PREFATORY NOTE.

The completion of the first volume of "The Herts Genealogist and Antiquary" gives me an opportunity of thanking those kind friends who have supported me in the undertaking.

My object has been to publish, in as concise a form as possible, such matter only as has not been hitherto printed, or such as, although printed, is practically inaccessible to the general public, e.g., the list of Non-Parochial Registers now at Somerset House.

As to the method of publication by instalments of series of abstracts and other documents, I must beg a little indulgence of those who experience inconvenience thereby. My genealogical work is almost entirely done in spare time, and I have neither inclination nor opportunity to complete within a reasonable time any particular series of abstracts or records in a separate form. The Table of Contents, which it is intended to place at the beginning of each volume, will enable those interested to search easily through serial articles.

With the exception of the articles which appear under the name of Mr. A. E. Gibbs, the editor is responsible for the whole volume and trusts that, although his work has sometimes been executed with considerable rapidity, not more than the usual allowance of mistakes will be found.

To those who have assisted me as subscribers, to Messrs. Gibbs and Bamforth, of St. Albans, for the very great care they have bestowed on the printing of the volume, and finally to my wife and Mr. R. G. Ely for much kind assistance in the arduous task of preparing the Index, I desire to record my indebtedness, and in conclusion venture to express the hope that the work thus commenced has given and will continue to give satisfaction to those who consult its pages.

Marriage Licences.

Archdeaconry of St. Albans.

The Marriage Bonds now in the custody of the Archdeacon of St. Albans commence in 1661 and abstracts of the whole of them down to the year 1812 have been carefully made by Mr. A. E. Gibbs, and will be printed in due course. Notes of earlier licences, however, are contained in the Administration Act Books of the Archdeaconry (now at Somerset House), which the Editor has abstracted, and which are now printed first, to make the series as complete as possible.

Lady Margaret Harper.

VERY little appears to be known respecting this lady, the second wife of Sir William Harper, Lord Mayor of London, and a great benefactor to the town of Bedford. Mr. Blaydes in an article in Bedfordshire Notes and Queries (Vol. iii. p. 3) gives a note of the Marriage Licence from the Bishop of London's Registry dated 13 Sep., 1570, in which she is described as of the City of London, her surname being spelt "Leedare."

The following extract from the Burial Registers of St. Peter's in St. Albans will prove of interest:—

1590-1 Feb. 23 "William Lether father to the Ladie Harper."

I have not yet worked out any pedigree of the Lether family, but the above extract is sufficient to prove its connection with Hertfordshire, and I will only add here a copy of the note of grant of administration to the estate of the above-named William Lether which occurs in the Probate Registers of the Archdeaconry of St. Albans:—

"Will'mus Leathres. Octavo die mensis Maij pred. [1591] comissa fuit Ad^{mo} honorū Will'mi Leathres parochie Sct. Petr. ab intestato def. Thome Rapiet civi et Clothworker Londin. de bene," &c.

It is curious to note with reference to the second coat of arms on Sir Wm. Harper's brass at Bedford, viz.: "Per chevron gules and argent three trefoils slipped counterchanged, on a chief of the second as many birds of the first," evidently intended to represent the arms of Lady Margaret Harper, Papworth gives the name Sir Wm. Harper with a note of interrogation.

Contemporaneous Memoranda Relating to the Battles of St. Albans.

On page seventy-nine of the volume called "Stoncham," the first of the series of Probate Registers of the Archdeaconry of St. Albans, occurs the following note respecting the earlier of the two battles which were fought at St. Albans. The note is of great importance from a historical standpoint, having, without doubt, been entered in the Register immediately-subsequent to the event which it records. It is interesting to note that in the marginal heading to the paragraph the word "primum" is an interpolation by a later hand, presumably after the second battle of St. Albans had taken place.

The whole of the document is in Latin with numerous contractions. For convenience in printing it is here given in an extended form.

BELLUM PRIMUM APUD SANCTUM ALBANUM. Nomina interfectorum apud Sanctum Albanum in vico Sancti Petri xxij^o die mensis Maij Anno domini millesimo ecce^om^olv^o, presentibus domino Rege Henrico vj^o duce Buk. duce Somersett Comite Northumb^o. The memorandum relating to the Second Battle of St. Albans is to be found at the head of page 100 of the above-mentioned Probate Register. It is as follows:—

BELLUM SECUNDUM. xvij^o die mensis Februarij A^o domini m^occcx^{mo}lx^o videlicet die martis in Carniprivo post nonam fuit bellum secundum et ibidem interfecti fuerunt ad numerum quasi duo milia.

A Seventeenth Century Token.

A Rickmansworth Farthing Token has come into my possession which, I believe, has never previously been described. It is not given in Williamson's "Trade Tokens Issued in the 17th Century." The inscriptions run thus:—

Obverse = GEORGE WINGFIELD = Grocers' Arms.

Reverse = IN RICKMERSWORTH = G.A.W.

A. F. G.

List of Transcripts of Registers

FOR THE

Archdeaconry of St. Albans.

By A. E. GIBBS, F.L.S.

AFTER the Dissolution of the Monastery the Archdeaconry of St. Albans was reconstituted, Anno 1550, and comprised the following parishes:—In Hertfordshire—St. Alban's, St. Peter's, St. Michael's, St. Stephen's, Chipping Barnet, East Barnet, Bushey, Rickmansworth, Sarratt, Shephall, Abbot's or Paul's Walden, Walford, Codicote, Hexton, Elstree, Abbot's Langley, Newnham, Norton, Redbourn, Ridge, Sandridge, and Northaw. Brantfield was also at one time included. In Buckinghamshire—Abbot's Aston, Grandborough, Little Horwood, and Winslow.

The Archdeaconry now comprises the whole County of Hertford.

The following is a list of the Transcripts of Parish Registers now in the custody of the Archdeacon of St. Albans:—

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. The text also mentions the need for regular audits to ensure the integrity of the financial data.

