

January White Wear Sale

PROSPECTIVE brides and girls who expect to graduate, find this Yearly White Sale of more than ordinary interest.

The offerings for tomorrow and Saturday are as good as they were for Monday—altho throngs of buyers have been here every day, the assortment is still unbroken—values are as good as at first. Nearly a year ago the plans were laid for this sale. Placing an immense order with the mills at a time when they would ordinarily have been idle, brought prices which were much smaller than would have been possible at another time.

A good many of our customers are making selections now with a view of paying for them later, by paying but a small part of the price now we hold the package until it is wanted. This is a privilege we extend to you.

POSITIVE PROOF.

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Ogden.

Because it's the evidence of an Ogden citizen. Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit.

The best proof. Read it: Mrs. Betsy Shipley, 272 Twenty-second street, Ogden Utah, says: "I do not think there is any need for people to suffer from kidney complaint when Doan's Kidney Pills can be had. I doubt if any one has suffered more severely from this disease than I. The worst symptoms of my floating kidney, Doan's Kidney secretions. I also had backache and one doctor who treated me, said I had a floating kidney. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from Badcom's Pharmacy, gave me immediate relief. This preparation is so effective that I only wish every kidney sufferer would try it."

Mrs. Shipley gave the above testimonial in July, 1906, and when interviewed in July, 1909, she said: "I still take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, for the cure they effected has been permanent. The statement I gave for publication in their price three years ago still holds good."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

WATTERSON SAYS WOODROW WILSON IS NO STATESMAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 17.—That he had hoped to find in Woodrow Wilson another Tilden, but had found "rather a schoolmaster than a statesman," was the declaration of Henry Watterson, the veteran Kentucky editor and southern Democrat, in a statement made here tonight to the Associated Press in connection with the break between Governor Wilson and Colonel George Harvey.

"Regretting that I must appear either as a witness or a party to the misunderstanding which has arisen between Colonel George Harvey and Governor Woodrow Wilson," reads the statement, "I shall have to speak with some particularity in order to be just alike to the public and to the principals.

"The conference between us in my apartment at the Manhattan club was held to consider certain practical measures relating to Governor Wilson's candidacy. Colonel Harvey stood toward Governor Wilson much as I had stood five and thirty years ago toward Mr. Tilden. This appeared to me. Colonel Harvey had brought the governor and myself together in his New Jersey home 18 months ago, and as time passed, had interested me in his ambitions.

Was a Schoolmaster, Not Statesman. "I was hoping I might find in Governor Wilson another Tilden. In point of intellect and availability, I yet think Colonel Harvey made no mistake in his choice of a candidate, but the circumstances leading to the unfortunate parting of the ways between them leads me to doubt whether in character and temperament—it may be merely in the habits of a lifetime—Governor Wilson is now rather a schoolmaster than a statesman.

"I have from Colonel Harvey and Governor Wilson statements according to the memory of each touching what did actually happen and was spoken on the occasion named. These do not materially differ. They coincide with my own recollection. Nothing of a discourteous kind—even of an unfriendly kind—passed in an interview of more than an hour. From the first, hostility there was a certain constraint in Governor Wilson's manner, the absence of the cordiality and candor which should mark hearty confidential intercourse, intimating the existence of some adverse influence.

Manner Was Autocratic. "His manner was autocratic, if not tyrannous. I did not take this to myself, but thought it related to Colonel Harvey, and when Colonel Harvey, apparently overcome by Governor Wilson's austerity, put the direct question to Governor Wilson whether the support of Harvey's Weekly was an entanglement in his duty, and received from Governor Wilson the cold rejoinder that it was, I was both surprised and shocked.

"I had myself, as far back as last October, suggested to Governor Wilson that in view of his supposed entanglement, it might be as well for Colonel Harvey to moderate some of the rather aggressive tones of Harper's Weekly in Wilson campaign. I did not and have not said as much to Colonel Harvey himself. But that Governor Wilson, either the least show of compromise, should express or yield to such an opinion and permit Colonel Harvey to consider himself discharged from the position of trusted intimacy he had up to that moment held, left me little room to doubt that Governor Wilson is not a man who makes common cause with his political associates or is deeply sensible to his political obligations, because it is but true and fair to say that except for Colonel Harvey he would not be in the running at all.

