Kristen Joy Hone

1974 – 2021

Kristen Joy Hone passed away June 12, 2021, at her mother's home in Brigham City of gastroesophageal cancer related to acid reflux. She is very happy to be going to see her Heavenly Father and to be free from her physical body which has prevented her from speaking clearly, walking, and running.

She was born December 19, 1974, in Ogden, Utah. Her parents, Lynn and Karen Hone were living in Brigham City at the time. Almost from the beginning, Kristen was faced with many challenges. At about nine months of age, friends and neighbors came to the Hone residence four times a day, six days a week for three years to assist with patterning therapy for Kristen. This therapy helped sharpen her mental and physical capabilities. She started attending the Exceptional Child Center on the campus of Utah State University shortly before she turned four years old. She went on to attend Adams Elementary School in Logan for kindergarten, first and second grades and then transferred to the Box Elder School District for third through twelfth grades at Bunderson Elementary School, Box Elder Junior and Senior High Schools. After graduating from high school, Kristen chose to live in a group home in Salt Lake City where she was able to attend classes on the campus at Salt Lake Community College and earned an Associate Degree in Sociology at SLCC. She finished her B.S. degree in General Studies in Human Services through the online program at USU after taking college classes for more than twenty-two years. Kristen's hard-work ethic, tenacity, and positive attitude inspired all who knew her. She loved connecting with friends and family, playing games, doing jigsaw puzzles, and reading the scriptures online. She also enjoyed frequently attending the Temple, eating out, and reading books. Technology allowed Kristen to become educated, be entertained, enjoy life, and communicate with friends and family.

Kristen served on the Board of Directors of the Work Activity Center in Salt Lake City, the State Board of People First of Utah, the Utah Developmental Disabilities Council, and the UTA Committee on Accessible Transportation.

She is survived by her mother, and siblings: Mike Hone (Kristen B), Dave Hone (Jen), Eric Hone (Katrina), Ryan Hone (Angie), and Shawna Blanchard (Kevin). She was preceded in death by her father.

Carlos Lloyd Elwood

July 12, 1939 – June 11, 2021

Integrity, hard work and devotion to his family and his faith were the hallmarks of the life of Carlos L. Elwood, 81. He passed peacefully from this mortal life on June 11, 2021, surrounded by his family who loved him dearly.

The son of Lloyd and Elva Elwood, Carlos was born in Lewiston, Utah where his father owned and operated a dairy farm. He learned the value of hard work as he labored with his father, and as he hauled milk cans to the Sego Milk Factory in Richmond. He attended Utah State and Weber State Universities and received a degree in accounting. He married his friend and sweetheart, Maureen Gordon, December 28, 1960, in the Logan Temple.

Carlos was employed at the U.S. Forest Service as an accountant and budget officer for 34 years. He enjoyed his chosen profession and received several awards for Superior Performance throughout his career. He was known throughout the Forest Service Experiment Stations for his knowledge and integrity.

After retiring from the Forest Service Carlos worked part-time as a tax preparer at H&R Block, enjoying the diversity of the people he served.

Carlos had a great love for golfing, fishing, camping, hiking, and the beauties of nature; and he shared that love with his three children and 7 grandchildren. He taught them the art of fishing and took pleasure in watching each of them catch their first fish. He and his wife square danced for many years, and he treasured the many friendships formed through dancing activities.

He loved gardening, and he could grow more produce and flowers in a small area than many farmers grow on larger acreage. Friends and family reaped the fruits of his labors, as he lovingly shared his produce with others.

Carlos was active in the LDS Church, serving in numerous positions. He and his wife enjoyed service together at the Conference Center in SLC. He had a firm testimony that Jesus Christ is the Savior of this world.

Carlos was preceded in death by his parents, Lloyd & Elva Elwood, and one brother, Gayle Elwood.

He is survived by his daughters – Natalie (Dean) Nessen and Terrie (Robert) Maestas, and son – Robert (Alicia) Elwood, five grandsons – Jake, Christian, Cameron, Kyle & Kaden, and two granddaughters – Chloe & Emma, and two great-grandchildren – Aria & Jack Dorian. He is also survived by a sister, Diane (Evan) Hall, and a brother, Kelly Elwood.

Carlos had a quick wit and sense of humor that will be dearly missed by his family. He will be laid to rest at Myers Evergreen Memorial Park.

