilata et exarata per Georgium Ashby, Clericum Signati Margaretæ Reginæ Angliæ;" in 1697, in the Library of John More, Bishop of Norfolk, (Smith's Catalogus MSS. Angliæ, 1697, No. 9678;) one of which, a moral poem, "On the active policy of a Prince," written for the use of Edward Prince of Wales, son of Henry the Sixth, appears to have been finished "in his 80th year." See Ritson's English Poets, xvth century, edit. 1802.

(b) John Ashby, in his will, 1496, desires to be buried in the new ile of the church at Rickmersworth, with a vast pomp of masses, diriges, and charitable deeds; appointing his wife Anne, with his son and heir George, Richard Blounte, and others, his executors; he bequeaths to his son and heir George "his sygnete." Amongst the extracts from the Privy Purse expenses of King Henry the Seventh, published in the "Excerpta Historica," occurs the following entry, under the date of May 21, 1492: "To Assheby for writing of a boke, 4s. 4d."

(c) George Ashby, in his will dated "8th of March 1500," proved in 1514, after commending his soul to Almighty God, &c. desires his body to be buried in the Blake-fryers or Christ's-church, bequeathing a sum of money for the priests, singing-boys, &c. and a twelvemonth's mass for the repose of his soul and all Christen souls, further bequeaths xxs. towards the building of Harefield church, appoints his wife Rose executrix, and his son and heir Thomas Ashby, to whom he bequeaths his sygnete with 'the Armes' upon it, which he inherited from his father, who had it from his grandfather; bequeaths sundry pieces of plate, marked with the letter A, to his daughters Anne and Elizabeth, and v. pounds to the marriage portion of Anne, betrothed to his ward William Sturle. Note. His son and heir Thomas was under age, as there is money left to his wife Rose, to school him and give him a befitting education to his calling and degree untill he reaches the age of one and twenty years, leaving his brother Richard Eden and . . . Eden, supervisors.

(d) Anna Wroth, consang' et hæres Johannis Wrothe, viz. filia Edwardi, filii pred'c'i Joh'is. Orig. 19 H. 8. r. 12. Cotton MS. Claudius C. viii. She was lineally descended of John Wrothe, senior, Collector of the Customs in the Port of London, (J. C. Brooke queries whether he was a Fishmonger and Mayor of London, A.D. 1360,) and also from the families of Durant and Plessetis, co. Somerset, temp. Edw. I. See the pedigree in Robinson's History of Enfield, vol. i. p. 149, where she is given unmarried. Thomas Ashby, esq. died 1559, seized of the third part of the manor of Durants in the parish of Enfield, Middlesex, in right of his wife Anne, grand-daughter of John Wroth, which descended to Sir Robert Ashby, knt.; it was, 1635, the property of William Bowyer, esq. and in 1686 (still continuing detached, and containing about 280 acres of land) the property of Joseph Dawson and others. See Lysons's Environs, vol. ii. The Inquisition on the death of John Wroth 1517, calls Robert his second son, the heir male, and Anne his grand-daughter, representative of his eldest son, deceased, the next heir. Cole's Esch. Harl. In 1644, John Wroth died seized of two parts of the manor of Durants and Gartons. Ibid.

(e) In the Harl. MS. 1551, and Addit. MS. 4964, Anne Lady Lovell is given as the daughter of George Ashby of Breakspears, 1593; but this must be an error, on comparison of dates.

(f) George Ashby, 1593. In his will dated Nov. 20, 1603, proved 15th Feb. 1603-4, "thinking it time to regulate his worldly affairs," &c. "being above the age of seaventie yeres," after commending his soul to Almighty God, &c. desires to be buried wherever his executors should think fit, avoiding all unnecessary pomp, which has been the fashion of the present time; bequeaths to the poor of Harefield ten pounds; to the poor of Rickmersworth 20s.; to the poor of Ruislip 20s.; leaves all his lands, mortgages, with remainders and reversions to his eldest son Sir Robert Ashby, knight, whether they be in the counties of Middlesex, Hertford, or Buckingham; mentions his wife, though not by name, and his daughter Dorothe, wife of his son Sir Robert Ashby, knight. Signed in the presence of Edward Shoreditch, George Ashby, and John Ashby. "Breakspeares, the howse of George Ashbye, esq." Norden's Spec. Brit. Harl. MS. No. 570. No. 29. 13th Qu. Eliz. (1571). Geo. Georgius Asshebey, filius et hæres Thomæ Assheby, et Annæ uxoris ejus, filiæ et hæredis Edwardi Wrothe. 1 pars Orig. 1 Eliz. r. 16. Cotton MS. Claud. C. VIII. The manor of Rislip was held under King's College, Cambridge, by the Ashby family so long ago as Queen Elizabeth, and so continued for many generations. Lysons's Middlesex Parishes.

(g) Sir Robert Ashby, knt. 1618. A memorandum or deposition of the words spoken by Sir Robert Ashby, knight, to his son Sir Francis Ashby, knight, attested by witnesses, viz. Sir Francis Ashby, and Ashby, on the 15th of March 1617; where, amongst other deeds, legacies, and gifts, he desires 100*l.* to be given to John Ashby, and 20 pounds to William Ashby; prob. 7. Maij, 1618; another prob. was passed Junii 1624.

(h) Elizabeth Ashby, 1622. In her will, dated 19 May 1622, she is described as "Elizabeth Ashby of Harefield, Middlesex, widow;" desires to be buried in the Breakspear chapel in the church of Harefield; and bequeaths 40 pounds to her grandchild Sir Francis Ashby, knight, and twenty pounds to Alice his daughter, with like sums to her grandchildren, Edward, Robert, William, and Ferdinando, upon the latter's attaining the full age of one and twenty years; after many legacies to her friends, and bequests to the poor, appoints Grace Walker her sole executrix; and for overseers, Mr. John Weedon, of Smithe-londe; Ezekiel Timberlake, and John Tatnell. P. C. C. Saville, 60.

(i) Anne, 1st wife of George Ashby, 1593. My only authority for this marriage is a correspondent in the Gent. Mag. vol. xcii. pt. ii. p. 230; where also see an alliance with Ashby and Watson.

(j) Sir Francis Ashby, 1623-4. In his will dated 15 February 1623, described as "Sir Francis Ashby, knight and baronet, of Harefield, in the county of Middlesex;" desires to be buried in the church of Harefield with his ancestors; bequeaths to his loving brother Edward Ashby, gent. forty pounds a year, during the term of his natural life, payable in half-yearly portions at the respective feasts, &c. all his lands, manors, &c. in the co. of Middlesex, &c. "to my loving brother Robert Ashby, and his heirs male, and in default of such issue male, then to my loving cozen William Ashby, gent. of St. Margaret's, Westminster;" bequeaths his interest in the parsonage of Rickmersworth to his "wife Dame Joane," in lieu of all dower, and in case she should die in the lifetime of his only daughter and heir Alice, then to the said Alice, &c. Among other bequests and legacies are three of his best beds to his "mother Dame Dorothie." Appoints Robert Ashby and John Patye, his servant, executors; Thomas Whatman and Leonard Welsteed, esquires, overseers. Prob. 1 March eod. an. P. C. C.

(k) 20 Feb. 1646. Alexander Lynde, with Alice Lynde, al's Ashby, his wife, natural and legitimate daughter of the above Sir Francis Ashby, bart. deceased, administered to the goods and chattels of the deceased, left unadministered by Robert Ashby, &c. &c. annexed to the probate of the Baronet's will. In Clutterbuck's Herts, vol. i. p. 201, it is stated that Alexander Lynde, of Rickmersworth, esq.

was possessed of the vicarage of Rickmersworth by demise from the Bishop of London, and there is no allusion to his acquiring it jure uxoris.

(l) Will of William Ashby, citizen and grocer of London, dated 5 April 1669, Prob. 6 May, eod. an. desires to be buried at Harefield, in the vault with his deceased father; leaves his dearly beloved wife Elizabeth, sole executrix; bequeaths 20 pounds to Alice, the daughter of his brother Thomas, to be paid at the discretion of his executrix, for the apprenticing of the said Alice; alludes to his sister Anne, wife of his brother William Constable, of Dartford, co. Kent, as being enceinte, bequeathing twenty pounds to the putting of the said child "him or her" apprentice.

(m) Will of Robert Ashby, esq. Feb. 1674-5, proved 4 March, eod. an. leaves certain equal sums of money to all the children given in the Pedigree, excepting his daughter Mary, who had a double portion; mentions Francis as his heir; leaves his wife Sarah sole executrix, appointing Mr. Roger Davies, minister of Harefield, and "my loving cosen, Mr. George Dickson, goldsmith, at the signe of the three Golden Lyons," overseers. Witnesses the said Mr. Davies and John Milward.

(n) An uncle of Mr. Justice Blackstone. The pedigree of Blackstone is inserted in the Gentleman's Magazine, vol. xcvi. pt. ii. p. 224, but as many dates are there omitted I have ventured to repeat this portion of it. In the will of John Blackstone 1715, there quoted, he mentions "my brother Ashby, and my sister his wife;" from this it must be inferred there was another connection with that family.

(o) In Harefield churchyard repose the remains of her father Richard Abbott, citizen and painter-stainer of London, who died 20th, and buried 26th of Jan. 1743, aged 60 (only son of Edward Abbott, citizen and painter-stainer, of Bedfordbury, in the parish of Saint Martin in the Fields, who died 11 April 1725, aged 71, who with his wife Elizabeth, was buried at the east end of the church of Saint Martin's aforesaid); also, his son Richard Abbott, (by his first wife Elizabeth,) citizen and painter-stainer, of Long-acre, London, died Jan. 28, and buried at Harefield Feb. 6, 1757, in the 43rd year of his age, leaving issue, by Elizabeth Poole, his wife, who died in 1730, a son Edward, and daughter Elizabeth, the last of their name, who are respectively noticed in Gent. Mag. for 1791 and 1830. (Parish Registers and Family Bible, penes H. D. M.)

MONUMENTAL INSCRIPTIONS FROM THE BREAKSPEAR CHAPEL, IN THE CHURCH OF HAREFIELD, CO. MIDDLESEX, 1837.

On a brass affixed to the north wall: ^a “Orate p̄ aīab; Georgii Assheby et Margarete ux̄is sue, qui quidē Georgi⁹ obiit xx die Februarii et dicta Margareta xxiiii. die Septēbr̄. a^o. dñi m̄tio cccclxxiiii. q^or. aīab; pp̄cie⁹ de⁹.”

On a stone on the floor of the private entrance to the chapel, with male and female effigies in brass, with three sons and as many daughters, kneeling, and the following escutcheons, in the upper part of the stone: 1. (Ashby) a chevron between three double-headed eagles. 2. (Peyton) a cross engrailed, quartering (Bernard) a bear saliant. 3. (Ashby), impaling, a fess charged with three garbs between two chevrons, each charged with as many escallops (Eden).^b Inscription:

“Here lyethe George Assheby, Esquier, one of the Clerkē of the Sygnet to kynge Henry the VIIth. and chieff Clerke of the Sygnet and Counsellor to kynge Henry the VIIIth. and Rose his wyffe, whiche George decessyd the xiiiith day of Marche, in the yere of o^r Lorde God m^o.ccccxiiii. and the sayd Rose decessyd the — day of — in the yere of o^r Lorde God m^o.v^o.—, whose soules God p̄rd̄n̄.”

On the same floor, a stone with the brasses of a man and woman, one son and seven daughters, and the following inscription:

“Off yo^r Charyte p̄y for ye good astate of Williā Assheby, gentylmā, and for the soule of Jane his wyff, which Jane decessyd the xxviiith day of October, the yere of o^r Lord God m^o. v^o. xxxvii. and the sayd Williā Assheby decessyd ye — day of — the yere of o^r Lorde God m^o.v^o. —, on whose soules Jhu have mercy. Amen.”

Against the north wall is a monument, with the effigies of a knight and his lady kneeling at a fald-stool, under a canopy supported by Corinthian columns of black marble, with these arms:

^a For the preservation thereof, by the laudable care of the existing owner of Breakspears, it having formerly occupied a situation on some part of the floor. Lysons in his Middlesex Parishes, though he gives the names and dates of all the others, refers to a MS. account of the monuments in Harefield church, by George (Gregory?) King, in the possession of the Newdigate family, for this. It possibly may have been in some obscure situation when he visited that church.

^b The coat of Eden, of Sudbury, Suffolk, a family derived from the North of England; but the Visitations do not afford any evidence of an alliance with the Ashbys, the pedigree commencing much later than the required data.

(Ashby) Azure, a chevron Or, between three eagles displayed with two heads Argent, quartering (Wroth) Argent, on a bend Sable three lion's heads erased Argent, crowned Or. Crest of Ashby, an eagle with wings displayed pointing downwards Argent, crowned Or. The fald-stool bears the impaled escutcheon of Ashby and Haydon, Quarterly Argent and Gules,^c a cross engrailed Counterchanged. On an entablature, above the kneeling figures, is the following inscription :

“ Vile reor vanum ; non est mortale quod opto.
 Conscia mens recti cœlestes scandere sedes
 Me docet, inde Deus gremio me fovet aperto.
 Sum situs hoc tumulo, precor abscondantur in uno
 Hoc tumulo peccata meo, ne iudicis ante
 Conspectum veniant Deus intercessit Iesus.

“ Robertus Asshby miles auratus obiit 19 die Martii, Anno Domini 1617.”

On the base of the monument are his five sons kneeling, and immediately underneath, the following inscription, very rudely cut, on a plain black slab :

“ Near this place lieth interred y^e body of S^r Francis Ashby, knigt (sic) and barronet, eldest son of S^r Robert Ashby, knight, who departed this life December y^e 23rd 1623, aged 31; who left ishve one daughter.”

On the floor of the chapel :

“ Here lyes interred the body of Francis Ashby, of Breakspears, esq. who departed this life the 10th April 1743, in the 83rd year of his age. Also the body of Mrs. Judith Ashby, wife of the above Francis Ashby, esq. who departed this life Jan. the 3rd, 1753, in the 87th year of her age.”

Arms. Ashby impaling, Ermine, on a cross, Sable, five fer-de-molines of the Field, Turner of Ickenham. The coat of Ashby is also charged with an escocheon of Turner.

“ Here lies interred the body of Mr. John Ashby, eldest son of Mr. Francis Ashby and Judith his wife, y^e only daughter of Mr. William Turner of Ickenham. He departed this life (much lamented) the 2^d day of Aug^t 1713, in the 24th year of his age.

“ Hæc manet hæredes certior una domus.”

of Francis Ashby, of Breakspear, esq. and Judith his wife, died Dec. y^e 13th, 1723, in the 37th year of her age.”

Arms: Ashby in a lozenge.

On the floor of the entrance :

“ Here lieth the body of John Aleyn, of Gray’s Inn, esq. who died October 26th, 1719, æt. 55. By the permission of Francis and William Ashby, esquires, here also lies interred with the remains of her dear husband, the aforesaid John Aleyn, who exchanged this life for a better on the 16th of Decr. in the year of our Lord 1742, and of her age the 78th. Virtue is a monument. Near this place also lies interred the body of Mrs. Aleyn, mother of the said John Aleyn, esq. who departed this life Sept. the 29th, 1724, in the 100th year of her age.—Death is the repose for the weary.”

Arms: (Aleyn) Sable, a cross potent Or, impaling (Fielding) Argent, on a fess Azure three lozenges Or. Crest of Aleyn, a demi-lion rampant Argent, holding between his forepaws the rudder of a ship Or.^d

On the east wall of the passage between the nave and the Ashby aisle :

“ In Sacello hoc, permittentibus Francisco et Gulielmo Ashby Armigeris, monumentum hoc erigebatur memoriæ Johannis Aleyn Armigeri de Hospitio Grayensi, qui uxorem duxit Elizabetham Fielding, filiam natu maximam Edwardi Fielding Armigeri de civitate Bristolensis, et uxoris ejus quæ Edwardi Onslow in Comitatu Salop filia erat natu maxima. Obijt Octbr. 26, 1719. Ætatis 55. Sumptibus Elizabethæ Aleyn amantissimæ ejus Viduæ monumentum hoc extruebatur.”—Arms and Crest as before.

On the floor of the chapel :

“ In a vault under this stone lyes interred y^e body of Mrs. Anne Ashby, wife of William Ashby, of Breakspeare, in this parish, esq. the only daughter and child of Jn^o. Aleyn of Gray’s Inn, esq. and Elizabeth his wife; ob. July 3rd, 1723, ætatis 27.—Here also lyes three children of the said W^m. and Anne Ashby; Francis Ashby, nat. 22 Decr. 1718, ob. April 11, 1719. In^o. Ashby, nat. 2 Decr. 1719, ob. Jan. 15, 1720. Ann Ashby, nat. 9 Dec. 1720, ob. May 16, 1721.”

Arms : Ashby quartering Turner, impaling Aleyn ; the shield is also charged in the fess point with an escutcheon of Aleyn.

^d See Morant’s Essex, vol. i. pp. 85, 240, Coll. Top. et Gen. vol. iv. pp. 271, 304, for Aleyn family.

On the north wall of the chapel :

“ Memoriæ Annæ amantissimæ Conjugis Gulielmi Ashby Armigeri, filiæ ac solius superstitis progeniei Johannis Aleyn de Gray's Inn, Armig. Mulieris tot singularibus eximiisq. dotibus ornata, ut pauca adæquarunt, nullæ superarunt. Plurimis deploratis (sic) obiit Jul. 3^o, 1723, ætatis 27^o. ”

“ Hanc terris vetuit Pietas matura manere, Heu nobis Pietas talia damna tulit ! ”

Arms : Ashby quartering Turner, with Aleyn in an escutcheon of pretence.

On the same wall, on a white marble tablet :

“ To the memory of Anne Ashby (venerable in Life, high and glorious in Immortality), daughter of Whitlock Bulstrode, esq^e. and Elizabeth Dinely his wife, of Hounslow, and wife of William Ashby, esq^e. of Breakspear, who was the son and heir of Francis Ashby and Judith Turner his wife, by whom he had three daughters, Anne, Charlotte, and Rebecca. She departed this life July 28, M.DCC.LXXXV. Aged XCIII.—Here also lye the remains of Rebecca Ashby, who departed this life July the xiith. M.DCC.LXXII. ”

On the north wall of the nave of the church is a monument adorned with a marble bust of William Ashby, esq. and these lines :

“ *Diffusive as the light his bounty spread,
Clothed are the naked, and the hungry fed ;
Such worth gives immortality to clay,
Treasures which neither moth or rust decay.* ”

And the following inscription is depicted on a scroll, surrounded by a wreath of ASH, the Eagle, the family crest, surmounting the whole, and, below, the coat of Ashby emblazoned, inclosed on each side by the capitals B and Y, forming the ancient rebus of the family ; the whole very masterly executed :

“ To the memory of William Ashby, esq^{re}, of Breakspears, who died April the 18th, 1760, aged 63, son and heir of Francis and Judith Ashby ; whose remains are deposited in the chapel belonging to the family, with those of his first wife Anne, and their children ; his second wife, Anne, daughter of Whitlock ”

* A stone on the floor of the north aisle to her memory, and also of Rebecca Ashby her daughter, with Arms, Ashby, impaling a buck's head caboshed, between the attire a cross patée fitchée, and through the nose an arrow, for Bulstrode.

Bulstrode, esq^{re}. of Hounslow, by whom he had three daughters; Anne, who caused the monument to be erected, departed this life June the 4th, 1792; Charlotte, married to the Rev^d. William Williams, son of Sir Gilbert Williams of Goldingtons, Herts; and Rebecca, who died July the 12th, 1772." ^f

Against the east wall of the chapel, on a white marble tablet :

"Near this place is deposited the body of Mrs. Mary Ashby, wife of Robert Ashby, of Breakspear, esq. who died on the 13th day of September 1767, aged 67 years. Also the body of Robert Ashby, jun^r. their son, who died on the 17th day of December 1767, aged 29 years. Likewise the body of the aforesaid Robert Ashby, sen^r. who died on the 2nd day of June 1769, aged 69 years. To whose memorys this marble is dedicated by Elizabeth, their affectionate daughter, anno 1774."

Arms: Ashby, impaling a garb between four birds (Tom).

On the east wall of the chapel, a tablet, inscribed :

"To the memory of Joseph Partridge, esq^r. ob. December 24th, 1792, aged 75: and Elizabeth, his widow, the daughter and heiress of Robert Ashby, esq^e. of Breakspears, ob. May 30th, 1817, aged 72."

Arms: (Partridge) Gules, on a fess engrailed, cottised, between three partridges rising Or, as many Torteauxes, with Ashby on an escutcheon of pretence. Crest of Partridge: a partridge rising with an ear of wheat in his mouth, all Proper.

The following are further extracts from the Parish Registers of Harefield, which I have not been able to connect with the pedigree.

ADDITIONS TO DUGDALE'S BARONAGE; FROM THE MS. COLLECTIONS OF FRANCIS TOWNSEND, ESQ. WINDSOR HERALD.

CHANDOS.—Vol. I. p. 502.

There is so much of confusion in the preceding account that I have found it necessary to go into a very minute examination of the whole, and therefore it will be more easy for me to state in my own way the result of my research, than to propose alterations in the text. There were certainly two persons of great distinction of this name flourishing as early as the time of King Henry the Third, viz.

Walter de Chandos, Lord of Snodhull and Welinton, in the county of Hereford, and from whom descended that Roger de Chandos who was summoned to Parliament by King Edward the Third;

And Sr John de Chandos, who married Margaret, daughter and coheir of Robert Fitz-Walkeline, from whom descended the famous Sr John Chandos, the celebrated hero of Poitiers, the friend and companion of the Black Prince, and one of the founders of the most noble Order of the Garter.

^b The Arms assigned to Jennings of Birmingham, in Nichols's Leicestershire, iv. 859, (see before, p. 129,) are totally different from the coat given here, which is precisely the same as that quartered by the present Earl Howe, in virtue of his descent from that family

How this Walter and John were related to each other I have not been able to ascertain, though I cannot doubt of the fact: their arms were alike, differing only in the colour of the field—a resemblance which at that time would have been proof positive of consanguinity.

It does not perhaps fall strictly within the letter of my plan to pursue the descent from John, because none of his posterity ever had summons to Parliament; yet as Sir William Dugdale has thought fit to notice them, I shall take leave to follow his example, and discourse of that line first, in order to clear the way for the discussion of that which is more immediately the subject of my inquiry.

Sir John de Chandos by Margaret his wife, daughter and coheir (with her sister Ermentruda, wife of Sir William Stafford) of Robert Fitz-Walkeline, was father of Sir Henry Chandos, who was living in a^o. 16 Edw. I. whose son, Sir John Chandos, married Elizabeth, daughter and coheir of Sir Henry Brailsford, and had issue Sir Edward Chandos, to whom King Edward the Third, in the first year of his reign, granted an annuity of 40 pounds, payable out of the Exchequer, until such time as he should provide him with forty pounds in lands, or rent of equal value, in reward and encouragement of his good services, “et ut arma militaria que in Comitiva nra de precepto nro recepit decencius valeat continere;”^a which Sir Edward having married Isabel, daughter and at length (by failure of issue from her brothers Edward and Robert^b) coheir of Sir Robert Twyford, had issue one son named John, and three daughters, Elizabeth, Eleanor, and Margaret.

This John, following the example of his father, engaged in the military service of his King, and by his wisdom as well as his valour gained the admiration and applause of his contemporaries, and, what is far more rare, appears to have secured the unqualified approbation of posterity. I shall not enter into the particulars of his history, which is sufficiently known, further than to say, he died without having been married, and consequently without issue, and to notice by the way a mistake in Froissart or his translator, who, in speaking of Sir John's uncle, calls him Sir Edward Clifford instead of Twyford. No Inquisition appears to have been taken after his death, which happened in 44 Edw. III. but it chanced that the manor of Hedingdon in the county of Oxford had been granted to Sir Richard Damory, Ch^r, for his life, with reversion to the right heirs of Sir John,^c and therefore upon the death of Damory, in 49 Edw. III. the Jurors return the manor to have been so granted, and find that Elizabeth Chandos and Eleanor Chandos, whom Roger Colyng had married, sisters of said John Chandos and Isabel, daughter of Margaret the third sister of the said John Chandos, which Isabel was the wife of John de Annesley, Chev^r. were next heirs of the said John Chandos, and each of them upwards of 26 years old.

This Inquisition certainly states the truth as far as it goes, but not the whole truth ; it states, however, all that was necessary to the purpose for which it was taken, though not all that was necessary to the purpose of a complete knowledge of the genealogical history of the sisters of Sir John ; for Eleanor, who at the time of that Inquisition was the wife of Roger Colyng, had been previously married to a friend and companion of her illustrious brother, named Sir John Lawton, and having survived her sister Elizabeth Chandos, who died unmarried, and her niece Isabella Annesley, she became at length sole heir of her said brother,^d and in that character, upon a writ of Formedon in descender, in a^o. 22 Ric. II. recovered against Sir W^m Dethick, knt. that portion of the inheritance of her brother, which had upon partition been allotted to her niece Isabella Annesley, the said Isabel having died without issue. By her first husband Sir John Lawton, the said Eleanor left an only daughter and heir named Elizabeth, who married to Peter de la Pole, of Newborough, in the county of Stafford, esq. and their posterity inheriting the estate of Radborne, in the county of Derby, from this marriage, were afterwards distinguished by the title of the Poles of Radborne.

I now return to Walter de Chandos, who was Lord of Snodhull and Welington, in the time of King Hen. III. and whose grandson Roger was advanced to the dignity of a Baron.

[This article is clearly imperfect. Mr. Townsend had certainly finished it, as is evident from a note in a subsequent place, and the numerous extracts from documents relative to the family which appear in the collections.]

———— l. 72, after "incursions," add, Upon a grant of Scutage, "per commune Consilium Regni," in 27 Hen. III. a general Inquisition took place in every county, to ascertain what and how many knights' fees were held in each county, either immediately of the King, or mediately of others who held of him in chief. By the return for Herefordshire, it appears that this Roger held in Fanne-Hope five hides and a half by knight's service of the honour of Snodhull upon antient feoffment from the King, and that John de Burchull (Burghill) held half a hide in the same manner from the said Roger, who also held one fee in the town of Welynton of the old feoffment of the said honour of Snodhull: and by the return for Gloucestershire it was certified that he held two fees and a half in Skipton Chamfleur and Brockworth and Bagindon, which were held under him by the following persons, viz.

Richard Tyrrel one fee in Skipton Chamfleur,

Ralph de Chandos one in Brockworth, and Richard de Bagindon half a fee in Bagindon.

P. 503, line 11, after "year," add, He married Philippa, daughter of Sir Guy de Bryan, knt.

———— l. 27. It appears to me most clearly that all the circumstances which Dugdale ascribes to the next Roger de Chandos, whom he calls brother and heir of Thomas, were in fact applicable to this very man whom he abandons. It has been shewn that he inherited the Barony of Snodhull from his father, and it will hereafter appear that Snodhull descended to his son Thomas. He married Maud, daughter and heir of John de Acton, and widow of Nicholas Poyntz, and had livery of the knight's fees of her dower 12 Apr. ann. 8 Edw. II.^e

The settlement of the lordship of Snodhull, made by licence a^o. 10 Edw. III. seems to cast something like a doubt upon the legitimacy of Thomas, who inherited under that settlement. The settlement is first upon Roger himself and the heirs of his body, and for want of such heirs, remainder to Thomas, son of the said Roger, with other remainders as before specified. Now, if Thomas had been the legitimate son, he must have come within the first limitation, for the heirs of the body of Roger could not fail as long as Thomas (if legitimate) or any issue from him existed; so that the settlement appears as if it had been made for the purpose of substituting an illegitimate offspring in case of the failure of lawful heirs.^f

P. 503^b, add to the references from the fourth paragraph, Esc. 49 Edw. III. p. 1, n^o. 36.

From the last paragraph relative to Chandos make this note, viz.

This Sir John Chandos was the son and heir of Thomas before mentioned, who died in 49 Edw. III. The Inquisition taken after his father's death states him to be then 26 years old,^g and in 51st year of the same reign he paid 100 marks for his relief of the manors of Snodhull, Fowhope, and Welynton, in the county of Hereford, held of the King per integram Baroniam de Snodhull.^h His niece Margaret Mattesdon left a son Robert, who was 25 years old at her death, a^o. 14 Hen. VI.ⁱ and the ^f This was not an uncommon practice at that time, as might be shewn in many instances; but I think I see the possibility of such a situation respecting the issue of Roger as might reconcile the legitimacy of Thomas with the settlement in question, viz.

It is possible that Roger might have had a former wife, and that by such wife he might have had a son and one or more daughters; that he foresaw a probability of that son surviving him, but no prospect of his furnishing issue to continue the line; and that in such case the rule of the professio fratris would make the sisters of the whole blood heirs to their brother by the first venter, and so preclude the succession of the sons by the second, and break up the entirety of that possession which had descended upon him from a long line of ancestry. In such a situation, and having a number of sons by his second marriage, he may be naturally supposed to wish to continue the inheritance in the male line. If this conjecture be admitted, it appears to me that all is reconciled; for the lands being settled in the first instance upon Roger and the heirs of his (sed q.) body, if the only son by the first venter failed, the eldest son by the second would succeed, as being in such case the true heir of his body.

issue of his other niece Alice continued to Sir John Brugges or Brydges, who in the reign of William and Mary was created a Baron, and in consequence of this descent had the title of Lord Chandos, as will appear in its proper place.

CHANDOS.—Vol. II. p. 395.

Page 395, line 51, after "8 Hen. VI." note. Sir John Chandos, who died in the 7th (not 8th) of Hen. VI. left no issue of his body, and by the Inquisition taken after his death, Giles Brugge, son of Alice, one of the daughters of Elizabeth, only sister of the deceased, and Margaret, wife of Nicholas Mattesden, the other daughter of the said sister, were found to be his heirs. Giles Brugge was 30 and Margaret Mattesden 40 years old and upwards, and between them the ancient barony fell into abeyance. I have elsewhere shewn how and when that abeyance terminated, and that Sir John Brugges, when he received the letters patent for this new barony limited in its descent to the heirs male of his body, was in reality the sole remaining heir of the original dignity, and in that character entitled to a writ of summons, and to sit in the place of his ancestors, according to the date of the original writ. This fact was probably not known at the time: I have never seen it noticed before in print or in manuscript.

——— l. 71, after "Dudley," note. He recorded his pedigree at the Heralds' Visitation in 1532, at which time it appears that he had five sons and four daughters. The sons are thus ranged: Edmund, Giles, Charles, Stephen, and Anthony (Henry and Richard were probably born afterwards), and the daughters were Elizabeth, Katharine, Mary, and Frances. It seems there were seven sons living in 1559; for the mother, in her will of that date, says, I give to my son Chandos my great ring with a turkesse), to my sons Charles, Anthony, Richard and Henry, and to each of my other three younger sons—she also names her daughters, Dudley, Tracy, and Throckmorton.

KYME.—Vol. I. 621.

P. 621, l. 30. This Alice was daughter of William, son of Alan Waleys. (Cl. 15 Joh. m. 2.)

———— l. 47, insert, He subscribed the famous letter of the Barons to the Pope in 1300, about the Supremacy of Scotland, by the title of Philippus Dominus de Kyme.

P. 621 ^b, l. 12, after "Anegos," add, son of Robert Earl of Anegos, by Lucy the sister of this William, became heir.

N. B. In the pedigree of Kyme, in a MS. of Philpot,^k Philip de Kyme, whose daughter and heir married Umfreville, is made to be son of Maud de Ferrars, but it is quite clear that Maud de Ferrars had no issue by her first husband Kyme, for at her death, in 27 Edw. I. her children by her second husband William de Vivonia were found to be her heirs, and in the Inquisition her first husband is called Simon, not William, which was the name of Philip's father.

———— l. 23, after "accordingly," add, and thus this Barony of Kyme became involved with that of Umfreville, which began in the same year, viz. 23 Edw. I. see UMFREVILLE.

FITZ-HERBERT.—Vol. I. 624.

P. 624, l. 38 to 44 inclusive. This is all a mistake. Lulia, or Lucia, the daughter and coheir of Robert Corbet, was the grandmother (not the former wife) of this Herbert Fitz-Herbert. Her husband was chamberlain to King Henry the First, to whom she became concubine. She had by her husband a son called Herbert Fitz-Henry, who by Sibilla his wife was father of the Herbert in question.

FOLIOT.—Vol. I. 679.

P. 679^b, l. 58, after "Castle." There is much confusion in the preceding account; but it is not important to enter into discussion of any points that do not immediately relate to that Jordan Foliot who was called to the dignity of a Parliamentary Baron in the reign of King Edward the First. I take him to have been the son of Jordan and Beatrice mentioned above, which Beatrix was one of the daughters of Hugh Bardolph and niece and coheir of Robert Lord Bardolph of Hoo in Kent. He was summoned to Parliament three times in the 23rd, and once in the 25th of King Edw. I.^k and died in the 27th, leaving^l issue by Margaret his wife, who survived him, one son Richard, who was then only 15 years old. I have not met with any account of whom he married, or when he died is not ascertained; but he left a son and two daughters, the youngest of whom was born in a^o. 8 Edw. II. so that he must have been living in a^o. 7 Edw. II. and 30 years of age, yet it does not appear that he was ever summoned to Parliament. His son, who was also named Richard, died in the 19th of Edw. II.^m also without having been summoned; but it is highly probable, nay almost certain, that he died a minor, since his death took place within forty-two years of the birth of his father. His two sisters, Margery and Margaret, were found to be his heirs; the eldest 12 and the youngest 11 years old: they were then both unmarried, but in the 4th of Edward the Third,ⁿ when Margaret their grandmother died, the eldest was the wife of Hugh de Hastings, a younger son by the second venter of John Lord Bergavenny, and the youngest, Margaret, married to John de Camois. The wardship and marriage of the eldest was purchased of the King for two hundred pounds by the mother of Hastings, at that time wife of Ralph Lord Monthermer; and Ralph de Camoys, father of John, purchased at the same time and price the wardship and marriage of the youngest.

Thus this Barony of Foliot fell into abeyance between Hastings and Camoys, and a partition of the lands took place upon the death of the grandmother.^o

I. The whole inheritance was divided between Reginald Lord Grey of Ruthin as son of Reginald, son of Elizabeth, daughter of John Hastings, son of Joan the eldest sister and coheir of George Cantilupe, son of William, elder brother of Nicholas the father of William, so summoned to Parliament as aforesaid; and William Lord Zouche of Haryngworth, as son of William, son of Eudo, son of William, son of Milicent, the younger sister and coheir of the said George Cantelupe. This is circumstantially recited in the records referred to,^q which contain a statement of the lands allotted to each of the two coheirs. Thus at two different periods the whole inheritance of both the Baronies of Cantelupe fell into the families of Hastings and Zouche.

Conclusion. The order of primogeniture of these four sisters is confused, and Maud, Countess of Oxford, has generally been ranked as the eldest, a circumstance which either arose from or gave rise to the assumption of the title of Baron Badlesmere by the Earls of Oxford; but the Inquisition taken after the death of their brother in the 12th Edw. III. finds that Margery, wife of William de Roos de Beauvoir was 32 years old, Maud Countess of Oxford 28, Elizabeth Countess of Northampton 25, and Margaret Tiptoft 23.^a

Those of Maud under that of Vere E. of Oxford.

Those of Elizabeth under Mortimer of Wigmore, and

MALTRAVERS.—Vol. II. 101.

Page 101 ^b, l. 58, after "Senior." This was not a summons to Parliament, but to the performance of military services against Robert de Bruce, as may be seen by referring to the Roll. ^t It bears date on the 5th of April. There were two Parliaments called that year, the first at Lincoln in August, and the second at York, ^u in December, but the name of Maltravers is not to be found in either of the lists of writs that were issued upon those occasions.

——— l. 61, after "said." There is much confusion and error in all that follows in the text. I will endeavour to render the account more clear and intelligible.

In the first year of the reign of King Edward the Third, John de Mautravers, ^{senr.} and his son John de Mautravers, ^{junr.} were both summoned to attend the King with horse and arms at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, to perform their services in his army then on its way to Scotland against Robert de Bruce; ^x but they were not summoned to the Parliament at Lincoln, nor to that at York, both of which were called in that same year, nor to either of the two Parliaments in the second year, nor to the Great Council at Windsor in the third year; ^y but in the fourth year the elder was summoned to two great Councils which were called, the one at Oseney Abbey and the other at Nottingham, and the younger was summoned to the two Parliaments of that year at Winchester and Westminster, in the latter of which he was found guilty of the death of Edmond Earl of Kent, the King's uncle, inasmuch as he, well knowing that King Edward the Second was really dead, falsely and wickedly induced the said Earl to believe that he was alive, and so eventually was the cause of the Earl's death; for which offence the Peers of the land and Judges of Parliament adjudged and awarded that he should be drawn, hanged, and beheaded as a traitor, wherever he might be found, and the Lords prayed the King to order proclamation to be made throughout the realm, that whosoever should take him alive and bring him to the King, should receive a thousand marks, and if he could not be taken alive, whosoever brought his head should have five hundred pounds as a gift from the King.^a

Of John, the elder, I find nothing material after this time. He was alive in the 9th year of King Edward the Third, as appears by a grant of pardon to John de Molins for receiving John Mautravers, jun^r. lately banished the realm; ^a but dead in the 19th, when the son is distinguished by the title of John Mautravers le Piere,^b but I cannot with certainty fix the period of his death, or say what became of him. I proceed therefore with the history of the son. He fled the kingdom, and was outlawed, and all his lands were seized to the King. He had lately married for his second wife a widow richly dowered by two former husbands, Sir John de Argentine and Sir John de Nerford. She was the daughter and heir of Sir William de Beresford, and appears to have stood high in favour with the Queen Consort, for in the year following the King, at the Queen's request, grants to her by the description of Agnes, the wife of John Mautravers, jun^r. an enemy and rebel, all the lands wherewith she had been dowered by her former husband ^c John de Argentine, together

^a Pat. 9 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 14.

^b He had at that time a son of the same name, who was married and had issue.