Wilson Had Letters from Kentucky. "Colonel Harvey was grievously wounded. He had been fighting Governor Wilson's battle for many years and had idealized his chief. Although I was given no reason to suppose myself included in the disfavour which had fallen upon Colonel Harvey I experienced a sense of something very much like indignation, but on reflection I could not rid myself of the impression that Governor Wilson had been receiving letters from Kentucky written by enemies of mine who seek to use his name and fame to gain some ends of their own, warning him against me, and that, to all intents, I was in the same boat with Colonel Harvey.

"I am in receipt of Governor Wilson's avowal to the contrary. I wish this had reached me earlier. I have through three weeks of newspaper impertinence refused to print a word on the subject and hoped that no publicity might be required, and that some understanding could be reached. I have reason to believe that Colonel Harvey was not so much misled by the same cause and with the same hope. It being no longer possible to suppress the matter at issue, this full statement, which I make most reluctantly, seems needful to a full and impartial knowledge by the general public, but more especially by the mass and body of Democrats who are seeking so earnestly for a leader in the coming contest. (Signed) "HENRY WATTERSON."

Collapse of Wilson's Boom.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 17.—A conference of several leading Nebraska Democrats considered today the action of the editor of Harper's Weekly in taking from the head of its column the name of Governor Woodrow Wilson as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president. The meeting was held in the office of Mayor Dahlman of this city, and was of an executive nature.

Mayor Dahlman, after adjournment, gave out a statement, in which he admitted that the action of Editor Harvey was the cause of today's meeting.

"The action of Mr. Harvey in the collapse of the Wilson boom," declared the mayor, "Mr. Harvey is by no means the first of leading Democrats who have been supporting Governor Wilson to drop him. Democrats like Colonel Watterson, Colonel Hemphill and others have fallen out of the Wilson ranks. Nebraska Democrats have no candidate to propose, but are generally opposed to Mr. Wilson, having long ago taken a stand against his pension policy. I am not authorized to speak for Mr. Bryan, but I know he is opposed to many of the policies advocated by Governor Wilson, and I do not think that this leading Nebraskan will support him for the presidency."

What further action the Democrats will take the mayor declined to say.

Treachery of Wilson.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 17.—The break between Governor Woodrow Wilson and Colonel George B. Harvey has brought out the leader of the old Bryan strength in Wisconsin against the New Jersey man. Matt J. Regan, one of the strongest of the old Democratic leaders in the state, issued a letter tonight to John A. Aylward of Madison, head of the Wilson campaign in the state, declaring that under no circumstances would he now aid in the campaign of the New Jersey governor.

Mr. Regan was at the outset a Wilson man. In his letter he says the Wilson movement at first appeared to be promising, but recent events have demonstrated that his policies are not those of the modern progressive Democratic party spirit.

His demand, as expressed in a letter of great length, is that the state delegation be sent to the national convention unpledged, while present plans of the state committee are that the state delegation be pledged by a state-wide primary vote. In his letter Mr. Regan says:

"In the break with Colonel Harvey, Governor Wilson showed a discreditable tendency to treachery toward the man who he once gave the credit for his election as governor and his present prominence as a presidential candidate. The action toward Colonel Harvey merely is typical of a career marked by treachery to his friends. Personally, I am for Bryan if he can be persuaded to run, but never for a man like Wilson, who turns his politics whenever it suits his purposes."

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

When Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin" she little thought of the wide influence it would have in shaping events in the United States, nor that it would live so long. The same may be said of Chas. Klein's great American play, "The Lion and the Mouse," which will be presented in our city soon. It deals with politics and high finance and has created a profound sensation.

WEBER DEFEATS DEAF SCHOOL

On the basketball floor of the Utah State School for the Deaf and Blind yesterday afternoon the Weber Academy five defeated the State school team by a score of 62 to 29. Although somewhat one-sided the game was not devoid of interest and the boys worked fast on both sides throughout the contest.

The State school boys were clearly outclassed in passing the ball and in field throwing, but they did not quit fighting from the start and displayed a great deal of determination in spite of the overwhelming odds against them. The academy team led all the way.

At the end of the first half the score stood 30 to 15 in favor of the academy. The last half resulted 32 to 14 in favor of the same team, making the total 62 to 29. The lineup:

Weber Academy—Ingles, lf; Beinap, rf; McKay, c; Watson, rg; Lindsay, lg.