Funeral services will be held at 11:00 am on June 19, 2021 at the Myers Mortuary Chapel, 845 Washington Blvd. The family will meet with friends and relatives on Friday, June 18th from 6:00 – 8:00 PM. and from 9:30 – 10:30 AM prior to the service. # Wedding plans cover almost everything

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married, and my fiancée's daughters, 19 and 21, are in the wedding party. I have purchased the dresses they are wearing, which are light and flowing. I have told the girls that on the day of the wedding I do not want them wearing thong underwear. The older one then went to her dad and said she didn't want to wear regular underwear. He told her she could wear whatever she wants. I have tried telling them that as young ladies there are times you don't wear thongs, and under a flowing dress is one of them. It's ONE DAY of their lives. How can I get my point across?

— WISE BRIDE IN PHOENIX

DEAR WISE BRIDE: Explain to your fiancé exactly WHY you are concerned about his daughters wearing thong underwear under their bridesmaid dresses and, when you do, be graphic. After that, if he still feels the same, accept it. Then pray no slip-ups occur while they are dancing, and no strong gusts of wind come along when the wedding photos are taken.

DEAR ABBY: I'm dating a lady and committed to our relationship, but every time I visit her at her apartment, she expects me to take her dog out. The building has a policy that if the dog poops, you have to pick it up and dispose of it, so they have bags at different locations.

I don't like doing it. I grew up on a farm where we had dogs, but never would I think about picking up their poop. It grosses me out. OK, so I have been doing it for a couple of years, but I don't want to do it anymore. But if I say that or don't do it, she'll think I'm not committed to her. What should I do?

— DOG WALKING IN TEXAS

DEAR DOG WALKING: Stand up for yourself. Because you feel so strongly, tell her that from now on you will walk her dog TOGETHER or she'll have to do it herself. You may have been raised on a farm, but you are now part of a community with ordinances against leaving excrement on the streets. Your devotion to this person should not be predicated upon your willingness to perform a task she should have been doing herself.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are having a minor argument, and we are seeking your help in resolving it. We live in an age when we commonly experience "conversations" with robo-calls, virtual assistants (Alexa and Echo) and phone routing software. All this technology is powered by artificial intelligence. So given that we are talking to machines, do we need to follow the rules of etiquette with these robots? My wife insists we should say "Thank you" and "Please" to these software creations, while I say no manners are needed. Your thoughts?

— MULLING IT OVER IN MONTANA

DEAR MULLING IT: Although it isn't mandatory, I know of at least one AI "assistant" that would acknowledge the courtesy.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

Born today, you are not always the most popular person on the block, but you're sure to attract the attention of those around you and inspire some kind of feelings — and whether they are negative or positive really matters very little to you. You agree with Oscar Wilde that the only thing worse than being talked about is NOT being talked about, and you will always do everything you can to stay in the forefront of people's minds — and on their tongues, too.

You have been endowed with an almost irresistible attraction to people who share your talents and your way of thinking about the world. Indeed, when it comes to affairs of the heart, you're almost always led by your perceptions of another person's abilities: If he or she displays talent first and foremost, it is almost certainly someone with whom you will want to become involved.

Also born on this date are: Venus Williams, tennis player; Barry Manilow, singer and songwriter; Greg Kinnear, actor; Igor Stravinsky, composer; Thomas Haden Church, actor; M.C. Escher, artist; Joe Piscopo, actor and comedian.

To see what is in store for you tomorrow, find your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

FRIDAY, JUNE 18

• GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Others may be warning you to play it safe or even lie low today, but you have too much at stake right now and must work to further your agenda.

• CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Though you usually trust your instincts and listen to what your emotions are telling you, today you must do what you are told without question.

• LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — You're in a position that allows you to see things with greater clarity than usual — but that's not all you need. You must think fast as well!

• VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — You're eager to see the quality of someone's work increase, and the best way to encourage that is to lead by example. Do so today!

• LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Others are expecting you to do precisely what you've done in the past when faced with a similar situation — but you've got a surprise in store.

• SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — You can do someone a favor that actually does you a great deal of good as well — though you may have to wait for your most tangible rewards.

• SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — The familiar attracts you today, surely, but you're likely to be more keenly interested in something that looks brand-new — but is it?

• CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan.

19) — You'll be dealing with certain self-doubts all day long, but you can likely break free of any kind of restraints you've imposed on yourself.

• AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — You may begin something today that could easily get out of hand if you're not able to control things every step of the way.

• PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Communication gets somewhat complicated today when someone fails to reach out to you as expected. Be flexible and understanding.

• ARIES (March 21-April 19) — It may not be easy for you to look at things through another's eyes today, but you must if you're going to enjoy a meeting of the minds.

• TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — The highlights of this day can be shared with others when the time comes — but you must resist the temptation to embellish. Tell the truth.