^c It appears by Inquisition 5 Edw. III. no. 16, that Thomas de Nerford, brother and heir of John de Nerford the former husband of this Agnes, had, upon the death of the said John, entered into possession of his lands and continued in possession for two months, when he was disseised thereof by the widow, who afterwards married to John Maltravers, and that Maltravers then entered into possession and held until the Feast of St. Lucia the Virgin, in ann. 4 Edw. III. when by his forfeiture the lands were seized by the King.

with all such wherein she stood jointly enfeoffed with Nerford her second husband, and the knight's fees and advowsons upon Nerford's lands towards the support of herself and her children. Her eldest son, and I believe her only child, John de Argentine, for she certainly had no issue by Nerford or Mautravers,^d was at this time about 13 years old. Her husband remained in banishment till 19 Edw. III. when the King going over to Flanders, upon an expectation of having that country put into his hands by the influence and treachery of its Governor Van Arteveld, found Mautravers there, who appears to have been deeply engaged in the plot which cost Arteveld his life and Mautravers all his property, and rendered it no longer safe for him to continue there; he therefore threw himself upon the King's mercy, who received him graciously, and gave him letters of protection and safe conduct for himself and his retinue until the sentence pronounced against him in a^o. 4 should be revised and reconsidered in the next Parliament.^e These letters, which are addressed to all Sheriffs, Bailiffs, &c. in the several counties, state in the preamble, that John Mautravers le Piere upon the King's arrival in the port of Swyn in Flanders, came to him of his own freewill and surrendered himself, humbly representing to him, that by the laws and custom of England no man could be condemned to death without first being put upon his trial, and having an opportunity to answer for himself, and that in direct violation of the said law and custom, he had been in his absence accused, and, without hearing, adjudged guilty of certain transgressions and felonies imputed to him, and remained in banishment under that sentence; that he was desirous to prove his innocence, and ready and willing to answer all accusations that could be brought against him in Parliament or elsewhere, and to abide the judgment of the Court; the King being willing to afford him an opportunity to vindicate his innocence and to answer all such as might have any charge to bring against him; and it being absolutely necessary for that purpose, that he should be allowed to return with safety and security into England, and that thereupon proclamation should be made in every county throughout the kingdom, calling upon all persons who had any thing to allege against him in the matters for which he had formerly been condemned, to appear at the ensuing Parliament, where they should be heard, and where the former proceedings should be recited and examined, and justice administered according to the laws and custom of the realm; the King considering the premises, and also that, in consequence of the good services which he had rendered to his Majesty in those parts, he had suffered the loss of all his goods, was reduced to the utmost distress, and could no longer remain in that country but at the utmost hazard of his life, was graciously pleased by and with the assent and advice of such of the Nobility and Council as were then with him in the said part, also afterwards in London with the assent of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treasurer, and others of the Privy Council, to receive him accordingly, and to grant him safe conduct and protection unto the next Parliament and during its continuance, he being ready to answer all complaints, and to abide the judgment of the Court; that the former process should be read and examined, and the further proceedings conducted according to the laws and customs of the kingdom, and in the mean time the execution of the former sentence be respited. All Sheriffs, Bailiffs, and other officers, are therefore strictly commanded not to molest him or his followers, but to protect him and them from all impediment, interruption, or harm whatsoever. Dated at Westminster 5 Aug. a^o. 19.

Having been thus reinstated in the royal favour, he served the King in his wars, and I find him enrolled in the list of the renowned heroes of Cressy and Poitiers in the rank of a Baron, having under him one Banneret,^e 2 Knights, 19 Esquires, and 20 archers on horseback. He was summoned to Parliament in the 25 of Edw. III. where he presented a petition, setting forth, that the King of his royal power, and with the consent of the Prelates, Earls, and Barons of the realm, had restored him to law, and to the state in which he stood before he was banished and disinherited (by the sentence of the Lords in a^o. 4 above mentioned), and praying that the said restitution might then be renewed in full Parliament; which petition being read, was answered and endorsed by the Lords and other Grandees of Parliament ("autres Grantz du Parlement") that it seemed to the Council that the said charter ought to be renewed, and entered upon the Roll of Parliament, which is of record, if it should so please his Majesty; and the petition being afterwards shewn to the King, he was graciously pleased to allow, and it was also agreed by the Commons, that the said charter be renewed by consent of the whole Parliament, in the best manner possible for the good and greater security of the state of the Petitioner; and the said charter was therefore enrolled accordingly.

UFFORD.—Vol. II. 49.

Maud, daughter of Ralph Ufford and the Countess of Ulster, was dead and buried by the name of Maud de Ufford, in a^o. 21 Edw. III. as appears in Dugd. Mon. Angl. I. 491; but Maud Countess of Oxford, and daughter of Sir Ralph Ufford, died without surviving issue a^o. 14 Hen. IV. and Sir Robert Willoughby was found to be her heir. By which it appears most clearly, that she was not daughter of Maud of Lancaster, Countess of Ulster, for in that case the Earl of March would have been her heir, as the lineal descendant of her mother. The Inquisition expressly calls her mother Elizabeth, and says she was sister of Alice, who was the mother of William Willoughby, and that Robert Willoughby, son of said William, was her next heir.

† Rot. Parl. ann. 25 Edw. III. 54.

Now the question is, who was the father of these two sisters, viz. Elizabeth Ufford and Alice Willoughby? I have bestowed much pains in this search, but am not able to decide. The pedigrees of Willoughby in general make Alice to be a daughter of Skipwith; but that drawn out by Glover does not give her father's name, and he seems to have laboured hard to discover it, but without success. I am inclined to think that the Ralph Ufford, who was father of the Countess of Oxford, was a different person from the Ralph Ufford who married the Countess of Ulster. That there was a Ralph Ufford who had a wife named Elizabeth, appears also clearly from a deed mentioned by Glover,⁵ wherein she describes herself Elizabetha de Latymer uxor Radulphi de Ufford; this deed bears date in 39 Edw. III. nineteen years after the death of that Ralph who married the Countess of Ulster. The Pat. 21 Edw. III. states him to have been buried in Campsey abbey, and shews that the Countess his wife survived him; so that this Elizabeth, who was living in 39 Edw. III. must have been the wife of another Ralph. Now the Inq. p. m. of the Countess of Oxford proves that her mother's name was Elizabeth, and I cannot entertain a doubt of its being the very Elizabeth above mentioned. She calls herself Elizabeth de Latymer wife of Ralph de Ufford, and upon her seal are the arms of Ufford Earl of Suffolk, differenced by a label, impaling the coat of Latymer, and between the words of the circumscription, "Sigillum Elizabethæ Ufford," are three shields of the arms of Botetourt; from which I should think she was a daughter of that William le Latimer who married Botetourt's daughter.⁶

⁵ Glover's Collections in Coll. Arm. vol. A. f. 22^b; but it would seem, from the evidence adduced in the ensuing note, that this deed must have been quoted erroneously.—Edit.

⁶ When writing the above, Mr. Townsend overlooked that Dugdale had stated, in p. 48, that Robert de Ufford, son and heir apparent of Robert Earl of Suffolk, and nephew to the Ralph who married the Countess of Ulster, received in 11 Edw. III. a pardon for having married Elizabeth, the widow of William le Latimer; and this has been confirmed by a reference to the original record: "Pardonavimus dilecto et fideli n'ro Rob'to de Ufford le Fitz transgressionem quam fecit ducendo in uxorem Elizabetham que fuit uxor Will'i Latymer defuncti. Test. ap. Westm. xx Aug." (Rot. Pat. 11 Edw. III. pars 2, m. 7.) There is therefore no doubt that the husband of Elizabeth, and father of Maud Countess of Oxford, was not any Ralph de Ufford, but that Robert de Ufford, whose name occurs in other records, as well as the foregoing, with the addition of le Fitz, to distinguish him from his father, in whose lifetime he died; and she and her sister Alice Willoughby were daughters of John first Lord Botetourt.—Edit.

STRABOLGI.—Vol. II. 95.

P. 97, l. 5, for "Stykanay," read Styvekey.

—— l. 19, add to the conclusion of the article, Elizabeth had issue by Sir Thomas Percie a son, who was called Sir Henry Percie of Athol, knt. who died 11 Hen. VI. leaving two daughters his coheirs, Elizabeth and Margery, who like their grandmother and great-aunt took each of them two husbands; Elizabeth, married first to Sir Thomas Burgh, and secondly to Sir William Lucy, and died 34 Hen. VI.; Margery's first husband was Henry Lord Grey of Codnor, and her second Sir Richard Vere.

Philippa left no issue by her first husband Sir Ralph Percy, but by Sir John Halsham she had issue two sons, Hugh, who died ann. 20 Hen. VI. without issue; and Richard, who died before his brother, leaving an only daughter Joan, who was found heir to her uncle Hugh, and was at that time 21 years of age and wife of John Lewknor, esq.

FITZWILLIAM.—Vol. II. 105.

Line 44, note. It is certainly true that Sir Thomas Fitzwilliam of Aldwark was descended from that William Fitzwilliam who, according to the text, was summoned to Parliament in 1 Edw. III. but he was not the heir, his ancestor being a younger son of that William's grandson.

DE LA POLE.—Vol. II. 182.

Page 182, line 47. Michael de la Pole was summoned from 39th Edw. III. to 8th Ric. II. In the 9th year of the latter reign he was created Earl of Suffolk. His son Michael, 2d Earl, succeeded, and had three sons, the eldest of whom [Michael, 3d Earl] left three daughters, who died without issue.

The second son [William] became 4th Earl of Suffolk, and was afterwards created Duke of Suffolk [26 Hen. VI.] He was succeeded by his son John, and John by his son Edmund, who was beheaded in 5 Hen. VIII. The third son of Michael the 2d Earl was named Thomas.

I believe all the issue from the elder brothers of this Thomas to be utterly extinct; and, if so, the heir of Thomas, subject to the effect of the attainder of Edmund the last Duke, will be heir to the Barony created by the writs to the first Michael de la Pole.

Thomas married Ann, the daughter of Nicholas Cheyney, and had issue Katharine, his only daughter and heir, who married first to Sir Miles Stapleton of Bedale, knt. and afterwards to Sir Richard Harcourt. She had no issue by Harcourt; but by Sir Miles Stapleton she left two daughters, of whom see under the title of FITZALAN of BEDALE.

This priory, of Gilbertine Canons, was founded by King Henry the Second. In the earliest of the following charters, which is of that era, it is described as being situated of the King's alms in the isle of Kadene; and in the lease of the reign of Henry VII. it is described as Newstead upon Ancholme.^a The latter is the name of the river; Cadney is that of the parish; the site is near Glanford Brigg. SOME ACCOUNT OF THE MANORS OF WHITEHORSE, CROHAM,
AND NORBURY, IN THE PARISH OF CROYDON, SURREY, AND A PEDIGREE OF ELMERUGGE, BY G. STEINMAN STEINMAN, ESQ. F.S.A.

WHITEHORSE.

THIS estate, called anciently Benchesham and Bencham, is situate about a mile and a quarter north from the town of Croydon, on the road to Norwood, and comprises 482 acres, 3 roods, 32 perches, of which the allotments made on the inclosure of the waste lands in 1797, form 30 acres, 2 roods, 5 perches. The earliest mention of the manor of Benchesham that has occurred to me, is in the inquest which records the death of Jeffry de Haspale in 1287.^a

In 1253 Peter Chaceporc had a grant of free warren on his lands in Benchesham.^b At an assize held before the King on the octave of St. Michael, 51 Hen. III. 1267, John Frowyk pleaded that Sir Geoffrey de Frowyk his father was seised on the day of his death in demesne, &c. of one messuage and 300 acres of land, &c. in Northbenchesham and Croydon, which messuage and land Master Hugh and William de Mortimer held. It was agreed that the said John should recognise the land to be Hugh's and William's, and remit all his right and claim to the same, and that Hugh and William should pay to him 10 marks.^c In 15 Edw. I. 1287, William de Mortimer did homage for his lands of Sharnbrok to John le Moyng'; and it was believed that he also did homage for Benchesham, but whether to the Archbishop of Canterbury was unknown.^d In 27 Edw. I. 1299, Johanna de Benchesham (daughter and heir of Walter de Benchesham, and afterwards the wife of Thomas Maunsell) recovered her seisin against Edmund de Verdon, of three roods with their appurtenances in Benchesham.^e Richard de Gravesende, Bishop of London, had a grant of free warren on his lands in Benchesham in 1299.^f The Bishop died 9 Dec. 1303, having first alienated his possessions here to Stephen de Gravesende his nephew and heir, and also Bishop of London, which Stephen died 8th April 1338, holding the manor of Bencham of the manor of Croydon, for the service of twenty-one shillings per annum, with suit of court to the Archbishop at Croydon, from three weeks to three weeks. There was then a capital messuage of no value beyond reprises; 200 acres of arable land worth 58*s.* 4*d.* per annum, of which one half was valued at 4*d.* the other at 3*d.* an acre; the pasture of 8 acres of wood 12*d.*; the pannage, when it happens, communibus annis, 18*d.*; the underwood, 4*s.*; 8 acres of meadow land, 8*s.*; 20 acres of pasture, 3*s.* 4*d.*; rents of assize, as well from free tenants as from natives, 70*s.*; at Christmas, 24 hens and 1 cock, 4*s.*; at the same time, 6 ploughshares, 4*s.*; pleas and perquisites of courts, 3*s.* 4*d.* It was then found that the reversion belonged to Hugh de Nevill, by fine levied in the King's court, and that he was thirty years of age 8 and upwards.

Walter de Chiriton, a merchant, is the next possessor of land here, whose name I meet with. He was one of the farmers of the King's subsidies and customs, and with money borrowed, by pledging the crown jewels without licence, had acquired to himself and heirs in fee simple one messuage and one carucate of land, with its appurtenances, in Benchesham, in the parish of Croydon. King Edward III. in consequence, seized his possessions 19 July 1351,^h and granted this messuage and carucate to John de Wesenham, also a merchant, who passed them to John de Chirbury, and his heirs.ⁱ John de Chirbury, described sometimes as Marshall to the King, obtained a grant of free warren in 1362,^j and afterwards enfeoffed in these lands Walter Whitehorse, Thomas Perle, William de St. Alban's, Thomas Mardon of Croydon, John Olyver, senior, John Olyver, junior, Thomas de Hatfield, and Richard de Redyng. The said Thomas Perle and the said

The King seized the estates of Walter de Chiriton, Thomas de Swanland, and Gilbert de Wendelyngburgh, viz. lands in Surrey, Sussex, London, Middlesex, Bedford, Bucks, Essex, and Hereford, for a debt of 4000*l.* due to him (as well as on account of Walter having unlawfully pledged the royal jewels), and granted the custody of them to John de Wesenham.

John and John Olyver subsequently released the said lands to the said Walter Whitehorse,^k who thereupon enfeoffed John de Blaby, clerk, and Robert Martell, who reconveyed them to Walter Whitehorse and to Isabella his wife, for term of life, with remainder to Walter their son, for term of life, or until he should be promoted to some ecclesiastical benefice to the value of 40*l.* per annum, with remainder to the heirs of the body of Walter and Isabella; remainder to the right heirs of Walter.^l

Another small portion of this manor was in 33 Edw. III. 1360, conveyed by Thomas de Benchesham (the same, probably, who was reeve of Croydon) to William Walkelate and Joan his wife, and their heirs, viz. all his lands and tenements in Benchesham, being those lands and tenements which lie between the lands of the said William and a wood called Northwood, and so as far as the way called Benlestrete, with the whole of his field called Sonneheld, with the meadow adjoining, called Greneforelande.^m

On the 30th Oct. 35 Edw. III. 1362, an extent under statute staple was made upon the lands of William Walklate, Sergeant at Arms, for a debt of 60*l.* due to Michael Ude, Mayor of St. Columb in Cornwall, and due on the feast of Easter then last past. The jury (among whom was one Peter de Benchesham) returned his estate, all lying in Bencham, as two messuages and forty acres of arable land, valued at 40*d.* per ann.; 134 acres of pasture and heath, valued at 2*s.* per ann.; six acres of wood, valued at 16*d.* per ann.; with right of common on the Archbishop of Canterbury's lands of Northwood and Benchesham.ⁿ

^k In 23 Edw. III. the King granted to Walter Whitehorse, "valetto suo," a messuage in the city of York forfeited by William de Sutton; and all the houses which were Sutton's in the county of York—but these grants were afterwards cancelled for another—(Rot. Pat.); in 27 Edw. III. he had the custody of Lynton wood, near the forest of Galtres, co. York; in 28 Edw. III. for his good services a remittance of five marks a-year of the farm of the castle of Haddele, co. Essex (Abbr. Rot. Orig. ii. 228, 330); in 35 Edw. III. the custody of the lesser part of the seal for the recognition of debtors in the city of York was granted him, provided he supplied a sufficient deputy (Rot. Pat. 35 Edw. m. 22); in 48 Edw. III. when he is described as the King's "armiger," he had a renewed grant of the custody of Hadley castle for life, at the rent of ten marks; and in 51 Edw. III. he had another grant for life of the profits appertaining to the King in the King's town and market of Rayleigh, Essex, and also of the King's manor of Thundersle, except the vert and venison of the King's park there. On the 25th Nov. 1367, Whitehorse obtained from Thomas, son and heir of Walter de Chiriton, a renunciation of all his right and claim to the lands thus acquired in Benchesham,^o and two years after he received a grant of free warren, being then described as shield-bearer to the King.^p On the 20th Dec. 1372, King Edward, in consideration of the good service which Walter had long rendered him, confirmed him and Isabella in their title, Walter their son being then dead.^q In 1406 Arnold Holker obtained a confirmation in fee of Whitehorse's grant of free warren;^r and, on 14th February 1432, John Gyfford, esq. (of Weston-under-Edge, co. Glouc.) and Robert Fitz Elye, esq. cousins and heirs of Walter and Isabella Whitehorse, released to John Maldon, citizen and grocer of London, Stephen Bronne, John Carpenter, Sir Richard Granger clerk, and William Brampton, all their right to the said one messuage and carucate of land formerly the property of the shield-bearer.^s On the 1st of May following, Edmund Brudenell, John Maldon, William Fitz-Walter, and John Carpenter, obtained a new confirmation of Whitehorse's grant of free warren.^t

The manor appears next in the possession of John Goldwell, esq. who alienated it to Cardinal Morton; for the jury summoned upon the death of Thomas Morton, esq. the Cardinal's nephew, who died 24 Dec. 8 Hen. VIII. (1516), found that Thomas Elenbrigg and Henry Burton were seised in fee of the manor of Whitehorse and its appurtenances, comprising 200 acres of arable, 30 acres of meadow, 100 acres of pasture, 100 acres of wood, and 40*s.* rent, to the use of the said Cardinal and his heirs, and that being so seised, at the desire of the Cardinal, by deed bearing date 17 Dec. 11 Hen. VII. (1496) they conveyed the estate by the name of the manor of Bencham, alias Benchesham, alias Whitehorse, then lately the property of John Goldwell, (and which the said Thomas Elenbrigg and Henry Burton had, as of the gift of Thomas Morton, John, Robert Turberville, esq. and Clement Clerke,) to the aforesaid Thomas Morton, esq. and Margaret his second wife, and their heirs male; remainder to Robert, son of Thomas, by his first wife, and his heirs male; remainder to John Morton, brother to Robert, and his heirs male; remainder to John Morton, son of Richard, brother to the Cardinal, and his heirs male; remainder to William, brother to the said John, and his heirs male; remainder to Robert, son of Robert, and his heirs male; remainder to the heirs of the said Cardinal for ever. They also found that in Michaelmas term, 4 Henry VIII. (1513), Thomas Morton suffered a recovery of the manor to the use of his will, and that in 8 Henry VIII. (1517), he declared his testament at the Old Temple in Fleet-street, wherein John Morton, junior, his eldest son by his second wife, is named heir to the manor, remainder as recited above. The manor the jury valued in all issues beyond reprises at 14*l.* and found it to be held of the Archbishop of Canterbury by fealty, and a rent of 41*s.* 2*d.* They also further reported that Lady Jane, widow of the deceased's eldest son Sir Robert, and then the wife of Christopher C... had resided on the estate from the time of Thomas Morton's death, and received all rents issuing from it; but by what authority they were not shewn.^u

Her authority for so doing was the will of her late husband, who died 12 April 6 Henry VIII. (1515).^x In this will, dated at Hallyng, the last day of May 1513, and exhibited to the jury who sat upon the inquest after his death, he directs that his widow shall have possession of his manor of Whitehorse during the nonage of his heir, and provided she remain unmarried, for the term of her life. He also wills that his father should dwell in the manor place with his widow and his heir so long as he might live, remainder to his own heirs for ever. Executors, Thomas Morton, the testator's father, the Lady Jane his wife, Master Hugh Warham, her uncle, and Archdeacon Warham, her brother. The same will was exhibited to the jury summoned upon the death of William, only son of Sir Robert, who died aged thirteen, 13 August, 14 Henry VIII. (1523).^y

John Morton, junior, who succeeded to Whitehorse, was eighteen and upwards at his father's death, and died 21 August, 13 Henry VIII. (1522), leaving by his wife Helen, daughter of the right honourable John Roper, of Eltham, Kent, Attorney-General, an only daughter; ^z when, agreeably to the entail, the manor passed to his next surviving brother William Morton, esq. lord of the manor of Westcourt in Detling, Kent. Morton, (in 1566, his only son, who resided at Whitehorse, having died in May 1565,) suffered a recovery of the manor to the use of himself and his wife for their lives, and after to whomsoever he might please, for the next twenty years from the death of the longest liver of them; and on the 20th June 1586, assigned the said term of twenty years to Thomas Kirton, esq. of London, and Henry Brockhull, esq. of Thurnanham, Kent, for the annual rent of 10*l.* to be received by his heirs. He died in 1588, and was succeeded by William his grandson. This William, by deed dated 20 May 1626, with the consent of his second and surviving son and heir, Thomas Morton citizen and draper of London, conveyed the manor to Sir John Tunstall, knt. of Addiscomb, and Thomas Man, citizen and haberdasher of London, to the use of himself for life, remainder to Thomas his son, and his heirs male, remainder to his own heirs female, remainder to the heirs male of such heirs female, remainder to the heirs female of Thomas, remainder to the heirs male of such heirs female, remainder to the right heirs of Thomas for ever. He died in December 1629, and was succeeded by Thomas his son, who died in October 1675, leaving Thomas his only son, the last heir male of the Mortons of Whitehorse. He died in November 1678, leaving five daughters, Anne, Elizabeth, Mary, Susannah, and Hannah, his heirs, among whom this and the manor of West Court was equally divided.

Anne, the eldest coheir, married Robert Callant of Great All-hallows, London, merchant, and when his widow conveyed her one-fifth, 19 June 1724, to John Borrett, esq. of New House, Shoreham, Kent, sometime Master of the Inner Temple, and one of the Prothonotaries of the Court of Common Pleas. Elizabeth the second married Herbert Price, esq. of Hereford, of whom, and this share, hereafter. Mary the third, by deed recited in will dated 6 Oct. 7 Will. III. (1695) demised her one-fifth to her youngest sister. Of Susannah, the fourth coheir, and her one-fifth, I have no mention. Hannah, the youngest, married Edmund Sheffield, of London, surgeon, and being a widow sold her two-fifths, 5 November 1711, to Thomas Gandy, citizen and paper-stainer of London, who re-sold them, 24 July 1712, to the aforesaid John Borrett, esq. When this gentleman possessed himself, and in what manner, of Susannah Morton's one-fifth, I am unable to learn. He died 28 January 1739, when Trevor Borrett, esq. of the Middle Temple, his eldest son and heir, by Elizabeth, youngest daughter of the Right honourable Sir John Trevor, knt. Secretary of State to Charles II. inherited his four-fifths of the manor, and dying in 1776, was succeeded by Thomas Borrett, esq. of New-house, his son and heir, who purchased the remaining one-fifth of the manor in 1787, and conveyed the whole in 1790 to John Cator, esq. of Beckenham Place, Kent.

Elizabeth Price died 15th Feb. 1701-2, and her husband in July 1737. Having obtained a release from his only son, the Rev. John Price, of Panfield, Essex, of his reversion, dated 9 Dec. 1730, he, by will dated 13th July 1737, and proved 9th Aug. following, bequeathed his one-fifth to his two nephews (being sons of his brother Charles) Charles Price, esq. of Presteigne, Radnorshire, and Harvey Price, of Flower-de-luce court, St. Dunstan's in the West, silversmith. Harvey Price, by will dated 14th Sept. 1737, proved 19th January following, bequeathed his share to his brother, who, by will dated 3rd August 1747, proved 22nd Sept. 1750, demised the whole to his wife Jane. Of her fifth I know no more, until it was purchased by Mr. Borrett, as above stated.

John Cator, esq. died Feb. 21, 1806, aged 76; when John Cator, esq. his nephew, son of James his brother, and now of Beckenham Place, succeeded to the manor, and in 1828 conveyed it to John Davidson Smith, esq. its present possessor.

A piece of copyhold land, called Beulands, and intersecting the estate, was purchased by Mr. Smith of Mr. Pepercorne of Woodford, Essex, said to be descended from the Mortons. It comprises 25 acres, 26 perches, and pays a quit rent of 6*s.* 8*d.* to the Archbishop of Canterbury. On this and the Whitehorse property have been formed the public gardens, called the Beulah Spa.

There is no court roll to this manor, and consequently no quit rents are paid to it. The rent now received by the Archbishop is 2*l.* 6*s.* On the old mansion, which is of red brick, is the date 1604 formed in the brickwork of one of its gables.

Roman coins have been found here; among others, a gold coin of Domitian, Lucius Ælius, Valentinian, and Titus Vespasian, all in fine preservation.

CROHAM.

THIS manor, spelt formerly also Croweham, Crouham, and Crauham, comprising, by estimation, 350 acres of arable and wood land, (of which about 3 acres were allotted under the inclosure act,) is situated about a mile south-east of the town of Croydon.

Its earliest mention as a manor occurs in the inquest upon the death of Jeffrey de Haspale, taken in 15 Edward I. (1286). On 25th November, 41 Edward III. (1368), Thomas, son and heir of Walter de Chiriton, released to John de Burgh, John de Hameldon, vicar of Croydon, and John the son of Robert Oliver of Croydon, all his lands and tenements in Crauham, which they held of him.^a By the fine roll 46 Edw. III. (1373), m. 27, we learn that the manor of Crouham was, for certain causes which are not set out, seized into the King's hands, and the custody thereof leased to Nicholas Carrew, for twenty years, at the annual rent of 40*s.* which lease in 16 Richard II. (1393), was renewed to Nicholas Carew the son for a term of ten years at the same rent, raised afterwards to 10*s.*^b On the 17th Oct. 1 Hen. IV. (1399), the custody of the manor was granted by the Crown to William Olyver at the rent of 40*s.* per annum;^c and on 2nd July following to William Olyver and John Southcote, at the rent of 50*s.* per annum.^d In the 14th of this reign (1409), William Olyver and others were discharged of the rent of 60*s.* per annum, which they paid for its custody.^e

The next possessor of the manor I meet with is John Elmerugge or Elenbrugge, esq. M.P. for the county 29 Hen. VI. (1451). He died 8 February 1473, leaving Anne, daughter of John Progett, gent. his widow, (who afterwards married Sir William Peeche, of Lullyngstone, Kent,) in the enjoyment of the manor, as appears by the court rolls. By his first wife Isabella, daughter of Alderman Nicholas Jamys, he had, with other children, Thomas his heir, who became Gentleman Porter to Cardinal Morton, and died 22 May 1497, leaving by Elizabeth, daughter of Nicholas Gainsford, of Carshalton, Esquire of the body to Edward IV. and Henry VII. Thomas his heir; which Thomas died 27 March 1507, leaving by Johanna his wife, Anne his heir, of the age of three years. Anne had to her husband Sir John Dannel, of Brownskinthorpe, Leicestershire, who held the manor in right of his wife,† and died 17th March 1577, leaving four sons and one daughter, of whom Leonard, the eldest, died s. p. in 1582, and was succeeded by John his next brother. It does not appear by which of these gentlemen the estate was alienated. Sir Ollippe Leigh of Ad-dington possessed it, and conveyed it by deed dated 30th Oct. 1601 to Archbishop Whitgift for 740*l.*‡ Archbishop Whitgift, by indenture dated 12th January following, endowed his then lately erected hospital of the Holy Trinity with it; with which charity it remains.

The manor, which extends over Coombehurst, and lies chiefly in the parish of Sandersted, has long been rented as a farm. It pays a quit rent to the Archbishop. Only one property pays a quit rent to it, and no courts are held.

* * * Lysons, (Environs of London, vol. i. p. 565) citing no authority and evidently in error, says that Edward III. in his 46th year, seized the manor of Croham, with other lauds of Walter de Chiriton, for a debt of 3000*l.* due to the crown, and granted them to John de Wesenham; but that Richard II. restored them to William son of the said Walter. In 6 Richard II. William de Chiriton renounced to Bishop Wyckham all his right, &c. to the manor of Stratelee, Berks (Claus. 6 Rich. II. m. 6 dors.) and in the 9th year of same reign he is son and heir to Walter (Claus. 9 Rich. II. m. 48, in dorso).

NORBURY.

This manor, called sometimes Northborough, lies on the east side of the London road between Thornton heath and Streatham. In 48 Edw. III. (1374) Nicholas Carew, esq. the first of that antient and illustrious family seated at Bedington, and Keeper of the Privy Seal, obtained a grant of free warren on all his lands, including those in Croydon.^a He died 17th Aug. 14 Rich. II. (1391) seized of this manor, consisting of a capital messuage, 100 acres of arable land, 300 acres of pasture, 10 acres of meadow, and 20 acres of great wood lying in common, rents of assize 30*s*. He also held one messuage and 40 acres of land, with their appurtenances, in Benchesham and Norbury, which he had of the gift of John Berkeswell, chaplain, to himself, Nicholas his son, and his heirs.^b Nicholas, his son, aged thirty years and upwards at his father's death, in 9 Hen. V. (1422) conveyed his estates in trust to Roger Heron and others,^c and dying 4 Sept. 1432,^d left this manor with the Bedington estate to his widow (Murcia, daughter of Stephen Heyme) for two years from his death, paying to his heir 40*s*. per ann. and from after the two years, one third of the two estates as dower for life. Nicholas Carew, esq. called senior son of the last Nicholas, died 20 April 1458^e seized of this manor (which is not set forth in the inquest after his death) and lands in Croydon, probably those which his father had of Stephen Brunne, citizen and grocer, in 5 Hen. IV. (1404).^f His son and heir Nicholas was then aged twenty-two years and upwards. He died 3rd Aug. 1467, seized of the manor of Norbury, then valued in all issues beyond reprises 10*l*. which he held of Thomas (Bourchier) Archbishop of Canterbury by fealty and a rent of 20s. per ann. for all services.^e He also held messuages and tenements in Croydon. Nicholas was his son and heir, and of the age of three years. This Nicholas died s. p. in or before 1 Hen. VII.^f (1485). Upon his death James Carew, esq. his uncle, succeeded, but not without opposition from his nephew's sisters, to the estates, and died in 8 Hen. VII. (1493). His son and successor was Sir Richard Carew, sometime Lieutenant of Calais, who dying 23 May 1520, was succeeded by his unfortunate and accomplished son Sir Nicholas Carew, K.G. Master of the Horse and Privy Councillor to Hen. VIII. Upon the execution (3 May 1540) and attainder of this gentleman, Henry seized his estates, and annexed this manor to his newly created Honour of Hampton Court. On the 12th June 1 Edw. VI. (1547) the King granted the meadow called Pyrle-mead, parcel of the manor of Norbury, and late in the tenure or occupation of William Mille, but then annexed to the honour of Hampton,^g to the Archbishop of Canterbury.^h In this same year Francis Carew, esq. only son and heir of Sir Nicholas, procured a reversal of his father's attainder, but did not then recover the estates, for on the 18th July, sixth of the same reign, the King granted them to Thomas Lord Darcie, of Chiche, K.G. in exchange for other lands. The estate here is described as all that manor of Norburye with its rights, members, and appurtenances, a croft called Halshawe, in the tenure or occupation of Richard Stawnton, 6 acr. ; a parcel of land in the tenure or occupation of William Mylles, 1 rood ; a parcel of wood and land near Norbury gate, 8 acr. ; a parcel of wood and land called Okefield grove, 7 acr. ; a parcel of wood and land called Great Farnames, 40 acr. ; a parcel of wood and land called Little Farnames, 8 acr. ; a grove lying amongst the lands of Thomas Luxford, 3 acr. ; a parcel of wood lying between the Brome leace and Long Close, 5 acr. ; a parcel of wood extending from the end of the said wood to a grove called Mondayes coppe, 7 acr. ; all that wood and coppice lying at Norbury lane's end 2½ acr.; a grove lying near the high way leading from London towards Croydon, against the cross called the Stone Crosse, 3 acr.; a grove abutting upon Coke gate, 1½ acr.; the Hedge-row wood in Okefield, 3 roods; a grove upon the east field of Barnefield, 2 acr.; one hedge-row of wood lying on the south side of Norbury gate, the further, 1 acr.; one hedge-row of wood abutting upon a grove against the Stone Cross on the north side, and on the south upon a grove lying near the next gate farm of Norbury, 1½ acr.; all demised to John Lynge for a term of years at the rent of 6*l.* 13*s.* 8½*d.* per ann.; a wood and coppice in Norbury called Pollard's hill, 92 acr.; a wood and coppice lying between the outer hilly close towards the north, and the highway leading from London on the east, and a close called Little Botton to the west, 6 acr.; a wood and coppice in Norbury lying between the aforesaid highway on the east and a close called Meadow Close to the north, 4 acr.; a wood in Norbury called Carew's Frythe, 24 acr.; the appurtenances in all 250½ acres. By the terms of the grant Lord Darcie paid to the Crown yearly for the lands a rent of 23*l.* 17*s.* 11¼*d.*ⁱ Queen Mary, however, in the second year of her reign (1555) 14th July, having, on the 20th November preceding, obtained a reconveyance from Lord Darcie of the said lands, regranted them to Carew.^k Accordingly, on the 2nd January following, Lord Darcie alienated to him the manor and other forfeited estates.^l

Sir Francis Carew, who received the honour of knighthood in 1576, died unmarried 16 May 1611. Having first bound his estates in trust to Sir George Moore of Loseley, Sir Olaphe Leigh of Addington, and Edmund Kidminster, esq. of Langley, Bucks, he by will bequeathed the manor of Norbury, and the Bedington estate, to his nephew Sir Nicholas Throckmorton, second son of Anne his sister by Sir Nicholas Throckmorton of Paulersperry, co. Northampton, who thereupon took the name and arms of Carew.

Sir Nicholas died in Feb. 1643-4, and was succeeded by his son Sir Francis Carew, K.B. who died in April 1649. Nicholas Carew, esq. his son succeeded, and died 9 January 1687-8, when Francis Carew, esq. his eldest son, inherited the estate, but died 29 September 1689, s. p. m. Upon his death, Nicholas his brother, created a Baronet 11 January 1714, became of Bedington, and dying 18 March 1716-17, was succeeded by his grandson Sir Nicholas Hacket Carew, Bart. son of Nicholas Carew, esq. who died in 1722. Sir Nicholas, the last heir male of the Throckmorton Carews, died 8 Aug. 1762, leaving an only daughter, Catharine, to whom he demised his estates for life, or until she married, remainder to the eldest and other sons of his cousin Dr. John Fountayne, Dean of York (son of Elizabeth, only daughter of Francis Carew, esq. his great-uncle, by John Fountayne, esq. of Milton, Yorkshire, upon their attaining the age of 25 years) in tail male; remainder to the eldest son of his kinsman William Farrar of Cold Brayfield, Bucks, in tail male; remainder to Richard Gee, esq. (son of Richard Gee, esq. of Orpington, Kent, son of Philippa, sister to Sir Nicholas Carew, Bart. by Richard Gee, esq. of Orpington); remainder to the Dean of York and his heirs, they taking the name of Carew. Miss Carew died unmarried 3 March 1769. Thomas Charles Fountayne, esq. only son of the Dean, died 1 January 1780, within the age required, and being then the only remainder prior to Richard Gee, esq. that gentleman at once assumed the name and arms of Carew by Act of Parliament, and on attaining the age of 25 years entered upon the estates. He died unmarried 18 December 1816, leaving by will the whole of his estates to Ann Paston, daughter of Brigadier-General Paston Gould, and widow of his brother William Gee, esq. of Beddington, who had died s. p. on 3d Aug. in the preceding year. Mrs. Gee died 28 March 1828, demising by will the manor and the other Carew estates to her first cousin the distinguished Admiral Sir Benjamin Hallowell Carew, G.C.B. K.S.F.M. (son of Benjamin Hallowell, esq. brother to Ann her mother), and his heirs male. The Admiral, who took the name and arms of Carew (with the distinction of an anchor erect in a canton sable as not being of the blood of Carew) by royal license dated 18 June 1828, died 2 September 1834, and was succeeded by his eldest son Charles Hallowell Carew, esq. a Captain in the Royal Navy, the present lord of the manor of Norbury, who has also taken the name and arms as above, by royal licence dated March 1835.

There is a farm, part of the demesne lands, and Courts are sometimes held for the manor.

^g This was Walter de Dunstanville, the first lord of Ideshale, now Shiffnal. In 1825, the upper part of a very ancient monument, consisting of the cumbent effigies of a cross-legged knight in mail armour, with surcoat, sword in scabbard by his side, gauntlets on hands (the left holding the scabbard of, and the right on the hilt, as if about to draw the sword), spurs on heels, head resting on a cushion, and the feet on a lion, was removed from Wombridge, where it had lain in the churchyard ever since the demolition of the old church, and where it went formerly by the appellation of "old Dansyfylde," but previous to its removal by that of "old Dangerville," to the south aisle of the abbey church, Shrewsbury. On its removal it was thought to represent the Walter de Dunstanville who died 25 Hen. III. Having since then ascertained the period when most of the witnesses to the earliest grant made by Walter de Dunstanville to Wombridge Priory lived, I may state that it was this the first Walter, lord of Ideshale, who granted to God, the church of St. Leonard, and the canons of Wombridge, "Leias anulsi," (chart. tit. De Lega Prioris, &c.) or, as called by Dugdale (Mon. vol. vi. p. 388), "Leis Anulfi," in which charter he desires that his body be buried in the before-mentioned place of St. Leonard, if he should happen to die in England; ("volo q̄ vt corpus meū in p'd'co loco sc'i Leonardi sepeliatur si me in Anglia mori contig'it") and that he most probably is the individual represented on the monument. He died 8 Rich. I. (1196.7).

^h Son of Gilbert de Lacy; he was governor of Dublin and Justice of Ireland, temp. Hen. II.; from which monarch he had a grant of the whole territory of Meath in Ireland, and of the manors of Staunton and Lodelowe in co. Salop. He died A.D. 1186.

ⁱ John was ancestor of the Stranges of Knockin, co. Salop; and Guy maternal ancestor to the families of Noel and Harcourt.

^k Great-grandson of the celebrated William Pantulph, recorded in Domesday as holding twenty-seven lordships in Shropshire.

^l Aston, from the grantor's family called Aston Aer; known also by the name of Wheaton Aston: the grant took place between 1164 and 1186. The grantor was maternal ancestor to the ancient family of Charlton, to the elder branch of which, this and other estates were carried by the marriage of Margery Fitz Aer with Alan de Cherleton, temp. Edw. II.

the fourteenth century; and from them denominated Berwick Leybourne. The grant was made about 1220; and the estate subsequently went with the heiress of the Leybournes to the family of Lucy. Berwick is memorable as the place where the celebrated Hotspur passed the night previous to the bloody battle of Shrewsbury, fought July 20, 1403; and where, on his departure in the morning, he left (having forgot it) his favourite sword.