State School—Wild, lf; Savage, rf; Preece, c; Wenger, rg; Jones, lg. Goals from field—Weber, 27; State school, 7. Goals from fouls—Beinap for Weber, eight out of a possible twelve; Wenger for the State school, fifteen out of a possible twenty-two. Referee, Hancock; umpire, Thurman, timekeeper, Tanner; scorer, Summerlin.

The State school boys have requested a return game on the Weber academy floor and this game will be played some evening next week. The academy team has also entered into negotiations for games in this city with two or three Salt Lake teams.

MAMMOTH COAL COMPANY FORMED

Articles of incorporation for the Mammoth Coal Mining company were filed with County Clerk Samuel G. Dye yesterday. The company, which is a reorganization of the Elk Coal company, is capitalized at $500,000, with shares at $1 each. This is the company which has been organized by J. W. F. Volker of this city, following his purchase of the Elk properties at receiver's sale.

The officers named in the articles of incorporation are J. W. F. Volker, president; A. L. Hyer of Lewistown, Utah, first vice president; Newman H. Barker, second vice president; Henry Volker, secretary and treasurer; J. W. F. Volker, Frank M. Driggs and Oscar B. Madison, members of the executive committee.

It is represented that the company has 2,169 acres of patented coal land in the vicinity of Elk, Wyo. The properties are on the Granger-Poc-tello branch of the Oregon Short Line and the mines are capable of producing 700 tons per day.

Withered is said to have accented

GOMEZ CONFERS WITH LEADERS

HAVANA, Jan. 18.—A conference of prominent political leaders, which was called by President Gomez adjourned at 1:05 o'clock this morning. The conference was for the purpose of considering the action to be taken regarding the notification from the American secretary of state that the American government might be compelled to intervene in Cuban affairs.

It was announced that all the elements had reached an understanding to unite in a policy that would remove any excuse for intervention. Details of the agreement were not divulged.

The shock of the receipt yesterday of news of possible intervention by the United States was succeeded today by a feeling of relief consequent upon the general impression that the Knox note was intended merely as a caution similar to President Roosevelt's letter to Quesada, and not as a threat to proceed to extremes without further provocation.

The impression is general that the action of the Washington administration delivers a death blow to the veterans' agitation, thereby removing the excuse for intervention and abundantly strengthening the Cuban administration in controlling the situation.

The comments of the Havana papers are meager and are characterized generally by patriotic adjurations to all Cubans regardless of their political affiliations to forget past and present differences and unite loyally in obeying the laws and preserving order without giving the least excuse for foreign intervention, as the only way by which independence can be maintained.

Editorials are without any sentiment of bitterness against the United States with the exception of that printed in La Frensa, which demands the recall of the American minister, Arthur M. Beaupre, on the ground of discourtesy in presenting the note directly to the President instead of to the secretary of state.

This course has been taken because the minister had been unable to find the secretary, who had left his office at an early hour and because the minister was anxious not to delay the presentation of the note. This explanation was ceremoniously tendered to Secretary Sanguily this morning by the secretary of the American legation, Hugh S. Gibson.

Gen. Emilio Nunez, president of the Veterans' association, in an interview yesterday, reaffirmed his opinion that the United States was not justified in threatening intervention, because the veterans' association was purely a patriotic organization, similar to the Grand Army of the Republic.

He declared, however, that the veterans were determined to persist in the campaign, the object of which was the purification of the civil service and of all public positions obnoxious to patriots by reason of former hostility to the cause of Cuban independence.

General doubt is felt regarding the ability of Nunez to carry out his program on account of the defection of many of his followers.

The tone of the stock exchange was strong yesterday on the news of possible intervention and on the board of trade there was great relief at the probable revival of business, which recently has been much depressed.

From various parts of the island reports have been received that many sugar planters who heretofore have been afraid to begin grinding intend now to put their mills into immediate operation. This will have the effect of giving employment in the fields and mills to thousands who are dissatisfied and liable to join seditious movements because of lack of work.

It also is reported that large orders are coming in from country merchants, who for several months have been keeping down their stocks. All parts of the island continue to send in reports of peaceful conditions.