In addition, it is noted that all payments should be made in a timely manner to avoid any penalties or interest charges. The document further outlines the procedures for handling disputes and resolving any discrepancies that may arise.

It is also stressed that the financial statements should be prepared and reviewed by a qualified professional to ensure their accuracy and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

The document concludes by stating that the information provided is for informational purposes only and should not be used as a substitute for professional advice. It encourages the reader to consult with a tax advisor or accountant for more detailed guidance.

Finally, the document expresses the organization's commitment to transparency and accountability in its financial reporting. It invites the public to review the information and provide any feedback or questions.

The document is signed by the Chief Financial Officer and the Controller, who are responsible for the accuracy and completeness of the information presented.

The document is dated and includes the names and titles of the signatories. It also contains a reference to the relevant financial statements and reports.

Transcripts of Parish Registers.

*Amongst the Probate records of the Archdeaconry of St. Albans, now deposited at Somerset House, are two original transcripts of registers, for the parishes of St. Stephens and Sandridge respectively, for the years 1561 to 1563 in each case. As will be seen from the list of Transcripts, now in St. Albans Abbey, which has been compiled by MR. A. E. GIBBS, transcripts for a few other years of St. Stephens Registers still exist. All these have been copied and will be printed verbatim.

THE HISTORY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON

17

The first settlement in Boston was made in 1630, when a group of Puritan settlers, led by John Winthrop, arrived on the ship Arcturion. They established the town of Boston on the eastern shore of the harbor. The settlers were seeking a place where they could practice their religion freely and build a community based on their shared values. Over the years, Boston grew into a major center of commerce and industry, and played a significant role in the American Revolution. The city was the site of the Boston Tea Party in 1773, a protest against British taxation that led to the American War of Independence. Boston's rich history and cultural heritage are reflected in its many historic landmarks and museums, including the Freedom Trail and the Boston Public Garden.

1. The area of a square is 144 sq. cm. Find the length of its side.

Solution:

Let the side of the square be x cm.

Area of square = x^2 sq. cm.

$\therefore x^2 = 144$

$\therefore x = \sqrt{144}$

$\therefore x = 12$

\therefore The length of the side is 12 cm.

2. The area of a square is 64 sq. cm. Find the length of its side.

Solution:

Let the side of the square be x cm.

Area of square = x^2 sq. cm.

$\therefore x^2 = 64$

$\therefore x = \sqrt{64}$

$\therefore x = 8$

\therefore The length of the side is 8 cm.

3. The area of a square is 100 sq. cm. Find the length of its side.

Solution:

Let the side of the square be x cm.

Area of square = x^2 sq. cm.

$\therefore x^2 = 100$

$\therefore x = \sqrt{100}$

$\therefore x = 10$

\therefore The length of the side is 10 cm.

4. The area of a square is 225 sq. cm. Find the length of its side.

Solution:

Let the side of the square be x cm.

Area of square = x^2 sq. cm.

$\therefore x^2 = 225$

$\therefore x = \sqrt{225}$

$\therefore x = 15$

\therefore The length of the side is 15 cm.

5. The area of a square is 400 sq. cm. Find the length of its side.

Solution:

Let the side of the square be x cm.

Area of square = x^2 sq. cm.

$\therefore x^2 = 400$

$\therefore x = \sqrt{400}$

$\therefore x = 20$

\therefore The length of the side is 20 cm.

the first part of the reign of King Henry the Second, who was crowned in the year 1154, and reigned till the year 1189. In this reign the English were engaged in a long and bloody war with the French, which was the result of the marriage of Matilda, daughter of Henry the First, to Geoffrey, Duke of Brittany. The war was continued for many years, and was not finally settled till the year 1213, when the English were defeated at the battle of Merton. This was the last battle fought between the English and the French in the reign of Henry the Second.

The reign of King Henry the Second was a period of great prosperity and power for the English monarchy. He was a strong and able ruler, and he was able to bring the English monarchy to the height of its power. He was also a great patron of the arts and sciences, and he was able to bring about a great revival of learning in England.

One of the most important events of the reign of King Henry the Second was the signing of the Magna Carta in the year 1215. This was a great charter of liberties, which was signed by King John, the son of King Henry the Second, and it was a great step towards the establishment of the rule of law in England.

The reign of King Henry the Second was also a period of great religious and political controversy. One of the most important events of the reign was the dispute between King Henry and the Pope over the appointment of bishops. This dispute was the result of the Pope's refusal to allow King Henry to appoint bishops without the Pope's consent. This dispute was finally settled in the year 1171, when King Henry was forced to accept the Pope's decision.

The reign of King Henry the Second was a period of great achievement for the English monarchy. He was able to bring the English monarchy to the height of its power, and he was able to bring about a great revival of learning in England. His reign was a period of great prosperity and power for the English monarchy, and it was a period of great achievement for the English people.

Hertfordshire Deeds.

Amongst the Records belonging to the Corporation of St. Albans is a bundle marked "No. 101 Clock House Documents." The bundle contains seventeen documents and an old schedule headed "Box of all the Deeds and Writings belonging to the Clock-house in the Occupacon of Thos. Muntford" which enumerates, more or less erroneously, sixteen deeds, three of which are missing, described respectively as:—

1. A confirmacon from Ralph Att Lee & ux. to John Petting & ux. of a vacant Peice of Ground in S^t Albans Dated 20 December 9 Richard 2^d.
5. A Grant from John Le brower to Stephen Brock & ux. of a messuage in Church Street Dated Munday after the Assumpcon of the blessed Virgin 38 Edw^d 3.
6. A Grant from Wm. Piekbon to S^r Jeffery ffillinden & al. of a peice of Ground at the End of Cordwainers Rowe Dated Saturday the Epiphany 4 Henr. 4.

The second of these three deeds does not relate to the Clock house; neither does the one endorsed No. 4 now in the bundle, but the latter is of sufficient interest to deserve a place amongst the following abstracts.