^p This fishery was then an extensive mere, distant five miles north from Shrewsbury, and within the memory of persons living was a large sheet of water; but by draining, &c. the whole, or very nearly so, is now in a state of cultivation. The hill adjoining, called Harmer Hill (in some maps Armour Hill), as well as the mere, derived the name from Aher, the Saxon ancestor of the family of Fitz Aer above mentioned.

ON THE DESCENT OF THE MANOR OF GORHAMBURY IN HERTFORDSHIRE, AND OF THE ANGLO-BRETON FAMILY FROM WHOM THAT ESTATE DERIVED ITS NAME.

THE manor of which it is proposed to give an account in the course of the following pages, was known by the name of WESTWICK^a from the earliest record till Century XIV, by that of WESTWICK-GORHAM^b during Century XV, and by that of GORHAMBURY^c from about the period of the dissolution of monasteries to the present day. The family from whom its existing name was derived, became its possessors about the close of the reign of Henry I.; they came into England, from Brittany, shortly before that period, being descended from distinguished ancestors settled in the province of Maine.^d

[I.] DE GORRAM, OF LA TANNIERE, IN THE MAINE.

THE DE GORRAMS can be traced, in Brittany, to the beginning of Century XII. Their castle was situated on a small rivulet called the Futaye, at la Tanniere, seven miles west from the town of Gorram^e (from which place doubtless the family name originated), and twenty miles N. W. from Mayenne. The name is variously spelt, GORRAM (the most antient mode), GORAM, GORRAN, GORAN, GORREN and GORON; its English orthography has,

^a Matt. Paris, Vita Abb. Sci. Albani, pp. 53 et seq., edit. Watts 1640. This name still attaches to the adjoining hamlet.

^b MSS. Corp. Christi Coll. Camb. vii. f. 256; a grant dated 1411.

^c Ministers' Accounts of St. Alban's Abbey; see Dugd. Monast. new edit.

^d Such is the testimony of Matthew Paris: "ex illustri Cænomanensium et Normannorum progneie." Vita Abb. Sci. Alb. p. 56. By a singular mistranslation of Cænomania, Newcome has erroneously stated that this family came from Caen (Cadomun) instead of from the Maine! (Hist. St. Alban's, p. 53); Clutterbuck has adopted this mistake. (Hist. Herts. i. 88.)

^e The castle of Gorram (now called Goron) was granted in 1135 by Geoffrey Plantagenet to Juhel II. Lord of Mayenne, on condition that he would assist him in obtaining possession of the dower of his wife Matilda (Robert de Monte, Append. in Sigebert. Chronic. in Op. Guiberti Abbatis, p. 758. Paris. 1651); Gorren Castle was regranted to Juhel III. de Mayenne in 1199 by Arthur Duke of Brittany. (Menage, Hist. de Sablé, p. 186). The earliest notice of it in English Records is in 1202, when King John issued a writ for seizing the castle of Gorham (Pat. Rolls, 3 Joh. m. 9). We may observe here the variations in the spelling of this name.

almost without exception, been GORHAM from the earliest records. Many original grants by the De Gorrans of la Tanniére to the neighbouring Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Savigny still exist, and were examined by the writer of this article, on a tour in Normandy, in the autumn of 1836; of these, and of other ancient records (which will be referred to in tracing the descent and personal history of this family), a short abstract is given in the note ^f below.

^f The following original deeds and ancient records relate to the family of DE GORRAM of la Tanniére; they will be quoted in the text under the following letters:

(A) Guido Bishop of Mans confirms a grant to the Monastery of Mount St. Michael by WILLIAM DE GORRAM of the Church of St. Berthevin, and the Chapel of the Castle of Taonaria, and of other property. 1128. [Cartulary of Mount St. Michael, at Avranches, f. 63.] This deed is printed in the text next page.

(B) William Bishop of Mans confirms grants to the Abbey of the Holy Trinity at Savigny by WILLIAM DE GORRAM and Matilda his wife of a farm in Livaré, and by GILES DE GORRAM in Tonieria and St. Berthevin. 1162. [Cartulary of Savigny at St. Lo, Mans Charters n. —; and transcript of the same by M. De Gerville of Valognes, p. 1107.]

(C) GILES DE GORRAM, by consent of Osanne his wife, and of their children, confirms to Savigny Abbey a grant in Livaré by his father William. He grants also land in Tauneria. 1164. Witnessed by Walter the priest, Hugh de Soligny, Ralph de Gorram, Ive his brother, Guido de St. Bertin, Alan Macer, William de Columberio. [Original, without seal, in the sub-prefecture of Mortain; Savigny Cartul. Mans Charters n. 39; De Gerville's transcript, p. 1099.]

(D) GILES DE GORRAM, with consent of his children William and Mary, confirms to Savigny Abbey grants in Ernée, Dorée, and Livaré. About 1175. [Original, without seal, at Mortain.]

(E) GILES DE GORRAM, with consent of his wife Osane, and of his children William, Henry, and Mary, grants to Savigny Abbey certain tithes in Livaré to be received at his house in Taioneria. About 1178. Witnessed by Reginald the Prior and Hugh the Sub-Prior. [Original, with seal, at Mortain.]

(F) WILLIAM DE GORRAM, with consent of Henry his brother, confirms the grants to Savigny Abbey by Giles his father in Miseré, Lamhellée, and Dorée. About 1180. Witnessed by Robert the Prior, Robert the Sub-Prior, William de Neth, Richard de Spin' [Epinay?], Richard Bastart, Hugh de Med' [Mayenne?], Reginald de Bosc-Berenger, Ralph Tornée, Matthew de Forg' [Forgerolles?], Hugh de St. Bertin. About 1180. [Original, without seal, at Mortain; Savigny Cartul. Mans Charters n. 82; De Gerville's transcript, p. 1117.]

(G) William Bishop of Mans confirms a grant by WILLIAM DE GORRAM and Henry his brother, to Savigny Abbey, in Lamhellée, near Ernée, formerly made by Giles de Gorram 1140. [Savigny Cartul. Mans Charters n. 59; De Gerville's transcript, p. 1104.]

(H) WILLIAM DE GORRAM, with consent of Oliva his wife and of Ralph and Robert his sons, grants the monks of Savigny a rent in Taoneria. About 1185. Witnessed by Henry de Gorran, Juhel de Molta, Robert the Sub-Prior, Richard de Spin', Reginald de Caen, Nicholas Cellerar, Robert de Brolio, James, Hugh de Med'. [Original, without seal, at Mortain; Savigny Cartul. Mans Charters n. 83; De Gerville's transcript, pp. 1117, 1118.]

1. WILLIAM DE GORRAM is the first of this name who occurs in Brittany. His castle at la Tannière, being on the frontiers of Normandy, appears to have been destroyed, or at least to have been greatly dilapidated, in the early part of the 12th Century, by the ravages attendant on the contests between Henry I. and Fulk Count of Anjou, during the successful attempt of the English monarch to wrest that Duchy from his nephew William Fitz-Robert. Peace having been restored, a new castle was built at la Tannière, the chapel of which was given by William de Gorram, in 1128, to the monastery of Mount St. Michael near Avranches; together with a plot of ground for the cells of the monks, an adjoining orchard, the tithe of the men of his castle, the tithe of his market, of his mills, of his ovens, and of his fish. This grant, which is preserved in the College Library at Avranches in the beautiful cartulary of Mont St. Michael, is subjoined (A) :—

(i) RALPH DE GORRAM confirms to Savigny Abbey a rent in Taornaria granted by his father William; he also confirms the gifts of his ancestors, William and Giles his son, in Livaré. About 1210. [Original, with seal, at Mortain.]

(κ) RALPH DE GORRAM releases to the monks of Mount St. Michael his claim for a monk to reside in his castle at Taornaria. About 1200. [Original, without seal, in the archives of the prefecture of St. Lo.] This deed is printed in the text, p. 188.

(λ) P. Dean of Hernée notifies that Oaliz de Overton, relict of Sir Ralph de Goram, and then wife of Henry de Gastines, had resigned to Sir ROBERT DE GORAM the rents in la Dorée which were her dower, by consent of her husband; and that Sir ROBERT DE GORAM had given the same to the Monks of Mount St. Michael. 1235. 2. About the year 1160, WILLIAM DE GORRAM (probably the grandson of the preceding), and his wife Matilda, granted a farm in Livaré to the monks of Savigny, which religious house was in the immediate neighbourhood of their castle (B).

3. GILES DE GORRAM, son of William, took the Cross, from the hands of William Bishop of Mans, in company with Geoffrey son of Juhel II. Lord of Mayenne, and one hundred and eight other knights, in the church of St. Mary of Mayenne, A.D. 1158: he returned, with only thirty-five of his companions, from the Holy Land, Nov. 7th, 1162, "the rest having died in Sinai for the faith."^k In this latter year (probably as a pious acknowledgment of his preservation from the Infidels), he made grants to Savigny Abbey of lands in la Tannière and in the parish of St. Berthevin (B). In 1164 he confirmed and extended the grants of his father (C). About 1175 he gave to the monks of Savigny some land near Ernée, called Lamehellée, and also lands in Dorée and Livaré, for the work of the new Abbey just commenced, and (after the completion of the edifice) for a pittance in the refectory of bread, wine, and fish (D, G). He gave them also land at Meséré for a corporale and other ornaments of the altar (F), and all the tithe of corn in Haie Mainart and the Dead Spring in Livaré (E). His seal,¹ appended to the last named grant without date, (but made between the years 1175 and 1180,) is oval, two inches long by one and a quarter broad, and represents a Crusader, in a coat of mail, with a sword and embossed shield, kneeling (probably in the act of receiving the cross); it is surrounded by the legend ✠SILLVM EGIDII DE LORRAM. He died about 1180, leaving three children by his wife Osanne, William, Henry, and Mary. Of these

4. WILLIAM DE GORRAM, the eldest son, was present in the rebel army at the battle of Dol; and, after its defeat, fled with seventeen knights and many esquires into the tower of Dol, where they were taken prisoners by Henry II. on Sunday, August 26th, 1173.^m In 1180, he bestowed on Savigny Abbey land in Dorée for wax lights on the high altar and in the Chapter-house; he made this gift as a commutation for the tithe of corn in Haie Menart granted by his father (F, G.). About 1185 he granted to the same Abbey a rent-charge on his mills at la Tanniére (H). In 1199 he covenanted with King John to serve faithfully against all the King's enemies; and, within eight days after, being summoned, to go to battle against Jubel III. de Mayenne, and to make neither peace nor truce with him without the King's licence; to ratify this engagement he gave, as hostages, Ralph his eldest son, his nephew Groiet son of Guido de St. Lo, the son of Joel de Mota his relative, and the son of Geoffrey de Bosc-Berengar his relative and tenant.ⁿ He died about 1200, leaving, by his wife Oliva, two children, Ralph and Robert. His seal (appended originally to a grant to the monks of Mount St. Michael, now lost), exists in the archives of St. Lo. It is round, 1½ inches in diameter, and represents a Cavalier in full armour, bearing a shield with a radiated and elongated boss, surrounded by the legend ✠ SIGILLVM GWILLI DE GORAM.

5. SIR RALPH, or RAOUL DE GORRAM, Knt., the eldest son of the above-named William, about the year 1210 confirmed the grants of his ancestors, at la Tannière and in Livaré (1), to Savigny Abbey. About the same period he released the Prior of Mount St. Michael from his obligation to provide a monk from that Convent to reside in his castle at la Tannière, "the establishment being insufficient" for the pious intention of his ancestors; this deed, being somewhat curious, is subjoined (κ):

"Omnibus Christi fidelibus ad quos presens scriptum pervenerit RADULFUS DE GORRAM salutem. Noverit universitas vestra quod ego, pietatis intuitu, propter loci insufficientiam, residentiam unius monachi quam ego et antecessores mei clamabamus in Castello meo de Taonaria, ecclesie beati Michaëlis de Periculo Maris a me et heredibus in perpetuum quietam clamavi. Testibus, Henrico de Gorram, clerico; Roberto de Landevi; Reginaldo de Bosco-Berengarii, militibus; Mattheo de Forges, armigero; Radulfo, tunc Priore de Villarenton; et multis aliis."

His seal is still appendant to a Savigny charter (1). It is round, rather more than two inches in diameter, and exhibits ° a shield charged with three lions rampant 2 and 1, surrounded by the legend ✠ SIGILLVM RADVLFI DEGORAN.

6. His brother, SIR ROBERT DE GORRAM, Knight, was living in 1235; for, in that year, he made a grant to the Priory of Mount St. Michael, of the rents in la Dorée, which had formed the dower of Oaliz de Overton, relict of Sir Ralph de Goram, and then wife of Henry de Gastines, Oaliz having resigned the same into Sir Robert's hands by consent of her husband (L). His seal, appendant to that charter, is round, nearly two inches in diameter, exhibiting a shield charged with three lions rampant crowned, two and one, surrounded by the legend ✠ S. ROBERTI DE GORAM, the S being reversed.

° The impression is indistinct.

FAMILY OF DE GORHAM, OF GORHAMBURY, HERTS. 189

7. This family has not been traced further; but there is no doubt that NICHOLAS DE GORRAM, the celebrated author of Commentaries on several parts of the New Testament, was of the Maine, and that he was not an Englishman, as asserted by Leland and Tanner. Moreri asserts that this appears from several MSS. of his works, written in his own time, and preserved before the Revolution in the Library of the Sorbonne.^p He was Confessor of Philip le Bel, son of Philip le Hardi, King of France; and died about 1295.

[II.] DE GORHAM, OF GORHAMBURY, HERTFORDSHIRE.

1. At the end of Century XI, or very early in Century XII, GEOFFREY DE GORHAM came from the Maine (at the invitation of Richard de Albini, a Norman, 15th Abbot of St. Alban's), to take charge of the school attached to that religious house; he was then a layman, and not arriving promptly, the place was filled by another. He read lectures for a time at Dunstable; he afterwards became a monk at St. Alban's, and was elected the 16th Abbot in 1120;^q probably having been influentially recommended to the brethren, as a fit person for that office, by his Norman patron and predecessor. There had been great dissensions in that Abbey, between the English and French monks, from 1093 to 1097; the latter, proving the stronger party, began to bestow their preferment upon foreigners: this circumstance induced Geoffrey de Gorham to emigrate from Brittany, and also brought several of his relatives^r to England to profit (as we shall hereafter see) by his advancement. Matthew Paris, (who was himself a monk of St. Alban's a century later, and who gives a very prolix account of the acts of Abbot Geoffrey), severely censures his propensity to promote the interests of his relations to the prejudice of the convent. It is particularly stated, that he "built a Hall at Westwick for the use of a certain friend and relation of his who had been a benefactor to the ^p Moreri, Grand Diction. v. 286. Paris, 1759.

^q Matt. Paris, Vita Abb. Sci. Alb. p. 56.

^r No fewer than five of his family (including himself) are named by Matthew Paris as being in England at this time; Geoffrey de Gorham, Robert and Ralph his nephews, Henry (probably his brother, godfather of Robert), and his sister. Four, at least, if not all of these persons, profited largely by the patronage of the Abbey of St. Alban's.

190 FAMILY OF DE GORHAM, OF GORHAMBURY, HERTS.

Church." This Hall was, undoubtedly, the Manor House^s of Westwick-Gorham, or Gorhambury; and the relation alluded to was his brother-in-law, Hugh, the son of Humbald, to whom Abbot Geoffrey de Gorham gave his own sister in marriage, together with "the whole estate of Westwick," though of right it "was appropriated to the monk's Refectory." This manor belonged to the Saxon Kings, and was granted to St. Alban's by Ethelred in the time of Abbot Alfric^t (his Chancellor) about A.D. 990. About 1080 it was leased for his life to Humbald, by Abbot Paul, at the request of his relation Archbishop Lanfranc, on the express condition that he should not alienate it.^u Notwithstanding this restriction, Abbot Geoffrey de Gorham, without the consent of his Convent, granted this manor in perpetuity to Hugh, the son of Humbald, as his sister's marriage portion, about the year 1130. Geoffrey de Gorham died in 1146.

2. The manor of Westwick seems to have devolved, about this period, upon IVE DE GORHAM;^v it may be conjectured that he was the nearest heir of the Abbot's sister, her marriage with Hugh Fitz-Humbald having probably failed of issue. He had a fresh grant^w of this estate from Geoffrey de Gorham, confirmatory of his title by inheritance.

^s It was still remaining at the dissolution. The notion that this ancient manor house was built as a summer retreat for the Abbots of St. Alban's, is apocryphal, and contradicted by the express assertion of Matthew Paris, cited in the text. Newcome, with his usual inaccuracy, states that it was built by Robert de Gorham, the 18th Abbot, for his own residence.

^u Matt. Paris, Vita Abb. Sci. Alb. pp. 53, 63.

^v This name was preserved in a MS. of Matthew Paris, supposed to be now lost, and which was not collated for Watts's edition (1640). Lawrence Nowell made some extracts from it, which were in the possession of Thomas Lambarde of Sevenoaks, in 1726, and which were then copied by Hearne, whose transcript remains in the Bodleian Library, MSS. Rawlinson B. 330. This MS. differed in many respects from the three MSS. used by Watts, viz. (1.) MS. Cott. Nero D. 1.; (2.) MS. Cott. Claud. E. iv.; and (3.) a MS. of Spelman, not now to be found.

^w The following gloss (printed in Watts's text without the slightest notice of its being spurious) appears in the margin of the MS. of Matthew Paris, Cott. Nero D. 1. f. 40, in a paler ink than the body of the MS., though in a very ancient hand: "Terram quam Westwickam nominavimus cuidam clienti suo, consanguineo prædecessoris sui Ricardi Abbatis, et sibi ipsi scilicet Abbati Gaufrido familiari, contulit et carta confirmavit, sine assensu conventus, in magnum gravamen et præjudicium Ecclesiæ. Ille autem cliens, ignobile genus trahens, a quodam pago in Normannia qui Gorham dicitur fuit oriundus."—Nowell's MS. had this gloss,

FAMILY OF DE GORHAM, OF GORHAMBURY, HERTS. 191

3. ROBERT DE GORHAM, nephew of Abbot Geoffrey, was a monk abroad; probably at Savigny, that house being patronised by his family.^x Having obtained permission of the Abbot, under whose rule he lived, to visit his uncle, he was so delighted with the establishment at St. Alban's, that he expressed a strong desire to become a monk there; a wish which his uncle did not gratify, till he had returned to France, and had obtained letters demissory from the Foreign Convent, which he accomplished with difficulty. He became Secretary of the Abbey; he was made the Prior in 1148; and was elected the 18th Abbot in 1151. He died in 1166, and was buried in the Chapter-house, at the foot of the grave of Abbot Paul. His godfather, HENRY DE GORHAM, occurs about 1160, as a person of influence in the affairs of the Abbey.^y GEOFFREY, and ROBERT DE GORHAM, brothers, and both monks of St. Alban's, were sent, about 1161, to Rome, with a present, from their relative the Abbot, to Pope Adrian, of two candelabra exquisitely wrought in silver and gold.^z The conventual acts of Abbot Robert are recorded^a with honour, and at great length; but several exceptionable deeds are also stated with strong reprobation. He was as little scrupulous as his uncle in bestowing the possessions of the Abbey on his relatives from Brittany. He gave the estate at Sarret to his brother RALPH DE GORHAM,^b without the concurrence of the fraternity.

with the addition of the name of the patronised relative, "IVE DE GORHAM" (MS. Rawlinson B. 330, citing f. 98 b. of the original).—The scribe of the Cotton MS., Claudius E. iv. f. 111 b. had this gloss before him; but, after having transcribed the first word of the interpolation into his text, erased it with his pen. That the passage was obtruded by some officious interpolater, after the time of Matthew Paris, appears also from its incoherence with the clause immediately preceding, and from the expression "ignobile genus," so directly opposed to the "illustris progenies" which the original author assigns to this family (see note ^d above). The gloss, cleared of its blunders, was probably derived from a fact, viz. that Ive de Gorham held the estate of Westwick by a grant of confirmation from his relative Abbot Geoffrey.

By a similar abuse of power, he set the Abbey seal to a renewed and enlarged grant of Westwick-Gorham,^c at the request of a relative who was then in possession. The favoured individual was probably,

4. GEOFFREY DE GORHAM, who was returned to the Exchequer, in 1166, by Abbot Robert, as holding, together with Agnes de Montpincon or Ralph her son, one knight's fee in Westwick.^d

5. SIR HENRY DE GORHAM, knight, occurs,^e as of Hertfordshire, in 1199. He held two-thirds of one knight's fee,^f from William Abbot of St. Alban's, about 1220,—doubtless in Westwick.

6. SIR WILLIAM DE GORHAM, knight, was the next possessor of this manor; he died about 1230. He married Cecilia de Sanford,^g a lady whose beauty and virtues are spoken of in the highest terms^h by the historian, and her cotemporary, Matthew Paris. Her "learning, wit, and eloquence," gained her an appointment (about 1232) as governess to Eleanor,ⁱ sister of King Henry III., relict of William Marshal, Earl of Pembroke. When she had been some years a widow, she made a vow of perpetual celibacy, in which she was joined by her royal pupil, in the presence of Edmund Archbishop of Canterbury, about

Some links in the pedigree are supplied by the incident mentioned in the text, by the Herts. and Bucks. fines, and by the Pipe Roll 33 Hen. III. These will be annexed to the pedigree [No. II.] of De Gorham of Westwick, the families having been connected by marriage, and the manor of Westwick having passed from the De Gorhams to the De Veers through a female branch of the Sanfords. The arms of Sanford, as found by Sir Richard St. George on a seal of this family, were; Barry wavy of six Argent and Azure. See MSS. Lansd. 863. f. 39.

ⁱ Matthew Paris, says "Joanna;" there is not only a mistake in the name, but in his statement that she married "Willelmo de Valentia Joanne," [so in the MSS., but qu. "juniori ?"] after the death of her first husband William Marshal, Earl of Pembroke (1231), and before her alliance with Simon de Montfort, Earl of Leicester (1238).

1235. The Countess repented of her rashness, and, being absolved from her vow by the Pope, married Simon Earl of Leicester in 1238; but Cecilia de Gorham maintained her purpose to the end of her life. When she was dying, her confessor directed her female attendant to remove from her finger her wedding ring, as a remnant of worldly vanity; but Cecilia resisted the attempt, observing that she had betrothed herself to God, in whose presence she was resolved to appear with this token of her espousals. She died 23rd July 1251, universally regretted, and was buried with much honour at St. Alban's in front of the altar of St. Andrew. Her brother Nicholas de Sanford, a young man of great military promise, was so afflicted at her loss, that he died of a broken heart, a few months afterwards, on the 23rd of January 1252.

7. SIR WILLIAM DE GORHAM, knight, son of Sir William and Cecilia, became possessed of the manor of Westwick during his mother's life-time. He occurs in 1240.^k In 1257, being then in Ireland, he was returned to the Exchequer as liable to knight's service, for the expedition against Llewellyn, as holding a moiety of a fee from the Abbot of St. Alban's.^l He was one of the Commissioners for the returns under the Hundred Roll for Hertfordshire, in 1275.^m He died on the 17th April, 1278, seised of a moiety of Westwick, leaving two sons, both minors; 1. WILLIAM, a youth of twelve years of age, who survived his father only five months; 2. JOHN, aged ten years.ⁿ

8. JOHN DE GORHAM, is the last of the Hertfordshire family of that name, who possessed the manor of Westwick. In 1292, when he was twenty-three years of age, John de Gorham and Isabella his wife paid Hugh de Cressingham eight sparrow-hawks for this manor,^o probably the remaining moiety. In 1307 the aforesaid John and Isabella sold the reversion (after the decease of the survivor of either) to Alicia Countess of Oxford, for the use of her second son Alphonsus de Veer^p and his heirs; she was the heiress of the Sanford family, and niece of the Lady Cecilia de Gorham. The estate of Westwick thus passed out of the Gorham family, which appears to have become extinct, in Hertfordshire, in the early part of Century XIV, as no further trace of it is to be found in that county.

The manor of Westwick-Gorham descended from Alphonsus de Veer to his son John 7th Earl of Oxford, who, in 1350, granted it to his son Thomas de Veer (afterwards 8th Earl of Oxford) and Matilda his wife, with entail upon their heirs male.^q Earl Thomas having died in 1371, and the heir male in expectancy, Robert Duke of Ireland, 9th Earl of Oxford, having been attainted in 1388, the reversion of this manor escheated to the Crown. This circumstance afforded the monks of St. Alban's an opportunity of repurchasing an estate, the iniquitous alienation of which by Abbot Geoffrey had always been considered as a great misfortune. The purchase was accomplished by the zeal and industry of Prior John de la Moote,^r at the close of the Abbaty of Thomas de la Mare. In 1393 the reversion was purchased^a from the Crown, by Matilda dowager Countess of Oxford, on payment of 1000 marks [666*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*]. In 1395 licence was granted for conveyance^t to the Abbot of St. Alban's of the manor of Westwick, together with one close, 80 acres of land, and 6 acres of woodland pasturage: but, a mistake having been made in the patent, which described the estate as held simply by payment annually of one rose to the heirs of John de Veer, and as not held of the Crown, the Abbot and Convent obtained in the same year, on further payment of 100 marks [66*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*], a corrected licence,^u in which the manor was stated to be held of the Crown by military service. The letters patent were obtained in the last year of Abbot Thomas de la Mare (1395), and the purchase was completed in the first year of Abbot John de la Moote (1396).

The acquisition of the manor of Westwick-Gorham cost^v the Abbot and Convent of St. Alban's 900 marks and a half [600*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*], of which sum 100*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* was contributed by friends of the Prior John de la Moote. The following subscriptions towards the purchase are recorded,^w as having been made by "the brethren and others," after the advancement of John de la Moote to the Abbatcy (1396):— from 1349 to 1420. It is illustrated by numerous portraits of Abbots, benefactors, &c. exquisitely designed. The leaves have been sadly misplaced, when it was bound (probably for Archbishop Parker) with a MS. of Walsingham's History, but very few, if any, folios appear to be deficient. This MS. has been little noticed (except by Cole) and is never quoted, though it throws considerable light on the period to which it refers: it will form a valuable supplement to Matthew Paris, and his continuators, whenever a new edition of his History, and Lives of the Abbots of St. Alban's, makes its appearance.

A title founded upon attainture in such turbulent and changeable times, was not deemed secure without acknowledgment by the natural heir; on this account the next Abbot, William Heyworth, procured from Richard de Veer, 11th Earl of Oxford, in 1411, a deed of release,* for which that nobleman received a payment of more than 100 marks [66*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*]; this sum, perhaps, included the purchase of six additional acres of woodland in Westwick-Gorham, and certain lands, &c. in the village of Kingsbury in Hertfordshire, mentioned in this grant:

“ Relaxatio Ricardi de Veer, de Manerio de WESTWYK-GORHAM.

in villa de KYNGESBURY in Com' prædicto; quæ Manerium, terræ, &c. quondam fuerunt Thomæ de Veer nuper Comitis Oxoniæ. Ita videlicet quod nec ego prædictus Ricardus Comes, nec heredes mei, nec aliquis alius pro nobis seu nomine nostro, aliquid jus se clamare in prædicto Manerio, terris, &c. . . . nec in aliqua parcella eorundem de cetero exigere, clamare, seu vendicare poterimus nec debemus quovis modo in futurum, sed ab omni actione, jure, et clameo, inde sumus totaliter ac penitus exclusi in perpetuum per presentes. Et ego vero prædictus Ricardus Comes et heredes mei omnia prædicta Manerium, terras, &c. . . . præfatis Abbati et Conventui et eorum successoribus in perpetuum contra omnes gentes warrantizabimus et defendemus per præsentem. In cujus rei testimonium huic præsentem scripto meo sigillum meum apposui. His testibus, Johanne 'Lo de Wyke, Johanne Derham, Thoma Frowyk, Thoma Charlton, et aliis. Datum apud S̄cm Albanum, 26^o die mensis Junii, anno regni Regis Henrici IV. post Conquestum 12^{mo}."

Even this acknowledgment was not thought to render the possession of Gorhambury sufficiently secure; for, in 1446, Abbot John Stokes paid no less a sum than 100*l.* sterling to John 12th Earl of Oxford and Elizabeth his wife for further confirmation of the manor of Westwick.[†]

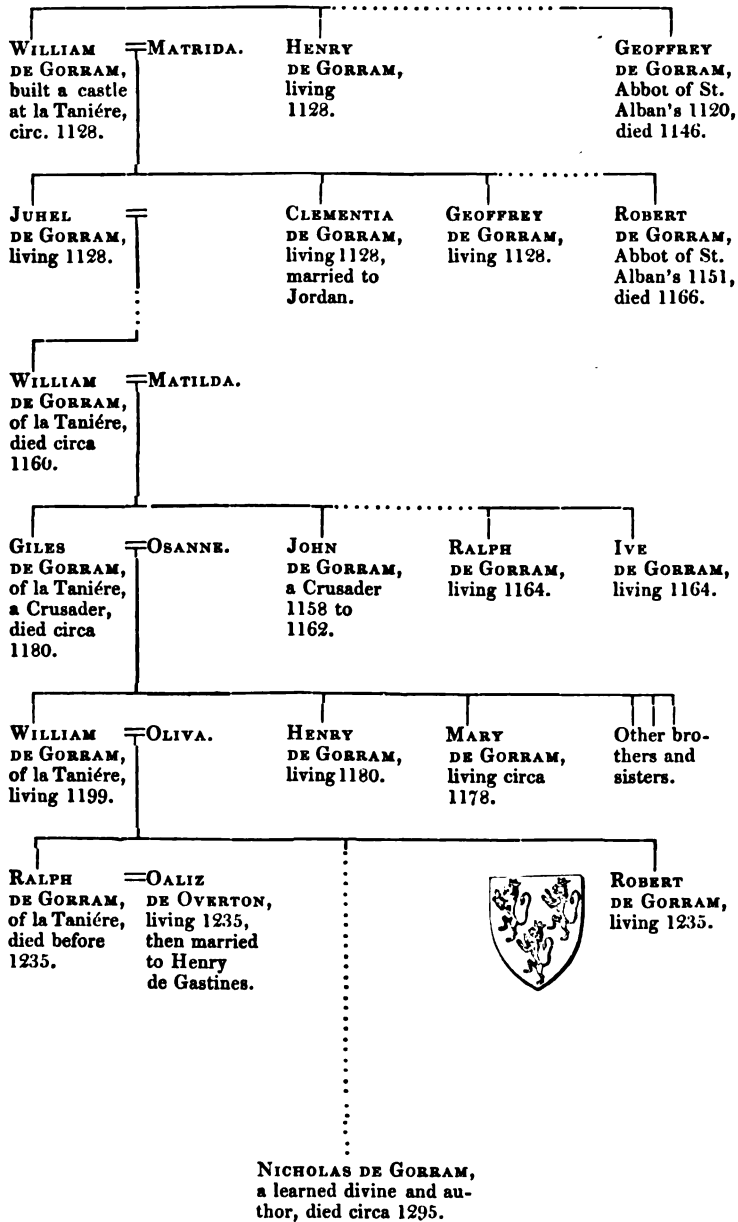

Gorhambury continued with the Abbey of St. Alban's till the dissolution, from which period it is unnecessary to trace its descent with any detail, as it has been recorded with sufficient minuteness in the topographical histories of Hertfordshire. It was granted by Henry VIII. to Ralph Rowlatt, esq. From him it passed to Sir Nicholas Bacon; who, in 1563, pulled down the antient Hall, built in the early part of Century xii by Abbot Geoffrey de Gorham, of which "the foundations" are said ^a to be still "discernible in the present park, situate eastward of the new mansion [completed in 1568], and near the row of chesnut trees celebrated in Evelyn's time." Queen Elizabeth visited Sir Nicholas, in his new mansion at Gorhambury, in 1577.^a This estate and mansion were sold to Sir Harbottle Grimston in 1652: it is now the property and residence of the Earl of Verulam.

THE CUSTOMS OF THE MANOR OF CRENDON, IN BUCKINGHAMSHIRE, 1558.^a

Probably from that part of the indenture which was preserved in the archives of Windsor Chapel; the transcript was made by Ashmole, and is preserved in his Collection of MSS. in the Ashmolean Museum, at Oxford, No. 860, pp. 327, 328, whence the following copy is taken. Crendon is one of the parishes included in the first, and as yet only published, portion of Lipscombe's Buckinghamshire, pp. 198—219.

ARTICLES of agreement quadrypartite indentyd had concluded and agreed on the vijth day of Marche in the fyfth and syxth yeres of King Phylip and Quene Mary as well on the partie and behalfe of all the three Lords of the Mannor of Crendon in the countye of Buck' that ys to saye the Deane of Wyndesor the Warden of all Soules College in Oxforde and Wiffm Dormer Esquier as also on the partie and behalfe of all the Tenants of the same Mannor.

^k John Thornborough was the name of the Bishop of Bristol at this period: so this person was probably a kinsman as well as servant.

^l There were two knights of this name dubbed in 1603, one at Windsor on the 9th of July, and the other at Whitehall on the 23d of the same month, and both styled of Oxfordshire.

ⁿ Related perhaps to the physician whose burial has occurred before in 1595 (vol. IV. p. 119); but the absence of any Christian name makes the point difficult to ascertain.

^o Anne, dau. of Lawrence Washington and Anne, was bap. Aug. 29, 1621; and Lawrence, their son, Sept. 30, 1622. Of this family (the ancestors of the Earls Ferrers, and of the American President) in which the name of Lawrence was frequent, a pedigree will be found in Baker's Northamptonshire, vol. i. p. 514.

^p "Francis, son of Sr Leventhorp Frank, Knight, and Susanna his wife," bap. Nov. 13, 1618. A pedigree of Frank will be found in Clutterbuck's Herts, vol. iii. p. 334; where it is erroneously stated that Sir Leventhorp was Knighted by King Charles the First. He received that honour from James I. at Whitehall, March 7, 1608-9. See also further of the family in Nichols's Progresses, &c. of King James, vol. iii. p. 12.

^q Alice, wife of Mr. Henry Adams, bur. May 9, 1616.

^r Undoubtedly the celebrated writing-master and poet, who usually styled himself "of Hereford." He is known to have lived in Fleet street; but the above entry corrects a statement of Fuller that he was buried "in the church or churchyard of St. Giles's in the Fields." He had erected a monument in St. Dunstan's to his wife, on which she was described as "Mistress Mary Davies, dau. of Thomas Cross, of Okley park, co. Salop, Esq. wife of John Davies of Hereford. She died on New Year's day 1612," and was buried, according to the register, on the same day. Twenty lines of poetry which were added to the epitaph, will be found in Strype's Stowe, 1754, i. 736.

* Sir Matthew Carew, LL.D. There is still remaining in St. Dunstan's Church a tablet to the memory of Sir Matthew Carew, containing a very circumstantial inscription in Latin; of which the few first words only have been published in the Histories of London, and though it has been printed among Mr. Denham's copies of the epitaphs, yet, as it is there obscured by several inaccuracies, and as several others have been since committed on the original in regarding the letters, but chiefly because it is a very curious composition, both in respect to genealogy and auto-biography, I have thought proper to introduce it at length:

"D. O. M. S.

"Sim charus Domino, Domino charum quoque nomen Qui scribet libro nomina chara suo."

It is a very remarkable circumstance, and hitherto unnoticed, that in the MS. Harl. 1196, f. 152, is still preserved Sir Matthew Carew's first draft of this inscription, evidently in his own hand. Its introductory lines leave no doubt of the authorship:

"D . O . M .

"Patria Cornubiensis, &c.

There are numberless variations, and indeed the whole was remodelled. His school education is mentioned: "libere schola Westmonasteriësi sub p'ceptore Noello —;" but the substance of the rest is transferred into the present epitaph. Some lines of Latin poetry are added; and on the same paper are sketches of the Carew pedigree, also written by Sir Matthew.

With respect to the account which the epitaph gives of the distribution of the seventeen manors by Lady Carew among her several sons, it is remarkable that it is related nearly in the same terms in the "Survey of Cornwall," by Richard Carew, of Antony, in that county, the nephew of Sir Matthew; except that the historian ascribes the proceeding to the mother having taken offence with the eldest son. It is further remarkable that the epitaph of Richard Carew himself, in the church of Antony, which, in its style and in its biographical minuteness, much resembles that of Sir Matthew, has also shared a similar fate, of remaining unpublished, whilst a fragment of it was repeatedly printed instead of the whole. The circumstances were curious: the learned Camden was solicited to supply the epitaph, as appears from his Epistolæ, p. 106; but Richard Carew, Esq. the son of the deceased, appears to have preferred a more circumstantial composition, at the same time that he retained several of Camden's expressions. Hugh C——, who wrote the Life of the Historian, prefixed to the "Survey of Cornwall." quoted the epitaph, not from the monument, but from Camden's Epistolæ; and he was followed by Polwhele in his History of the county, and by Lysons in his Magna Britannia, under the impression that it was the actual inscription on the tomb; nor was the deficiency supplied in the handsome reprint of Carew's Survey by Lord de Dunstanville, 4to. 1811. It is believed that Mr. C. S. Gilbert was the first to

Of another of the many distinguished men belonging to this family a long biographical Latin epitaph exists in the church of Stratford-upon-Avon; it is that of George Earl of Totnes, and may be seen in Dugdale's Warwickshire.

To return to Sir Matthew Carew: he left 6l. 13*s.* 4*d.* to the poor of the parish of St. Dunstan's: and three of his children were christened there, as follow: "Elizabeth, daughter of M^r Doctor Carye," Nov. 13, 1580; "Wymonde, the sonne of Mathewe Carewe, Doctor, and one of y^e masters of the Chauncery," Dec. 11, 1586; and Walter, July 8, 1588. He left only three children surviving, Matthew, Thomas, and Martha, wife of Sir James Cromer, of Kent. Baptisms of children of Sir Matthew Carew, junior, and of Lady Cromer, will be found hereafter.

[†] This is the more distinguished poet and very eminent lawyer, contemporary with the John Davies shortly before mentioned. A memoir of him also is to be found in Chalmers's Biographical Dictionary and other popular works. His only son mentioned by his biographers "was an idiot, and died young."

[‡] The dramatic poet whose works have received the attention of many of our commentators on old English poetry, and several of whose masques and poetical entertainments have been reprinted in Nichols's Progresses, &c. of King James the First. The above entry shows Mr. Haslewood was wrong in identifying him with Thomas Campion, gentleman, who made his will in Oct. 1621.