The truth of the matter is that the worst tariff bill ever passed up to that time was the McKinley bill, passed in 1890, and I don't know why they did not say it caused the hard times, except that they wanted to load it onto the Democrats. The Dingley bill passed in 1897 was worse yet, but within ten years of its passage, at a time when there was not even a Democratic janitor in Washington, we had another panic. Mr. Harmon left for Columbus after the speech, and the banquet planned for him by the North Dakota-Ohio club was cancelled. Senator Fred Whitehead of Kansas, Mont. and Governor Burke of North Dakota spoke after Mr. Harmon this evening. T. J. Walsh of Montana will be the principal speaker tomorrow.

OGDEN SINGER TO LIVE IN SALT LAKE

Last evening's Deseret News says: The friends of Dr. Emmett S. Browning and Mrs. Browning (Magie Toole) were surprised and pleased to greet them in Salt Lake during the week. It is their intention to locate here permanently. Dr. Browning opening a dental office and Mrs. Browning taking a limited number of vocal pupils. In conversation with a News representative yesterday, Mrs. Browning said that after a month's experience on the road with the "Pink Lady" company, she decided that a home life was better than a professional one, and had canceled her contract with Klaw & Erlanger to go to London and head the "Pink Lady" there. She might have sung the role in Chicago, but the management had been unable to secure a theater.

The road company with which she sang had been headed by Frank Daniels, who filled the comedy role now being played by Frank Lalor in the number one company, in which Mrs. Browning's sister, Hazel Dawn, is appearing. She also said that Mr. Daniels had not found the part congenial, which was largely the reason that the traveling company was called in.

It is possible that Mrs. Browning's beautiful voice, which is well remembered for her two Salt Lake appearances, will be heard in a recital in the near future either at the theater or in the chalmehouse.

The New York Herald received today says: "The Pink Lady" company, which played last season and summer at the New Amsterdam theater and is now at the Colonial theater in Boston, will depart for London on March 23 to open at the Globe theater, where on April 1. The principals who will appear in London are Misses Hazel Dawn, Alice Dovey, Alice Hegeman, Louise Kelley and Ida M. Adams, and Messrs. Frank Lalor, "Jack" Henderson and Fred Wright, Jr.

HARMON TALKS "GET TOGETHER"

FARGO, N. D., Jan. 17.—Abandoning his net speech on tariff reform, Governor J. Nelson Harmon of Ohio, who was the guest of honor of the western governors in conference here tonight, talked Democratic politics, telling his audience why he thinks the Democrats can win in the coming campaign. He refrained, however, from making any reference to his own presidential candidacy.

Governor Harmon criticized President Taft and his Republican congress for what they had done with the tariff and accused the Republicans of gross extravagance in government expenditures.

In beginning his address by referring to the badges worn by the northern Democrats, bearing the words, "Get Together," he said: "Get together in such a way as to attract those affiliated with other parties, but who believe as we do."

Governor Harmon said the Democrats had labored under a handicap which caused them many defeats in the past. First, there was the sentiment against them in the civil war; next the Republican press and orators with great ability made people believe that a Democratic victory meant hard times.

President Taft has made the statement that the hard times which began in 1892 and which reached their worst in 1893 were caused by the Wilson bill, which was passed in 1894," he said.

"The truth of the matter is that the worst tariff bill ever passed up to that time was the McKinley bill, passed in 1890, and I don't know why they did not say it caused the hard times, except that they wanted to load it onto the Democrats. The Dingley bill passed in 1897 was worse yet, but within ten years of its passage, at a time when there was not even a Democratic janitor in Washington, we had another panic."

Mr. Harmon left for Columbus after the speech, and the banquet planned for him by the North Dakota-Ohio club was cancelled. Senator Fred Whitehead of Kansas, Mont. and Governor Burke of North Dakota spoke after Mr. Harmon this evening. T. J. Walsh of Montana will be the principal speaker tomorrow.

FIRE DESTROYES INSANE ASYLUM

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Fire today destroyed the infirmary of the Dunning insane asylum at the outskirts of the city and caused attendants considerable trouble in restraining the 1,300 excited patients, none of whom was injured.

The loss on the four-story brick building was $35,000. The burned building housed 300 persons, most of whom had to be aided to other parts of the institution. Lack of water and difficulty in getting the apparatus to the remote grounds threatened three adjoining buildings, which sheltered nearly 1,000 other patients. All of these were made to don wraps and leave the buildings, standing in the open air under guard of attendants until the firemen had the flames under control.