The first part of the history of the world is the history of the human race. It is a history of progress and of the struggle for existence. It is a history of the triumph of the good over the evil, and of the ultimate victory of the human spirit over the forces of nature and of the devil.

The second part of the history of the world is the history of the human mind. It is a history of the development of the human intellect, and of the discovery of the laws of nature and of the human soul. It is a history of the triumph of the human mind over the forces of ignorance and of superstition.

The third part of the history of the world is the history of the human heart. It is a history of the development of the human emotions, and of the discovery of the laws of love and of the human conscience. It is a history of the triumph of the human heart over the forces of selfishness and of sin.

The fourth part of the history of the world is the history of the human will. It is a history of the development of the human character, and of the discovery of the laws of duty and of the human freedom. It is a history of the triumph of the human will over the forces of weakness and of despair.

The fifth part of the history of the world is the history of the human soul. It is a history of the development of the human spirit, and of the discovery of the laws of God and of the human destiny. It is a history of the triumph of the human soul over the forces of the devil and of the world.

The sixth part of the history of the world is the history of the human body. It is a history of the development of the human physical nature, and of the discovery of the laws of health and of the human vitality. It is a history of the triumph of the human body over the forces of disease and of death.

The first part of the report is a general introduction to the subject of the study. It discusses the importance of the problem and the objectives of the research. The second part is a detailed description of the methods used in the study. This includes a description of the subjects, the experimental design, and the data collection procedures. The third part is a presentation of the results of the study. This includes a description of the data and a discussion of the findings. The fourth part is a conclusion and a discussion of the implications of the study. This includes a summary of the main findings and a discussion of the limitations of the study and the need for further research.

The study was conducted in a laboratory setting. The subjects were all male college students who were recruited from a local university. The study was designed as a between-subjects experiment. The independent variable was the type of task, and the dependent variable was the time taken to complete the task. The data were collected using a stopwatch. The results of the study showed that the time taken to complete the task was significantly longer for the more difficult task. This suggests that the difficulty of the task is a significant factor in determining the time taken to complete it.

The findings of this study have several implications. First, they suggest that the difficulty of a task is a significant factor in determining the time taken to complete it. This has implications for the design of tasks in a variety of settings, including education, industry, and sports. Second, the study suggests that the time taken to complete a task is a good measure of task difficulty. This has implications for the use of time as a measure of task difficulty in a variety of settings. Finally, the study suggests that the time taken to complete a task is a good measure of task performance. This has implications for the use of time as a measure of task performance in a variety of settings.

In conclusion, the study has shown that the time taken to complete a task is a good measure of task difficulty and task performance. This has implications for the design of tasks in a variety of settings, including education, industry, and sports. The study also suggests that the time taken to complete a task is a good measure of task difficulty and task performance. This has implications for the use of time as a measure of task difficulty and task performance in a variety of settings.

Provision of Armour and Men by the Clergy of the Archdeaconry of St. Albans, 1590.

[For many years subsequent to the date of the "Armada" the clergy as well as laymen were called upon to provide armour and men and hold themselves ready in case of foreign invasion. Amongst the Archdeaconry papers at St. Albans are many belonging to various years ranging from 1588 to 1626 which relate to the summonses to the clergy of the Archdeaconry. Those for 1590 appear as interesting as any others and set forth (without necessity for lengthy explanation) the whole proceedings.]

The first of these is the fact that the British government had no direct control over the colonies. The colonies were self-governing and had their own legislatures. This was a major source of tension between the colonies and the British government.

The American Revolution

The American Revolution was a war fought between the thirteen original colonies and the Kingdom of Great Britain. It began in 1775 and ended in 1783. The colonies won their independence and became the United States of America.

The American Revolution was a turning point in the history of the United States. It established the principle of self-government and the right of the people to overthrow a tyrannical government. The Constitution of the United States was drafted in 1787 and ratified in 1788. It is the foundation of the American government.

The Civil War

The Civil War was a war fought between the Union and the Confederacy. It began in 1861 and ended in 1865. The Union won the war and the Confederacy was abolished. The Civil War was a major event in the history of the United States. It established the principle of federalism and the right of the federal government to enforce the laws of the United States.

The Reconstruction Era

The Reconstruction Era was a period of time in the history of the United States. It began in 1863 and ended in 1877. It was a time of great change and progress. The Reconstruction Era was a major event in the history of the United States. It established the principle of equality and the right of all people to participate in the government of the United States.

November 16. 1590. Barnet. Edwarde Vnderne pson of Barnet hath in readines A Jacke wth sleeves A Scull, a Scottishe cappe A peece callyd a peternell An Arming sword & a dagger. These shall at all tymes be at an howres warnyng. Other furnieture hath he none, neither is hable to have any.

The valure in the Queenes is xxij^{li}. The cause why it was so valuyd, is this: The Parson had let it out at that rate when the lyving was first valuyd & he servyd the Cure himselfe. And being found to be so let out, it was so valuyd.

The Parson is chargyd wth serving of tow Cures, the Churches being ij myles asonder. And for lack of sight not hable to serve either, is foarsyd to fynde ij Ministers.

Ther is not any howse belonging to the lyving.

The place is a most chargable place to dwell in.

Edward Vnderne now pson by suertishippe & erecting of a Scoole is greatlye endettyd.

In consyderacon of the premisses he craveth all lawfull favour & yet willing to serve to the vttermost of his power.

[Signed] Edwarde Vnderne, pson of Barnet.

Right Honorable my duetye in moste humble wise remēbred. It may please yo^r hono^r to be adu^tised That wheras by yo^r LL^ℓ appoyntment I am charged to make provision of a Calyver furnished. Soe yt is (as knoweth God) my good Lorde That I am a very olde man of the age of fouerscore and Sixtene and my benefice not worthe by the yeare at the vttermoste ten pounnds by reason whereof in this my impotent olde age I live in extreeme pou^tye beinge not able to provide suche necessaryes as are required for my sustenⁿce. The p^rmisses considered yt maye please yo^r good LL. to have pittye and compassion of this my poore & impotent aidge. And to take such order as I maye no furder stande chardged wth the provision of the saide furniture. And yo^r LL^ℓ poore Orato^r shall for eu^r duringe his lief praye for the prosperous estate of yo^r good LL^ℓ.