[×] Probably the elder brother of Hugh first Lord Coleraine, which Nicholas died s. p. but, if so, as he was nearly forty (epitaph), he was the son of his father's first wife, as stated in the Baronetages. See a Latin epitaph to his memory, highly eulogising his endowments and travelled accomplishments, in Strype's Stowe, 1754, vol. i. p. 735. He gave 200*l.* to the poor of St. Dunstan's parish.

^a Others of this family occur about fifteen years after; see vol. VI.

^b Sir John Jackson, of Knottingley in Yorkshire and of Lincoln's Inn, was Attorney to the Council established in the North, and a justice of the peace for the West Riding in 32 Eliz. He was knighted in May 1604; became Autumn Reader of the Inner Temple in 1606, and Treasurer of the Inner Temple in 1615. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Savile, Baron of the Exchequer; and she was also here interred: "Elizabeth, wife of Sr John Jackson, Knight, was buried from Richard Blackwells house, June 13, 1610." She died in childbirth, her son Francis having been christened on the 28th of the preceding month. Sir John Jackson, grandson of this Sir John, was created a Baronet in 1660.

^c Sir Robert Houghton, born at Gunthorpe, Norfolk, Aug. 3, 1548, was of Lincoln's Inn, Serjeant at Law 1603; a Justice of the King's Bench, April 21, 1613, and knighted on that occasion; died in the parish of St. Dunstan's, Feb. 6, 1623. He married Mary, dau. of Robert Rychers, of Wrotham, co. Kent, Esq. by whom he had issue three sons and three daughters; of whom Robert and Susan died before him, Francis, John, Elizabeth, and Mary survived. ^d There can be little doubt that this Randall Allington, merchant-taylor, who, with his wife and one of his sons, fell a victim to the Plague, was descended from the same family as the Alingtons of Horseheath, who occur in vol. IV. of the present work. George, John, and Richard, younger brothers to Sir Giles Alington who died in 1586, all had issue; and Ranulph or Randal was the name of one of the earliest progenitors of the family; see the pedigree in Clutterbuck's Herts. vol. ii. p. 542. Richard Alington, the baptism of whose daughter will be seen in a subsequent page, was a younger son of Sir Giles. The other entries which have occurred of the citizen branch, shall be here appended: Isabell, the daughter of John Gryckson and Ellin Allington, baseborn, bapt. ^a See these parties in the Muschamp pedigree in vol. II. of the present work, p. 149, and their descendants in the History of Surrey, vol. iii. p. 29.

^b In the original book this is thus entered, "Maried the xxv^d daie Mr. Charles Grice, Esquire, and Mrs. Heaster Blage, daughter untoo my ladie Blage." Lady Blage was Dorothy, widow of Sir George Blage, gentleman of the Bedchamber to Henry VIII. and her daughter Hester is styled "Maid of Honour" in the pedigree of Blage, afterwards Blagge (see vol. IV. p. 114), in Gage's Suffolk, Hundred of Thingoe, p. 521. Anthony Blage, or Blake, was vicar of St. Dunstan's from 1556 to 1570.

^c Edward Lutwyche, descended from an ancient family seated at a place of the same name in the parish of Rushbury, co. Salop, was a barrister of the Inner Temple, where he was admitted in 1565: and the present was his first marriage, with a lady who is called in the pedigree Susan, dau. of Lewis Stocket. She was, therefore, a widow. The following baptisms of their children occur: Lewis, June 24, 1568, buried four days after; Edward, Aug. 11, 1569 (who became the heir, and carried on the family); and Stocket (afterwards rector of Swynnerton, co. Stafford) Sept. 12, 1571. "Richard the sonne of Edward Lutchwhich, gent. of the countye of Salop," was bur. here May 15, 1591. The third entry confirms Mr. Blake-way's supposition, that Stocket was a son of the first and not of the second marriage; see "The Sheriffs of Shropshire," fol. 1831, p. 189; where further particulars of Mr. Lutwyche and his family will be found. He returned to his ancestral seat, where he died in 1614. His great-grandson, Sir Edward Lutwyche, was a Judge in the reign of King James the Second, and was buried in 1709 at St. Bride's, Fleet-street, the adjoining parish to St. Dunstan's.

^d Cecil Croke was the daughter of Sir John Croke, of Chilton, co. Bucks, who was the son and heir of John Croke, one of the Six Clerks, and afterwards one of the Masters in Chancery, who died 2d Sept. 1554, and was bur. at St. Dunstan's (see vol. IV. p. 101). He "lived at a house in Fleet street called the Charyate or Chariate [the sign of the Chariot?], and which had a garden to it. He purchased this house, which was already in his possession, with two others adjoining it, in the year 1541. The sellers were Richard Holte, Citizen and Merchant-taylor, and Thomasine his wife." (Sir A. Croke's Genealogical History of the Croke Family, i. 403.) The husband of Cecil Croke was Edward Bulstrode, esq. of Hedgerley Bulstrode, co. Bucks. Sheriff of that county in 1585. Her effigy is among those in front of the very magnificent family monument at Chilton (with her brothers the two Judges Sir John and Sir George Croke); see the same work, vol. i. pp. 454, 630. Mr. and Mrs. Bulstrode were the parents of Elizabeth, wife of Sir James Whitlocke, several notices of whose family will be brought together hereafter.

They were the parents of the first Viscount Wenman; see Langley's Hundred of Desborough, p. 329. Jane West is stated in the peerage to have had three other husbands; James Cressy, Sir Thomas Tasburgh, and fourthly, Ralph Sheldon, of Beoley, co. Worcester, esq.

BAPTISMS.^a

1558. Feb. 27. Anne, dau. of Richard Alington.^b 1560. Nov. (decayed) dau. of Sr Willm Cordell, knight.

^a Younger brother to Thomas first Earl of Winchelsea, and ancestor of the present Earl of Winchelsea and Nottingham. This was his second marriage, with the widow of Richard Bennet, esq. and daughter of William Cradock of Staffordshire, esq.

^b Of Lineham in Wiltshire, great-grandson of Sir Henry Long, of Wraxall and Draycot, temp. Hen. VIII. Susan Clarke was his second wife. He died in 1639.

^c It appears that this entry ought to be Walter Chetwynd, esq. He was the elder son of Sir Walter Chetwynd, of Ingestre, co. Stafford, whose younger son, John, was the father of the first Viscount Chetwynd. See in Lodge's Peerage of Ireland, by Archdall, 1789, vol. v. p. 153, the epitaph of this lady at Grendon, Staffordshire; in which her first husband is styled Walt. Chetwynd, Arm. She was married secondly to Sir Wolstan Dixie of Bosworth, co. Leic. Bart.

^d Piers Edgcombe, esq. of Mount Edgcombe, Cornwall, lineal ancestor of the Earl of Mount-Edgcombe. His father-in-law was afterwards a knight, Sir John Glanvile, of Broad Hinton, Wilts.

^a In the original paper book the baptisms do not now begin before Jan. 1599-1600.

^b A younger son of Sir Giles Alington, of Horseheath, co. Cambridge, who died in 1586 (see pedigree in Clutterbuck's Hertfordshire, vol. ii. p. 542). His wife, the mother of this child, was Jane, dau. of John Cordell, and sister and coheirress to Sir William Cordell, Master of the Rolls (before noticed in vol. IV. p. 97.) Richard Alington was buried in the Rolls Chapel in 1561; where a handsome monument was erected to his memory, with effigies of himself and wife, and three children; see the epitaph in Stowe. Stowe mentions that the Alingtons built an inn in Holborn.

1580. April. Elizabeth, the daughter of Mr. John Savage, baptised at the Rolls.

Nov. 6. Hortansia, dau. of the Ladye Howard.

(The register is almost wholly decayed to 1585.)

^c Beningborowe, dau. of Jerome Halley, gent. bap. Jan. 19, 1571-2.

^d The celebrated defender of Barnard Castle, co. Durham, against the Northern Earls in 1568. Elizabeth was his dau. by his second wife Jane Talbot, aunt to George Earl of Shrewsbury; and was afterwards wife of Sir Timothy Hutton of Marske, knt. eldest son of Matthew Archbishop of York. See the pedigree in Surtees's History of Durham, vol. iv. p. 108.

^e Third son, afterwards of Chelsea and Gray's Inn, and finally of Streatham Castle, co. Durham, and the ancestor of the subsequent line of the family. See Surtees, ubi supra.

^f John, son of Mr. Trussell, bap. Jane 19, 1575.

^g Another daughter of Richard Alington and Jane Cordell (page 218, note^b). A third daughter named Cordell (after her mother) otherwise Cordelia, was married to Sir John Stanhope, and was mother of the first Earl of Chesterfield.

^h Sir Thomas Gorges; see Hoare's Modern Wilts, Hundred of Cawden, p. 30; where is a pedigree showing that Sir Thomas had several children by the Marchioness, but the name of Elizabeth does not occur among them.

It appears from the returns known as Pope Nicholas's Taxation, that the rectory of Kirkandrew's near Carlisle, or Kirkandrew's-upon-Eden, had not been anciently taxed, as not exceeding four marks, but in 1292 the portion of the Prioress of Marigg was taxed at three pounds. In 1319, 12 Edw. II. the portion of the Prioress was not taxed, because the church was destroyed. In 1361 the Prioress and convent of Marrig, or Maryke, presented Sir John de Bempton to this church, who was thereupon instituted by Bishop Welton. (Hist. of Cumberland, by Nicolson and Burn, ii. 226.)

The letters patent, by which the priory of Marrick was allowed to continue as a religious establishment, notwithstanding the Act 27 Hen. VIII. for the suppression of the lesser monasteries, bear date at Berechurch, 9th Sept. 28 Hen. VIII. and are now among the evidences. On the 17th Nov. 1540, 31 Hen. VIII. this convent was surrendered by Christabella Cowper the prioress and sixteen nuns; and on the 6th June, 34 Hen. VIII. a lease of the site and demesne lands was granted to John Uvedale, by indenture under the seal of the Court of Augmentations, to hold for the term of twenty-one years from the feast of St. Michael the Archangel last past, rendering for the same, and for the lands and tenements, meadows and pastures, lying among the land of Sir Ralph Bulmer, knight and Anne his wife, 8*l.* 12*d.* yearly, and for the lands and tenements, called Ullandes, 53*s.* 4*d.* and for a meadow of five acres and common of pasture in Downholme 11*s.* The hospital, called the Spittell house of Stanemore, with all its appurtenances, at an annual rent of 53*s.* 4*d.*, the parsonage of Marricke at a rent of 8*l.* 16*s.*, the ninth sheaf of corn in Aiskew at 13*s.* 4*d.*, a barn and the tythe of corn and hay in Carkin at 33s. 4d., a certain tenement called Berepark, with two other tenements and a cottage, and the land appurtenant thereto in Carperby, late in the tenure of Elizabeth late wife of Roger Metcalfe, at 5*l.* 18s. 3d., were likewise included in the lease to Uvedale; but the timber upon the estate and the advowson of the vicarage of Marrick were reserved.

Uvedale had been one of the commissioners for the suppression of monasteries in the north parts, his name being appended with that of Leonard Beckwith to the schedule of pensions assigned to the prioress and nuns of Marrick at the time of the dissolution. Among the evidences is a copy of a letter from Sir Richard Rich, the Chancellor of the Court of Augmentations, to the Lord President of the King's Council in the North parts, dated 17 Jan. 31 Hen. VIII. signifying that the King was minded to give to "Maister Uvedale, his graces servant," the lease of the house and demesnes of Marrick for twenty-one years, but that he the said Sir Richard had been advised that the chief and most profitable things thereof had been devised to Sir Rauf Bulmer, kn. "sithens the compaste of the acte;" he therefore requires the President to make inquiry upon oath as to the time of making and sealing of any late and suspect leases to Sir Rauf and others, "and the rather for my sake," concludes the writer, "I righte hertelye beseche you to shew your good expedic'on herein for the spedye dispache of my said loving frende." In consequence of this request, an inquiry was held at York on the 27th January following, when Dame Anne Bulmer, wife to Sir Ralph, of the age of thirty-four years, and Dame Cristobell Cowper, late prioress of Marrick, of the age of forty-five years, were examined, as also Christopher Thornaby of Marrick, gent. Thomas Helmsley and Christopher Slinger, servants to Sir Ralph and the prioress, and others. From their depositions it appears that three leases had been made to Sir Ralph and Dame Anne his wife, (one of the parsonage and glebe of Marrick, another of a farm called Ullands, and the third of certain lands, inter alia, a piece called Oxskue, lying in the fields of Marrick,) but not sealed until the first Sunday in Lent last past, and that they had never been accustomedly letten until May-day next after the commotion, which was in the 29th year of the King's reign. Leases of the Spittel upon Stainmore, of lands in Downholme, of the ninth sheaf in Aiskew, and of the tythes and barn at Carkin were produced, bearing date respectively the 1st and 30th of April, the 17th and 27th of August of the above regnal year, and also of a tenement usually held in demesne, called Bearpark in Carperby, but it was said that the prioress claimed a forfeiture thereof by Roger Metcalf, the late tenant. The result of the investigation was the avoidance of these several deeds; and a particular of the lease to Uvedale having been drawn up by the Chancellor, he was by his commandment put in possession, as fermor of the demesnes of Marrick priory, by Leonard Beckwith, 25 March, 32 Hen. VIII. 1541, though no formal lease was delivered until the 6th June 1542. In the interim Christopher Maunsell and Reynald Alderson had obtained a separate lease of the Spital on Staynmore, which, at the suit of Uvedale, was avoided by a decree of the President and Council of the North, to which he was at that time chief secretary (12 Feb. 34 Hen. VIII.), directing them to abide by what was ordered in the Court of Augmentations.

By virtue of a warrant, signed by Sir Edward North, knt. Chancellor of the Court of Augmentations, bearing date 22d January, 36 Hen. VIII. 1545, a further particular of the site and demesnes of Marrick priory was made out by Richard Hutchinson, one of the auditors of the Court, with a view to the sale of the reversion in fee of the premises on lease, which by letters patent bearing date 8 June, 37 Hen. VIII. 1546, were (with the exception of Bearpark and the other tenements in Carperby, already disposed of) granted to the then lessee, John Uvedale, esq. one of the King's Council in the North, his heirs and assigns for ever, in consideration of the sum of 364*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.* The advowson and right of presentation to the church of Marrick was included in the grant, together with all liberties and royalties, excepting mines of lead; the reserved annual rent was set at 36*s.* 10*d.* to be paid at Michaelmas, and the tenure in capite at the twentieth part of a knight's fee; a yearly stipend of four pounds was also made payable out of the rectory to the curate of Marrick.

Concerning the family of Uvedale, who thus became the owners of Marrick priory, and which they continued to occupy as a seat for two generations, I find this notice in manuscript among the evidences:

“ In an olde a roll of armes in parchem^t fownde in Croxton abbaie in the Cowntie of Leicester, it apperithe that Mounser duuedale givethe a crosse like a mill-pike redde in a fielde of silver^a (and this was the olde armes oonelic of the Uuedale) for duuedale is no more but as moche to saie de Uuedale, and then for shortenes and curiositie of speache the first vowel e. is elidide bi apostrophe, w^{ch} is a figure that when two vowels do coñe together the first is lost and drownde in to the last, and soo Mounser de Uuedale is callede shorte Mounser Duuedale. this name hath bene marvelouslie changide bi what meanes i knowe not nor can finde owt, except as i coniecture bi corrupcion of the cōmon people in pronownsing shorte the names of thinges for thei call the name Woddall/ and soñie call it Udall/ and some Wodhall) and some have called it Unedale wth a .n./ but truthe is the right name is Uedale/ and iet there is a howse callide at this daie Woddehall in Deane in the Cowntie of Comberlande out of w^{ch} howse John Woddehall late of Waltham on the Wolde in the cowntie of Leicester cōmithe, whose sonne and heire William dwellithe in Essex and hath married wth the dowghter of Bran[che] but that howse as it sholde seme was ever callide Woddehall/ for it soo apparithe apon certaine tombe stoones at Woddehall in Deane in the Cowntie of Comberlande aforesaide where their anceters ar buriede/ and it semithe that those Woodehalls gave another armes and not the crosse crosselett/ for it apparithe in a seale of armes w^{ch} the saide John Woddehall didde give that in the middest of the scotchian was a ridge overthwarte the scotchian and ij starres above and oon underneathe it/ wherefore if that be[. . the] proper seale of armes of Uedale, then can thei not give [the cross cross]jett w^{ch} the name of Uedale dothe give as is aforesaide. But, notwithstanding the conference here reported, the connection of Uvedale of Marrick with the knightly family of Uvedale, long seated at Titsey in Surrey, and Wickham in Hampshire, is more than doubtful. The only document that I have met with which illustrates their real descent, is the will of Juliana Skoore, of the parish of Banwell, in the county of Somerset, dated 5 Feb. 1542. After bequeathing her soul to God, and her body to be buried in the parish church of Banwell, and giving to the high altar for tythes forgotten xiiid., to the mother church of St. Andrew of Wells iiiiid., to the churchhouse ii platto's & ii pot-tyng's to be occupyde only at the church ale, and divers kyrtyles and household effects to her godechildren and others, she leaves all the rest of her goods, moveable and unmovable, to George Woodall, the sonne of Thomas Woodall, and makes him her sole executor, concluding thus: "I wyll yt my soune John Uuedale, one of the Kyng our sov'ayn lordes Councell in the north p'ties, shall have the ordyr, rule & gov'nunce off the sayd George Woodale, & ov' all suche thyngs as I have gyve' and beqethyd the saide George duryng the tyme of hys nonage, and also I

^a Mons' de douuedale port d'Argent a une croiz recercele de goul' is written in the margin. The roll of arms found in Croxton abbey was apparently the same roll which came afterwards into the possession of Hugh Fitzwilliam of Sprotbrough, and which was copied by Hugh Cotgrave in 1562. This copy has been lately printed (London, Pickering, 1829), and at p. 5 the arms of Douuedale occur, but the copyist or his editor has converted the name into Wonnedale.

History of Essex, vol. i. p. 56. Some original notes of the statements of this William, concerning the family of Uvedale, and the traditions preserved respecting them, are among the evidences; but the paper on which they are written has suffered greatly from age; this much, however, may yet be decyphered: "William Woddall of Chinkeforde, in the cownty of [Essex] (sonne and heire of John Woddall of Woddehall in [Deane] in the cownty of Comberland), saith that his name [is Uue]dale, for he saith that the parishe chirche of Woddehall, where all his anceters were buried, the same chirche was fowndide by his anceters, who have sette the crosse Uuedale doth give in a certeine stooone in the chawncel, but the names graven upon the tombe stooones of his [anceters] appeare manifestclie to be Woodehall and not Uuedale; that name of Woddehall his said father did revert to [bicawse] of murder brought against him in the King's bench [in the] xxvii^o [yere] of King Henry the eight for beating Curwen [a n]eighbor in Com[berlande]. John Woodall had doubtlessly prospered in the service of the crown, and having been promoted to the rank of an esquire at the field of Floddon, the name of Woodall had, it seems, been dropped for that of Uvedale, and with the consent of Sir William Uvedale, the ancient bearing of that family assumed with a difference in order to give colour to this descent, the coat of arms awarded him by the heralds being added merely by way of augmentation. In the 26 Hen. VIII. John Uvedale filled the post of secretary to the Queen, he being so styled in a grant to him in that year of the suppressed hospital of Newton Garth, in the county of York. I also find the following memorandum of a somewhat singular feofment made to him of the reversion of the estates of Croft and Walmyre in Richmondshire, the patrimony of the knightly family of Clerveaux.

"Md. that abowt the xxxiiii^{te} yeare of King Henry the eight, John Clerveax of Crofte in the cownty of Yorke esquier didde make a fefm^t to John Uvedale of Marrigge in the saide cownty esquier of the mano^s of Crofte & Walmyre in the said Cownty and signede and sealede the same fefm^t & delivered it as his deede to the saide John Uvedale at Yorke in the howse of oone Stephen Brampton in the presence of the same Stephen Branp^tton & oone Edwarde Reddeshawe. And also the saide John Clerveax didde make liverye and seasonse according to the same deede of fefment of Crofte & Walmyre to the said John Uvedale in the presence of the tenantes there according to the effecte of the saide fefment w^{ch} was to the use of the same John Clerveax for tearme of his liff and to the heires of the boddye of the saide John Clerveax begottene, and for defalte of siche issue the remainder to John Uvedale aforesaid and to his heires for ever / the consideracione of this fefment was at the mocione of the lorde Scroope for that the saide John Clerveax, being moche given to deseng, carding, and riotose gaming, sholde not lewdelye playe away his lande and consume it in riott, at w^{ch} tyme the saide lorde Scroope was mindide to have marryed the saide John Clerveax afterwardes to one of his owne kinsewomen, hoping thereby to have issue of their boddies to inherite the land according to the fe^m^t above^said, for defalte of w^{ch} issue the said John Uvedale requiride to be in remainder to him and his heires, to w^{ch} ende and intent the saide fe^m^t was executide accordinglye."

By his will, which is dated 24 Oct. 38 Hen. VIII. John Uvedale, "one of the King our sovereign lord's counsaile established in the north partes," bequeathes all his real property to his son Avery, sundry cattle to his daughter Ursula, wife to Gilbert Cladon, a ring with the turkas to his brother Brightman, remainder in case of decease of son and daughter without issue as to one half of his chattels, to his brother's bastard son George Uvedale, the other half to be divided between his executors and the poor. He appoints his son sole executor, or in case of his decease Sir Nicholas Benne, his servant, George Uvedale, Thomas Brightman, and others. On the following day (25 Oct. 1546) he had license to alienate to Richard Geffreyson the meadow at Downham of five acres, and the common of pasture, which had belonged to Marrick priory; but he was dead before 2 March 1549, on which day his will was proved by his son and executor Alvered or Avery Uvedale.

Of Alvered Uvedale I find these notices. In 1540 he obtained a spiritual indulgence from Robert, minister of the House of St. Robert, of the order of the Redemption of Captives at Knaresborough; in 1549 he succeeded his father in the estate at Marrick, of which he had livery on the 22d of November in the following year (4 Edw. VI. 1550). In the 6 Edw. VI. (12 Aug. 1552) he signed a deed for the exchange of certain lands in Marrick, the other party being John Saire of Worshall, in the county of York, esq. and Dorothy his wife, and Sir Rauf Bulmer the elder, knight,^c who were then the possessors of the manor and demesne lands which had remained to the family of Aske.

In the next reign Averye Uvedale obtained letters patent, bearing date 4 June, 3d and 4th Ph. and Mary, 1551, and in which he is styled "serjeant at law and one of the gentlemen ushers of our chamber," granting to him during the term of his natural life, the office of Bow-bearer within the New Forest and Arkilgarthdale, parcel of the royal demesne of Middleham, in the Archdeaconry of Richmond, in the county of York; which office William Conyers, then lately deceased, had held, and appointing him also Principal Keeper of the New Forest, with a right of deputation for four foresters. By the same letters the annual sum of 4*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* was warranted to him for his wages, viz. 40*s.* for himself and the remainder for the foresters, to be received from the treasury for the receipts of the demesne of Middleham, by the hands of the receivers, at Michaelmas and Easter. The following memorandum proves him, however, to have derived little or no benefit from this grant.

“ Md. to make^d sute for y^e Clarkeshippe of y^e Courte of Richmond & Mydlam, which Clarkshippe was then given by y^e high Steward there, who was y^e Yerle of Northumberland.

“ The deputaçon of Arkundale, Hope and New Forest, which he ought to have by his Pattent, & have ever been kept from y^t by y^e Lord of Northumb^oland.

“ Ifm to make sute to y^e Lord Marques^e. for the Stewardshippe of his Land in y^e north parts; late in y^e hands of old Norton the Rebel.

“ For M^r Secretores Letter to such as shall be High Steward there; also y^e high Stewards favorable allowaunce for the Deputycon unto his Lett^r pattens.”

Alvered Uvedale also obtained, in the reign of Queen Mary, a reversionary grant of a lease of the impropriate rectory of East Grinton, parcel of the possessions of the dissolved priory of Bridlington, as appears by the following letter :

“ Right Worshipfull father and mother w^t dayelye wishings of yo^r blessing together w^t cōmendaciones doone / This is most hartilye to requyre you and o^r brother William Babington w^t o^r sister his beddefellowe to give most entier thanks in o^r name to the right honorable the Lord Scroope and the most ientill ladye his loving beddefellowe for there greate ientilnes shewide unto me and my wiff, w^t verye frendelye enterteignem^t this Christemas seaso^e at theire howse / And most especially for that my saide lorde is so well content to suffer me to enter to the psonage of Grinton at Michelmas nexte, at which tyme his lease endith / soo that the lorde Wharton in noo wise have it of me, for that nowe my lorde Scroope pceavithe well inoughe what poleticke fetches the lorde Wharton hath uside against me to extorte the same psonage owt of my handes, soo that the saide lorde Scroope might have no more to do therein / Wherefore nowe the saide Lorde Scroope is verye willing that I holde it still / And therefore I praye you if my lorde Wharton doo move anything for the psonage aforesaide unto anye of you, I beseche you make him awnswey that you will not consent that I shall departe wthall to him for feare of the displeasure of the lorde Scroope who might thinke moche unkindenes in me to lett another man have it, hee shewing me soo greate curtesie, and offering to give me as moche as any other will doo what sooever hee bee/ The lorde Scroopes lease endurithe oonelye untill Michelmas next, but he lokithe that my lorde Cardinalls^f officers in thiese ptyes I meane Sr Edwarde Gregorye and other his fellowes in that office/ sholde enter dayelie upon the said psonage for non paim^t of ii yeres rent behinde and run partelye in M^r Coniers dayes deceaside, being a yere & a half rent and the other half yere rent in my lorde Scroopes handes, who hath offeride his haff yeres rent, but the officers will not receve, except thei receve the hoole arrerage of ii yeres behinde, which the lorde Scroope will in no wise aunswere. And therefore he passithe littell though my lord Cardinalls officers enter for non paim^t seing the lease lastithe but until Michelmas next. Howbeit I beseche you make me some frendeship unto Sir Edwarde Gregorye or some other my lord Cardinalls officers that I bee nothing pjudicide of my lease in reversion to enter as soone as the form lease is expiride. Wherein I praye you certifie me what there aunswere is."

The persons to whom this letter is addressed must have been father and mother-in-law to Avery Uvedale, and "or brother" I identify with William Babyngton, esq. son and heir-apparent of Thomas Babington, esq. Warden of the Fleet, who became bound to Avery Uvedale, in the penal sum of 5000*l.* to be paid on the feast of Pentecost next ensuing, by deed, dated 13 May, 2 and 3 Ph. and Mary (1556) and signed in the presence of Henry Vernon, serjeant, and of Davud Babington, if he did not save him harmless in respect of their joint bond to Sir Edward Montague for the like sum, bearing date 9th of April in the same year.

In the letters of general pardon, 15 Jan. 1 Eliz. 1559, usually sued out at the commencement of a new reign, Avery Uvedale has the aliases of Udale and Woodhall; and he was then in possession of the rectory of Grinton, as he acknowledged to have had 20*l.* advanced upon the security of the lease by Rolland Hutchinson of Skelton, yeoman, by deed dated 24 Jan. 1558, 4 and 5 Ph. and Mary. The partition of the tithes of Grinton, the vicar being entitled to a third, was, it seems, the cause of frequent disputes; for, in the second of Elizabeth, William Pepar of St. Martin's nigh Richmond, as the assignee of William Dowsoun, the late vicar, who had leased to him his rights for an annuity of 12*l.* (1 March 1558) brought a bill of complaint before the council established in the North Parts against Avery Uvedale ; and James Phillippe of Brignal, who had succeeded to the Conyers family at Marske, at another time alleged that Uvedale had forcibly carried off the tithes and imprisoned his servant ; but the character of this last accuser may be judged of from the following articles exhibited against him on the part of Uvedale :

“ Articles against James Phillippe of Brignell that he is a notable offender against the lawes, a barretour and of evil name and fame, wherby he owght to be putt in suertye of goode abearing by the statut of xxxiiiith Edw. iii^{ci}. ca. primo.

“ Inpimis the saide James Phillippe is a cōmon maintein^o of qarrells in the Countrye and a cōmen suer of poore men by pces from London putting theime in feare and terror, wherby he makethe theime to agree wth him by cōposicion of giving him moneye, and soo they tarrye at home w^towt further suite as dyvers tenants in Archilgarthedale, Swaledale, Wensladale and in other pts of Richemondeshirye can and will declare againste him, if Cōmissiones maye be grawntide to trye owt the demeanure of him in the Cuntrye.

“ Itē hee hathte gottene diverse huge sōmes of monye in the Cuntrye of manye yeoman men to mainteine his suits in the lawe w^tall, against George Coniers esquier and others, w^{ch} yeoman men ar of his confederacye, soñe by fayre promises to beare w^t him the saide lone untill hee have recoveride in his saide suite againste the saide Coniers, and some by greate wordes and threatenings that hee will bring theime in the dawnger of the lawe, if they will not lende him monye apon a bill of his hande to bee payde at a certeine daye / And to soñe he hath alreadye payde a littell pece and kepithe by force the greater soñes in his handes nnpayede, wherby even nowe he is in siche dette to divers yeoman men that to soñe of theime he is fayne to lette owt in lease for a terme the landes of the howse of M^oske being the landes of Johan Coniers, w^{ch} hee late recoveride to have in possession hanging the suite betwixte him and Coniers / soo that hee is by the reason of the loone of this monye soo abandonide and accompanyede w^t soo greate a Retinewe of yeoman men as it were in a fraternite sworne oone to mainteine anothers qarrell bee it reasonable or unreasonable, to the greate mischief and op-þession of the Qwenes Ma^{ts} liege people, for w^{ch} hee owght to have the payne of straitte impⁱsonem^t by the lawes of this realme and grevose forfaiture to the qwene w^t rawnsome to bee sett upon him for siche his deedes, w^{ch} will be evidently p^rvide if y^e cõmissions maye bee grantide for the Qwene to certeine p^rsones and men of worshippe to enqwyre hereof, sũmoning all siche p^rsones to be before theime as have made lone to him of siche monye to depose by theire othes upon the truthe of the matter / Wherein the truthe of the acte wilbe confesside or els a notable piurye wilbe p^rvide against theime siche as was not in Yorkeshyre this hundrethe yere.

“ Itẽ the same James Phillippe is a man suspectide to bee by cõmon rumor a practiser w^t arte magicke, for the rumor goethe that his brother was taken in the tyme of King Henrye the eight for cõiuring in the Cowrte and working w^t a familiar, w^t whom this James Phillippe then being in the Cowrte fledde as the rumor goethe b^y leaping down ow^t of a windowe, and afterwardes came to the s^rvice of the olde lorde Scroope, whom by rumor hee so enchantide that he gett siche substance of landes and goodes w^{ch} hathe browght him from the state of a yeoman man almost to p^rsume w^t a ientilman and to be his fellowe, yea rather his better, w^{ch} thing also will be p^rvide by cõmission if it be grantide to enqwyre thereof.

“ Noote, a deade Catt fownde lokte in a cheste of Phillipps by Mr. Wicliffe & others, &c.

“ Itẽ the saide James Phillipp bothe in the olde lorde Scroop's dayes and also in this lorde Scroopes dayes hathe soo powlidde and pilled the tenants of the saide lorde Scroope by reaporte of the Cuntrye that his extorcione is almost cryede ow^t upon in everye poore widdowes mowthe, who will declare afore cõmissioners upon theire othe siche shamefull opp^rssiones as hathe not bene herde tell of in any shyre w^tin a realme doone by soche a man under the colo^r of the autorite of his stewardeshippe w^t other practise and devises to detestable to bee sufferide in a Cõmon Welthe.

“ Itẽ the saide James Phillippe by collusion and crafty color in being bayelye of the Qwenes Ma^{ts} landes in Grinton in Swaledale hathe almost sufferide to bee practised the disinheritance of the saide Qwene of the woodes in all Whytaside and Harkaside w^{ch} hee concealithe, suffering the woodes to be claimide by other men in plaine disinheritance of the Qwene, the land whereupon the saide woode growithe being the Qwenes.

“ Itē the saide James Phillippe is a cōmon taker of leases over poore mennes headdes of theirre fermeholdes to theirre utter undoing, wherebye hee soo vexithe w^t pces and suits in the lawe that theye be utterly undoone and almost readye to goo about in the Cuntrye on begging w^t staff and pouuke, to the utter undoing of the Qwenes subiects oneles remedye maye bee providede against him that poore men maye live in qwietnes by him.

“ Itē the saide James Phillippe being a man of small landes or none at all, and to saye the truthe I think not of oone foote of inheritance in all the realme, yet a man of some possessiones of leases and fermes w^{ch} by the reaporthe of the Cuntrye hee hathe of late colorableye conveyede awaye to his sonns, making assurāces unto theime of all the living hee hath in Englande, meaning as it is thowght that if any matter sholde prove against him for the suite he hathe w^t Coniers, then hee shalbe fownde having nothing and soo no pson can recover anye thing against him, for where nowght is the Qwene losithe her right; or els it shold seeme he meanithe soome other lewde practise, wherebye if he cōme in dawnger he sholde loose nothing but his bodye to pison, and yet his children to enjoye the benefite of his godes, to a most shamefull collusion of the lawe.

“ Itē the saide James Phillippe hathe divers tymes by maintenance of nombers practisede by his svants & other adherents to pike qarrells in Chirchis & yardes for trifling maters about the suite betwixte M^r Coniers and him / for first Richard Beake the svant of James Phillippe by his M^rs procurem^t pikide a qarrell against certaine of M^r Coniers svants in Marske chirche for sitting in a stall, whereapon hadde like to have beene greate manslaughter / And secondly oone Robert Metcalf svant of Raf Phillippe made an assawte and affraye upon Anthonye Metcalf of Muaker in Swaledale about James Phillippe and M^r Coniers. And afterwardes the same Robert Metcalf didde strike oone at the chappell at Muaker at Christemas daye laste insteade of Anthonye Metcalf, whereby the ptye striken hadde like to have dyede thorowe the saide qarrell piking at the saide chappell. And nowe the thirde tyme the same James Phillippe hath pikide a qarrell in Grinton chirche against Aveye Uvedale as apperith in the bill of complainte of the same Aveye.”

In Whitaker's History of Richmondshire, mention is made of the finding of two leaden magical tablets, of which engravings are given in the work, in a tumulus upon Gatherley moor ; where under a host of figures the name J. Phillip is written, and a curse is denounced against him and all his kin. They seem to afford corroborative testimony of the truth of the character here drawn of him by Uvedale, as we may suppose them cast by some hapless victim of his wiles and extortion, to soothe his misery in the fancied hope of being able to call down upon his head a day of retribution. What was the sequel of Avery Uvedale's bill of complaint does not appear. In the 12th of Elizabeth he had a further lease of the rectory, together with the advowson of the vicarage of Grinton, and of the tenement called Cogden, likewise parcel of the estate formerly belonging to the Priory of Bridlington in the parish, which tenement he in the same year (24 Oct. 1570) underlet to Thomas Lord Wharton for twenty-one years. In 1575 (7 Feb. 17 Eliz.) a third lease was obtained (but with the reservation of the timber, mines, and advowson of the vicarage), which Avery Uvedale assigned over to James Pepper and Richard Willans, 8th April, 20 Eliz. 1578. I also find that Aveye Uvedale, esq. was, together with Sir George Bowes, knt. and Robert Bowes, esq. one of the justices of peace for the wapentakes of Gilling East and Gilling West, in Richmondshire, according to the division made 12th Aug. 13 Elizabeth ; Sir Christopher Metcalf and John Sayer, esq. being appointed for those of Hang East and Hang West, and William Tankard and Michael Wandisforth, esquires, for Halikeld. He died 21st June 1583, leaving two sons, John and Thomas, to the eldest of whom, by his will bearing date on that day, he gave all his lands and tenements in the county of York or elsewhere in fee, with the exception of the lands, tenements, and tithes of Carkin, Aiskew, and Brompton, which he gave his son Thomas and his heirs for ever.

John Uvedale had livery of his father's lands 24 May, 27 Eliz. 1585 ; but not long afterward (18 Dec. 1588, 31 Eliz.) he joined with his brother Thomas in the sale of the estate at Marrick with the rectory and advowson of the vicarage, and the tithes at Aiskew and Carkin, to Richard Brackenbury, of London, esq. for the sum of 200 marks, and subsequently (22 March 1589) Anne, the widow of Aveye Uvedale, released to the purchaser all claim she might have had in right of dower. She was living at Helmsley in 1592, and apparently in distress, as she in that year petitioned the then possessors of Marrick to aid her, by reason of the losses she had sustained in removing her goods from Marrick ; but of her sons I have been unable to discover any traces after they had parted with their patrimony in Richmondshire.

Richard Brackenbury of the city of London, esq. the purchaser of what was commonly called the Marrick-abbey estate from the family of Uvedale, soon after reconveyed the same (8 April 1592) to Timothy Hutton, of Bishop's Auckland, co. Pal. of Durham, gent. and Elizabeth his wife, for their lives, and the life of the survivor, remainder to the heirs of their bodies, and in default of issue to the right heirs of Timothy.

Matthew Hutton of Marske, esq. son and heir of Timothy Hutton, afterward Sir Timothy Hutton, knt. (who survived his wife, and died April 5, 1629), having agreed for the sale of the estate at Marrick, of the titles at Carkin and Aiskew, and of all other the possessions of the dissolved priory of Marrick, with Robert Blackburne, gent. and John Blackburne and Gyles Blackburne his sons, for the sum of 3280*l.*, he had license for himself, for his wife Barbara, and for Timothy Hutton, gent. his next brother, to alienate the same (20 Nov. 1630), and deeds of bargain and sale were executed accordingly, bearing date 30 March 1631.^b

^b By way of collateral security for the sale of the estate at Marrick an indenture dated 3 Dec. 1630, made between Matthew Hutton of Marske, co. York, esq. and John Jackson, parson of Marske aforesaid, of the one part, and George Scott of Robert Blackburne, who was a yeoman residing at Marrick in 1620, and a tenant under the Huttons and others, was twice married. By Elizabeth, his first wife, he had issue, John, Gyles, Robert, Anthony, Timothy, Ellinor, and Anne. In 1634 (14 June) he and Elizabeth his wife made a grant of their tithes of lead in Marrick to William Bulmer, of Marrick, esq. with warranty against John and Gyles, the sons of the said Robert and Elizabeth, in consideration of 750*l.* In 1649 (18 March) a common recovery was suffered to enable Robert Blackburne and his sons to hold each his third part in severalty, but no actual partition was made. By his second wife he left James, Francis, and other children; and dying intestate 18th Aug. 1651, his third part of the Marrick-abbey estate descended to John his eldest son and heir, who died without issue in 1661. Upon his decease the estate at Marrick was again united in the possession of Giles Blackburne, who survived his brother eight years. During his occupancy (24 June 1664) the barn and tithes of Carkin were sold for 120*l.* to John Johnson, of Newsam, in the county of York, yeoman, and divers lands and tenements in Marrick to Thomas Buckton, of Snasay, yeoman, and to his son Thomas, for the sum of 360*l.* (14 May 1668). By his will, dated 26 Oct. 1669, Gyles Blackburne devised to his son John Blackburne and his heirs for ever, all his manor-house of Marrick-abbey, with the lauds and tithes of Marrick, and the free rents of Patricke-Brunton and Aiskew belonging to Marrick, and he names his daughters Ann and Margaret.

