LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Dear Members of the Belnap Family Organization:

It is good to send greetings in this Belnap Family Crier. We are very proud of the Belnap Family Crier and the format with which it has been published in the last two years. We have certainly appreciated the effort on behalf of the officers who have worked so hard to get this out.

I would like to say in behalf of myself that it is a pleasure and a humbling experience to serve as your president. Since I have become more acquainted with my past ancestors and what they have done and their accomplishments I have certainly come to know indeed what a great name the Belnap name is and how proudly we should carry ourselves; that we should uphold the standards set up by our forebearers.

We certainly appreciate every member of this organization and please feel free to communicate at any time with any of the officers.

Sincerely yours,

H. Austin Belnap

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH:

We are happy to announce we can send you more information on our Belknap direct line due to research that is being done by the Family Organization. Since the reunion last July, the Family has spent $800 for research.

We are printing in this edition of the CRIER additional information on Abraham and Mary Belknap's family that came to America about 1635. Also a corrected family group sheet of Samuel Belknap, born about 1707. These sheets will replace the sheets in the "Belnap Family Genealogical Packet" that was printed some time ago. Abraham Belknap is #1 on Chart #3 of the pedigree charts; Samuel Belknap is #2 on Chart #2 of the pedigree charts. If you do not have this "packet" there are still some available for $7.00.

Also, information has been found on two grandmothers' lines in England. These lines have not been completed. When they are, they will be printed in the CRIER.

By July we have been promised several hundred families from the New England States on the collateral lines. Also corrections and additional children to what the Family already has.

Home of Vinson and Martha Knight
Nauvoo, Illinois

Dear Gilbert Belnap Family Members,

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has purchased many homes in the city of Nauvoo. Vinson Knight was the chairman of the committee appointed by Joseph Smith to select a site to which the saints might gather. The committee selected the site which became Nauvoo, the Beautiful. This city is to be restored and is now under the supervision of the Nauvoo Restoration Incorporated with J. LeRoy Kimball, M.D. as President. Dr. T. Edgar Lyon is chairman of the Research Division.

It has been my pleasure to submit to them a large, clear photograph of the home of Vinson and Martha Knight. This photo was arranged for years ago by Gilbert and Adaline Belnap and their son Hyrum Belnap with Mr. Christenson. I happened to be present when this was done. Mr. Christenson was a neighbor who lived across the road from Grandfather's front door gate in Hooper, Weber County, Utah. Mr. Christenson was going on a mission to the vicinity of Nauvoo.

Dr. Lyon recently reported to me that the Brigham Young home, near the Vinson Knight home, has just been completed and a start has been made on the Knight home. He, himself, took down the wooden curtain rods and hangers from the walls and they are cataloged here in the Church Archives. He wishes to obtain any articles, original or copies, of any furniture, dishes, curtains, clothing, etc. which any one might have to give the committee ideas on how to place the home in as near its original set up as is possible.

The home is on the Central Block with the homes of other Church Officials. Brigham Young's home is near it. The description is Lot 1 - Block 126.

Please send any articles, or any written description or story, to Dr. T. Edgar Lyon, Research Historian, Nauvoo Restoration Incorporated, Ten South Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, 84101.

Please do some research and send it to Dr. Lyon. This is a great opportunity for us to honor Vinson and Martha Knight in this effort to restore their second home, the home which they occupied at the time of Vinson's death.

Devotedly,

Marion A. Belnap Kerr

(C. A. Christenson, a missionary from Hooper, Utah about 1898)

The other night (March 7, 1969) an article appeared in the newspaper of the Ogden Standard Examiner (Ogden, Utah) about the coming of the continental railroad. It told about the Union Pacific rails reaching Ogden, about five blocks away from the old Tithing Office in downtown Ogden. The Union Pacific coming from the East and the Central Pacific racing eastward from the West.

When the Union Pacific reached Ogden they erected a stand and held a typical Western celebration. On this stand the paper listed the names of numerous prominent people who helped on this project; among this list was Gilbert Belnap.

This called to mind an event Gilbert Belnap participated in, in these early days. It became necessary just before 1869 to get the payroll to the railroad workers. It was to be taken from Salt Lake City, Utah, to Wells, Nevada.

Who was to take it? There were no railroads, no automobiles, no airplanes. The fastest way, and perhaps the surest, was to take it by horseback.

The sheriff of Salt Lake was called in and he suggested they get Sheriff Gilbert Belnap of Ogden. This they did.

Sheriff Belnap disguised himself as an old miner. The large sum of money was placed in gunny sacks tied to his horse, and in his disguise he left for Nevada. This trip would take him through some very wild and desert country.

The coming of the railroad and the migration westward of gold seekers also brought many undesirable characters who would never hesitate to rob, steal or shoot. Therefore it was a hazardous undertaking.

These bandits also knew payrolls had to be sent out and were always on the lookout to waylay anyone that might appear to be a carrier.

The first night Gilbert got to K's Ward, now known as Kaysville (Davis County, Utah). When it was getting dark he rode about half a mile from the main trail or road and camped for the night. He tied his horse to his blanket so if the horse got frightened it would wake him up.

Before dark a group of robbers had passed, and during the night they passed him a couple of more times. They didn't pay any attention to him as they thought he was an old miner.

At the coming of daylight he was on his way again. He had to seek water holes and live off the land. Sometimes he would meet up with hardy surveying groups and once in a while those rough characters who were out to rob. He kept his disguise up and could swagger with the best of them. He was always in great danger of being detected and of surviving in the desert country. But Gilbert was true to his trust and made the journey and delivered the money in safety.

--Volney B. Belnap, Grandson
(Son of Hyrum Belnap & Anna C. Bluth)

Gilbert Belnap had three sons who worked on the railroad as it was being built through Weber Canyon: Gilbert R., 21 years old; Reuben, 17 years old; and Joseph, 15 years old. The exact dates they worked are not known, but the track was laid to Devil's Gate, Weber Canyon by June 11, 1868, and to the mouth of Weber Canyon by July 22, 1868. Because of the difficult terrain and the spring floods in the canyon, the track was not laid into Ogden until March 8, 1869.

Reuben Belnap records that the first year he earned $100 and gave $50 of it to his father. The first new suit he ever owned he bought with the money earned working on this railroad job. *

When the train came to Ogden a big celebration was to be held. The Belnap family was there. Everyone was dressed in their best and the girls in white dresses. The town of Ogden was very different then. There was a slough in the business district of town.

The young boys went down the track to meet the train, among them were Hyrum Belnap, age 11, and his brother, Amasa, age 3. When the steaming, puffing train appeared they ran for their lives, except Amasa who stood frozen to the ground. No amount of screaming from the other boys could move him. The train kept coming, steaming and puffing. For a few seconds Amasa could not be seen for the steam from the train. They just knew Amasa was killed. When the train passed and the steam cleared away, Amasa was still standing there about two feet outside the train rails.

More excitement was seen when the train reached its destination, Ogden. The adults were in their places watching the steaming, puffing, bell-ringing monster coming down the track. The terrified children took off through the slough. What do you suppose happened when the Belnaps saw those beautiful white dresses after they had been through the slough?

(These stories were told by Hyrum Belnap.)