Yo^r LL^ℓ poore Orato^r

[Signed] by me Rychard Scott.

18 Nouēb. 1590. William^o Moore viccare of St Peters haue heare shewede a man w^t a Calyner a flaske & towchboxe, a murrioue, an arminge sworde and dagger furnishe & they shalbe at all tymes in a readynes.

[Signed] W. Moore.

S^r in moste lymble wise my duetic Remembred. I commende me to yo^r worships wth hope of yo^r good healtie the w^{ch} I pray god longe contynue to his good will and pleasure. The cause of my writtinge is to signifie vnto you howe that whearas I am commaunded to be at S. Albande y^e xvijth of this moneth it is so yt I cannot for I am sicke and haue bene this 10 wickel. And haue not in all this tyme bene able to goe abroade and god knoweth whether ever I shall. And as concerninge y^e ffurniture w^{ch} I am appointed there to shew you shall vnderstand howe that I had the like commaundment above ij yeaes now paste, at w^{ch} tyme I went vnto my lord of London, beinge then, even as nowe also, farr vnable to doe it, and made my state then knowen vnto his L. beseeching his L. to coneyder of the same, And so shewed vnto his L. his Pre vnder his owne hand and seale, w^{ch} I then had to the ministers in Middlesex to crave their benevolence, beinge then, even as now also in great debte, And my benefice nothinge by reason of y^e Rotte y^t came amongst sheepe. The copie of w^{ch} Pre I am bold to send vnto yo^r worshippe inclosed herin, vpon the sight of w^{ch} Pre my lord commaunded me to go to S. Albanel and there to sett downe what I was able to by. And his L. would talke wth my lord grace concearning me and some other poore ministers. And accordinge to his L. commaundement I went to S. Albanel, And there sett downe y^t I would bie a blacke bill onely, w^{ch} was more then and is nowe then I am well able to doo considering my great charge of v or vj children, the smalnes of my livinge w^{ch} hathe not bene this v yeares worthe v^{li} a yeare. And the great debte that I am in, wherefore I moste hymblice beseeche yo^r worshippe even for god's cause to stand my good friend for my case is most harde And more harder then I can make it knowen. But this I say and god is my witness I lye not. Provision for me or myne I have non nor yet one crosse eather of silver or gold to bie bread or other foode to put in our bellies. My maintenance this v yeare hathe bene preaching here and there now and then wth my worshipfull good friend. Wherefore I doubt not but bothe my L. grace and my L. of London and yo^r worshippe wth all others y^t feare god will consider my case, beinge of honest life & conversation and one y^t searveth y^e Lord. And so I cease to trouble yo^r worshippe any farther commendinge you to the tuition of the all mightie who ever blesse you and guide you wth his holie spirit amen this xvijth day of November, wth a weake bodie, a faint heart and a feeble hand as knoweth y^e lord. Yo^r worshippes poore friend and well willer for ever to commaund.

[Signed] He. Atkys.

[The last paper connected with this business is the draft letter or certificate sent by the Archdeacon to the Bishop of London. It is unnecessary to copy it in full as it is more or less a repetition of the various answers of the clergy given above. It gives the additional information that St Michaels was 'vacat' also that 'Mr Wildeblode vicar of Redborne beinge charged wth a Corslet furnished hathe neither shewed nor certified any thinge.' Mr White minister of Northaw & Mr Warren vicar of Hexton are likewise reported as having certified nothing. Mr Butler vicar of Sarrett is noted as having shewn a musket well furnished 'by his sonne'.]

Seventeenth Century Tokens.

Two more tokens which are not given in Boyne's or Williamson's Lists have come into my possession. They are as follows:—

ELSTREE

Obverse = IOHN AXTELL IN = IHS HALFE PENY

Reverse = ELLSTREA MERSER 67 = I S A.

This is the first token described for Elstree, and we thus have a new locality, bringing up the number of places in Hertfordshire in which tokens were issued to 50.

The Parish Registers of Northaw perished in the fire which destroyed the church on Sunday the 20th Feb. 1881, a full account of which will be found in the HERTS ADVERTISER of Feb. 26th and March 19th of that year. Transcripts of more than sixty years are now in the custody of the Archdeacon of St. Albans, and I need offer no apology for printing them verbatim. A complete restoration of the Registers is an impossibility, but many items may be supplied from the Monumental Inscriptions recorded by Cussans and others, and I am greatly indebted to the Rev. F. C. Cass for kindly furnishing me with copies of a number of entries taken by him previous to the destruction of the registers. I have incorporated Mr. Cass's extracts with the transcripts, appending his initials to each.

STATEMENT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1911

The Board of Trustees of the University of Chicago, in its meeting held on June 15, 1911, has the honor to submit herewith its report for the year ending June 30, 1911. The report is divided into two parts, the first of which contains a statement of the financial condition of the University at the beginning and end of the year, and the second a statement of the operations of the University during the year.

The financial condition of the University at the beginning of the year was as follows: Total assets, $1,000,000.00; Total liabilities, $500,000.00; Total net assets, $500,000.00. At the end of the year the financial condition was as follows: Total assets, $1,100,000.00; Total liabilities, $550,000.00; Total net assets, $550,000.00.

The operations of the University during the year were as follows: Total receipts, $1,000,000.00; Total disbursements, $900,000.00; Total surplus, $100,000.00. The surplus of the year has been used for the purpose of increasing the endowment of the University.

The Board of Trustees has the honor to acknowledge the cooperation and assistance of the faculty and the administration of the University during the year, and to express its appreciation of the efforts of the faculty and the administration to improve the University and to increase the number of students.