John Blackburne was under age at the time of his father's death; in 1678, upon attaining his majority, he levied a fine of the estate at Marrick to William Wyvell, of Constable-Burton, esq. upon trust, but no uses were declared; for, subsequently becoming involved, he was necessitated to raise money by successive mortgages upon the property, and finally to sell it. In right of his wife Frances, by whom he had two sons, John and Malham, he succeeded in establishing his title to the estate of Friar-head in the parish of Gargrave in Craven, which had belonged to Col. Francis Malham, and had been purchased with the money of Jane Foster his third wife, the mother of Frances Blackburne, in opposition to Fentou Malham, the grandson of Col. Malham, and the last heir male of the ancient family of Malham of Elslack, in the parish of Broughton, in Craven.ⁱ

Richmond, merchant, and John Blackburne of the city of London, upholsterer, on the other part, sets forth that the said Matthew Hutton had, in consideration of the sum of 3272*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.* paid to him by Robert Blackburne of Marrick, in the county of York, gent. confirmed to the latter the manor or lordship of Barfoot, alias Barforth-on-the-Moor, in the county of Durham.

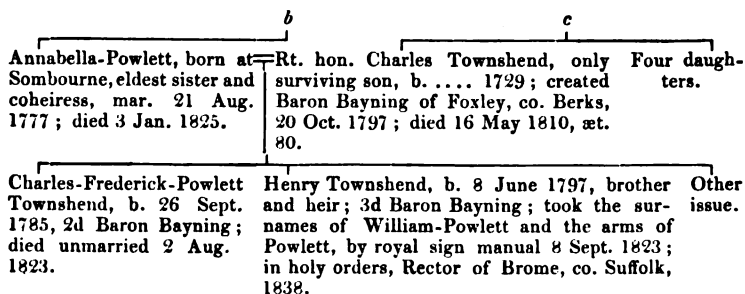

ⁱ In the pedigree of Malham inserted in Whitaker's History of the Deanery of Craven, John Blackburne is misnamed Joseph, and in the first edition described as of Fryerslead, instead of Fryar Head.

On the 12th of February, 1683, John Blackburne, of Marrick Abbey, gent. in consideration of 1581*l.* 8*s.* conveyed to John Mitford, of the city of London, merchant, and Christopher Cratford, of St. Giles in the fields, co. Middlesex, gent. divers closes of meadow and pasture ground in Marrick, all that the rectory or church of Marrick, with all tithes, &c. and the advowson of the vicarage or parish church of Marrick, they at the same time covenanting that the remaining parts of the freehold estate of the said John Blackburne and that of Thomas Buckdon, of Ox-cough, yeoman, should be hereafter exempt from tithe. The deed also recites, that there was payable out of the said rectory of Marrick the sum of 10*l.* for the stipend of a chaplain or curate. A perpetual annuity of 40*s.* devised by John Blackburne, the uncle of the vendor, to the poor of Marrick was also made payable out of Thomas Hudson's farm, parcel of the premises conveyed, which were moreover charged with 30*l.* per annum, devised by the same John Blackburne to his brother Timothy for his life. There was likewise a covenant on the part of the vendor to procure, before the 20th of November following, an assignment and release from Ann Savill, of Bolton-upon-Swale, co. York, spinster, John Wastell, of the same place, esq. and Leonard Smelt, of Kirkby Fleet-ham, in the said county, esq. of their estate in the premises. Prior to the date of this purchase, viz. on the 23rd of October, 1671, Anthony Bulmer, of Marrick, gent. son and heir apparent of William Bulmer, of Marrick Park, esq. had for the sum of 2500*l.* conveyed the manor and lordship of Marrick, with a capital messuage, and all other the possessions of John Sayer, late of Worshall, co. York, deceased,^k to the same Mitford and Cratford. These persons acted as trustees on behalf of Charles Powlett, Lord St. John of Basing, eldest son and heir apparent of John Marquis of Winchester, to which title he succeeded, 5 March 1674, and who, by an instrument of the day following the date of the ^k John Sayer of Worshall and Dorothy his wife, named in page 250, had issue John Sayer married to a daughter of Sir George Coniers, Knt. Of this family was Dorothy, the wife of William Bulmer, in her right of Marrick, named in page 258. In 1649 (March 13) they, together with George Bulmer their son and heir apparent, made a conveyance of the manor of Marrick to Thomas Swinburne of Barmeton, in the county of Durham, and in 1664 (21 Nov.) Thomas Swinburne, John Swinburne, son and heir apparent of the said Thomas, William Bulmer of Marrick park, and Dorothy his wife, and Anthony Bulmer, Thomas Bulmer, and Nicolas Bulmer, sons of the said William and Dorothy, leased to William Terry, yeoman, a messuage and closes in Marrick for a thousand years. (From evidences at Marrick park, penes F. Morley, ar.) The family of Powlett had, it seems, acquired property at Marrick before purchasing the manor. In 1669 (12 July) Charles Lord St. John of Basing, with his trustees Thomas Wandall and Roger Lambert, leased to William Dent, yeoman, a messuage in Marrick for a thousand years. (Evidences penes Tho. Stapleton, ar. apud Richmond.)

* Dr. Whitaker, in his History of Richmondshire, writes that on a modern grave-stone in the church of Marrick are the words, Hic jacet D'ns Wm. Paulet, but the assertion is certainly untrue. In the pavement of the body of the church, is indeed a stone with Hic jacet D., the rest of the inscription being so worn as to be illegible; but the lettering is obviously in a style much more ancient than the known date of Lord William Powlett's death.

In the preceding division of this article the name of the parish, in which St. Andrew's priory was situate, is written Marrigg; but Marrick is the now accepted form of spelling the word, and I have therefore substituted it for Marrigg in the heading to the present part. In both places of the Domesday survey of the lands of Earl Alan in Yorkshire, the printed copy has Mange as the name of the parish, which we may correct by the extract in the Registrum Honoris de Richmond into Marige. In the evidences Marrig and Marrigg constantly occur; a single deed has Marrega, and the other variations Marig, Marric, Maric, Marrik, Marrike, and Marrick are occasionally met with. Leland, in enumerating the abbies and priories on Suale (Itin. vol. v. f. 115), writes "Marik, a priory of Blake nunnes of the foundation of the Askcs. It stondith ripa ulter. Syr Rafe Bowmer hath a place at Marick Town standing on a hill-side half a mile from the Priori, standing in a Botom." In the returns of the time of Hen. VIII. it is spelt Marryk and Marryke. Burton heads his account in the Monasticon Eboracense "Maryke or Marige priory," and Whitaker, in his Richmondshire, has both Marrick and Marrigg as the modern names of the parish.

Having very recently visited the site of Marrick Priory, I learned that the demolition of the old conventual church took place in 1811, the chief incentive to this wanton act of Vandalism being the expectation of realizing a considerable sum from the sale of the lead which covered the roof. To judge from the mouldings of the yet remaining arches in the ruined chancel and from the tracery of the windows, which have been transferred from the old to the new building, I am inclined to think that Dr. Whitaker has somewhat underrated the antiquity of the former edifice, and that it was at least of as early a date as the reigns of the Edwards. The large window at the west end opening into the bell-house of the old steeple, and which is simply divided into three lights, is certainly of this date, and with it the dripstones or weather mouldings of the other arched openings strictly correspond. The square-headed windows, which appear in the engraving of the church in the History of Richmondshire, are probably the work of the 15th century; and that now used for the east window, which has apparently been taken from the chantry of the Askes at the east end of the old north aisle, has the arch depressed in the Tudor style. A large slab, now let into the pavement near the north door, from which the brasses of a knight and his lady, and four shields of arms, have been reaved, was also doubtless once a sepulchral memorial in this chapel of the Founder. Of the conventual buildings, the hall and kitchen, each with their spacious chimney, the passage between, and the ruined walls of the parlour beyond, are, with the Prioress's chambers joining on to the steeple on the north side, all that now exist according with the ground-plan. Plain square windows, crossed by transoms, indicate the chambers to be an erection of late date. At the time they were built, an upper story was also added to the steeple, probably a few years prior to the suppression. Inserted in the wall of the cemetery, is a block of stone on which are carved two shields, viz. a saltier and an engrailed cross; and the font is ornamented with plain shields in hollowed recesses, in the form usual in fonts of the 15th century.

The site of the priory now belongs to James Berkeley Ince, esq. of Gray's Inn, whose ancestor of the name of Piggott,^m a native of Marrick, having raised himself to affluence, purchased from the Blackburnes this last remnant of their property.

The original documents from which this article has been formed, are now in the possession of Martin Farquhar Tupper,ⁿ Esq. of Lincoln's Inn, who is maternally descended from one of the former possessors of the priory and lands of Marrick.^o

T. S.

^m James Piggott Ince, esq. was the late owner of the property.

ⁿ Not W. C. Tupper, Esq. as erroneously printed in page 100.

^o In the Carta fundationis, No. 1, the word Alme-pol should be read Aline-pol, that being the name still current. Ulvelundes or Ullandes, is now called Owlands, and Rochemira is written Roanemire at the present day.

Of this portion of the parish I have annexed a fac-simile of a plan, dated 1592, as serving to elucidate the terms of the grants made by the family of the founder to the nuns of Marrick. There will be found laid down "terra juxta vaccariam," and "pratū meū juxta pratū suū p' has divisas scilicet sicut angul' iferi' ātiq' p'ti monacharū se extendit sursum per sikette usque ad turbifodiū et sic usque ad Sele-stoke, &c." (vide cartas 8, 9. p. 104.)

The parish registers only commence in 1687, and contain no entries respecting any persons of note.

PARISH OF ST. PETER AND ST. PAUL, MARLBOROUGH.

BAPTISMS.

1611. William, son of Michael Herst, Nov^r. 24.

1621. Gertrude, dau^r. of Hen. Hungerford, June 14.

1673. William,^a son of Mr. William and Ellinor Grinfield, Oct^r. 28.

1673-4. Henry,^b son of Mr. Joshua & Susanna Sacheverell, born Feb. 8.

1679. John, son of Thos. Baskerville, esq^r. by Marie, Nov. 18.

1699. Frances, dau^r. of Mr. Rich^d. Grenfield, ^c March 31.

Several children of the families of Thomas and Margaret Grinfield; Richard and Elizabeth Foster; William and Sarah Gough, are entered about this period.

^a This William Grinfield, the eldest son of William and Ellinor Grinfield, was Member for Marlborough in the Parliament of 10 Gul. III. 1698. He married Mary daughter of Edward Goddard, of Hartham and Ogbourn St. Andrew, co. Wilts, Esq. by Elizabeth, sister of the Rt. Hon. John Smith, Speaker of the House of Commons, and afterwards Chancellor of the Exchequer. Some of his children were baptized at the Ogbourns, and one, Anne, was born in Queen Square, Bloomsbury, 30 April 1710. She was woman of the bedchamber to the Princess Caroline, afterwards Queen of Denmark, and died unmarried 20 Nov. 1791.

^b This was the Dr. Henry Sacheverell of political notoriety in Queen Anne's reign, one of the sons of the Rev. Joshua Sacheverell, Vicar of this church (of whom in a subsequent note.) After the death of his father he was educated by his godfather Mr. Edward Hearst, who sent him to the Royal Grammar School at Marlborough, and afterwards to Magdalen coll. Oxford, where he became a demy. Hearst died in 1690, but his widow continued the education of her husband's godson at Oxford, and he proceeded to the degree of M.A. in 1696, B.D. in 1707, and D.D. in 1708.

^c Other children of Richard and Frances Grenfield: Elizabeth, Aug. 26, 1701; Ann, Dec. 15, 1702; Richard, Feb. 1, 1703-4; William, April 30, 1705; Richard, Aug. 19, 1708; Anne, March 5, 1709-10; William, Aug. 19, 1712; Thomas, May 5, 1715.

1703. Tho^s. son of Will^m & Elizth Barsceuerfeild [Baskerville^d], Oct^r. 19.

1720-1. Argenoon, son of Mr. Thomas and Martha Frampton, Feb. 28; Martha, their dau. March 9, 1722-3; Thomas, April 30, 1725.

1723. Margaret, d^r of Mr. Edwd. & Mary Grinfield, Sep. 26; Mary, Jan. 8, 1724-5; Elizabeth, Oct. 12, 1726.

1752. Nath. son of Benjⁿ. & Mary Merriman, born Jan. 26.

1764. Hannah, daughter of Mr. Samuel Hawkes, Feb. 14.

MARRIAGES.

1625-6. Sir Henry Davy, knt. & the Lady Tomisine Lee, March 23. (Indistinct, especially the lady's name.)

1671. Mr. Obadh. Burges & Mrs. Susanna Dyer, Nov. 30.

1719. Mr. Tho^s. Franklin & Mrs. Sarah Perry, May 5.

1778. Michael Dodson, Esq^r. & Elizabeth Hawkes, Dec^r. 31.

1784. John Ward, esq. and Hannah Hawkes, Jan. 14.

1798. Thomas Ward of Lincoln's Inn, Esq^r. & Martha Merriman, Dec^r. 17.

BURIALS.

1625-6. Ann, the wife of Mr. William Digges,^e Jan. 31.

1626. Frances Lady Seymour, the wife of St. Francis Seymour, knight,^f was buried Sept^r. 7.

^d Buried May 16, 1709. Other children of Mr. William Baskerville: Elizabeth, bap. Oct. 31, 1705; Anne, bap. July 18, 1707; another Thomas, July 30, 1710; Margaret, Aug. 3, 1712.

^e The family of Diggs, settled at Marlborough, and at Purton, co. Wilts, descended from William Diggs of Diggs Court, in the parish of Barham, co. Kent, and were kinsmen to Leonard Diggs the mathematician, Thomas Diggs, also a great mathematician, Sir Dudley Diggs, Master of the Rolls, Leonard Diggs, the poet, and Dudley Diggs an eminent linguist and general scholar. This William Diggs (son to Richard Diggs, Sergeant at Law, and M.P. for Marlborough in all the Parliaments from 1597 to his death in 1634, by his first wife Margaret, daughter of Richard Gore of Aldrington) married Ann, dau. and heir of Edward Edmunds of Henbury, co. Gloucester. The following of their children occur in this register: Richard, bap. March 8, 1611-12; Martha, bap. Mar. 7, 1613-14; William, bap. Feb. 21, 1614-15; Elizabeth, bap. Mar. 14, 1615-16; Margaret, bur. Aug. 20, 1620. They had other children, which do not appear in this Register; see Visitation of Wilts 1623.

^f His first wife, the daughter and coheiress of Sir Gilbert Prinne, of Allington, co. Wilts. She died in childbirth of a son, baptised by the name of William on the day of his mother's burial; but who probably died in infancy, as he is not mentioned in the pedigrees.

1626-7. Robert, the sonn of Mr. Nicholas Hyde, esq.^ε was buried the fower and twentieth day of January.

—— Francis, the sonn of the same Mr. Hide, was buried the eyght and twentieth day of January.

—— Elizabeth, the daughter of S^r Nicholas Hide, knight, Lord Chiefe Justice of the King's Bench, was buried the eight and twentieth day of February.

1633-4. Richard Dygges, Sergeant att the Lawe, Jan. 26th.

1654. Mr. Edward,^h the son of Charles Saymour, esq^r. was buried Aprill 21.

1656-7. Mr. Francis,ⁱ the son of Charles Seymour, esq^r. was buried Jan. 27.

1657. Mr. John,^k the son of Charles Seymour, esq^r. May 27.

1657. Mr. Obadiah Sedgwick^l died June y^e 9th, and was buried at Ogbourne St. Andrew, June 12.

1659. Francis,^m son of Charles Seymour, esq^r. August 6.

1663. Mr. Thomas Bayly, late minister of Minhale, Mar. 27.

ε A monument on the north wall of the chancel contains some small figures kneeling at a desk, and has the following inscription: "Here lye the bodies of two sonnes and a daughter of S^r Nicolas Hyde, knight, Lo. Chiefe Justice of y^r King's Bench, and of y^e Lady Marye his wife; that is, Robert, bur. 24 Jan^y 1626; Francis, buried 28 Jan^y 1626; Elizabeth, bur. 28 Febru^y 1626. Wee shall goe to them, but they shall not returne to us.—2 Sam. xii. 23."

^h Mr. Edward Seymour was eldest son by Mr. Seymour's first wife, Mary Smith of Soley.

ⁱ Mr. Francis was eldest son by the second wife, Elizabeth, daughter of William Lord Allington.

^k Mr. John. This name must have been entered by mistake instead of the first William born to Charles and Elizabeth Seymour. In the original the name was not entered at all for some weeks after the latter part of the entry was written, as appears by a difference in the ink and hand. No John is mentioned in any of the pedigrees of this family.

^l Obadiah Sedgwick was the son of the Rev. Joseph Sedgwick, Vicar of Ogbourne St. Andrew, and was born at Marlborough about the year 1600. For an account of him, as well as of his next brother John, see Wood's Athen. Oxon. (edited by Bliss,) vol. iii. pp. 65 and 441. Both were of Magdalen Hall, and graduated to B.D.

^m Francis Seymour. This is again another mistake of the registrar. The only surviving Francis lived to be fifth Duke of Somerset, and was buried at Great Bedwyn. It is not impossible but that the twin sister of Francis, Elizabeth Seymour, who died an infant, ought to have been entered here. It is a question whether any of the Seymours of this family were interred at St. Peter's. The house in which they resided, now the Castle Inn, had been lately (1640) built by the first Lord 1689. Mr. Richard Gwyenn, a stranger from the old White Hart, April 28.

Seymour of Trowbridge, then Sir Francis Seymour, partly in the parish of St. Peter's, but by far the larger part in the parish of Preshute, and their marriages, baptisms, and burials are entered in greater proportion there than at St. Peter's; and it will be observed that the burial of the first Francis in 1656-7, and the burial of the second son in 1657 (called John at St. Peter's, but William at Preshute) are to be found in both registers; as is the case also with several marriages of Marlborough people solemnized at Preshute about this period. One or two of these were certainly incorrectly entered with regard to dates at St. Peter's, and it is not inadmissible to suppose that the Seymour entries may have been as inaccurate.

ⁿ The following children occur of William and Ellinor Grinfield: William, bap. Memorandum in the fifth register book :

The Rev^d. Robert Clavering, A.M. formerly student of Christ Church College in Oxford, was inducted into the Rectory of St. Peter's, Marlborough, Sept. 14, 1723, and into the Vicarage of Preshute, Mar. 25, 1727; was married, Sept. 5, 1728, to Elizabeth, dau^r. of the Rev^d. Tho^s. Burnett, D.D. Rector of West Kington, Wilts; had issue :

Algernon, born Oct. 13, 1729, Vicar of Broad Hinton.

Frances, born Nov. 26, 1730. (The Register says Nov. 25.)

Elizabeth-Marianne, born Sep. 13, 1732; Elizabeth, July 5, 1735; Robert, Mar. 22, 1743; who died infants.

On the south wall of the chancel is a large monument of Sienna marble, with three tablets of statuary marble, to the memory of several ^t Mrs. Hannah Hawkes was youngest sister and coheir to Sir Michael Foster, and widow of William Hawkes of Marlborough. She had three sons, Samuel, William, and Michael-Foster: and several daughters.

^u Samuel Hawkes married Elizabeth, dau. and coheir of Edward Grinfield of Marlborough, Esq. and had issue two daughters; Elizabeth married to her cousin Michael Dodson, Barrister at Law, Commissioner of Bankrupts, &c. who died without issue; and Hannah, married to John Ward of Marlborough, esq.

members of the Clavering family. The arms are, Quarterly, 1st and 4th, quarterly, Or and Gules, over all a bend Sable; 2nd and 3rd, Argent, a bugle Sable, garnished Or, on a chief Or three laurel leaves Vert. Crest, a lion rampant gardant Argent. On the first tablet on the left:

“Sacred to the memory of ELIZABETH CLAVERING, only daughter of the Rev^d Tho^s. Burnett, D.D. Rector of West Kington in this county, and Prebendary of Sarum, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Philip Bathurst, esq^r. She was married to the Rev^d. Robert Clavering, Rector of this parish, Sept^r. 5, 1728, and departed this life Jan. 8, 1759, in the 54th year of her age. Not from any principle of vanity, but out of a filial regard to the memory of one of the best and tenderest of mothers, and as a testimony of his gratitude for the many obligations he received from her worthy family, Algernon Clavering, Vicar of Broad Hinton in this county, ordered his Exec^r. to erect this monument, and to lay his own body close by the remains of his dear mother. He died of the smallpox Ap^l. 7th, 1772, aged 42 years.”

On the tablet on the right:

“In the same grave lieth the body of the Rev^d. ROBERT CLAVERING, A.M. formerly Student of Christ Church, Oxford, Rector of this parish, and Vicar of Preshute. He was descended from an ancient family in the county of Northumberland. His father was Rector of Stickland in Dorsetshire; his grandfather was Rector of Piddlehinton, in the same county; and his great-grandfather was the Rev^d. Jno: Clavering, Fellow of Eaton College and Rector of Gamlingue, in the county of Cambridge, who is recorded, in the Baronetage of England, to be the 2nd son of Robert Clavering, esq^r. by Anne, daughter of Sir Tho^s. Grey; from whose third son, James, the present Baronet of this name is lineally descended. He exchanged this life for a better, Nov^r. 7th, A.D. 1773, in the 80th year of his age.”

The third tablet is inscribed to the memory of Dame Grace Hay (see p. 265) and three children of the Rev. R. Clavering.

On the same wall of the chancel is a handsome tablet of black and white marble, highly ornamented in the later style of English architecture, with this inscription:

“In the centre of this chancel are deposited the remains of HENRY GRIFFITHS, Esq. of the city of Bath, and late of Beaumont Lodge, co. Berks, who died May 9th, 1833. Also, of ANN, the wife of his bosom during 45 years, whom he survived only three days. 'Happy in their lives and in their death not divided.' She died May 6th, 1833. Also of their grandson, GEORGE HENRY GRIFFIES WILLIAMS (removed by faculty from Walcot, Bath), the infant son of the Rev^d. Erasmus Henry Griffies Williams, Rector of this parish."

ARMS: Ermine, a lion rampant Gules; impaling, Quarterly, 1 and 4, Ermine, a griffon rampant Gules, langued Azure, with a spear in his claws Proper; 2 and 3, Gules, three roses Argent.

On the north wall of the chancel:

"Near this place are deposited the remains of SUSANNAH HALCOMB (second wife of Mr. John Halcomb, and eldest daughter of William Peck, esq. late of the Wiltshire Militia ^x), who departed this life the 25th July, 1813, in the 51st year of her age."

On the south wall of the nave:

"Sacred to the memory of a beloved and affectionate wife, CATHARINE HALCOMB,^y who died April 1st, 1796, aged 29 years. Also to the memory of CHARLES HENRY, youngest son of John and Catharine Halcomb, and scholar of C. C. Coll. Oxford. He died the 5th day of August 1815, at the early age of 19 years.

"To the memory of JOHN HALCOMB, esq. many years a member of the Corporation of this Town, who died January 13, 1831, in his 68th year."^z

"In the middle aisle of this church, nearly opposite this marble, is interred the body of KATHARINE BAVERSTOCK, a most excellent woman, who died Dec. the 9th, 1819, in her 87th year."

"In the same grave with his beloved wife, rest the remains of JOHN BAVERSTOCK, who was elected a Burgess in the year 1769, was five times Chief Magistrate, and during 30 years the senior member of the Corporation of this Borough. He died the 11th day of February, A.D. 1829, in his 90th year."

"In memory of THELWALL MAURICE, M.D. He left this mortal life February 17, 1830, aged 62 years. Also the beloved daughters of the above; MARTHA, who died May the 6th, 1809, ^x She was also widow of Benjamin Hancock of Marlborough, esq. "John Halcomb, esq. and Mrs. Susannah Hancock, widow," married at St. Mary's, Marlborough, Nov. 17, 1801.

^y Daughter of Thomas Neate of Barton, gent.

^z Mr. Halcomb married thirdly, 6 June 1816, Margareta, youngest daughter of the late Michael Barbor of Sydenham, co. Kent, esq. She died 30 Jan. 1835, aged 70, and was buried at Lewisham. All Mr. Halcomb's children were by his first wife.

aged 1 year and 5 months, and ANNE, January 17, 1818, in her 22nd year."

The greater part of the epitaphs in this church will be found in Sir Thomas Phillipps' Collection of Wiltshire Epitaphs, Part II. pp. 197—203; and some in Neale's Churches, 1825, in which there are exterior and interior views of the church.

REGISTER OF THE SEPULCHRAL INSCRIPTIONS EXISTING TEMP. HEN. VIII. IN THE CHURCH OF THE GREY FRIARS, LONDON.

The article here printed forms the first division of the valuable MS. relating to the house of the Grey Friars in London,^a the narrative parts of which were translated by Stevens, and printed in his Monasticon, vol. i. pp. 112—125, and thence transferred (with the exception of some lists of martyrs and other distinguished members of the Friars Minors throughout Christendom,) to the new edition of the Monasticon, vol. vi. pp. 1515—1522.

Stowe had the use of this manuscript, and he has printed a selection from the following names (as he himself says, about one fifth of them), but his list is deformed by frequent errors,^b and only sprinkled with ^a The original is bound in the Cottonian volume, Vitellius F. XII. ; it is not "on vellum," as stated in the New Monasticon, but on paper.

^b For instance, Santlor for Sencler, Halsman for Halsam, Othal for Oldall, Wiltwater for Milwater, &c. "Francis Chape" is printed as a name instead of a heading.—St. Francis' Chapel. Stowe names "Sir Robert Lisle, Baron, the dates. The original catalogue is rendered very valuable by its containing all the dates that appeared upon the tombs.

Weever also saw the book, and has quoted it in his introductory essay, as well as in a side note to the following passage (in which, however, he does little more than copy the statements of Stowe): "This Abbey Church hath been honoured with the sepulture of foure Queenes,^c foure Dutchesses, foure Countesses, one Duke, two Earles, eight Barons, and some thirty-five knights; whose names are set downe by Stow in his Suruay of this honourable Citie; and in all, from the first foundation vnto the dissolution, sixe hundred sixtie and three persons of Quality were here interred. In the Quire were nine Tombes of Alabaster and Marble, inuironed with barres or strikes of iron: one Tombe in the body of the Church, coped also with iron, and with seauenscore grave-stones of Marble in diuers places; all which were pulled downe, taken away, and sold for fiftie pounds, or thereabouts, by Sir Martin Bowes, Maior of London, An. 1545. The rest of the monuments are now wholly defaced, not any one remaining at this day, save such which are of later times."

Lady Lisle, and Margaret de Rivers, Countesse of Devon, all under one stone." Margaret de Redvers, styled in the MS. Countess of Devon and Lady de Lyle (the Isle of Wight), is one person; and "Sir Robert Lyle," not styled Baron, was in another tomb, at the distance of nine feet (see p. 276); and he was of an entirely distinct family.

^c Margaret, wife of Edward the First; Isabella, wife of Edward the Second; Joan, Queen of Scots, daughter of Edward the Second; and Isabella, Queen of Man. There was, besides, the heart of a fifth Queen, Alianor, the consort of Henry III.; and also the heart of King Edward the Second.

^d This introduction is much injured by the fire from which the Cottonian MSS. suffered; but Weever quotes the latter part as a "definition of a funerall monument," in his Discourse of Funerall Monuments, p. 9. The words in brackets have been supplied from Weever. The same had been said by St. Augustine (as quoted by Weever), "Monumentum eo quod moneat mentem, id est admonet, nuncupatur." But in the present MS. the word is "momētū" not "monumētū."

^f John Peckham, Archbishop of Canterbury 1278, died 1292; and his body was buried in Canterbury Cathedral. He was some time Provincial of the Franciscan order in England.

^g Queen Margaret began to build the choir and the church of the Grey Friars in 1306: she contributed 2000 marks towards the works during her life, and left 100 marks by her will to the same.

^h The Duchess Beatrix died in Britany in 1 Edw. I. having been twelve years a widow.

ⁱ Alianor Percy, daughter of Henry Earl of Northumberland, and widow of Edward Stafford, Duke of Buckingham, beheaded by King Henry VIII. in 1521. Her will is dated 24 June 1528. She bequeathed her heart to be buried in this church, but her body to the Grey Friars, Bristol.

^k This is an insertion, though in the same hand, and, with others which will be pointed out hereafter, shows very nearly the date of the volume.

^l Queen Alianor died on the 25th June 1291; her body was buried at the abbey church of Amesbury in Wiltshire, where she had been for some years a nun.

^m Burnt off, and supplied from the index.

ⁿ Margaret, daughter and heiress of Warine Fitzgerald, was the wife of Baldwin de Redvers, who died in 1216, in his father's lifetime, having had issue Baldwin, afterwards seventh Earl of Devon. Margaret was married secondly to Falkes de Breant, celebrated for his success and his cruelty as the general employed by King Henry III. against the insurgent Barons.

OTTLEIANA: OR LETTERS, &C. RELATING TO SHROPSHIRE, WRITTEN DURING AND SUBSEQUENT TO THE CIVIL WAR, CHIEFLY ADDRESSED TO SIR FRANCIS OTTLEY,^a AND FORMING PART OF THE OTTLEY MSS.

On the xxij June in the 18th year of his reign (1642), King Charles issued from his court at York, instructions to his son Prince Charles, Thomas Earl of Arundel,^b John Earl of Bridgewater,^c Robert Viscount Kilmarey,^d William Lord Craven,^e Edward Lord Herbert,^f and the Sheriff^g of Shropshire, and the Commissioners in the Commission of Array for the Cōy of Salop, or three or more of them, to send their warrants to the Sheriff to summon the inhabitants according to the said commission, (for arraying, trayninge, arminge, leading, and conductinge of the inhabitants) but for the present, hoped it would be sufficient to summon only the ancient, trayned, and freehold bands of the ^a Francis Ottley of Pitchford, co. Salop; knighted September 1642, and entrusted by the King with the military command of Shrewsbury, which he relinquished in 1644, and was appointed to the important station of High Sheriff, which office he filled on behalf of the King in 1645, Colonel Mytton being appointed to the same office by the Parliament. Mr. Ottley was "an eminent loyalist, and a man of energy and spirit, who gave a watchful heed to the great events which passed in his time, and by his authority and example, largely influenced the inhabitants of Shropshire in their attachment to the cause of the Crown, which they considered the cause of the Constitution." He was taken prisoner with his wife and children at Worcester, and compounded for his estate by the payment of 1200*l*. He died in London Sept. 1, 1649.

^b Thomas Howard, grandson of Thomas fourth Duke of Norfolk of the name, by Mary, daughter and coheiress, and ultimately sole heiress of Henry Fitzalan, Earl of Arundel. He died Oct. 4, 1646.

^c John Egerton, first Earl of Bridgewater, Lord President of the Marches of Wales, and father of the parties benighted in the forest of Haywood; which incident furnished materials for the mask of Comus. He died Dec. 4, 1649.

^d Robert Needham, second Viscount Kilmorey, died 1653.

^e Wm. Craven, Baron Craven of Hampstead Marshall, co. Berks; created by Charles II. Viscount Craven of Uffington, in the same county. He was elder brother to John Lord Craven of Knyton, co. Salop; and died April 9, 1697.

^f Edward Herbert, Baron Herbert of Castle Island, first Baron Herbert of Chirbury. He died 1648.

^g John Weld, esq.

county to be well trayned ; the officers to be persons of qualitie, having considerable estates and interest in the countrey, and not straingers; recusants, being by law disabled to bear armes, were to find armes for other men; but their tenants being Protestants bearing armes, were to be received.

To my much esteemed kinsman

Captain Francis Oateley,

in Shrewsbury, these.

Sir, I desir'd Dr Smith to wryte y^u word y^t I did intende then to bee at Shrewsbury on Wednesday next, but I have met wth occasions since that make it doubtfull. & therefore, understandinge y^t y^u have a desire to speake wth Mee, I have now sent to y^u to lett y^u know y^t I will meet y^u to eyther at Tom Eyton's ^h or at a little blinde Alehouse in the longe-wood ⁱ (the man's name is Purslowe) w^{ch} you finde best for y^r conveniency. I shall bee at eyther place by 4 a clock in the afternoone. Pray sende mee an answer whether y^u come or noe, & if y^u doe, w^{ch} of the 2 places before nam'd y^u will come to, & y^u shall ther finde Sir, y^r affectionate freinde & servant

High Ercall, Aug. 23, 1642.

FRA. NEWPORT.^k

Tuesday morneinge. Sir, I make choise of y^e places before mention'd as the most secret ones I know of.

^h Afterwards Sir Thomas Eyton, knt. of Eyton upon the Wildmoors, near Wellington, where the family have resided nearly from the Conquest. His activity and zeal in the cause of his sovereign were compounded for by the payment of 976*l*. He was buried at Wellington, March 24, 1658.

ⁱ Still called Longwood, and deriving its name from an extensive wood, then in existence, situated in the parish of Long, now generally called Langdon upon Tern.

^k Eldest son of Sir Richard Newport, first Baron Newport of High Ercall. Francis generally resided at Eyton upon Severn, in the parish of Wroxeter. He represented the borough of Shrewsbury in the "Short Parliament" of 1640, and in the "Long Parliament" which met Nov. 3 the same year, being then only 21 years old. He was ardently attached to the Royal cause, was one of the few members who voted for the acquittal of Lord Strafford, soon after which he was expelled from the house as a malignant. He was taken prisoner at the capture of Oswestry June 22, 1644, and, with his father, was severely punished for his loyalty. His composition was 5284*l*. and his father's 3287*l*. 6*s*. 8*d*. exclusive of 170*l*. per ann. settled.

In 1694, he was advanced to the dignity of Earl of Bradford. In the chancel of Wroxeter church, where he was buried, is a handsome mural monument to his memory; from which it appears that in 1668 he was made Comptroller of the King's household. In 1672 Treasurer of the same, from which he was displaced present these.

To my honored freind

Noble Captaine. I find by concurrent advertisements that it is full time for Shrewsberry and other parts of this county to be vigilant. Sr, I shall rely vpon your care for the safty of that place; if you suppose you want helpe, you shall want none that I am able to afford you. I wish some of my neighbours here abouts were as well minded as you. I resolve to try them. I have already given my best advise to Bridgnorth, and I thinke they will follow it, and so desiring to here from you as often as you find occasion, with all our loving respects remembered vnto you, I rest,

Y^r servant,

JOHN WELD.¹

Sept. 10, 1642. From the Court at Nottingham the King sent to Francis Otley, Esq. a warrant or commission,^m giving him "power and authority to imprest, raise, enroll, and retaine one companie of two hundred Foote wheresoever in England & Wales, who will willingly & voluntarily serve for such wages and entertainment by the moneth, week, or day, or for a longer or shorter tyme as he on the king's behalf and they should agree." Worthy Sir. I pray help the bearer, who goeth to Cot, wth good post horses, or other horses, from y^u to Worcester : more forces are come this day to Namptwich for the enemy.

I had waited on y^u at Whitchurch, but that the imminent danger of the City prevented me, and truly I dare not stirr for feare of some treachery, for we have discouered that the enemy designes for this city, and relies on his power here.

I shall bee most willing to attend y^u at any safe place ; but, in respect of stragling companyes abroad, Whitchurch is not safe for vs ; but if y^u please to send word when y^u advance, or what further y^u desire (w^{ch} must bee by Elsmere way, and so to Wrexto make powder ; if you please to give the bearer the man's name

Sir, I vnderstand this Mathias Gervise hath at Layton,^y beyond Shrewsbury, one tunne of battery shott and a tunne of granadoes; the battery shott was intended by Colonel Ellis for Chester for the peices here, and the granadoes for Court. There is due for the battery shott to the masters of the works 32*l.* 16*s.* and to Gervase for the battery shott 2*l.* 8*s.* and for the granadoes 96*l.* I have wished him to goe on till I heare further from Court, and have ordered him 20*l.* towards his charge: some present course must bee taken that the bulletts and granadoes bee brought to Shrewsbury. The rather for that 4 peices must bee instantly sent thither, and for that purpose course must be taken wth the m^{rs} of the Iron workes for the mony due to them: what must be done in it I know not. It is not safe letting them to stay where they are; and I wish the granadoes (except some few of them, w^{ch} I would have here) were sent forth-

^y I have not been able to make out satisfactorily to what family this Sir Richard Lloyd, who was very active and zealous in the royal cause, belonged. There was a Richard Lloyd of Llwynymaen, near Oswestry, who is called "a Colonel for Charles I." but I am not aware that he was ever knighted.

As for the battery shott we have no need of it here; onely I wish that there bee such a pportion left at Shrewsbury as may serve for the 4 peices (w^{ch} I am sending thither), w^{ch} may bee about 100 bullets a peice of each. I am sending my man for 2 coach mares of Col. Hastings, w^{ch} hee gave me in exchange for 2 stone horses. Sir Gerard Eyton ^a stayd them as suspecting the man; they are now at Mr. Baker's the postmaster. I pray let them be deliuered to my servant presently: and I pray y^u write to S^r Francis Oately to take some present course about the bulletts, for that this night, or to morrow morning early, I intend to send away the canon, and doe not send bulletts wth them, in respect I conceive there is bullet enough at the furnace by Shrewsbury.—good sir, write to him about it. S^r, If you receave not so full satisfaction by your man as you expecte, you must not attribute it to any negligence of your frends, or any disesteem in his Ma^y towards you: I assure you the Kinge hath a very iust sense of your meritt, and lookes upon the service of that Towne (where he receaved so greate testimonyes of duty and loyalty) as the effecte of your care and industry, & therefore you may belieue he will neuer be vnwillinge to grante you any addi^on of power, who imployes it so well to his advantage. But in this businesse of Governour, he makes some pause upon this scruple: He hath had of late ill lucke in makinge Gouvernours of Cityes & Towns, and though he hath alwayes chosen loued & popular men for these places, yet priuate differences haue so farr growen, that he hath been in daunger to loose the Corporation. Now he sayes you are the Commaunder of the Armes of the Towne, & already haue all authority to that purpose, but he feares if he should send you an absolute pattent of Gouvernour, it might some way discontent the Corporation: however, he resolues there shall be no other Gouvernour but you, and if you & the Towne thinke it necessary that you should haue an immediate Pattent lett us heare from you, & it shall be dispatched. You shall heare more particularly to your satisfaction by Mr. Babington, who shall inform you of many things which I dare not write. TRANSCRIPTS AND ABSTRACTS OF WILLS.

21 Mar. 15 Hen. VIII. (1524). I declare and will by this my last will, that the aforesaid feoffees and their heirs [Cardinal Wolsey, &c.] shall from henceforth stand and be seised of the manors of Tichemarshe, Duston, Chelveston and Caldecott, and lands in Higham Ferrers, co. Northampton, and manor of Tylbrook, co. Bedford, to the use of me and lady Elinor my wife for life; remainder to my son George Somerset for life; remainder to me in tail male. I have also given to my said son George Somerset and the heirs of his body the manors of Foxley, Bawdiswell, and Sparham, co. Norfolk, and the manors of Roydon and Badmundsfield, co. Suffolk, which said manors I had of the gift of Richard late Earl of Kent, to me and my heirs; wherefore I will, that if it fortune at any time hereafter the said manors, lands, and tenements in the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk be taken from me, my wife, or my said son George, then I will that my said son George shall have to him and his heirs male as much in yearly value of the said manors, lands, and tenements in the counties of Northampton and Buckingham [Bedford?] as shall amount to the yearly value of the aforesaid manors as shall be taken from me, my wife, or my said son George or his heirs, or any other as shall be seised; to the use of me, my wife, and the said George and his heirs male; remainder to my right heirs; provided the said feoffees be seised to the use of me and my wife Elinor for life.

^a This will has been partly abstracted in Dugd. Bar. ii. p. 294, and Testamenta Vetusta, p. 622.

FRANCIS CATESBY OF WHISTON, ESQ.

4 July 1527. I will that my executors shall have and receive the profits, &c. of my manors, lands, and tenements in Ecton and Great Billing, co. Northampton, by the space of ten years next after my decease, towards the performance of this my present testament and last will.

I will that my executors do pay yearly at the feast of the nativity of our Lord, out of the issues and profits of the said manors, &c. to the abbot and convent of St. James near Northampton yearly, by the term of seven years next after my decease, 3l. 16s. 8d. after these conditions following, viz. that a canon of the said monastery shall, every Monday, Friday, and Saturday in every week during the said seven years, in the church of the said abbey, say a mass of requiem for my soul, and the souls of my father and mother, and all Christian souls; and also on condition the said abbot and convent do seal and deliver, under the convent seal, to my cousin Anthony Catesby, such sure, sufficient, and lawful lease of all their lands in Arthingworth, co. Northampton, for the term of fifty-one years, as shall be advised by the learned counsel of the said Anthony, according to the promise of the said abbot to the said Anthony made, yielding and paying therefore to the said abbot and his successors 4l. yearly during the said term, and this to be done in recompence of 3l. 16s. 8d. which I have lent to the said abbot, and which sum I freely give and bequeath to the said abbot and convent to pray for my soul and all Christian souls. Item, I will that, after the said ten years be expired, Francis Catesby, second son of the said Anthony, being ordered and ruled by his said father, shall have all my said manors, lands, &c. in Ecton and Great Billing in fee tail; and if said Francis die without issue, and the said Anthony have another son, which shall be his second son, then I will that the said Anthony shall receive the profits of the said manors, &c. until the said shall have accomplished his full age of twenty-one years, and then he shall have the said manors, &c. in fee tail; remainder to the right heirs of Sir John Catesby my father.

GEORGE KIRKHAM, ESQ.

3 Mar. 1527-8. First, I will that all such persons as be seised of and in such lands and tenements as be appointed for and in the name of the jointure of my daughter Sibill, my son Robert's wife, shall stand and be seised thereof, to the use of my said daughter Sibill, according to such uses and covenants as be contained in the indenture of her marriage; remainder to my son Robert in fee tail. Item, I will and bequeath to my said son Robert all my other lands, tenements, &c. in fee tail, except such lands as hereafter followeth; and in case my said son die without issue, I will that my daughter Margaret Middleton have all my manors, lands, &c. in Warmington and Papley [co. Northampton], Carrington [Conington, co. Hunts?], Polebrook and Churchfield [co. Northampton], and Leighton and Aylton [Elton? co. Huntingdon], in fee tail; remainder to my daughters Agnes Lynne and Cecill Kirkham in fee tail, equally and evenly between them to be divided; remainder to my sister Joan Oliff in fee tail; remainder to my right heirs. And if my said son Robert die without issue, then I will that my daughter Agnes Lynne have all my manors, lands, &c. in Orton Longville, Orton Waterville, Woodstone, Yaxley, Cotterstock, Caster, Barholme, Spalding, Cobet (?), Pinchbeck, and Lodington in the counties of Huntingdon, Northampton, and Lincoln, in fee tail; remainder to my daughters Margaret Middleton and Cecill Kirkham in fee tail, equally and evenly between them to be divided; remainder to my sister Joan in fee tail; remainder to my right heirs. And if my said son Robert die without issue, I will that my daughter Cecill Kirkham have all my manors, lands, &c. in Barnwell and Oundle [co. Northampton], in fee tail; remainder to my daughters Agnes Lynne and Margaret Middleton, equally and evenly to be divided between them; remainder to Joan my sister in fee tail; remainder to my right heirs. Also I will that all such person or persons as now stand and be seised, or hereafter shall be seised of my said manors, lands, &c. or any part or parcel thereof, shall henceforth stand and be seised thereof, to the use and performance of this my last will and testament. And I utterly renounce and forsake all other wills by me before this time, and affirm this my last will and testament. Provided always that it shall be lawful for my son

Robert to make his wife a jointure in any of these aforesaid lands, except Cockersland, which I give to my son Middleton and his wife during their lives, and the longer liver of them, and the remainder thereof according to the will aforesaid, upon condition that the said Jervis Middleton and Margaret his wife shall dwell therein, and make reparation and keep up the same place.

SIR WALTER MAUNTELL.

31 Aug. 15 Hen. VIII. (1523). I bequeath my soul to Almighty God. I bequeath to every Church hereafter following; i. e. Heyford, Bugbroke, Flore, Farningho, King's Sutton, Charlton chapel [co. Northampton], and every of them 10*s.* Also, I will that all my feoffees stand seised of and in my manors of Farningho, Norton, Grimscote, Wotton, West Cotton, and all other hamlets, as Road, Ashen [Ashton], Flore, Clasthorp, Bugbroke, Asthrop, and Preston, Frotrinson [Farthingston? co. Northampton], and in all other lands that I have, till my son John Mauntell be or may come to the age of twenty-one years, to this use following: I bequeath to my brother Thomas Fowler, besides 5*l.* yearly that I have given him out of Norton, 3*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* more during his life. I bequeath to my brother-in-law Thomas Eyton 40*s.* yearly during his life. I bequeath to Richard Wood 4 marks yearly for life. I bequeath to every of my household servants, both men and women, 40*s.* I will that my brother Thomas Fowler receive the profits of my said manors, lands, &c. finding sureties once a year to pay and make due account to my said feoffees; and of the money thereof coming, I will, by the discretion of my feoffees, be employed and indifferently divided amongst my daughters Ellen, Margaret, Mary, Anne, and Dorothy, to their marriages; and my brother, for his pains herein, to have all the wayfs and strays, fines and heriots, of all the foresaid lands, except Heyford. Also I will that my wife have all the residue of my goods, moveable and immoveable; and I make and ordain her my executrix, to see all my debts paid. And also I will, that all my feoffees, being assembled, appoint two or three of them to have the custody of this money, whereof one of them to be Mr. William Spencer.

NICHOLAS WOODHULL, ESQ.

29 Mar. 1531 (22 Hen. VIII.) I bequeath my soul to Almighty God, my maker and redeemer, to our blessed lady St. Mary, and all the company of heaven, and my body to be buried in the chapel of our Lady within the parish church of Warkworth, co. Northampton. I make and name my feoffees in all my lands and tenements, &c. in Warkworth, Croughton, Astrop, Overthorp, Middleton, Sutton, and Pateshull, co. Northampton, Bekebrook, Dunstew, Somerton, and Banbury, co. Oxford, Chetwood, and Lamport, co. Buckingham, Wodhull [Odell], Langford, and Hockcliffe, co. Bedford, and Dunford, co. Wilts: that is to say, Sir William Parre, Sir John Dive, Sir Thomas Tresham, George Raleigh, esq. Anthony Raleigh, esq. Laurence Wodhull, esq. and William Connsee, gent. to the use of the performance of this my will. Also I will that my executors, as soon as conveniently may be after my decease, do pay my debts truly, as they can receive them of my lands and tenements, without abatement or minishment, according to a bill of debts to this my last will and testament annexed, or otherwise can be duly proved. I bequeath to my daughter Joyce 100*l.* under this condition, that she shall be advised and guided by my executors and such other of my friends as I will appoint to have the guiding of my children. I bequeath to my daughter Mary 100*l.*, and to my daughter Anne 100*l.*, which sums I will be delivered to them at the times of their marriages, if they can be received of my said lands and tenements so soon, or "ells" after my debts paid as shortly as they can be received. I will and bequeath that my son Fowke Wodhull shall have to him and his heirs the reversion of the manor of Thenford (co. Northampton) to be had to him immediately after the decease of the wife of Lewis Aprice; Asthorp, and Sutton (co. Northampton) for the value of 20*l.* yearly. I will that if it fortune my son and heir Anthony Wodhull to depart out of this world without issue, that then I will that my fee-simple lands shall descend to my son Fowke in fee tail; remainder to myself in tail general. I will that my executors provide and find an honest priest to sing and say divine service for my soul, and for my father and mother's souls, and for all Christian souls, which chaplain shall sing in the parish church of Warkworth, by the space of twelve years next after my decease, if he be of good conversation, or else it shall be at the liberty of my executors to put him out of his service, and to give another, and the same chaplain shall have yearly for his salary 8 marks, to be paid quarterly. I bequeath to my servant Christopher Barker, for his good and faithful service done to me, a house and two yards of land in Warkworth, called Bignell's, and all thereto belonging, which the said Bignell occupied, to have to the said Christopher for the term of his natural life, without any rent paying therefore. I bequeath to William Butler, bailiff of Langford, and Elizabeth his wife, for their lives, a house in Langford wherein he dwells, of the yearly value of 40s. I bequeath to Randall Wych a house in Warkworth wherein he dwells, of the value of 46s. 8d. and as for the odd 6s. 8d. I bequeath it to Joan his wife for life. I bequeath to Peers Harwyn a house in Middleton for life, wherein he dwells, keeping it in repair. I bequeath to Nicholas Shakerley a house in Banbury wherein he dwells, for twelve years, keeping it in repair and paying the quit rents. I bequeath to the mother church of Lincoln for tithes forgotten 3s. 4d. I bequeath to the parson of Warkworth and for tithes forgotten 20s. Also I will that Thomas Talby and Nicholas Absolom, my old bailiff, shall have their living in my household during their lives. I will that my executors, after Michaelmas next, sufficiently repair my hermitage at the brigg foot of Banbury, and after it be repaired, I will that my executors set an honest man therein to pray for me and my friends. I give to the church of Warkworth a gown of black satin, to make thereof a cope or another ornament, to be had to the honour of God at the parish church of Warkworth. I will that my executors at my burying day distribute to the poor people 10l. I bequeath to Sir Robert Wright, for his pains and attendance done to me, 10s. I will that my executors pay yearly to my daughters Joyce, Mary, and Anne, to every of them 5 marks for their exhibition unto the time they be married. I bequeath to my brother [Thomas] Wodhull and Margaret his wife the house wherein they dwell in Warkworth for life. I bequeath to my servant Amys, for her diligent attendance in time of my sickness, 10s. I bequeath to my servant Fanny Baron, for her diligent service and attendance to me in my sickness, 6s. 8d. I give to the church of Feringho [Farthingho] 6s. 8d.; to the church of [King-] Sutton 6s. 8d.; to the building of the steeple at Warkworth 10l.; to the parish church of Chalcomb 6*s.* 8*d.*; to the church of Middleton 6*s.* 8*d.*; to the church of Thenford 6*s.* 8*d.*; to the church of Marston (St. Laurence) 6*s.* 8*d.* I will that all my stuff and implements of household, as well plate as other, shall remain to the use of my next heir, and to him shall be by my executors delivered when he shall come and attain to his full age of twenty-one years. I will that my wife's apparel shall be made in vestments and ornaments of the church. I will that all my broken silver or gold shall help to make a larger chalice for this church [Warkworth]. I will that my daughter Joyce shall have a gown of black say, that was my wife's. I bequeath these two rings of gold which I have upon my hand to my son Anthony, and I will that he shall not give them away to nobody, but to remain to him and his heirs. I will that Sir James — my priest do sing for me the said twelve years. I will that Joan Festwed shall have for her pains a cow, or else the price of a cow, and the cut-tailed mare that I bought of Haynes. I will that my son Anthony shall have all my swords and wood-knives, and daggers, and also my bows, shafts, and quivers in my study, and I will that he have both my cross-bows and two racks thereto belonging. I bequeath to my brother Laurence Wodhull my black furred gown of cloth. I bequeath to Christopher Barker two of my best books. I bequeath to my brother Thomas Wodhull a gown of black damask. I bequeath to William Pegg a heifer of a year and a half old. I give to Thomas Wyatt a cow. I will that my executors shall have for their pains-taking for the performance of this my last will every of them 10*l.* I will that the township of Wodhull [Odell, co. Bedford] have towards the clearing of the gravel 40*s.* I bequeath to Mr. Whorwood my dun nag. I bequeath to Mr. Smyth, of the King's Exchequer, my black ambling gelding. I give Margaret Gaynsford a bay nag. I bequeath to my sister [in law] Raleigh my bay ambling mare. I give to my brother Thomas Wodhull's wife a cow and a calf. I bequeath to my brother Laurence Wodhull's wife a frontlet and a pair of badges of chrystal. I will that all my feoffees shall suffer my executors to take the issues and profits of my said lands, &c. yearly to the performance of this my last will; and I constitute, name, and ordain to be my executors, Paul Darrell and my brother Laurence Wodhull.

BULBECK, OR BOLEBEC, OF NORTHUMBERLAND.—Vol. I. 452.

HUGH de Bulbeck, or Bolebec, married Margery, eldest of the three sisters and coheirs of Richard de Montfichet, who died without issue in the latter end of the reign of King Hen. III. ^a, and was by her father of another Hugh de Bolbec who died before 3 Edw. I. without male issue, leaving four daughters ^b his coheirs; ^c

1st. Philippa, then wife of Roger de Lancaster.

2nd. Margery, then wife of Nicholas Corbet, afterwards of Ralph Fitzwilliam.

3rd. Alice, then wife of Walter de Huntercombe.

4th. Maud, then wife of Hugh de la Vale.

1st. The issue of Philippa de Lancaster failed in the first generation.

2nd. Margery had no issue by her first husband; but by her second, who died a^o. 10 Edw. II. she had a son Robert, who died in the same year, leaving Ralph, called Ralph de Greystoke, his son and heir, 17 years old, from whom came the future Barons of Greystoke.

3rd. Walter de Huntercombe, husband of Alice, died without issue a^o. 6 Edw. II. and

4th. Maud de la Vale is stated in all the pedigrees that I have met with, to have died without issue;

So that according to this statement the whole Barony of Bulbec must, in the time of Edward the Third, have been vested in the heir of Margery the second daughter, and so became involved with that of Greystoke: but in opposition to this it appears that in a^o. 24 Edw. III. Robert de Herle, son and heir of William de Herle, paid fifty marks for his relief, for one moiety of the Barony,^c and the same record shews that William de Greystock, Baron of Greystock, held the other moiety.

How the family of Herle became possessed of their moiety I have not yet been able to discover, but it passed with their other inheritance into the family of Hastings by a match with the sister and heir of Robert^d above-mentioned, for it appears that Sir Ralph de Hastings, Knt. her son, held it in a^o. 40 Edw. III.^e

HASTINGS.—Vol. I. 574.

Edmund Hastings (whom I take to be the younger brother of John who married Isabella de Valencia) was summoned to Parliament from 28 Edw. I. to 7 Edw. II. I don't find any account of him in Dugdale. In the letter to the Pope he subscribed himself Edmundus de Hastings Dñs de Enchimeholmok, which I take to be some Welsh or Scotch territory.^g He seals with Barry wavy of six, Argent and Blue.—He is said to have married the Countess of Menteith,^h and to have died s. p.ⁱ

GREYSTOKE.—Vol. I. 739.

This Barony affords an instance, where a conveyance of the lands was followed by enjoyment of the title in a person who was not the heir of the original possessor.

^f Created Marquis of Hastings 1816, and died 1826, leaving George Augustus Francis Marquis of Hastings his son and heir.

^g It is evidently the same with Inch-Mahomo in Menteith, where there was an abbey. The legend of the seal mentioned by Mr. Townsend further shows the Baron's connection with the earldom (or rather stewardry) of Menteith; it is, s. EDMUNDI HASTING COMITATU MENETEI. (See Vetusta Monumenta); and in Sir F. Palgrave's Documents illustrative of the History of Scotland, 8vo. 1837, i. 299, the first of a list of Scottish knights and others who performed homage to King Edward I. is "D'na Isab. ux. d'ni Edm. Hastings, pro terr. in com. de Strivelin et de Forfar." Francis Thynne (Stem. Ang. p. 201-2) had found that the wife of Edmund Hastings was an Isabella ——. In 1306 Alan 7th Earl of Menteith was taken prisoner, and committed to the custody of John de Hastings in England, where he died: Isabella was probably his widow. Edmund Hastings is described as the brother of John in the Roll of Carlaverock; see further particulars of him in the notes to that Poem, by Sir H. Nicolas, 4to. 1828, p. 299; and also in the Scottish Rolls.—Edit.

ⁱ Glover, Ph. 4, 78, p. 32.

John de Graystoke, who was summoned to Parliament from 22 to 33 Edw. I. and died in 34 Edw. I. obtained a licence from that King in a^o. 25, "quod ipse de Manerio de Graystoke et tota Baronia de Graystoke," &c. &c. "feoffare possit dilectum & fidelem nostrum Radulphum Filium Willielmi nobiscum in obsequium nostrum ad partes transmarinas prefecturum," &c. A fine was levied in consequence in a^o. 27, settling it upon John for his life, with remainder to the said Ralph and his heirs for ever. This John had a brother William and a sister called Margaret Delavale,^k for whom a provision for their respective lives was made in a^o. 29 Edw. I. by fine between the said Ralph Fitz-William and John de Graystoke out of the manor of Conyscliffe, with reversion to the said Ralph. When William died I have not discovered; but he was certainly dead, and without issue, before the 1st of Edw. III. for then, upon the death of his sister Margaret, her two cousins, Elizabeth wife of Thomas Pickering, and Peter Bekard, son of Alice sister of the said Elizabeth, were found to be her next heirs, the said Elizabeth and Alice being daughters of Thomas her uncle, a younger brother of William de Grey-stoke, the father of the said John, William, and Margaret. Thus Bekard and Pickering appear to be the right heirs of the original Barony of Greystoke. But the land and the title were both enjoyed by the issue of Ralph Fitzwilliam.

This Ralph Fitzwilliam had been summoned to Parliament by the title of Ralph Fitzwilliam very regularly from 23 Edw. I. eleven years before the Barony of Greystoke devolved upon him by the settlement above mentioned so that he was already possessed of one Barony by writ, and it does not appear that any alteration took place in the writs that were addressed to him for the remainder of his life, which continued till 10 Edw. II. to be directed "Radulpho Filio Willielmi," but when his grandson (who was the next summoned) was called to Parliament, the writs were directed to him by the title of Ralph de Greystoke, a distinction that was ever afterwards used till both the Baronies, thus united, fell to a sole heir general, who married the Lord Dacre, as will be shewn hereafter.

This Ralph Fitzwilliam was grandson of another Ralph Fitzwilliam by Joan his wife, who was paternal aunt of the aforesaid ^k Vinc. North^d, no. 149, fol. 1.

John de Greystoke who made the preceding settlement. He married Marjoria, daughter and coheir of Hugh de Bulbeck, in whose right his posterity enjoyed a moiety of the Barony of Bulbeck in Northumberland, and by whom he had issue Robert his son and heir, who was forty years old at his father's death in a^o. 10 Edw. II. ¹ but died in the same year, leaving Elizabeth his widow surviving, and Ralph their son, who at that time was only seventeen years old.^m

This Elizabeth was daughter of Ralph Nevill of Scotton, and died 25 Oct. a^o. 20 Edw. III. ⁿ The son, upon coming of age, was summoned to Parliament by the title of Ralph de Greystoke in 14 Edw. II. and had like summons in 15 and 16, but died in the latter year, leaving by Alice his wife, daughter of Hugh Lord Audley, and afterwards wife of Ralph Lord Nevill of Raby, William his son and heir, an infant only three years old.^o He came of age about the 15th or 16th Edw. III. I do not find that he had any summons to Parliament till the 22d., but from that year he was regularly called to all the Parliaments till the 31st of Edw. III. He died on the 6th of the ides of July in a^o. 33, and left issue by Joan, daughter of Henry Lord Fitzhugh, three sons, Ralph, William, and Robert, and a daughter Alice, who married to Sir Robert de Harington, but died without issue.

Ralph, the eldest son and heir, was only six years old when his father died, and his mother and grandmother were both living. He made proof of his age and had livery of his lands in 48 Edw. III.,^p but it was not upon occasion of his mother's death, as Dugdale gives it, but merely because his minority had ceased, for his mother lived to Sept. a^o. 5 Hen. IV. at which time he was found to be her son and heir, and upwards of 46 years old.^q His grandmother died in 49 Edw. III. and then the Jury said he was 22.^r He married Katharine, daughter of Roger Lord Clifford, who died on the 9th of the calends of May a^o. 1 Hen. V. and having been constantly summoned to Parliament from the time of his coming of age to that of his death, departed this life on 6 Apr. a^o. 5 Hen. V. leaving John his son and heir 28 years old and upwards.^s

He had issue also three other sons besides John, and two daughters; the sons William, Thomas, and Ralph were all Knights, but all died without issue. Of the daughters, one of them married to the eldest son of the Lord Welles, and the other to Sir William Bowes.[†]

This John Lord Greystoke married to Elizabeth, eldest of the two daughters and coheirs of Robert Lord Ferrers of Wemme and Oversley, by which a moiety of that ancient Barony became united with his other honours.[‡] By this lady he had six sons and as many daughters.[§] Four of the younger sons, Thomas, Richard, John, and Henry, are described by Glover as having died without issue. Of the fifth named William, Glover takes no other notice than by ranking him in the list of the children. One of the daughters, Katherine, became a nun at Barking, the rest were disposed of in marriage in the following manner, viz. Joan to Lord Darcy, Ann to Sir Ralph Bigot, Eleanor to Sir Ralph Eure, Maud to the Lord Scrope of Upsal, and Elizabeth to Roger Thornton of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

He was summoned to Parliament regularly from 7 Hen. V. to 12 Hen. VI. and dying 8 Aug. a^o. 14 Hen. VI. was succeeded by Ralph his eldest son, who was then 22 years old.[¶]

This Ralph married to his first wife Elizabeth, daughter of William Lord Fitzhugh, and to his second Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Tyrrell; by the latter he had only a daughter, named Ann, who died unmarried; by the former he had seven sons (three of whom were named William) and six daughters, two of whom, Joan and Isabella, died unmarried; Elizabeth was married first to Gilbert Talbot, and secondly to John Lord Scrope of Upsal; Margery, married to Thomas Grey, brother of Edward Grey of Chillingham; Mary, married to Thomas Salvin; and Anne. I have not met with any issue from either of the six younger sons; the eldest, named Robert, died in the lifetime of his father, a^o 1 Rich. III. leaving by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Edmund Grey, Earl of Kent, one only child named Elizabeth: And the said Ralph last Lord Greystoke of that name, having been summoned to Parliament without any interruption, throughout all the time of the dreadful conflict between the Houses of York and Lancaster, from 15 Hen. VI. to 1 Hen. VII. departed this life in the following year, leaving his said grand-daughter Elizabeth, then an infant, his sole heir, who marrying to Thomas Lord Dacre of Gillesland, carried into that family the Baronies of Fitzwilliam and Greystoke, a moiety of the Barony of Bolebec, a moiety of that of Wemme, a fourth of that of Montfichet, and one third of half the Barony of Merley or Morpeth, which must have been conveyed with the Barony of Greystoke, about the 25th year of Edw. I. For her posterity see DACRE of GILLESLAND.

DACRE OF GILLESLAND.—Vol. II. 22.

The first of this family who was summoned to Parliament was Ralph de Dacre, and not William, as Dugdale states, and to whom he mistakingly ascribes writs from 28 Edw. I. to 12 Edw. II. no such writs being upon record. This Ralph, some years before he was called to Parliament, had contrived to carry off by night the rich heiress of the Barony of Gillesland, then a ward of the King's, and residing in Warwick castle. Her name was Margaret, and she was the only child of Thomas de Multon, who had been summoned by the title of Thomas de Multon de Gillesland, who died in a^o. 7 Edw. II. leaving her an infant of the age of 13 years. He obtained a pardon for this offence a^o 11 Edw. II.^z as far as the King was interested therein, and was summoned to Parliament from the 14th of Edw. II. to 12 Edw. III. by the title of Ralph de Dacre only. He died the next year, leaving the said Margaret surviving, by whom he had four sons, William, Ralph, Hugh, and Thomas, the three former of whom successively enjoyed the dignity.

William, the eldest son, was only 20 years old at his father's death, he was summoned to Parliament from 24 to 34 Edw. III. in which year he died without issue, leaving Katharine his wife surviving, as well as Margaret his mother. His next brother, Ralph,^a then Rector of the church of Prestcotes, was found to be his heir, and then 40 years of age.

This Ralph obtained livery of the lands of his brother, upon his accession to the dignity,^b and his mother dying soon after, he also obtained possession of her inheritance,^d consisting chiefly of the lands belonging to the Barony of Gillesland, which are specified in Dugdale. He was summoned from 36 to 47 Edw. III. and died in the 49 Edw. III. leaving Hugh his next brother and heir^e of the age of 40 years.

Which Hugh was summoned to Parliament from 50 Edw. III. to 7 Ric. II. and dying in that year left issue by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Alexander Lord Maxwell of Scotland, William his son and heir, then 26 years old and upwards.^f

This William Lord Dacre married Joan daughter of James Earl Douglas of Scotland, and had issue Thomas Lord Dacre, and having been regularly summoned from 7 to 22 Ric. II. died the 20th of June in that year, leaving the said Thomas his son only 12 years of age. It is remarkable that writs of summons appear to have been directed to this William with great regularity to every Parliament from 22 Ric. II. the year of his death, to the 5th of Hen. IV. inclusive.

Thomas Lord Dacre, son of the said William, coming of age in a^o. 10 Hen. IV. made proof thereof, and had livery of his lands, but was not summoned to Parliament until the 14th, when the distinction of Gillesland was added to his name, and continued in all subsequent writs during his life, which terminated in a^o. 36 Hen. VI. His wife was Philippa, daughter of Ralph Nevill, Earl of Westmorland, by whom he had a very numerous issue, whereof Sir Thomas his eldest son died before him, and left, by Elizabeth his wife, daughter and heir of Sir William Bowett, Knt. an only daughter named Joan, who became heir general to her grandfather, and being then 25 years of age,^g and married to Sir Richard Fenys, Knt. it pleased the King immediately to declare and accept her said husband to be Lord Dacre and one of the Barons of the Realm, with all the privileges and pre-eminences belonging to such dignity.^h See the descent of this Barony in FIENES, whose posterity enjoy it to this day. But it pleased the Crown also upon this occasion to deviate from the usual practice, and instead of permitting the heir general to succeed to all the honours of her grandfather, the King immediately summoned her uncle Ralph to Parliament by the title of Ralph Dacre de Gillesland, ch^r,ⁱ by this means increasing the number of his friends in the House of Lords, where both these new Peers rank in the list of those who subscribed and sealed to the oath proposed and read by the Bishop of Winchester on 11 Dec. a^o. 38, in the presence of the King and of "the Lords Spirituell and Temporell, beyng in the Parlement Chambre at Coventre," whereby the subscribers swore allegiance to the King, to Queen Margaret, and to Prince Edward, promising that in case of the King's death to take and accept the said redoubted Lord the Prince Edward for their Sovereign.

But the honour thus conferred upon the Lord Ralph he did not long enjoy, being amongst the number of those slain on the Lancastrian side at the battle of Towton, which decided the fate of that party, and raised the house of York to the throne. He was accordingly attainted in the first Parliament of King Edw. IV. and his forfeited lands enumerated in the text, appear to have been immediately granted to Fienes the husband of his niece Joan.^k His brother Humphrey was still living, and was the male representative of the family. Although he was also included in the general Act of attainder, yet he soon found means to reconcile himself to the new government, and was admitted to the grace and favour of King Edward at his palace of Westminster in the 2d year of his reign.^l It was certainly not this Humfrey who, by the title of Dacre, swore fealty to Prince Edward in a^o. 11 Edw. IV.; but Sir Richard Fenys before mentioned, who was then the only Lord Dacre,^m Humfrey not having been admitted to the Peerage at that time, nor his attainder reversed. It appears, however, that he was in a situation to contend as heir male with Joan Fenys Lady Dacre, the heir general, for several of the lands of their ancestor Thomas Lord Dacre, and that the King, upon their mutual reference, undertook to settle the contest, each party engaging in a bond of ten thousand marks to abide by the King's arbitrament. The King's award, which was under his Privy Seal, dated at Westminster

8 April a^o. 13 is a very important document. It begins by stating that divers variances, claims, demands, and debates had arisen between the parties "of and upon and for all castles, lordships, manors, lands, tenements, and advowsons, that sometime were the said Thomas Dacre, late Lord Dacre and Philippe his wife, or either of them," &c. that having "herde the titles, evidences, and interest for both parties of the premises, and for more riper declaration of the same, the title of both parties of the premises, Our Judges hath shewed and declared before Us, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Our Court of Parliament, we will, and by these presents awardeth upon the premises, that the said Richard Fenys, Knight, in right of the said Johane his wife, and the heires of her bodie lawfullie begotten, be repute, had, named and called the Lord Dacre, and that the said Richard Fenys and the heires of the said Johane begotten, keepe, have, and use the same seat and place in everie of Our Parliaments, as the said Thomas Dacre, Knight, late Lord Dacre, had used and kept." It then proceeds to award the manors of Holbech, co. Linc. and Fishwick and Eccleston, co. Lanc. to the said Joan and the heirs of the body of her grandfather Thomas Lord Dacre, with remainder to his right heirs, and having thus provided for the heir general, goes on to the care of the heir male, and awards, "that the said Humfrey Dacre, Knight, and the heirs male of the body of the said Thomas late Lord Dacre, comyng, bee reputed, had, named, and called the Lord Dacre of Gillesland, and he and the heirs male of the said Thomas late Lord Dacre, to have, use and keepe the place in Our Parliaments next adjoining, beneath the said place that the said Richard Fenys, Knt. Lord Dacre, now hath and occupieth," &c. then follows the allotment of lands to the heir male, viz. The manors of Irthington, Burgh up the Sands, La-singby, Dacre, Barton, the advowson of the Priory of Lanercost, "with all other lands and tenements, and advowsons in the shires of Westmerland and Cumberland, the which were the said Thomas Dacre, late Lord Dacre," with remainder to the right heirs of the body of said Thomas, remainder to his right heirs; to these is also annexed the manor of Halton, co. Lanc. It also decrees that each party shall deliver over to the other, reciprocally, all such deeds and evidences as they may respectively possess which relate to the lands hereby awarded, to the other party, and that this partition of the lands shall be made as sure to each as shall be advised by their respective Counsals.^a Accordingly an Act was passed in the Parliament of that year, repealing and annulling so much of the general Act of Attainder as respected this Humfrey and his late elder brother Randolph Lord Dacre, and enabling him and his heirs and the heirs of his said brother, and those of Thomas late Lord Dacre his father, to have and enjoy all and all manner of names, state, and dignity, and have claim and enjoy all castles, manors, lordships, &c. which they formerly possessed, or which would have come to them if no such attainder had ever been, and confirming to the said Sir Richard Fenys and Johane his wife and the said Sir Humfrey respectively, all the lands which had been so awarded to each by the King.

From this period, therefore, I conceive this Sir Humfrey Dacre is to be accounted Baron Dacre of Gillesland, holding that dignity only to himself and the heirs male of the body of his father, and not as a Barony by Writ.

He does not appear to have been summoned to Parliament till 22 Edw. IV. indeed there was not any Parliament called between the 12th and 22d. He died a°. 1 Hen. VII. and was buried at Lanercost; but as no notice is taken in the text of his wife, or any of his other children, except Thomas the eldest son, I shall set down here what I find about them: his wife was Maud, daughter of Sir Thomas Parr and great-aunt to Queen Katharine, and their issue, besides Thomas above-mentioned, four other sons, Philip, Humfrey, Hugh, and Christopher, and three daughters, Elizabeth, Katharine, and Anne, one of whom was the wife of Sir Thomas Strangeways, knt.

Thomas Lord Dacre of Gillesland succeeded his father. He married Elizabeth, the granddaughter and sole heir of Ralph the last Lord Greystoke, who brought with her the entire Baronies of Fitzwilliam and Greystoke, a moiety of the Baronies of Bulbeck and Wemme, a fourth part of that of Montfichet, and one third of a moiety of that of Merley or Morpeth.—I have nothing further to add to the account given of him in the text, except that he was buried at Lanercost with his father, and that his wife died 13 Aug. a°. 8 Hen. VIII.

William Lord Dacre of Gillesland, son and heir of Thomas, besides the issue mentioned in the text, had two other sons,

^a Pat. a°. 43 Eliz. p. 1. per Inspex.

George, who died without issue, and Edward, who, joining in the Northern rebellion with his brother Leonard, was like him attainted a^o. 13 Eliz. Leonard died without issue, and so I believe did Edward, but Francis the youngest son married Dorothy, daughter and heir of John Radcliffe of Derwentwater, and had issue in 1585 a son named Francis, then seven years old, and five daughters, Eleanor, Frances, Mary, Elizabeth, and Anne. Lord William died at his seat at Kirkoswald, 12 Nov. 1563, and was buried in Carlisle cathedral 14 Dec. following, his sons Thomas, Leonard, and Francis attending as mourners.^o

Thomas Lord Dacre of Gillesland, eldest son of William, succeeded his father, and married to his first wife Elizabeth, daughter of Ralph Nevill Earl of Westmorland; she died without issue, and he married secondly to Elizabeth Leyborne, as in the text. He died at Kirkoswald on Monday 1 July a^o 1566, and was buried in the cathedral of Carlisle 25th of the same month, the Bishop performing the service, and Lord Scroope following the body as chief mourner.^p The infant son and heir also attended, and when the ceremony of the offering was about to commence, the record says, "Portcullis pursevant sett the yonge Lord downe w^{ch} was under the age of five yeres, and caused him to stand by the said Busshoppe on his right hand, and the said Portcullis on the said Lord's right hand," and when the coat of arms was offered to the Bishop, he "gave the same to the yonge Lord Dacre's, and he gave the same to Portcullis, whoo laid it on a table by, appointed for the purpose." He left issue a son named George not five years old, and three daughters, Anne, Elizabeth, and Mary, the eldest of whom, Anne, was of the age of twelve years two months and three days when her father died. The widow married Thomas Duke of Norfolk, to whom she was third wife, and died without issue by him in a^o 10 Eliz. Her infant son survived her only a year, and by his premature death 17 May 1569, in the 8th year of his age, his three sisters above named became his coheirs, who being all minors, the Duke, their father in law, obtaiued a grant of their wardship and marriage, and disposed of them to his three sons. The death of the young Lord gave rise to a question as to the inheritance of his dignities. Leonard Dacre, uncle of the young Lord, assuming the title of Lord Dacre as uncle and next heir male of the young Lord; this assumption the Duke of Norfolk, as guardian of the coheirs general, thought proper to resist on their behalf, alleging that the title of Lord Dacre could not pass to the said Leonard unless there were some special intail thereof made to the heirs male of some of the ancestors of the deceased Lord, and therefore it was to be supposed that the said Leonard wrongfully, and without any lawful title, did usurp the name of Lord Dacre, of Gillesland and Greystock, and although the trial thereof of very right did belong to him by reason of his office of Earl Marshal of England, as matter incident to be decided before him in respect of his said office,¹ yet for that he was both guardian and father in law to the said coheirs, for avoiding of all manner of suspicion of favour to be shewed to them, other than the justice of the cause should require, he became humble suitor to the Queen, and withall gave his assent that some of her Highness' Counsell might be by her appointed to heare, determine, and adjudge the right and title of the said Baronie and name of honour, of Lord Dacre of Gillesland and Greystock: "Whereupon it pleased the Queen's Majesty, by the full consent, assent, and agreement of the same Duke, to direct her Highness' Commission to the Marques and Earles hereafter mentioned, giving them thereby power and authority to hear, determine and adjudge the controversie according to equity and right, with special promise and saving always that the same should not be by any manner of means prejudicial, but that in such like causes of debate and contraversie that at any time hereafter shall happen or come in question, the said Duke, by virtue of his said office of Earl Marshalship, may hear, determine and adjudge the same, as though this Commission had been never granted."