The Board of Trustees has the honor to certify that the above statement is a true and correct statement of the financial condition and operations of the University of Chicago for the year ending June 30, 1911.

The first part of the history of the world is the history of the human race. It is a history of progress, of discovery, of conquest, and of suffering. It is a history of the human mind, of its powers, of its limitations, and of its achievements. It is a history of the human soul, of its struggles, of its triumphs, and of its defeats. It is a history of the human world, of its changes, of its stability, and of its future.

THE HISTORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

The human race is a race of progress. It is a race that has advanced from a state of barbarism to a state of civilization. It is a race that has discovered the secrets of nature, and has used them to improve its lot. It is a race that has conquered the world, and has established a global community. It is a race that has created a world of wonders, and has shown the way to a better future.

THE HISTORY OF THE HUMAN MIND

The human mind is a mind of discovery. It is a mind that has explored the depths of the universe, and has discovered the secrets of life. It is a mind that has created the arts, the sciences, and the humanities. It is a mind that has shown the way to a better world, and has inspired the human soul. It is a mind that has created a world of wonders, and has shown the way to a better future.

THE HISTORY OF THE HUMAN SOUL

The human soul is a soul of struggle. It is a soul that has fought against the forces of evil, and has emerged victorious. It is a soul that has sought the truth, and has found it. It is a soul that has shown the way to a better world, and has inspired the human mind. It is a soul that has created a world of wonders, and has shown the way to a better future.

THE HISTORY OF THE HUMAN WORLD

The human world is a world of change. It is a world that has evolved from a state of chaos to a state of order. It is a world that has shown the way to a better future, and has inspired the human race. It is a world that has created a world of wonders, and has shown the way to a better future.

of the world, and the progress of the human mind, from the earliest times to the present day. The author has endeavored to present a clear and concise account of the various events and discoveries which have shaped the course of civilization, and to show how the different nations and peoples have contributed to the advancement of the human race. The work is divided into several volumes, each dealing with a different period or aspect of history, and is intended to be a useful and interesting reference for all who are interested in the past and the future of our world.

The first volume of the series deals with the ancient world, from the beginning of time to the fall of the Roman Empire. It covers the history of the various ancient civilizations, including the Egyptians, the Greeks, and the Romans, and discusses their contributions to art, science, and literature. The second volume deals with the Middle Ages, from the fall of the Roman Empire to the beginning of the Renaissance. It covers the history of the various medieval kingdoms and empires, and discusses the development of the feudal system and the rise of the papacy. The third volume deals with the modern world, from the beginning of the Renaissance to the present day. It covers the history of the various modern nations and empires, and discusses the development of the scientific revolution and the industrial revolution. The fourth volume deals with the future of the world, and discusses the various theories and predictions of the future of our species and our planet.

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the world, from the beginning of time to the present day. The author discusses the various civilizations that have flourished on the earth, and the progress of human knowledge and industry. He also touches upon the political and social changes that have shaped the modern world.

The second part of the book is a detailed account of the history of the British Empire, from its early beginnings in the sixteenth century to its greatest extent in the nineteenth century. The author describes the various colonies and territories that were acquired, and the policies that were pursued towards them. He also discusses the role of the British Empire in the world, and its impact on the course of human history.

The third part of the book is a history of the United States, from its founding in 1776 to the present day. The author discusses the various events and figures that have shaped the nation, and the progress of its institutions and society. He also touches upon the role of the United States in the world, and its impact on the course of human history.

The fourth part of the book is a history of the world from 1870 to the present day. The author discusses the various events and figures that have shaped the modern world, and the progress of human knowledge and industry. He also touches upon the political and social changes that have shaped the modern world.

The first part of the history is a general account of the state of the world at the beginning of the world. It describes the creation of the world and the first of man. It then goes on to describe the history of the world from the time of the first of man to the present. It is divided into three parts: the first part is a general account of the world; the second part is a history of the world; and the third part is a history of the world. The first part is a general

Development of a Test for the Measurement of Intelligence

The purpose of this study was to develop a test of intelligence for use in the selection of personnel for the Army. The test was designed to measure the ability to understand and use verbal information, to solve problems, and to learn from experience.

The test was developed by a committee of experts in the field of intelligence testing. The test was based on the principles of Spearman's theory of intelligence, which states that there is a single factor of intelligence that underlies all mental activities.

The test consists of a series of subtests that measure different aspects of intelligence. The subtests are: Vocabulary, Similarities, Object Assembly, Block Design, Matrix Reasoning, and Digit Span.

The test was standardized on a representative sample of the general population. The results of the test were compared with the results of other intelligence tests to determine its validity and reliability.

The test was found to be a valid and reliable measure of intelligence. It was found to be particularly useful for the selection of personnel for the Army, as it was able to predict job performance more accurately than other tests.

The test was also found to be a useful measure of intelligence for use in other settings, such as in the selection of personnel for other occupations and in the diagnosis of mental illness.

The first part of the history is devoted to a description of the country and its inhabitants. The author describes the various tribes and their customs, and the different parts of the country. He also mentions the various wars and battles which have taken place in the country.

CHAPTER I. OF THE DISCOVERY OF THE COUNTRY.

The discovery of the country was made by the Spaniards in the year 1492. Christopher Columbus, who was sailing from Spain to the Indies, discovered the island of Hispaniola. He then sailed to the mainland, and discovered the country of Florida. The Spaniards then settled in the country, and began to cultivate the land. They also discovered the various tribes and their customs. The Spaniards then began to conquer the country, and to subjugate the various tribes. They then began to build cities and towns, and to establish a government. The Spaniards then began to mine for gold and silver, and to transport the precious metals to Spain. The Spaniards then began to convert the natives to Christianity, and to teach them the Spanish language. The Spaniards then began to settle in the country, and to build a colony. The Spaniards then began to explore the country, and to discover the various parts of the country. The Spaniards then began to build a fleet, and to sail to other parts of the world. The Spaniards then began to build a great empire, and to rule over the world.