The Commissioners were the Marquis of Northampton, and the Earls of Pembroke, Arundel, and Leicester, who sat in the Palace at Greenwich on the 12th and 19th of June 1569 within a month after the death of the late Lord. Their decree, which is very long, states the situation of the coheirs, and that they were inheritable to all such lands and hereditaments as their brother was seised of in fee simple, or fee tail general; that since the decease of their brother, Leonard Dacre, esquire, their uncle, as cousin and next heir male, had "claimed and challenged the Barony, honour, title and name of dignity of Lord Dacre, as a thing descended unto him by the death of his said nephew, and by the same name," had tendered his livery before Sir William Cecil, Master of Wards and Liveries, "for all the lands and hereditaments of the said George late Lord Dacre;" that the Duke of Norfolk, on behalf of his said wards, had "by way of information or complaint" shewed to her Majesty, that the said Leonard did unlawfully usurp to himself "the Baronie, title and name of dignity of Lord Dacre, contrarie to all right and justice, and to the peril of the disherison of the said coheirs," and thereupon prayed her Majesty to assign some persons of honour to hear the said Leonard and his Counsail learned how and by what lawful warrant he can justify his claim, and also the Counsail of the coheirs what they can shew in disproof thereof; that her Majesty accordingly appointed the said Commissioners to hear "both parties, and their Counsaillours, and all other their allegations and proofs, and thereupon to decide, adjudge, and determine the same according to right and justice, and, that done, to present and exhibit their proceedings therein to her Majesty." That the Commissioners on the 6th of June moved and required the Duke of Norfolk as guardian to come before them at Greenwich on the 12th. with Counsel, and directed their letters to the said Leonard, signed with all their hands, requiring and commanding him to appear before them with his Counsel at the same time and place, and to bring his proofs; that accordingly on the 12th all the said parties appeared, and also the Master of the Court of Wards and Liveries; that the said Master of Wards shewed to the Commissioners on behalf of the coheirs, that the said Barony was by course of inheritance lawfully vested in the said George by descent from his ancestors, and that the said wards were sisters and heirs of the whole blood to the said George, and therefore the said Barony ought not to descend to the said Leonard as cousin and heir male of George, as long as he had any other nearer heir in blood living, unless the said Leonard could prove the said Barony to be in such wise specially entailed, as that he were by the limitations thereof inheritable. Leonard alleged that he had not made, nor could as yet make, "full search in such places as were expedient for the finding of such records as were necessary for the declaration and maintenance of his title in the said Barony, and that then lacking the same, he was not able to give such full instructions to his Counsel learned, nether, in so short a time as was to him prefixed, to bring such Counsel as the weight and importance of the matter did require," and therefore prayed "licence and permission to make full search in the Tower and elsewhere, and amongst the records of the Heralds and officers of Arms, and to have such time for that purpose, and for more perfect instruction of his Counsel, as should be meet and convenient." The Duke and Counsel of the coheirs reply, that Leonard's request was made only for the purpose of delay; that the Duke upon going to the Tower Rolls, Heralds' Office, &c. on the part of the coheirs, found that Leonard had made as full search as could be had there, and had always been beforehand with his Grace at all these places, and pray to be heard for the said coheirs to answer and avoid Leonard's pretensions, and if Leonard could not in convenient time disprove their allegations and entitle himself to the Barony, that then order might proceed against him accordingly. The Commissioners agreeing to hear the Duke, &c. they shewed and declared

That Barons, Peers of this realm, were made by Kings or Queens in three forms and sorts, viz. by Writ, by Letters Patent, and by Act of Parliament, and that all Barons beginning by writ, neither should nor ought to descend unto any heir male from any ancestor so long as the same ancestor had any other nearer heir in blood; and that the Barony and name of dignity of Lord Dacre, now in question, began first by writ, and not otherwise, and therefore neither should nor ought to descend to said Leonard: shewed examples, and particularly that in 36 Hen. VI. the ancient title of Lord Dacre descended to one Jane Dacre as granddaughter and heir of Thomas Lord Dacre, &c. and her posterity still enjoy the title with place in Parliament above the ancestors of said George. That Humfrey, sometime Lord Dacre, being son and heir male of said Thomas Lord Dacre, grandfather of the said Jane, was called to the estate of Baronie by writ in a^o. 13 Edw. IV.;^r that as the said Barony of Dacre in the time of Henry VI. did not descend to the said Humfrey as son and heir male of Thomas Lord Dacre, for that the said Jane was cousin and next heir in blood of said Thomas, so that the Barony beginning by writ in the said Humfrey ought not to descend to said Leonard, &c. the said sisters being nearer in blood, and shewed a pedigree of the ancient house of Dacre and Parliament Rolls, an Act of Parliament in 13 Edw. IV. for reversing attainder of Randolph Lord Dacre and of Humfrey Dacre his brother, attainted by the name of Humfrey Dacre, knt. "and for restitution to be made to said Humfrey and to his heirs of the said Barony, title and name of dignity, lost by the said attainder,"^a by the which the said Duke and Counsel learned of the said coheirs inferred that the Barony now in question ought not to descend to the said Leonard as heir male, living said sisters and coheirs, or any issue of their bodies. Leonard refused to make present answer, but relied upon his former petitions and demands; the Commissioners desired all parties to withdraw whilst they should consider of Leonard's request and their further proceedings: after some deliberation they were again called in, and also divers officers of Arms, and the order and resolution of the Commissioners was published to them, in form following, that is to say, That said Leonard should be permitted to have full and free search in the Tower and other places where her Majesty's records are kept, as also amongst the Heralds and Officers of Arms, and appointed Sunday following, being 19 June, for next meeting. At which day and place the parties appeared, and Leonard by his Counsel openly confessed that he and his solicitors had been admitted to free access and search, and did accordingly search without hindrance, but rather by means of the said Duke furthered; that they could not find that said Barony had any commencement either by Act of Parliament or Letters Patent, but had its first beginning by the calling of one of his ancestors by the writ of King Hen. III. in his Parliament holden in the 15th year of his reign; which Barony so beginning, he and his Counsel contended ought to descend to him as heir male to his said ancestor, and not to any heir female, who they alleged were not in law capable by descent of any such honour or dignity, which was the whole sum and effect of all that was alleged by Leonard and his Counsel.

The Counsel for the coheirs replied that the contrary appeared to be true, by the example alleged by the Duke in the case of ^a Compare this with the Act, which says nothing about restitution to Barony lost by attainder.

Jane, wife of Sir Richard Fynes, and in many others. The Commissioners with one assent fully and clearly adjudged, decided, and determined that the Barony, honour, title, and name of dignity of Lord Dacre, now claimed by the said Leonard in form aforesaid, cannot nor ought to descend or grow unto said Leonard, so long as the said coheirs or any issue from their bodies shall continue; and thereupon further ordered and adjudged, and in her Majesty's name straitly charged and commanded the said Leonard that he shall not, nor do at any time hereafter presume or take upon him the said title or name of dignity of the Lord Dacre, nor wittingly permit or suffer his friends or servants to attribute or give unto him the name, title, or dignity of the Lord Dacre so long as the said coheirs or any of them, or any issue of their several bodies shall continue, or until the said Leonard shall be created a Baron, or thereunto called by writ according to the accustomed calling to the state of Barony, or shall shew to the said Marquis and Earls, or to other of the nobility for that purpose to be assigned by her Majesty, such Act of Parliament or Letters Patent heretofore made for the entailing of the said Barony to the heir male, and that thereby the said Leonard Dacre is lawfully inheritable to the same; with this further declaration made by the said Marquis and Earls that they would inform her Majesty of their proceedings herein, and the said Marquis and Earls declared unto the said Leonard, that if he could at any time hereafter shew unto them any such Act of Parliament or Letters Patent, whereby the said Barony and the title and name of dignity of the Lord Dacre should in anywise be entailed, in such form that the said Leonard should lawfully be inheritable to the same in tail, that then the same Marquis and Earls in the behalf of the same Leonard shall and will become humble suitors unto her Majesty for the ratifying and allowing of the same accordingly; and to the end this order and judgement touching the premises should remain and be of record, all the said Marquis and Earls have ordered and decreed that that this their said order and judgement be delivered into the Office of the Heralds and Officers of Arms, there to be fully and wholly enrolled and recorded without any manner of addition or diminution to be made unto the same.

This decision was wrong. The award of King Edward IV. in a^o. 13, did certainly entail the Barony of Dacre of Gillesland, with advice of the Judges in Parliament, upon the heirs male of the body of Thomas Lord Dacre, who died a^o. 37 Hen. VI. George, the young Lord, inherited the dignity as heir male, and upon his death without issue, Leonard became heir male, and in that character rightfully assumed the title of Lord Dacre of Gillesland; but, upon suing out his livery by that title, he was opposed by the Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, as guardian of the three sisters of Lord George, on whom the Duke alleged the said dignity to have devolved as heirs general of their brother and of the said Lord Thomas, and to whom the Lords Commissioners, who were appointed to decide the question, did in the end adjudge it. As far as can be gathered from their report the award was not produced before them. If so, the defect must be ascribed either to the ignorance or negligence of Leonard's solicitors. At present the error is not very material, because time has removed all possible competitors; but the immediate consequence proved fatal to one of the parties and fruitless to the other. Leonard was driven into rebellion, exile, and a premature death; and the ladies, except the nominal victory, gained nothing that either of them could enjoy, for the honour being indivisible fell into abeyance amongst them and their issue, and remains so to this hour: it may be truly said, they robbed him of that which not enriched them, but made him poor indeed.

Of these three sisters two only, Anne and Elizabeth, left issue; that of the former will appear under the title of Howard DUKE OF NORFOLK, and that of the latter under Howard EARL OF CARLISLE. They carried with them, besides this dignity (thus obtained), the entire Baronies of Fitzwilliam and Greystoke, a moiety of those of Bulbec and Wemme; a fourth of the Barony of Montfichet, and a third of a moiety of that of Merley or Morpeth, all of which were brought into the family of Dacre subsequent to the award of Edward the Fourth, and were consequently not affected by it.

[III.] DE GORHAM, OF LEICESTERSHIRE.

BESIDES the possessors of Gorhambury, other members of the same family^a from the Maine emigrated from Britany, and settled in England, about the middle of Century XII. Several of these persons have already been incidentally mentioned:—the branch about to be more particularly noticed, as established in Leicestershire, was probably from the same stock, though the connexion has not yet been ascertained with certainty.

1. WILLIAM DE GORHAM died in 1199, seised of lands in Stapleford^b, near Melton Mowbray.

2. WILLIAM DE GORHAM, nephew of the preceding person, and son of Ogger, disputed the inheritance of Stapleford, in 1199, with his aunt Wimarch.^b

^a It is uncertain whether we must refer to the family of Gorram of the Maine, WILLIAM DE GORAM who, in the reign of Henry II. was possessed of half a knight's fee in Staplehurst [Kent?], and who was Lord of the manor of Frelberi, in the county of Southampton. His daughter DAMATA DE GORAM married Ralph de Broc of Agenet Castle; she died before 1205. (Close Rolls, 6 John, m. 19.) An undated grant by William de Goram, to Ralph de Broc and Damata his wife, of half a fee in Staplehurst to be held from Earl William, was among the Records of the late Earls of Peterborough, and is printed in that rare volume, Halsted's Genealogies, p. 27; in the pedigree of Broc, in that work, the following arms are assigned to William de Goram: Barry of 12, Sable and Gules; but whether from a seal appended to this grant is not stated, and the authority may be suspected. The inheritance of Damata de Goram was disputed in 1223 by her two daughters, Edelina, who married Stephen de Turnham (deceased before 1215, Pipe Roll 16 John, Surrey) and Sybilla de Broc (Plac. coram Concil. Regis 7 Hen. III. rot. 20, vide Halsted ut supra, p. 27).

3. REGINALD DE GORHAM was the incumbent of Knipton, Leicestershire, in 1220, having been presented by Sir William Avenel, knight. He died in 1238.

4. WILLIAM DE GORHAM occurs in 1262 as alienating 15 acres of land in Scandeford ^c [Scalford] to Geoffrey son of Richard de Scandeford, to be held from the said William and Christiana his wife, and her heirs. In 1264 William de Gorham, of Stapleford, was murdered during the civil commotions; a free pardon for this deed was granted to Peter de Montfort senior, Peter de Montfort junior, Robert de Montfort, Adam parson of Preston, and others.^d

5. JOHN DE GORHAM was lord of a manor in Stapleford in 1264.^e

6. AMICIA DE GORHAM died, in 1278, seised ^f, in Leicestershire, of lands at Drayton and Prestgrave in the parish of Bringhurst, and of the advowson and manor of Medbourne; also, in Northamptonshire, of land at Cotton in the parish of Gretton. Her heir ^f was John de Kirkby, afterwards Bishop of Ely, who died in 1290. Sir William de Kirkby, of Melton Mowbray, father of the Bishop, married EMMA ^g DE GORHAM, probably a sister of Amicia.

7. GERIN DE GORHAM was uncle ^h of John de Kirkby, Bishop of Ely. He was presented ^h to the living of Lobenham, Leicestershire, in 1286. A lease of a certain portion of the tithes of that parish was granted him, by Peter de Esseby, Prior of Daventry, at the request of his nephew the Bishop of Ely: a dispute having arisen between the parties, the matter was decided in 1289, by Oliver Bishop of Lincoln, in favor of the Convent; but, Gerin having confessed his mistake, and having erred "rather in simplicity than in bad principle^h," the Prior did not proceed to exact the penalty to which he was entitled. He died in 1311-12.ⁱ

The Kirkbys became extinct in 1302 (on the death of William brother of the Bishop) and merged in the families of Houby, Prilly, Grimbaud, and D'Oseville.

8. REGINALD DE GORHAM, "of Stapleford," occurs in 1307, and in 1336, as a witness to certain grants of land in that parish to John de Woodford, of Brentyngby.^k

9. ROBERT DE GORHAM, "of Stapleford," occurs in 1336, as a witness to some of the grants just noticed.^k

10. RALPH DE GORHAM was probably of the Stapleford family. In 1299 he was presented to the rectory of Little Oakley, Northamptonshire, by William de Kirkby, brother and heir of John Bishop of Ely. In 1304 he was presented to the rectory of Great Munden^l, Hertfordshire, by Christiana, widow of William de Kirkby. He died in 1349.

The name has not been met with in Leicestershire after the middle of Century XIV; it is probable that the family has long been extinct in that county.

[IV.] DE GORHAM OF NORTHAMPTONSHIRE.

The Gorhams of Northamptonshire were, in all probability, a branch of the same family as that established in Leicestershire. The first^m of the name who decidedly occurs in this county is

The following fines record these transactions:—

2. WILLIAM DE GORHAM occurs in 1233 as possessed of the same subinfeudations: in that year a fine was levied between William de l'Isle plaintiff, and William de Gorham deforciant, on the customs and services for the lands held by William de Gorham in Cransley, Flore, Wingrave, and Rolvesham, by the service of three fees and a half for all his lands.^p

Unde idem Willielmus exigebat quod prædictus WILLIELMUS DE GORHAM faceret ei servicium unius militis pro prædicto tenemento in Cransle; et servicium unius militis pro prædicto tenemento in Flore; et servicium unius militis et dimidii pro prædictis tenementis in Wengrave et in Rolvesham. Unde placitum fuit inter eos in eadem curia; scilicet, quod prædictus WILLIELMUS DE GORHAM recognovit et concessit quod ipse et heredes sui de cetero facient prædicto Willielmo de Insula et heredibus suis servicium unius militis de tenemento quod de eo tenet in Cransle; et servicium unius militis de tenemento quod de eo tenet in Flore; et servicium unius militis et dimidii de tenementis quæ de eo tenet in Wengrave et in Rolvesham. 3. WILLIAM DE GORHAM, a descendant and probably the son of the preceding person, appears to have died in or shortly before 1296; for in that year Hugh de Cransley held one knight’s fee in Cransley, and Margaret Dru held one knight’s fee in Flore,

4. Sir HUGH DE GORHAM was doubtless of the Northamptonshire family of that name, but his descent has not been ascertained. He first occurs ^r about 1280, as having married Margery, sole daughter of Sir William l'Angevin ^s, of Whaplode, in Lincolnshire, by Alicia his wife. Her father died about 1270; and her mother early in 1276, possessed of lands in Whaplode and Holbeach, called le Neweland, with a marsh belonging to them, being her dower: these were held from Henry Longchamp, who was deceased, leaving a daughter, Alicia, a minor; Margery Angevin being also, it may be presumed, under age, the King took this property into his own hand, and in the same year granted the custody of it to William Longchamp for 20 marcs. ^t Sir Hugh de Gorham married this heiress between 1276 and 1281; for, in

^s The family of Angevin or l'Angevin [Andegavensis, or of Anjou] possessed property in Northamptonshire, and probably in Lincolnshire, from the time of the Norman Conquest. Thorold, Abbot of Peterborough, alienated lands in Churchfield, Wermington, and Oundle, to that family, before 1099: William Angevin, held one fee there in the time of Richard I. (Hugo Candidus, Hist. Petroburg. p. 62, in Sparke's Hist. Angl. Script.); he died before 1199, leaving a widow Ysmena (Rot. Curie Regis, Trin. 1 Joh. m. 8, dorso). Baldric Angevin held the same in 1253. (Inspex. 7 Edw. II. n. 1 of charters to Peterborough, dated 37 Hen. III. and 28 Edw. I. transcribed in Bridges's MSS. H. pp. 489, 493, in the Bodleian Libr.) William Angevin also held land in Holbeach, temp. Ric. I. (MSS. Banks, Brit. Mus. Addit. 6118, f. 39.) Peter Angevin passed land at Burton in 1203 to Baldric Angevin (Fin. Linc. 5 Joh. Trin.). Godfrey, son of Henry de Aungevin, occurs in 1199 (Rot. Cur. Regis 1 Joh.); and in 1225 (Fin. Northamp. 9 Hen. III.); and Agnes Angevin, his sister, as possessed of land in Deresburc; Matilda, daughter of Robert Aungevin, in 1250, as possessed of land in Tyd (Fin. Linc. 34 Hen. III.); and Sir William, son of William Angevin, in 1257, as having land in Quappelade (Fin. Linc. 41 Hen. III.) In 1265 Sir William, son of William Angevin, of Quappelade, granted 15 acres in Quappelade to Spalding Priory, to the prejudice of the King (Hund. Roll, 3 Edw. I. n. 8. m. 3 dorso, vol. i. p. 272); three of these grants exist in the Cartulary of Spalding, MSS. Harl. 742, ff. 191, 191 b; his land lay south of the common drain called Asgerdyke, near the land of Thomas de Multon.

Margery de Gorham died in the latter part of the year 1330, or the early part of 1331.^h

6. WILLIAM DE GORHAM, the eldest son of Hugh and Margery, succeeded to their Northamptonshire estates. In 1312, he and his wife Isabella had a grant of the reversion of the manor of Churchfield, excepting one messuage and 10 acres of land, Hugh and Margery holding it during their lives by the payment annually of one rose.ⁱ In 1332, immediately on this reversion falling in, he sold the manor for 100 marcs [75*l.*] to Robert Wyvill of Liveden, Bishop of Salisbury^k; in the same year, by consent of Isabella his wife, he alienated 14½ acres of land, in the same place, to Robert de Bere and Elena his wife.^l He was living in 1338.^m

IV. n. 45), with whose heirs it remained till the Gunpowder-plot, when that family was attainted. It was afterwards with the Earl of Sandwich; from whom it passed to the family of Gwyn, who held it in 1720. It is now the property of Jesse Watts Russel, esq. of Biggin Hall, Northamptonshire, and of Ilam, Staffordshire.

7. THOMAS DE GORHAM, the second son, and NICHOLAS the third son, of Hugh and Margery, succeeded to the Lincolnshire property. In 1329 they sold the reversion, after the death of Margery, of 130 acres in Whaplode marsh, to John son of Edmund of Whaplode.^a In 1330 Thomas de Gorham had a grant, to himself and his heirs, from his mother Margery, of a moiety of the capital messuage of the manor of Whaplode and its appurtenances, excepting 200 acres of land and 7*s.* 6*d.* rent; also the reversion of the residuum of the said manor, which Margery had demised to Sir Humfrey de Littlebury for a term of years, reserving to Margery an annuity of 20*l.* after the falling in of the said lease; with remainder to his brother Nicholas and his heirs, should he die without issue.^o In 1338, this grant was confirmed and recorded, after the death of Margery, by William her son and heir.^o The following double fine details these transactions:—

“ Hæc est finalis concordia facta &c. apud Westminst’ a die S̄cæ Trinitatis &c. . . . anno regni Regis Edwardi tertii a Conquestu quarto, inter THOMAM filium HUGONIS DE GORHAM querentem et MARGERIAM quæ fuit uxor HUGONIS DE GORHAM deforcientem, de manerio de Quappelade cum pertinentiis, exceptis 200 acris terræ et 7 solidatis et 6 denariis redditus in eodem manerio;—et postea apud Ebor’ a die S̄ci Michaelis &c. . . . anno regni ejusdem Regis Edwardi duodecimo, concessa et recordata post mortem prædictæ Margeriæ, inter prædictum THOMAM et WILLIELMUM DE GORHAM filium et heredem Margeriæ de prædicto manerio cum pertinentiis sicut prædictum est Prædictus Thomas recognovit prædictum manerium &c. esse jus ipsius Margeriæ; et pro hac recognitione, &c. In 1331, after the death of his mother, he confirmed to Sir Humfrey de Littlebury the release of the manor called Angevin's, which appears, therefore, to have been either one of the above described moieties, or a distinct manor; this deed is enrolled in the Exchequer:—

FAMILY OF DE GORHAM, OF NORTHAMPTONSHIRE. 341

8. THOMAS DE GORHAM, probably grandson of the preceding, was the last male descendant of that branch of his family which was established in Lincolnshire. MARGARET DE GORHAM, his sole daughter and heiress, married Sir John Littlebury,^q knight, about the year^r 1400; her arms^r were Gules, 3 shackbolts conjoined in fess point Or. By this marriage the Littleburys became possessed of the manor called Gorham's^r, which was undoubtedly one of the Whaplode manors belonging to her ancestor Margery de Gorham, although it has not been identified with any of the lordships^s at present existing in that place: this ^q The Littleburys were of Tid St. Giles' and of Holbeach, in the reign of Hen. III.; and of Stainby about 1460, by the marriage of Humfrey Littlebury, esq. with Margaret Davison, heiress of that property. Their pedigree, from Sir Martin Littlebury, Chief Justice of England, temp. Hen. III. to Humfrey Littlebury, esq. of Stainby about 1590, may be seen in MSS. Harl. 1550, ff. 15 b, 16. See also Holles's Collect. MSS. Lansd. 207 A, f. 261. The arms of Littlebury were, Argent, 2 lions passant guardant in pale Gules.

^r Cook's Visitation of Lincolnshire, 1562, MSS. Harl. 1190, f. 78.

^s There are six manors in Whaplode. (1.) Abbot's, formerly belonging to Croyland Abbey; in 1812 it was the property of Lord Eardley; it is now possessed by Mr. Edwards, solicitor, of Spalding. (2.) Aswick; This seems to have been formerly in possession of the Fitzwalters. (Papers of the Duke of Somerset.) It may therefore be conjectured that it was one of the manors in Whaplode of which John de Multon of Egremond died seised in 1334: Joanna, his daughter and heiress, wife of Robert Fitzwalter, died seised of it in 1363. (Esch. 37 Edw. III. n. 26.) Aswick (Fitzwalter's) belonged to Sir Roger Manners, and about 1650 was sold by John Manners, afterwards Duke of Rutland, to Sir Thomas Dawes; in 1689 it was transferred to Mr. Andrew Bonnel merchant of London, from whose descendants it passed by inheritance on the maternal side to the Duke of Somerset, the present owner. (3.) Hagbeach; in the reign of Edw. II. it was held by Adam de Hakebeche, and in 1320 was (with its appurtenances in Holbeach, Spalding, and Multon) the dowry of Agnes his widow, by whom it passed, through a second marriage, to John Pelryn in 1323 (Plac. de Banco Hil. 13 Edw. II. m. 56, 16 Edw. II. m. 99, and 17 Edw. II. m. 73); another moiety descended to Robert son of Adam de Hakebeche, who, in 1319, contended it against Richard le Skynner. (Plac. de Banco Pasch. 12 Edw. II. m. 21.) In 1527 Gilbert Pinchbeck died seised of the manor of Whaplode Hakebeche hall, in Whaplode and Holbeach; he was succeeded by Richard his son and heir, then ten years old. (Inq. post mortem, 19 Hen. VIII.) About the middle of the last century it was the property of Sir John Elwell; from whom it descended to the present Sir William H. Fremantle, Bart. by marriage. (4.) Kirk-fee, the property of the late Rev. Maurice Johnson. (5.) Knevet's; in 1554-5 Joanna Knyvet, widow, passed the manor of Whaplode to William Knyvet, gentleman (Fin. Linc. 2 Phil. & Mar. Mich.); in 1596, Henry Pratt, gentleman, of Weldon in Northamptonshire, died seised of it (Inq. post mortem, 38 Eliz.); and was succeeded by his son Anthony Pratt, then 29 years old; it was still in that family in 1692, but passed by marriage about 1703 to Charles Howson, Esq: whose family possessed it till 1805, when it was sold to Thomas Foster, Esq. who appears to have been the same manor which, in 1468, was alienated^t by Sir Robert Littlebury, knight, to Robert Tanfeld, senior, esquire, and Thomas Hoo, gentleman, of Abbot's Walden, Hertfordshire. A few traces of the antient possessions of the Gorham family still exist in Whaplode. In a terrier dated 1662, "Gorham's Place" is indicated, and "the manor of Littlebury" is written in the margin. "Gorham's Lane" still keeps its name, and is in the vicinity of "Gorham's Holt" (now the property of Mr. Slater of Spalding), which was thus noticed by Stukeley in the middle of the last century: "At Theophilus Grant's house in Whaplode, near Gorham's Holt, aqueducts of clay, let one into another, have been dug up." (Itin. Curios. Centuria i. p. 14.)

The Northamptonshire branch of this family, descended from Sir Hugh de Gorham, has not been traced lower than 1338; it seems to have fallen into obscurity soon after the alienation of the manor of Churchfield by his eldest son William. A trace of the family name, as connected with their property in that neighbourhood, remains in Benefield, where "Gorham's Meadow" still keeps its antient designation (1837). The name reappears^u with considerable frequency in the parochial Regis-died in 1822, bequeathing this manor to Charles Bonner, Esq. of Spalding, and another, in trust for his family. (6.) Pipewell, or Pipewell Grange, was parcel of the monastery of Pipewell in Northamptonshire; in 1596 Henry Pratt, gentleman, died seised of this manor, when it passed to his son and heir Anthony Pratt (Esch. 38 Eliz. MSS. Harl. 756, p. 234); in 1679 it belonged to Robert Beavour and Anne Peake, in 1697 to William Cawdrow in right of his wife; soon after, it was possessed by Michael Featherstone and Anne his wife; in 1739 it was in the family of Smith, from whom it passed by sale in or about 1817 to William Rogerson, Esq. of Boston, with whose devisees it now remains.—In 1384 William de Thorpe passed the manor of Whaplode to John le Warr (Fin. Linc. 7 Ric. II.); but it does not appear to which of the existing manors it corresponds.

^t Plac. de Banco, Mich. 8 Edw. IV. m. 628. The property conveyed is described as, the manor of Quappelade, 30 messuages, 20 cottages, 200 acres of land, 100 acres of meadow, 200 acres of pasture, 20 acres of woodland, 40 acres of marsh, and 10*l.* rent, with the appurtenances, in Quappelade, Holbeche, Flete, Spalding, and Kirketon in Holland: Thomas Fitzwaren was then lord paramount.

^u The Gorhams are found, also, in the neighbouring parts of Huntingdonshire, about the same period; at Upton, in 1592; at Hamerton, in 1595; at Bythorne, in 1621; at Haddon, in 1638; at Ripton Abbot's, in 1675; and at Morborne, in 1683. (Wills in the Archdeacon's Office, Huntingdon.) There is good ters of Benefield^v (from 1609) and of Glapthorne (from 1583), villages immediately adjoining Churchfield, and of King's Cliff, in the same neighbourhood (from 1592). A branch^w of this family removed to St. Neot's, in Huntingdonshire, in the reign of Charles II.; it continued there till 1826, and is still settled at Eaton-Ford House, in the immediate vicinity of that town.

reason to conclude that they were all of the same stock. No evidence upon this point can be obtained from the registers of those parishes, all of which are of comparatively modern date; with the exception of those of Ripton Abbot's, which commence in 1549.

^v The Gorhams of New England are supposed to have emigrated from Benefield, in the reign of Charles I.—The following entry is from Benefield register: "John Gorram son of Ralph Gorram, baptised Jan. 28, 1620" [1621]; the name of Ralph is not found in any subsequent register, though there are many entries of this family down to 1671. It was probably this Ralph Gorham who had a grant of land in New Plymouth, 1637; John Gorham (his son?) died there 1675, whose fifth descendant, John Gorham, Professor of Chemistry at Cambridge, Massachusetts, died in 1829.

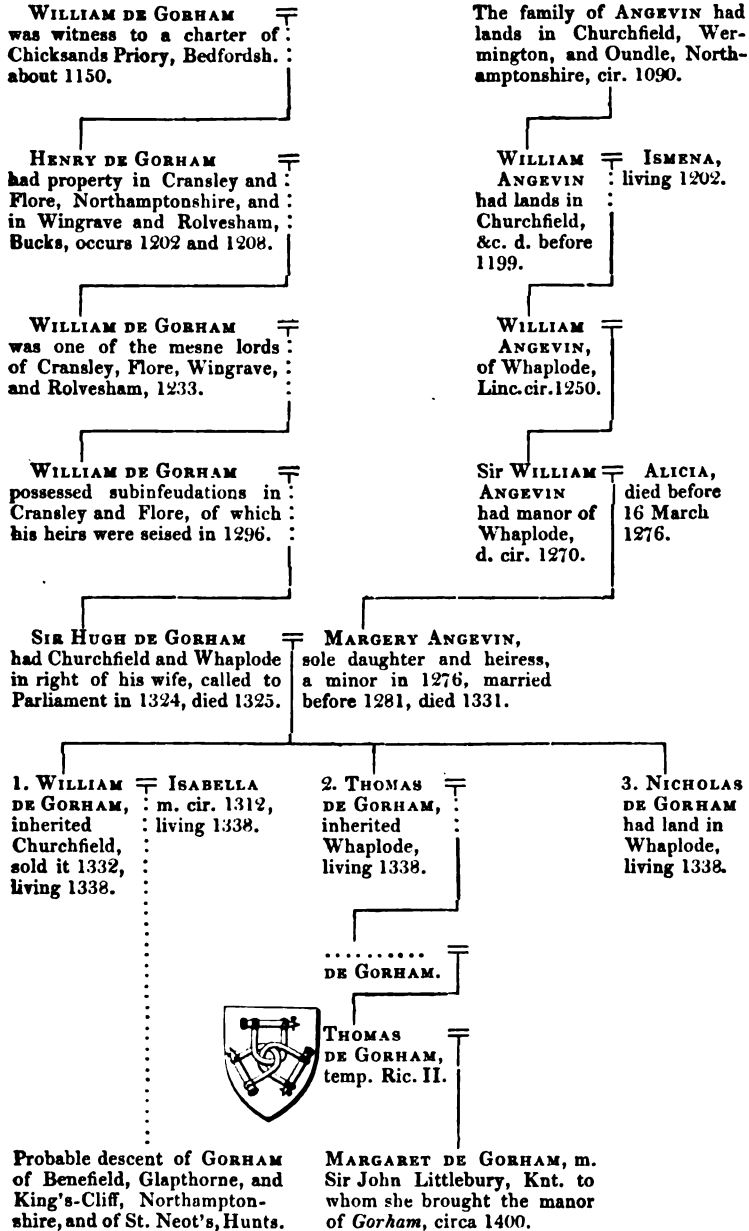

^w John Gorham, who was settled at St. Neot's before 1676, and who died there in 1725, aged 88, is believed to be the same person as John Gorham, who was born at Glapthorne in 1637. There were at least four in successive descent, of the same Christian name, at Glapthorne, who probably connect this family with the antient Northamptonshire branch, and with their supposed ancestors the Anglo-Breton Gorrams:—(1) John Gorham, of Glapthorne, died 1588;—(2) John Gorham, of Glapthorne, died there 1617;—(3) John Gorham, of Glapthorne, born there 1606 or 1610;—(4) John Gorham, of Glapthorne, born there 1637. As the registers of St. Neot's go no further back than 1691, the identification of this last named person with John Gorham who died, at St. Neot's, aged 88, in 1725, is incomplete, and rests upon the concurrence of the dates and family tradition.

1679. S^r Thomas Mumpesson & the Lady Elizabeth Cauley^e were married August 31.
1681. Mr. John Chessenthal, minister, & Mrs. Elizabeth Baskervil, were married May 31.
1697. Mr. Richard Smith, of Stanton, and Mrs. Mary Seger, of Marlborough, were married July 29.
1699. Michal Foster, an Atorney att Law, and Ann Butcher,^f both of St. Peter's parish, Marlborough, were married June 6.
1730. Nathanael Merriman, sener, of St. Peter's parish, Marlborough, and Ann Hunt^g of Newberry, May 21.

^c Thomas White was of Bromham, co. Wilts.

^d Sir George Hungerford was buried at Bremhill, May 9, 1712; and Lady Frances, (who was sister to Francis and Charles Dukes of Somerset), Aug. 16, 1715. See Hungerfordiana, p. 54.

^e Eldest daughter of Matthew Nicholas, Dean of St. Paul's, and widow of Sir William Calley, of Burderop Park, Wilts, who died in 1678. Sir Thomas Mumpesson was frequently M.P. for Old and New Sarum, and for Wiltshire in 1668. He died in 1701, and she died his widow Nov. 24, 1709, aged 75, and was buried in Winchester cathedral: see her epitaph in Gale's Antiquitates Winton.

^f Ann Butcher was his second wife (see p. 264), and died in May 1712.

1740. John Dalrymple, Ensign in Col. Blackney's reg^t. and Mary Shropshire, of St. Peter's, Marlborough, Aug. 15.

BURIALS.

1614. Mr. Edmond Hungerford,^g August 21.

1621. Mr. William Danill,^h sen^r. 26 June.

— John,ⁱ son of John Hitchcock, Vicar, Sep. 19.

1627. The 19th of Sep. buried Mary Daniel.^k

1635. Mr. Samuel Hitchcock,^l y^e Vicar's brother, buried at Marleborough, Sept. 2.

1648. Mrs. Catherine Daniel was bur. Sept. 7.

1654. Mr. John Daniell, son of William Daniell, esq. the elder, and Cisely his wife, was buried 28 June.

1664-5. Frances, wife of Mr. John Hearst of Saint Peter's, Marlborough, 2 Jan.

1665. Charles Lord Seymour, Baron of Trowbridge,^m dyed the 25th of August 1665, and was buried at Trowbridge the 7th of Sept. following.

^g Qu. the son of Thomas Hungerford, of Chelsea, who died in 1581, by Ursula, daughter of Lord Sandes? Hungerfordiana, p. 20.

^h At his house St. Margaret's, which is still in existence, died in 1612 that subtle politician Sir Robert Cecil, Earl of Salisbury.

ⁱ The Hitchcocks were settled at Preshute early in Henry the Seventh's reign, and came out of Shropshire; a John of Preshute married Bridget, dau. of Edmond Hungerford of Standen Hussey. John, the Vicar of Preshute was instituted in 1579. It is doubtful whether they were the same person.

^k Around this name is written in another hand the text "2 Sam. 18. 33;" and this cypher, "GVR."

^l There is no Samuel in the pedigree of Hitchcock, Visitation of Wilts 1623.

^m Lord Seymour's interment at Trowbridge is thus entered in the register there: "1665. The Rt. Hon^{ble} Charles Ld. Seymore, baron of Trowbridge, was inter'd in his valt in Trowbridge church September the 7th day." It does not appear from a search in the Trowbridge registers that any other members of the Seymour family were buried there. Some few years since, Lord Seymour's vault was accidentally opened, and one only coffin, which was of lead, was found there. In Sir R. C. Hoare's Modern Wilts, Hundred of Mere, p. 136, it is stated, that both Francis and Charles Lords Seymour of Trowbridge, were buried at Great Bedwyn, but Charles was interred at Trowbridge; and the Bedwyn register is so perfect at the time of Francis's death, 1664, that it may be safely inferred that he neither was buried there. There are some other mistakes in Sir Richard's Sepulchralia of the Seymours.

- 1677-8. Mr. Edward Daniell of St. Margaret's, Jan. 23.
 1681. Jeffery Daniell, esq.ⁿ April 25.
 1683. Mr. Thomas Myles, Vicar of Preshute, was buried at Poole, November 10.
 1688. Mr. Anthony Tate,^o Vicar of Preshut, Apr. 18.
 1698. William Danniell, esq.^p and Member of Parleмент, dyed at London, Aprill y^e 25th, buried in this parish May 3.
 1708. Rachel, wife of Thomas Fetteplace, esquire, Dec. 15.
 1710. Thomas Fetteplace, esq. April 10.
 1711. Mr. Lewis Morse, Vicar of Preshute, August 30.

ⁿ "Mrs. Rachel, the wife of Jeffery Daniell, esq." was buried Oct. 7, 1667. Their children: Thomas, born Nov. 29, 1656, bur. Sept. 30, 1675; Frances, born Aug. 29, 1658, bur. Jan. 17, 1658-9; John, born July 28, 1659, bur. Sept. 4, 1675; Piers, born Dec. 11, 1660, bur. Nov. 6, 1661; Philadelphia, born Oct. 6, bur. Nov. 23, 1662; William, born Feb. 29, 1664-5 (afterwards M.P. as under 1698 above). "Jeffery, son of Jeffery D. esq. and Susanna his [second] wife," was bur. Feb. 12, 1673-4. Jeffery Daniell had also a daughter Rachel, the entry of whose baptism is not extant in the register at Preshute. She married Thomas Fettiplace, esq. and upon the death of her brother William without issue, became heir to his property. Her eldest son sold the estate at Preshute, and the deed of conveyance, dated 10 Feb. 1714, mentions some particulars of the family, of which the following is a short abstract: "Thomas Fettiplace the younger, of Fernham, co. Berks, esq. (son and heir of Thomas Fettiplace the elder, late of the same place, esq. deceased, by Rachel his wife, sole sister and heir of William Daniell, esq. deceased) Charles Fettiplace of Lambourn Woodlands, co. Berks, esq. John Kyrle Ernle, of Whetham, co. Wilts, esq. Cornelius Yate, Archdeacon of Wilts, Daniel Fettiplace of Yatesbury, co. Wilts, clerk, Jeffery Fettiplace of Fernham, co. Berks, gent. which said Daniel and Jeffery Fettiplace were the two surviving younger sons of the said Thomas Fettiplace the elder, by the said Rachel his wife Philadelphia Fettiplace, Rachel Fettiplace, and Susannah Fettiplace, the three surviving daughters of the said Thomas Fettiplace the elder, by the said Rachel his wife," &c. &c.

^o See note in p. 263.

^p The following inscription to Jeffery and William Daniell still remains on a marble monument in the church at Preshute: "Here lye the bodys of Jeff. Daniell and W^m his son (y^e last of y^e antient family of Daresbury in Cheshire, w^{ch} came into Wilts in K^s H. 8tha time) of St. Margaret's, Esq^r. both Members of Parlm^t. of Marlborough: y^e father, of y^e 1st Parlm^t after K^s C. y^e 2^da restauration; who was also of y^e convention for y^e restoring of y^e s^d K^s: the son of y^e 1st triennial Parlm^t began y^e 7th of K^s W^m y^e 3rd. Jeff. died Ap. 22^d, 1681; Will. died Ap. 25th, 1697." Arms, [Argent,] a pale fusilly [Sable]; quartering, [Argent,] a wolf passant [Sable], Daresbury. It will be observed that, in the register, the death of William Daniell is entered under the year 1698; and from a further examination of that document there appears no reason to doubt its accuracy, although the monument says 1697. Britton, in the Beauties of England and Wales, Wiltshire, p. 701, and again in his Beauties of Wiltshire, vol. iii. p. 257, has placed this epitaph under his description of Ramsbury church, and changed the name from Daniell to Dariell.