The first part of the book is devoted to a general survey of the history of the subject. It begins with a brief account of the early attempts to explain the origin of life, and then proceeds to a more detailed consideration of the various theories which have been advanced since the time of Darwin. The author discusses the evidence in favour of each of these theories, and also points out the difficulties which attend their acceptance. He concludes this part of the book by expressing his own views on the subject, and by suggesting some lines of future research.

CHAPTER VIII. THE NATIONAL SYSTEM	135
CHAPTER IX. THE REVOLUTION OF 1848	155
CHAPTER X. THE CIVIL WAR	175
CHAPTER XI. THE RECONSTRUCTION	195
CHAPTER XII. THE PRESENT POSITION	215

The first part of the book is devoted to the history of the discovery of America and the early settlements. It covers the period from the first voyage of Christopher Columbus in 1492 to the establishment of the first permanent English colony in Jamestown in 1607. The second part of the book is devoted to the struggle for independence and the formation of the federal government. It covers the period from the outbreak of the Revolutionary War in 1775 to the signing of the Constitution in 1787. The third part of the book is devoted to the western explorations and the revolution of 1800. It covers the period from the discovery of the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 to the election of Thomas Jefferson in 1800. The fourth part of the book is devoted to the war of 1812 and the national system. It covers the period from the outbreak of the war in 1812 to the signing of the Tariff of Abominations in 1816. The fifth part of the book is devoted to the revolution of 1848 and the civil war. It covers the period from the outbreak of the revolution in 1848 to the end of the civil war in 1865. The sixth part of the book is devoted to the reconstruction and the present position. It covers the period from the end of the civil war in 1865 to the present day.

The book is written in a clear and concise style, and is suitable for use in schools and colleges. It is a valuable source of information for anyone interested in the history of the United States. The book is divided into twelve chapters, each of which covers a different period of American history. The chapters are written in a chronological order, and each chapter begins with a short introduction to the period. The book is well illustrated with maps and diagrams, and includes a list of names and a list of dates. The book is a classic work of American history, and is one of the best-selling books in the world.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be clearly documented, including the date, amount, and purpose of the transaction. This ensures transparency and allows for easy reconciliation of accounts.

The second section details the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It describes how different types of information are gathered, from direct observations to indirect measurements, and how these are then processed to identify trends and patterns. The use of statistical tools is highlighted as a key component of this process.

The third part of the document focuses on the practical application of the findings. It outlines how the data is used to inform decision-making and to develop strategies for improvement. It also discusses the challenges faced in this process and offers suggestions for overcoming them.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key points and a call to action. It encourages the reader to continue to explore these topics and to apply the principles discussed to their own work.

The following table provides a summary of the data collected during the study. It shows the total number of observations, the average values for each variable, and the range of the data.

Variable	Mean	Standard Deviation	Minimum	Maximum
Variable 1	12.5	3.2	8.0	17.0
Variable 2	15.8	4.1	10.0	21.0

The first part of the paper discusses the general principles of the theory of the atom, and the second part discusses the application of these principles to the case of the hydrogen atom.

In the first part, we consider the general principles of the theory of the atom. We begin by considering the general principles of the theory of the atom, and then we consider the application of these principles to the case of the hydrogen atom.

In the second part, we consider the application of these principles to the case of the hydrogen atom. We begin by considering the general principles of the theory of the atom, and then we consider the application of these principles to the case of the hydrogen atom.

Marriage Licences. Archdeaconry of St. Albans.

[The series of Licences of which comparatively full notes are contained in the Archdeaconry Act Books, was completed on page 218 ANTE. After the Commonwealth period lists of licences granted each year are given containing the surnames of the parties only. In the introductory note to the series on page 11 ANTE, I stated that the Bonds now in the custody of the Archdeacon of St. Albans commenced in 1661, but in the course of his work of abstracting the contents of these bonds Mr. A. E. Gibbs discovered an earlier bundle, dating back as far as 1611. A comparison of the Bonds with the notes in the Act Books shows that in the great majority of cases the former contain much and important new information; in many cases no note is to be found in the Act Book to correspond with the Bond, and in other cases there are notes of licences where the bonds cannot now be found. In spite of the fact that there will be a certain amount of repetition, I have requested Mr. Gibbs to abstract the whole of the newly-discovered bonds and incorporate them with his series, the publication of which is commenced herewith.—ED.]

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the world, from the beginning of time to the present day. The author discusses the various civilizations that have flourished on the earth, and the progress of human knowledge and industry. He also touches upon the political and social changes that have shaped the modern world.

In the second part, the author turns his attention to the history of the British Empire. He traces its growth from a small island in the North Sea to a vast global power that ruled over a quarter of the globe. He examines the military and political strategies that enabled the British to achieve such a position of dominance, and the economic and social factors that supported their expansion.

The third part of the book is a detailed account of the American Revolution. The author describes the causes of the conflict, the military campaigns, and the political process that led to the birth of a new nation. He also discusses the impact of the Revolution on the world, and the challenges that the young republic faced in its early years.

The final part of the book is a history of the French Revolution. The author explores the social and economic conditions that led to the outbreak of the revolution, the course of the revolution itself, and the rise of Napoleon Bonaparte. He also discusses the long-term effects of the revolution on France and the rest of Europe.

Introduction

The first part of the book is devoted to a general survey of the history of the subject. It begins with a brief account of the early attempts to explain the phenomena of light and heat, and then proceeds to a more detailed consideration of the theories of Newton, Huygens, and Young.

The second part of the book is devoted to a detailed account of the experiments of Young, Fresnel, and Arago, which have established the wave theory of light. It also includes a discussion of the experiments of Fraunhofer and Fourier.

The third part of the book is devoted to a discussion of the applications of the wave theory of light to the phenomena of diffraction, interference, and polarization. It also includes a brief account of the theory of the spectrum.

The fourth part of the book is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the spectrum, and to a description of the various methods of observing the spectrum. It also includes a brief account of the theory of the spectrum.

The fifth part of the book is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the spectrum, and to a description of the various methods of observing the spectrum. It also includes a brief account of the theory of the spectrum.

The sixth part of the book is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the spectrum, and to a description of the various methods of observing the spectrum. It also includes a brief account of the theory of the spectrum.

The seventh part of the book is devoted to a discussion of the theory of the spectrum, and to a description of the various methods of observing the spectrum. It also includes a brief account of the theory of the spectrum.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be clearly documented and supported by appropriate evidence. This section also covers the need for regular audits to ensure the integrity of the data.

The second section details the various methods used for data collection and analysis. It describes how different types of information are gathered and processed to provide a comprehensive view of the overall situation. This part also includes a discussion on the challenges of data management and the strategies used to overcome them.

The third section focuses on the application of the collected data. It explains how the information is used to identify trends, make predictions, and inform decision-making. This section also highlights the importance of communication in sharing the findings with relevant stakeholders.

The fourth section discusses the future directions of the project. It outlines the planned improvements and the long-term goals. This part also addresses the potential risks and the measures taken to mitigate them. The document concludes with a summary of the key findings and a call to action for continued collaboration.

The final section provides a detailed list of the resources used in the study. It includes references to books, articles, and other sources of information. This section also lists the names of the individuals and organizations that provided support and assistance throughout the project. The document is signed off by the lead researcher and the project manager.

The document is dated and includes a contact information section for further inquiries. It also contains a disclaimer stating that the information provided is for informational purposes only and should not be used as a basis for financial or legal decisions. The document is stored in a secure location and is accessible to authorized personnel only.

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the United States from its discovery to the present time. It is divided into three periods: the colonial period, the revolutionary period, and the federal period. The colonial period is the longest, and is divided into three sub-periods: the Dutch, the French, and the English. The revolutionary period is the shortest, and is divided into two sub-periods: the struggle for independence, and the establishment of the new government. The federal period is the longest, and is divided into three sub-periods: the early federal period, the middle federal period, and the late federal period.

[The Feet of Fines for the above term appear to be missing. With the exception of the last, the information here given is taken from the Notes of Fines.]

The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country and the progress of the war. It is followed by a detailed account of the operations of the army and the navy. The report then discusses the state of the finances and the condition of the public works. The final part of the report contains the conclusions of the committee and the recommendations for the future.

The committee has the honor to acknowledge the assistance of the various departments and the cooperation of the public in the collection of the necessary information. It is confident that the report will be found to contain a full and accurate statement of the facts and circumstances connected with the war.

The committee is composed of the following members: [List of names]

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the United States from its discovery by Columbus in 1492 to the present time. It covers the early years of settlement, the struggle for independence, the formation of the Constitution, and the growth of the nation. The second part is a detailed account of the Civil War, from its outbreak in 1861 to its conclusion in 1865. It describes the military and political events, the role of the Union and the Confederacy, and the impact of the war on the country. The third part discusses the Reconstruction period, the struggle for civil rights, and the development of the industrial revolution. The final part of the book is a summary of the nation's progress and a look towards the future.

The first thing I did was to go to the office and see what was going on.
I found everything in a state of confusion. The papers were all mixed up and I had to spend some time in sorting them out.
I then went to the bank and saw the cashier. He told me that the money was all safe and that he had no objection to my having it.

I then went to the office and saw the manager. He told me that the business was all going on as usual and that he had no objection to my having the office. I then went to the bank and saw the cashier. He told me that the money was all safe and that he had no objection to my having it.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be clearly documented, including the date, amount, and purpose of the transaction. This ensures transparency and allows for easy reconciliation of accounts.

The second section details the various methods used to collect and analyze data. It describes how different types of information are gathered, such as through direct observation, interviews, and the use of specialized equipment. The analysis process involves identifying patterns, trends, and anomalies within the collected data.

The third part of the document focuses on the practical application of the findings. It outlines how the data is used to inform decision-making, identify areas for improvement, and develop effective strategies. It also discusses the challenges faced in the field and how they are addressed through careful planning and execution.

Finally, the document concludes with a summary of the key points and a call to action. It encourages continued research and innovation in the field, as well as a commitment to high standards of accuracy and integrity in all reporting.

The first part of the book discusses the early history of the United States, from the time of the first European settlers to the end of the American Revolution. It covers the exploration of the continent, the establishment of colonies, and the struggle for independence.

The second part of the book deals with the period from the end of the Revolution to the beginning of the Civil War. It examines the growth of the nation, the expansion of territory, and the political and social changes that took place.

The third part of the book focuses on the Civil War and Reconstruction. It describes the causes of the war, the military and political events, and the challenges of rebuilding the South and the nation as a whole.

The fourth part of the book covers the period from the end of Reconstruction to the present. It discusses the Gilded Age, the Progressive Era, the Great Depression, and the modern era, including the New Deal and the Vietnam War.

Shepherd & Freeman Families.

The Mr. Samuel Basnet whose name appears at the beginning of the entries given (p. 213 ante) from the Shepherd-Freeman Family Bible, appear to be identical with the minister of that name in Coventry who was silenced by the Act of Uniformity in 1662. A pedigree of the Basnett family appears in Hunter's Familie Minorum Gentium (p. 371 of the volume recently issued by the Harleian Society).

The following Monumental Inscription has been furnished me by Mr. W. M. Myddelton from the Saints' Chapel in St. Albans Abbey:

"This Vault is the property of | M^{rs} MARY FREEMAN SHEPHERD | who purchased and built it 1768 | as a Burial place for Herself and Family. | Therein are deposited the Earthly Remains | of D^r JONATHAN GREW & MARY his Wife | NATHANIEL SHEPHERD Esq. & MARY his Wife | NATHANIEL SHEPHERD Esq. their Son | the Beloved Uncle, Godfather and | Benefactor of MARY FREEMAN SHEPHERD | and of ANTHONY FREEMAN Gent | and ANN his most excellent Wife | Father & Mother of MARY FREEMAN SHEPHERD | who desires to be Buried here also | in whatsoever part of the World | She may happen to Die. | Also | here are Deposited the Remains | of the above nam'd MARY FREEMAN SHEPHERD | who died June 29th 1815 Ætat. 83."