1711-12. Mr. John Smith, Curate of Preshute, Feb. 8.

On a stone at the east end of the south aisle (now covered with pews) are brass figures of a man and wife, with seven sons and three daughters, all in the attitude of prayer, and this inscription :

“ Pray for the soules of John Bailey and Maryon his wyfe, whiche John decessed the 1x day of May the yere of our Lord God m^{ve} xvijj, on whose soules Jhu have mercy.”

Memoranda.—1685. Mr. Anthony Tate was inducted to the Vicarage, July 15.

1678. Given towards the building of St. Paul's Church at London, 5*l.* 5*s.* Sep. 16.

1782. Preshute contained 137 houses, 645 inhabitants, and 138 families. Savernake Park (extra-parochial and adjoining Preshute parish) 30 houses, 204 inhabitants, and 34 families.

MILDENHALL.

The Registers of Mildenhall commence in 1560.

BAPTISMS.—1683. Thomas, son of William and Susanna Greenfield, was baptized Oct. 16.

1719. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Grinfield & Frances, Nov. 1.

1722. William, son of Mr. Rich^d Grinfield & Frances, 14 Oct.

MARRIAGES.—1640. Giles Godwin & Elizabeth Digs, 5 Nov.

1641. Mathew Hungerford & Jane Chock,^a 9 Oct.

1688. Nathanel Mereman^b and Mary Hunt, June 14.

BURIALS.—1610. Mr. William Jones of Woodlands, 8 Nov.

1610-11. Mr. John Jones, sonne & heire of the foresaid William of Woodlands, 28 Jan.

^a See before, p. 30.

^b This Nathanael Merriman was youngest son of John Merriman, a captain of horse in the Parliamentary Army, who had custody of the King at Carisbrooke; a service which he executed with so much consideration for the King's personal comfort, that his Majesty gave him several tokens of his favour and regard. Mary Hunt was his first wife (see p. 347), and by her he had a large family.

1684. Mr. Edward Nourse, March 27.
 1688. Gilles Godwin, June 10.
 1704. Henry Nourse, esq. Dec. 5.
 1712-13. Madam Hester Nourse, widow, March 7.
 1714. Richard Thornhill, esq. August 29.
 1724-5. George Walker, esq. March 11.

Memorandum in the second Register book :

The manuscript of this memorandum corresponds with entries written in the years 1680, 1681, and 1682, in which latter year the Duke of York, afterwards James II. nearly suffered shipwreck on his voyage to Scotland. The ship was the Gloucester frigate, which struck upon a sand-bank off Yarmouth. The Duke, with Colonel John Churchill, afterwards Duke of Marlborough, escaped with difficulty in the ship's barge. Robert third Earl of Roxburgh, Lord O'Brien, son of the seventh Earl of Thomond, John Hope, esq. Laird of Hopetoun, Sir Joseph Douglas, and the Hon. James Hyde, youngest son of Lord Chancellor Clarendon, and brother-in-law to the Duke, all perished.

SEPULCHRAL INSCRIPTIONS.

^b On a slab in the church of Bedwyn Parva is the following epitaph of the parents of this Stephen Hyde: “ Here lieth interred the body of Stephen Hyde, Gent. who died Sept. 3, A.D. 1672, aged 33. And also the body of Ann Hyde, widow of the said Stephen Hyde, who deceased March the 7, A.D. 1705, aged 73.” Arms, [Azure,] a chevron between three lozenges [Or]; impaling, [Or.] three bars [Az.] over all an eagle displayed [Gu.] Walrond. The chief therefore of the coat on the son's tomb (see over leaf) is no doubt a mistake; and was perhaps intended for an impalement, though, by the strict rules of heraldry, the son had no right to use his mother's arms in any shape; not even on an escocheon of pretence, supposing her to have been an heiress, as she was still living at the time of his death. There was a family of Walrond, living at Albourne, about five miles from Stitchcomb, who bore the arms above blazoned; but there is no entry of such a marriage at Albourne.

ARMS : Poccocke; impaling, Sable, semée of cross-crosslets Argent, a lion rampant of the Last, for Long.^c

" CHARLES FRANCIS, A.M. xxxiii years Rector of this parish and of Collingbourne Ducis, and Prebendary of Sarum, died 11th October MDCCCXXI, aged LXX."

ARMS : Argent, a chevron between three eagles displayed Gules. The style of the tablet is that which prevailed in Henry the Seventh's reign, sculptured in white marble, and is a specimen of taste and workmanship rarely excelled by modern artists. It is placed on the north wall of the chancel; and opposite, on the south wall, is a similar monument of larger dimensions, and divided into three tablets, each bearing an inscription to the Baskerville family, which, with others

^c In the churchyard is a tomb inscribed: "Elizabeth Poccocke, widow, ob. 18 Sept. 1805, æt. 83. She was daughter of Richard Long, esq. of Rood Ashton, in the county of Wilts, and relict of the Rev. Rich. Poccocke, A.M. late Rector of this parish."

3. Pococke, impaling Long (as in p. 352.)
4. Long, impaling Warneford, Per fess crenellé Sable and Argent, six crosses patée Counterchanged. John Long, esq. of Monkton Farleigh; who married Lucy, daughter of the Rev. Joseph Warneford.

OGBOURN ST. ANDREW.

The earliest Register at Ogbourn St. Andrew commences in 1538, and contains many entries of Goddards, Goughs, Colemans, Lyddiards, and Seymours. The following list are some of the most conspicuous.

BAPTISMS.

1550-1. John Seymer, baptized at home at Walrons by the midwife, Feb. 22. Item, he was buried the same day.

^d Mr. Jones Long was the son of Daniel Jones, esq. by Ellen, daughter of Richard Long, esq. of Rood Ashton, and sister to Mrs. Pococke in the preceding note, to Richard Godolphin Long, esq. of Rood Ashton, and John Long, esq. of Monkton Farleigh. He took the name and arms of Long pursuant to the will of Walter Long, esq. of Wraxall and of Bath, who was maternally related to him, but whose arms (granted temp. Eliz.) were as above.

1553. Vyncent Goddard was baptized July 8.

Children of William Goddard, gent.: ^a John, 12 Jan. 1583-4; Edmond, March 4, 1584-5, bur. Jan. 4, 1600-1; Vincent, Nov. 14, 1585, bur. Feb. 25, 1616-17; Alice, bapt. July 13, 1587.

Susan Seymer, bapt. 15 Sept. 1588; Thomas, 15 Aug. 1590, buried the same day; Joane, 25 Aug. 1591; William, 17 Sept. 1591; John, 7 Feb. 1593-4; Robert, 30 Dec. 1595; Thomas, son of William Seymer, 8 Feb. 1600-1.

Thomas Goddard, bapt. Sept. 7, 1591; John, son of John Goddard, 2 Nov. 1606; other children, William, May 27, 1608; John, Feb. 26, 1609-10; Elizabeth, Feb. 2, 1612-13.

Children of the Rev. Joseph Sedgwick: Abigail, 17 March, 1607-8; Thomas, July 23, 1609; Mary, 7 Oct. 1610; Anna, 6 Jan. 1612-13; Jane, Dec. 5, 1613; Joseph, Dec. 14, 1614; Vincent, Jan. 14, 1615-16; Susan, Nov. 1, 1617. (This is the last entry in the hand of the Rev. Joseph Sedgwick the father.)

1617. John Seymar, Aug. 31; Thomas, son of John Seymare, Nov. 7, 1619, bur. April 12, 1620; William, his son, March 14, 1620-1; Susan Seymare, Jan. 29, 1625-6; Ellen, dau. of John, Jan. 20, 1626-7; John, son of Robert S. July 20, 1628.

(A chasm in the Register between 1628 and 1634.)

1636. Joseph Semar, May 1.

Another hiatus in the Register from 1639 to 1654.

The following memoranda are written on the fly-leaf of the first book:

John Seymer was baptized Sept^r. 18, 1648. Thomas Seymour 1665. W^m Seymour was born the 1st day of Midsummer, 1652. Thomas Seymour, son of John Seymour, was baptized 3 June 1652. These are the sons of John Seymour: John, Philip, William, Thomas, Roger, Charles, Robert, and Edward; and daughters, Bridgett, Elizabeth, and Alice.

 1627. Margery Daniel, Sept. 2.

^f Nicholas St. John of Lydiard, co. Wilts. married secondly Alice, daughter of William Goddard of Ogbourn St. Andrew, by whom he had no issue. See Wilts Visitation 1623.

^s The Wiltshire Visitation 1623, says, that she was second wife of Richard Diggs, and daughter of Thomas Walrond. She does not appear to have had any issue by this marriage.

^b Mrs. Martha Lloyd, bur. 31 Oct. 1670.

ⁱ Sarah was the eldest sister and coheir of Sir Michael Foster, knt. and by Mr. Ewen had one surviving son Michael, who was Clerk of the Peace for the counties of Wilts and Somerset, and who died without issue. Sarah married secondly the Rev. William Jones, but had no further issue. She died 1775, aged 92, and was buried at Milton, co. Wilts, where her son was seated.

 1679. Edward Goddard, esq. died June 10, buried June 11.
 1681. Mr. Bartholomew Webb, a nonconformist minister, formerly Vicar of this parish, buried Sept. 9.
 1699. Blessed be God, no person buried throughout the whole year.
 1702. John Seymour, gent. Nov. 14.
 1703. Daniel Salway, clerk, Vicar,^l April 3.
 1720. Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Jones,^m Vicar, July 25.
 1723. Mr. Thomas Seymour, of Marlborough, July 19.
 1732. Mrs. Anne Seymour, Oct. 30.
 1733. The Rev^d. Mr. Thomas Smith,ⁿ Sept. 18.
 1748-9. Sarah, wife of Robert Seymour, gent. March 22.
 1749. John, son of Captain Thomas Goddard and Mary his wife, was buried Sept. 12.
 1757. Roger Seymour, gentleman, August 8.
 1762. Mr. Ayliffe Blisset, of St. Peter's, Marlborough, Aug. 15.

After the Act for burying in woollen was passed (30 Car. II.), a book was kept at Ogbourn, in which the names of persons buried were entered, together with the affidavits that they were wrapt in woollen. These affidavits were generally sworn before either Jeffry Daniell, esq. ;

^k Mr. Nicholas Proffet and Bridget Seymour (dau. of John) were married here, Oct. 23, 1665 ; and their children : Nicholas, bap. July 27, 1666, bur. Sept. 16, 1714 ; Martha, Sept. 24, 1667 ; John, Sept. 28, 1669, bur. June 1, 1703 ; Mary, Aug. 17, 1671. Mrs. Bridgett Proffet, widow, bur. Nov. 16, 1709.

^l He succeeded Thomas Smith (who had resigned) as Vicar circa 8 May 1700. Mr. Wake probably succeeded Salway.

^m The Rev. Grent Jones succeeded Wake between 1715 and 1718.

ⁿ Margaret, dau. of T. S. vicar, and Sarah his wife, was born Nov. 18, 1696.

Thomas Bennett, esq.; Sir Seymour Pile, bart.; Rev. Robert Clements, Vicar of Ogbourn St. George; Rev. Cornelius Yeates, Vicar of St. Mary's, Marlborough; Rev. Joseph Miles, Curate of Preshute; Rev. Joshua Sacheverell, Rector of St. Peter's, Marlborough; Rev. Samuel Godfor, Curate of Huish; Rev. Edmond Holford, Curate of Tidcombe.

The book was afterwards used for keeping the accounts of the Churchwardens for 12 or 14 years, from about 1725 to 1737, and the Magistrates who generally passed the accounts were Richard Jones, Michael Foster, Edward Seymour, George Hungerford, George Willoughby.

The name of J. Goddard appears as Vicar in 1740. Richard Heighway was instituted in 1790, and is still Vicar. The Rev. John Weldon Champneys, Vicar of Ogbourn St. George, was curate here from 1798 till Jan. 6, 1803.

There are slabs in this church to several of the Seymours, and also to the Liddiards of Rockley, in this parish. In the churchyard are some ancient tombs to the Goddards, the inscriptions quite illegible.

OGBOURN ST. GEORGE.

Here are very few entries in the Registers, of general interest. The books commence in 1664.

1697. Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. William Grinfield and Mary his wife, was baptized Aug. 20. Mary, their daughter, died April 14, 1699. William, their son, bap. Aug. 31, bur. Sept. 19, 1698; another William, bap. Aug. 22, bur. Sept. 11, 1699.

1742. Steady, son of Edward Grinfield,^a esq. and Ann his wife, was born July 26.

^a Edward Grinfield of Ogbourne, afterwards of Salisbury, where he died circa 1759, was the only surviving son of the above William and Mary Grinfield. He married Anne, daughter of Thomas Goddard, D.D. Canon of Windsor, son of Edw. Goddard and Elizabeth Smith. He had issue, 1. Steddy, F.R.S. Barrister at Law, &c. who died at Sienna in 1808 unmarried; 2. William, a General in the army, born 1745, married Emma-Maria, dau. of John Brocas, Dean of Killala. They had no issue; she died Nov. 17, and he Nov. 19, 1803, at Barbadoes, of the yellow fever. 3. Thomas, of Bristol, clerk, born at Salisbury 1748, and died at Bristol 1824. He married at Bedford 1780, Anna-Joanna, dau. of Joseph Foster Barham of Hardwick, co. Salop, esq. by whom he had issue. 4. Anne, who died unmarried.

There are several inscriptions to the memory of the Buckerfield family, who possessed an estate in this parish, which are printed in Sir Thomas Phillipps's Collection, and the following on a brass plate, which his transcriber overlooked.

“ Off yor charite pray for the soules of Thomas Godderd & Johan his wife, which thomas dyed the xxiiij day of August, A^o MV^cxlviij, ð whoſ soule J^hu have mⁱci.”

EXTRACTS FROM THE REGISTERS OF WELFORD, BERKS, AND HUNGERFORD, AND BEDWYN PARVA, WILTS; CHIEFLY RELATING TO THE FAMILY OF HUNGERFORD.

WELFORD.

The registers of Welford commence in 1559.

1559. Dorothea filia Edwardi Hungerford, sep. Apr. 20.

1563. Joanna Hungerford, sep. Jū. 2.

— Langle filia Edwardi Hungerford et uxoris ejus, bap. Junii 4.

1564. Johannes Hungerford filius Edwardi Hungerford et uxoris ejus bap. Octobr. 15.

1567. Jana filia M^{ri} Hungerford et uxoris ejus bap. Maij 15.

1569. Edwardus Hungerford sep. Sep. 15.

1572. Elina Hungerford filia M^{ri} Edwardi Hungerford, bap. Dec. 6; sep. Dec. 2, 1582.

HUNGERFORD.

The 17th daie of the saide monthe (Sept.) 1571, dep^ted this mortall life Mr. Edmond Hungerford of Weston, in the parish of Welford, in the countie of Berkes, beinge now of this parishe.

The 29 daie of December 1598 was buried Misteris Ursula Hungerford, the wife of Mr. Edmond Hungerford, esquier.

The last daie of January 1599, dep^ted this mortall [life] Edmonde Hungerford of North Standen, esquier.

Edmund Hungerford, who married Ursula Frognall, is placed in Hungerfordiana, p. 16, as the second son of Sir Anthony Hungerford of Down Ampney, co. Glouc. by his first wife, Jane Darell. Whether the parties recorded in the two preceding extracts may be thus identified will require confirmation ; but they may be considered as man and wife ; particularly as we find the baptism of an Ursula among the children of Edmond, whose baptisms are as follow :

John, bapt. 23 Aug. 1560. Ursula, 25 Dec. 1563. Edmond, 1 May 1568.

The 12 daie of Februarie 1593 dep^ted this mortall life our worshipfull & good neighbour John Hungerford, of the p^rson-aige,^a esquier.

The 14 daie of February 1597 was buried or worshipfull & good neighbour Mr. John Hungerford, of North Standen.

The 26 daie of June 1598 was buried Misteris Margret Hungerford, of North Standen, widdow.

Which of the two Johns here mentioned was the John son of Edmund baptised in 1560, there is no present evidence to show ; but the following children of one John, among whom the name of Ursula again occurs, were in all probability grandchildren of Edmund, the father of that John.

Baptisms of children of John Hungerford, gent. :

Anne, 23 Dec. 1580.

Catharine, 25 June 1587.

Edmund, 26 Nov. 1581.

Ursula, 31 Oct. 1583.

Fitzwater, 26 Aug. 1591.

Anthony, 30 Dec. 1584.

Susanna, 28 Sept. 1592.

Giles, 25 April 1586.

John, 20 March 1595.

The following are probably children of the Edmund (above), who was christened in 1568.

The 19 day of November 1590, was x^rined Gartred, the daughter of Edmund Hungerford, gent.

Anthony, bap. 22 Sept. 1600 ; [? bur. 29 Nov. 1613.]

Faithe, " the daughter of Mr. Edmond Hungerford, of North Standen thelder," bap. 27 March 1602.

Tabitha, bur. 15 Dec. 1602.

Anno 1603. Sept. 18. Worthley the sonne of Edmunde Hungerford, esq^r. Witnesses Edmunde Hung^rford senor & Mrs. Margaret Goddard.

This is unequivocally the heir of the elder line, and son of Edmund christened in 1581 ; but it is doubtful whether the following, who are all styled children of Edmond Hungerford, gent. were children of the nephew or the uncle :

John, bap. Oct. 2, 1608; bur. ("the sonne of Edm. H. Esq.") Feb. 26, 1624.

Anthony, bap. Dec. 16, 1610; [? bur. Nov. 29, 1613.]

Sarah, bap. Dec. 29, 1611.

Mathew, bap. Jan. 3, 1612.

Bridget, bap. May 29, 1614.^b

Edmund, bur. Jan. 26, 1616.

1644. Nov. 9. Edmund, the sonne of Mathew Hungerford, Gentleman, and Jane his wife,^c bap.

1653. Sept. 16. Mr. John Hungerford, buried.

1673. May 29. Henry Hungerford, esq.^d

1729. June 14. John Hungerford, esq.^e

1739-40. Feb. 17. Mary Hungerford, relict of John Hungerford, esq.^f

No Hungerfords have been found in the register of marriages.

Francis Stonhouse, esq.^g bur. June 8, 1738.

Mary Stonhouse [his] wid. bur. Oct. 8, 1745. Their children :

Francis, born Aug. 23, bap. Aug. 28, 1709.

Mary, born June 5, bap. June 13, 1711, bur. Oct. 1, 1712.

Katharine, bap. June 1, 1712.

George, bap. Aug. 18, 1713.

LITTLE BEDWYN.

A few of the early transcripts of the Little Bedwyn Registers (the originals of which are lost, as was mentioned in p. 36) are preserved in

^c See the greater part of this family in p. 30.

^d The epitaph of this Henry Hungerford, esq. shows that he was of Standen, but not descended from his predecessors in that estate, being the "third son of Sir Anthony Hungerford, of Black Bourton, co. Oxford, by Dame Sarah [Crouch] his second wife." He died unmarried 23 May 1673.—(Hungerfordiana, p. 71.) His baptism, at Great Bedwyn, has before occurred in p. 29 of the present volume.

^e This John Hungerford left the residue of his property, after his wife's death, to King's College, Cambridge, and long inscriptions to his memory both there and in the church at Hungerford, will be found in Hungerfordiana, pp. 71, 73; but they do not state how his line of descent was derived. He was M.P. for Scarborough from 1707 until his death.

^f The wife of the last, and of the family of Spooner of Warwickshire. See her epitaph in Hungerfordiana, p. 72.

^g Son of Duke Stonehouse, esq. (of whom before in p. 35) and M.P. for Great Bedwyn in several Parliaments between 1678 and 1705.

^a There are very many "clerkes" in the register who were certainly not in holy orders ; (see the note on George Salter, gent. in p. 366.) They were probably the clerks of the neighbouring lawyers. Those termed "ministers" are presumed to have been clergymen.

^b Other children of Dr. Balguy : Elizabeth, Jan. 11, 1595-6 ; John, Sept. 30, 1597 ; Daniell, July 14, 1599. Of Dr. Balguy, who was Rector of St Edmund's, Lombard-street, and Allhallows the Great, Thames-street, see several particulars in Newcourt's Repertorium, vol. i. p. 249.

^c "Mary, wife of Richard Younge, clarke," bur. March 25, 1602. There was a "Richard Younge clarke and marchauntaylo' of London ;" (could the curate be the same?) whose dau. was baptised in 1599 (see p. 366).

^d Thomas White was instituted to the vicarage, Nov. 23, 1575. He was twice married in his own church. On the first occasion is this formal entry : "1576. Married M^r Thomas Whight, M^r of Arte of Oxforde, & Vycar of S.

1637-8. March 23. Mr John Sherman, Minister, bur.

Dūstones in the West of London, and Fortune Knight, the xxjth daie [August] in the p^{ri}sh church of S. Dūstones aforesaid, and that by the lycence of M^r Doctor Hamōde the bychoppe of Londō chancellor." "Thomas White, minister, and Elizabeth Bouge," mar. Nov. 30, 1580. "Elizabeth, wyfe of Thomas White, Doctor in Divinity, Parson of this church," bur. Jan. 17, 1612-13. After the death of Dr. White, Dr. Donne, the poet and divine, and afterwards Dean of St. Paul's, became Vicar of St. Dunstan's; but no entries have been found in the registers relative to his family.

^d "Robert Graie, curat," commences his entries in the rough register of baptisms in May 1615. He fell a victim to the plague. His son Thomas was bap. May 9, 1617, and bur. Dec. 21, 1618; and "Susanna, the wife of Robert Gray, the minister of this parish," was buried April 19, 1622.

^f In 1628 Cuthbert Clarke is styled "schoolm^r" when his son John was bap-tised on the 25th of March. Other children: Elizabeth, bur. May 10, 1628; Anne, bap. May 12, 1631; Mathewe, a dau. bur. Apr. 30, 1636; another Elizabeth, bur. Dec. 3, 1636.

1607-8. Jan. 22. Richard Nelson, scholemaster, bur.

1629. April 26. Mary, dau. of John Hall, scholemaster, bap.

The Stationers abounded in this parish, as well as the scriveners, as might be supposed from its propinquity to the inns of court. The burials occur of the following stationers : William Matts and Mr. Will'm Cooke 1597 ; John Lee and Will'm Spynke 1602 ; another William Cooke 1604 ; John Baylee 1606, Nicholas Lyngge and William Holmes 1607 ; Edward Yates 1609 ; John Standish and Mr. Richard Greene 1612 ; Humphrey Hooper 1614 ; the wife of William Pickering 1614, and many of his family in other years ; John Jaggard 1622 ; Henry Cooke and Matthew Selman 1627 ; Roger Barnes 1628 ; Francis Mann 1629.

There are several "instrument-makers," which remind us of the characters so accurately introduced in this locality by Sir Walter Scott in his "Fortunes of Nigel:"—Thomas Brome was buried Aug. 22, 1598 ; the name of James Ilisbury occurs 1605 ; George Everetts 1606 ; of John Nycholls 1613. William Holloway, spectaclemaker, in Chancery lane, 1599 ; William Turnor, "Spectacklemaker," 1607 ; Edmund Bell, clockmaker, in 1608 ; Michael Gardiner, clockmaker, in 1611 ; Robert Grinckyn, clockmaker, in 1609, and several other years : at last, he died in office,—“ Mr. Robert Grinkinge, Churchwarden, out of Fleet-street,” bur. June 20, 1626. “ Anthony Risby, watchmaker, out of Fleet-street,” was bur. July 12, 1628.

Several professors of the art of music are to be found : John Curwen, music'on, bur. June 16, 1592 ; John Dawes, fidler, bur. out of bores-head alley April 28, 1597 ; William Broune "musition," occurs 1601, ^b M^{rs} Ann Grinkin, bur. Sept. 19, 1638. A generation earlier the name of Robert Grinkin, clockmaker, several times occurs.

ⁱ His shop was in "St. Dunstan's churchyard ;" see Nichols's Progresses, &c. of King James I. vol. ii. pp. 290, 291.

and again, styled "lutinist," 1609; Philip Rossiter,^k in 1602; Joseph Sherley, "musionist," 1607.

Some other trades and occupations may be noticed as having become obsolete, either in effect or in their designations: as, Robert Dorrington a spurrer, bur. 1591; Thomas Snelling, imbroderer, the same year; John Fisher, a shiere grinder, 1592; a Comfitmaker, 1597; gonne makers, in 1597 and 1600. Richard Delworth, elsewhere Tylsworth, "french hoodmaker, 1601; Wm. Johnson, Wyredrawer, 1605; Edm. Bedo, tyre-maker, 1605. In 1603 occur Henry Bateman, a barber surgion, out of Simondes Inne, bur. Sept. 27; and two more of the same profession, probably victims of the plague: Walter Shrauley, girdler, 1603, and two others; a clothworker; and a tombmaker (Richard Oilworth). In 1608 another "ymbrotherer;" in 1609 a "wood-monger;" in 1611 a free mason, and another in 1612; in 1613 a Bayley of Middlesex; in 1614 Richard Cole, Myllener. In 1590 occurs the trade of pulter (not poulterer), and frequently that of upholster^l (not upholsterer).

The Vintners, drawers, and tapsters of the neighbouring taverns, are of frequent occurrence; in 1599 a "dreaman," and in 1600 an "ale-bruer." Water-bearers also are of frequent occurrence. In 1603 was buried "Daniell Hill, Pannyer-man of the Midle Temple;" and the same occupation occurs in 1605. There are many servants of the Inns of Court of various designations.

As illustrative of the condition of the poor in the reign of Elizabeth, it may be noticed that, besides many nameless poor buried from houses, almost every year more than one entry occurs of persons who died in the field or street, who are recorded in this manner:

1573. Jan. 5. A poore man buryed oute of the field.^m

^k Philip Rossiter was Master of the children of the Queen's Revels, by patent dated Jan. 4, 1609-10, and under that authority manager of the play-house in the Whitefriars. See Collier's Annals of the Stage, vol. i. pp. 372, 390, 396. In 1603 was bapt. Dudley, son of Philipp Rocetor, "Musioner."

^l "Will'm Foster, upholster," 1603. Again, "Mr. Richard Deakes, upholster," 1630. Both trades are so designated in Stowe's Survey. The incorrect reduplication is therefore of modern origin. Poulter still exists as a surname.

^m There were fields around the outskirts of Lincoln's Inn. Gardens in Chancery lane are frequently mentioned, and in 1609 we meet with "the gardens in Fewter lane." Of the latter place (now Fetter lane) Stowe says in his Survey: "Fewter lane stretcheth south, [from Oldbourne, now Holborn] into Fleet street, by the east end of Saint Dunstanes church, and is so called of Fewters (or idle people) lying there, as in a way leading to gardens; but the same is now of later yeeres on both sides builded thorow with many faire houses."

1586. Feb. 9. A maide buried out of the field.
 — 20. A poore man that died in the streete.
1589. March 18. A poore maide that died in the fieldes.
1592. Feb. 23. A poore wenche that died in the streete.
1593. Nov. 20. A childe that died in the fielde.
1597. Aprill 18. A childe of a strumpett that died in the fielde.
 Feb. 9. A poore woeman that died in the streete, whose name is Brigett Hone. [This is a solitary instance of a name.]
1604. Oct. 1. A boy founde dead at Mr. Mullens dore in the Feildes.
1615. Dec. 13. A poore woman dyinge in Fewter lane in the open streets.
 In 1605-6, Feb. 15, was baptised. "Mawdlin, an Irishwoman's childe, brought a-bedd in the fielde."
- Not only were there so many utterly houseless, who encountered their death in the open air, and several in stables, "backsides," and outhouses; but, at a time when the increase of buildings was, with a false policy, forbidden, it would appear that the cellars occasionally formed distinct tenements for some of the crowded population :
1603. Oct. 7. John Shone was buried out of the Sellor of Richard Blackway.
1611. March 21. William Norton from Mr. Blackwells celler.
- Pensioners, both male and female, sometimes occur; and an almshouse was established in the Friars,ⁿ which is mentioned in the following entries:
1593. June 11. Agnes Grandige, one of the sisters of the fryers.
1608. July 30. Joane Dennys, vidowe, out of the almes house in the Friers.
1612. Dec. 26. Agnes Akerley, out of the Systers in the Fryers.
1613. March 23. Anne Pilsworth, one of the 7 sisters in the Fryers.
1614. April 12. Robert Johnson, porter to the 7 sisters.
- The burial of "one of the seven sisters" is of frequent recurrence.

ⁿ The Friars, sometimes called the White Friars, was the site of the house of Carmelites, placed on the south side of Fleet street, between the New or Inner Temple and Salisbury Court. As a sanctuary for debtors, and the consequent resort of dissolute characters, it subsequently became notorious, and under the slang name of Alsatia its fame has been widely spread by Sir Walter Scott's "Fortunes of Nigel." It was not, however, entirely given up to the lower classes; for, as Stowe says, "in place of this Friars Church, bee now many faire houses builded, lodgings for Noblemen and other;" and of this the present extracts have furnished ample proofs, in the names of Lord de la Warr, Sir Edward Carew, the Earl of Kent, Sir William Alford, Sir George Vane, &c. &c. In 1551 the Bishop of Worcester and the Earl of Rutland resided in Water Lane. (Inquest of Wardmote.) At the same time the registers show they were surrounded by many poor and desti-

Another place, inhabited by very poor persons, but not as almshouses, was called St. Dunstan's hall.^o 1593. Sept. 4. John Miller, buried out of St. Dunstan Hall; and the next day Thomas Miller, from the same.

1603. Aug. 12. Alice Stratford was buried out of St. Dunstan's hall.

— 16. Anne, the daughter of Roger Brook.

— 18. Roger Brooke, waterman, out of St. Dunstan's Hall.

1604. June 22. Henrie, a childe of Thomas Lymes, out of St. Dunstan's hall.

1606-7. March 6. A childe taken up in St. Dunstan's Hall, baptised.

The notices of foundlings are curious, particularly in the selection of names bestowed upon them:

1594. Aug. 3. Relictus Dunstane, a childe founde in this parishe, baptized.

1597. March 1. Renold Falcon, a childe borne in Falcon Corte, baptized (base borne).

1604. Oct. 24. John, a child founde in Fleet street in the entry where Docter Johnson dwelt, base borne.

1611. Harbotles Harte, a poore child found at Harts dore in Fewter lane, bap. May 11; bur. July 13.

1614. Moses Dunstan, a foundlinge in St. Dunstan's hall, bap. March 26.

1615. Charity Dunstan, found in Chancery lane, bap. Aug. 10; buried March 21.

1617. John, a relicte in Chancery lane, at Mr. Watson's dore, bap.

tute neighbours. In some of the following extracts the Friars Cloister is mentioned, apparently remaining as a public passage, in which the houseless wanderer would sometimes lie down and die.

1558. Feb. 6. A poore boye buried oute of the White Fryers.

1571. June 28. Mother Margarett out of the fryers.

1573. Jan. 5. A poore man buryed out of the fryers cloister.

1586. Feb. 6. A childe of a strumpett buryed out of the fryers.

1589. Nov. 28. A poore woman buryed out of the fryers cloister.

1596. Feb. 11. A poore mayde that dyed in the fryers cloister.

1607. Sept. 29. (blank) Gerry, out of the playe howse in y^e Fryers; on the same day "Frauncis sonne of the same Gerry," and on the next day his wife.

Notices of the Whitefriars' Theatre will be found in Mr. Collier's History of the Stage, but he states that its name is not found on the title-pages of plays prior to 1612 (vol. iii. p. 291).

^o By the Register of the presentments of the Inquests of Wardmote, of the Ward of Farringdon Without, commencing 1 Eliz. this is ascertained to have been "a great house," divided into several tenements, situated in Fetter Lane. Some further notices of it will be given in vol. VI.

1618. Jan. 18. Mary Porch, a foundeling.

1625. Aug. 7. Roger Middlesex was baptised.

1627. May 19. Katherine Whitefryers was baptised.

July 6. Jane Dunstan, a base borne, taken on the backside of the Phenix, was baptised.

March 14. Robert Dunstan, beinge taken up in the streete, was baptised.

1629. Dec. 11. Richard Dunston, a nurse childe of ye parish, was buried from John Cowell in ye Friars.

1630. Dec. 17. Francis Dunstan, a childe being found in Richard Garford's yard, bap.; March 25, Francis Dunstones, a foundling, was buried out of Fewter lane.

1631. March 30. Elizabeth Middlesex was baptised, being found in Chancery lane.

Though many of these poor children did not long survive their baptism, yet it is fair to presume that some became founders of families. The surname of Dunstan is found in other entries (among others, Thomas Dunstan, Porter of the Rolls, bur. 1613), and I am informed that it still remains in the parish.

The following have been extracted merely as extraordinary Christian names :

1596. Jan. 14. Gerenians, the wife of Humphrye Bushell, bur.

1599. April 19. Repente, a child of Thomas Kytchens, bur.

1625. April 28. Lewcheshawe Harbart, out of Ranme alley, bur.

But one of the most curious features of the register remains to be noticed. It is the number of persons slain in the frequent brawls in the streets and taverns.

1579. June 20. Mr. Marten, which was slained at Lyons Inne.

1585. May 29. Mrs Jenkins slained and buried.

1591. May 15. Bellingham Unnion, being slained.

1592. April 19. Will'm Gilford, slained in Symon Cannons house.

1596. March 19. John Davis, one of the garde, slayned.

1598. Aprill 15. Raphe (blank) one slayned at the herne and buried.

1599. Dec. 1. Henry Barnard, slayne, and clerke to Steven Hill.

1601. Jan. 29. Nathaniell Elsing, gent. slayne and buried.

1602. April 8. Will'm Harte, vintener, slaine in the Fleete.

1603. June 2. Will'm Lingham, s'nt to Mr. Tredway, esquier, of the Temple, beinge slayne.

1604. April 15. Richard Gygges, s'vant to the Wor. Sr Francis Verney, being slaine.

1605. May 25. Edward Bowges, gent. slayne and buried.

1606. Jan. 30. Thomas Morris, one of the yeomen of the King's Guard, slaine in Chancery lane.

1610. April 24. Richard Cutler, servant att Mace, who was slaine.

1612. May 13. John Turner, Mr of Defence,° slayne wth a Dagg, out of the Fryers.

1615. June 2. Jeffery Hickman, servant to Sr Rob'te Idoll, who was slaine.

Aug. 10. George Kindesley, gent. beinge slaine.

1616. July 15. John Forest, slaine in the Temple.

1617. April 4. Theobald Butler, slaine in Sheire lane.

Nov. 29. Alexander Hazellrigg, slaine in the White friers.

1624. Oct. 5. Frances Owen, being slaine, was buried out of Sheir lane.

Nov. 9. Richard Bard, slaine in Fleete street, was buried out of Fewter lane.

1631. May 7. Samuel Markham, being slaine, was buried out of Sheire lane.

Another entry probably records the consequence of one of these acts of violence :

1619. April 12. Sapcoate Mullinax, beeing hanged over against the King's head Taverne in Fleete street, was buried.

Besides the King's Head in Fleet-street, here mentioned, several other inns and taverns occur, some of which still exist, and the names of others, in Flower-de-luce court, Red-lion court, Mitre court, and Crane court.

1571. Dec. 24. John, a poore fellowe oute of the Cocke and Boye.P

1592. Oct. 6. A poore soldier buried oute of the backe side of the bell.

1597. Dec. 23. A poore woeman buried from the flower de luce, who cam as a suter to y^e terme.

• The monument of another professor of this " noble art " still exists in the new church It is a marble tablet, neatly carved with the representation of a buckler between two foils ; and, though not represented in Mr. Denham's plates, is more deserving of notice than many that are. The inscription, which is partly engraved upon the buckler, is as follows ; " M. S. Not far from this place lyeth y^e body of y^e fam'd swordman ALEXANDER LAYTON, M^r: of defence, who departed this life y^e 1st of Iune 1679. John Brewer of Gray's Inn, Esq^r (once a Schol^r of his) hath in Gratitude caus'd this inscription to be made. 1681.

His Thrusts like Lightning flew, more Skilful Death

March 2. Henry Hollande buried oute of a stable wthin the flowerdeluce.

1598. Sept. 6. John Wells, gent. from the Crane.

1601. Oct. 17. Ambrose, son of Ambrose Luxton, Inholder, of the redd lyon, bap.

Oct. 22. A poore welchman that dyed, out of the floore de luce.

1608. July 26. A childe found deade in a stall by the Blacke Bell in Fletstrete buried.

1609. Dec. 2. Stephen Prage, out of the Catt and fiddle.

1610. Oct. 10. Richarde Powell, Inholder, from ye Redlyon.

Dec. 19. Jeremias Van lanens, out of the miter.

1616. April 5. Fowle Pearce, a stranger, dyeinge suddenly in the Mitre.

1627. April 14. Mr. John Wakeleene, out of the Hercules pillars, Fleetstreet.

1628. Aug. 29. Henry Jeanes, from the 3 Tunnes, Fleetstreet.

1629. March 1. Mary, daughter of Daniell Purch, out of the bout and Tunn 9 in Fleete streete.

The records which the registers furnish of the mortality occasioned by the Plague may lastly be noticed. One of its visitations occurred in 1563, and is marked by an increase of entries.

Again, in 1593 a large number are inscribed with the fatal p. in the paper book.

In 1603 the great plague of that year is denoted at once by a very considerable increase of interments, and by a total absence of persons of rank or importance; for all who possessed means of escape, had fled.

At the next great plague of 1625, all who died, or were supposed to die, of the disease are (in the vellum book) marked with a p. The first entry so distinguished is this:

On the 28th is another, and on the 29th Priscilla and Katharine Cadman from the tenement first infected. On the 2d of July, John Taylor, servant to John Livinge of White Friars, was buried; two days after followed Elizabeth Fullerton, another servant of the same; on the 15th, John Livinge himself, on the 21st his son John. At the beginning of August the family of Michael Leeke is awfully taken off; on the first his daughter Elizabeth, on the second his son Samuell, on the third the mother Jane and son Thomas, and on the fifth the father of the family. On the eighth the curate of the parish fell a victim (see p. 376).

^q The White Friars had a grant of the “hospitium vocatum Le bolt en ton” in 1443. (Rot. Pat. 21 Hen. VI. p. 2, m. 25.) It is still a well known inn.

384 LIST OF PERSONS WHO DIED OF THE PLAGUE.

Scarcely any other persons above the untitled commonalty are to be found ; but there is a servant of Lady Bret, and a woman from Sir Robert Rich's. The following numbers will show the whole career of the tyrant malady in the year 1625 :

July 1 one	Aug. 7 thirteen	Sept. 5 nine	Oct. 4 one

In all, 754 persons in one parish, part of which was then fields and gardens, and the whole population of which in the year 1831 was only 3443.

In 1630 the plague appeared again, the first deceased of it being entered on the 8th of July, the last on the 1st of November, and the whole number of sufferers twenty-three.