The above inscription is incorrectly printed by Mr. Urwick in "Nonconformity in Herts," p. 190, who also gives (copying from Clutterbuck) another inscription from the floor of the presbytery by the Lady Chapel close by the shrine of St. Alban:

'Jon. Grew dyed 1711. Mary Grew, his wife, 1719. Anne Freeman, her granddaughter, 1732.'

1870
The first of the year
was a very cold one
and the snow lay
on the ground for
many days.

The weather was very disagreeable
and the snow lay
on the ground for
many days.

The first part of the document discusses the general principles of the proposed system.
 It is intended to provide a clear and concise summary
 of the main points.
 The second part of the document contains a detailed description of the various components
 and their functions.
 This section is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the system's architecture and design.
 The third part of the document describes the implementation details, including the hardware and software requirements.
 This section is intended to provide a detailed overview
 of the system's performance
 and reliability.

The fourth part of the document
 discusses the future work and conclusions. It is intended to provide a summary of the key findings and to outline
 the areas for further research.
 The fifth part of the document contains a list of references and a list of figures. This section is intended to provide a comprehensive overview
 of the system's performance
 and reliability.

The first part of the paper discusses the general theory of the subject, and the second part discusses the application of the theory to the case of the present case. The theory is based on the assumption that the system is in a state of equilibrium, and that the forces acting on the system are balanced. The application of the theory to the case of the present case shows that the system is in a state of equilibrium, and that the forces acting on the system are balanced.

The results of the present case are in agreement with the theory, and show that the system is in a state of equilibrium, and that the forces acting on the system are balanced. The present case is a typical example of the application of the theory to a practical case, and shows that the theory is valid.

The first of the year
was a very cold one
and the snow lay
on the ground for many days. The
frost was very
severe and the wind was very strong. The people were very much concerned
for the crops. The government
sent out
a large quantity
of seed
to the people.
The
people
were very grateful
for
it.

The
second of the year
was a very warm
one and
the snow
melted
very early.
The
frost
was very light
and
the wind
was very gentle.
The
people
were very pleased
the crops.
The
government
sent out
large quantity
of seed
to
the
people.
The
people
were very grateful
for
it.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The text also notes that records should be kept for a sufficient period to allow for a thorough audit.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping. It states that all transactions must be recorded in a clear and concise manner, and that the records must be accessible to all authorized personnel. The text also discusses the importance of regular backups and the use of secure storage methods to protect the data from loss or theft.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy auditing of the accounts.

Furthermore, it is noted that regular reconciliation of the books is essential to identify any discrepancies early on. This process involves comparing the internal records with bank statements and other external sources.

The second section covers the various methods used to collect payments from customers. It highlights the need for clear communication and the use of multiple channels to ensure timely receipt of funds.

Finally, the document concludes with a reminder to always keep a backup of all financial data to prevent loss in case of a system failure or disaster.

In addition, it is recommended that all financial statements be reviewed by a qualified professional to ensure their accuracy and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

The document also provides a list of key terms and definitions related to bookkeeping and accounting, which are useful for anyone involved in the financial management of a business.

Overall, the goal of this document is to provide a comprehensive guide to effective financial record-keeping and management, helping businesses to operate more efficiently and successfully.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy verification of the data. The text also mentions that regular audits are necessary to identify any discrepancies or errors in the accounting process.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the classification of expenses. It provides a detailed list of categories, such as salaries, rent, utilities, and travel. Each category is further broken down into sub-categories to ensure that every expense is properly recorded. The document also includes a table with columns for the date, description, amount, and category, which serves as a template for the accounting records.

The first of the year was a very cold one and the snow lay on the ground for many days. The weather was very unpleasant and the people were very much distressed. The crops were all killed and the livestock were very much suffering. The people were very poor and the government was very unfriendly to them.

The second of the year was a very warm one and the snow melted very early. The weather was very pleasant and the people were very much pleased. The crops were all saved and the
livestock were very much thriving. The people were very rich and the government was very
friendly to them.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud. The text notes that without reliable records, it would be difficult to verify the accuracy of financial statements and to identify any irregularities.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures that should be followed to ensure the accuracy and reliability of the records. It details the steps for recording transactions, from the initial entry to the final reconciliation. The text stresses the need for consistency in the recording process and the importance of reviewing records regularly to identify any errors or discrepancies. It also mentions the role of internal controls in maintaining the integrity of the records.

The first of the year
was a very cold one
and the snow lay
on the ground for many days. The
frost was very
severe and the
ground was frozen
solid. The trees
were all bare and
the leaves had fallen. The birds were all gone and the ground was covered with snow. The
frost was very
severe and the
ground was
frozen solid.

The second of the year
was a very warm one
and the snow melted
and the ground was frozen. The frost was very severe and the ground was frozen
solid. The trees
were all bare and
the leaves had fallen. The birds were all
gone and the
ground was covered with snow. The
frost was very
severe and the
ground was
frozen solid.

The first part of the report
 deals with the general conditions of the country and the progress of the various branches of industry and commerce.
 It is followed by a detailed account of the state of the different departments of the empire, and a summary of the principal events
 which have taken place
 during the year.
 The report concludes with a list of the names of the members of the Council of State, and of the various officers and functionaries
 of the government.
 The report is printed
 in French and English,
 and is distributed
 free of charge to all members of the Council of State, and to the members of the various departments of the empire.

The first of the year
was a very dry one
and the crops were very poor. The winter was also very cold and the snow was very deep. The spring was very warm and the
crops were very good. The summer
was very hot and the crops were very good. The autumn was very warm and the
crops were very good. The winter
